SPORTS

ALMOST A RIOT

For nine long, hard innings the Punahou played an uphill game against the Kams on Saturday. The Kams had started with five runs in the very first inning and two in the fourth. Punahou was surely overtaking them and it could be seen that it was only a matter of time before they would cut down the Kams' lead. The ninth inning rolled around and the Kams still had a lead of two runs. In this spasm Capt. Geo. Desha beat out a slow one and Jack Desha in trying to bunt popped to pitcher and George was doubled up at first. It now looked bad for the Colts. Ahrens was up and dumped one to Sheldon, who threw poorly and allowed Ahrens to get safe. Eddie Desha was the next Colt to face Reuter. Eddie is a good pinch hitter and certainly delivered the goods when he hit for three bases to right and scored Ahrens. One run was needed to tie the score, and Brother Johnnie Williams was at the bat to turn the trick. After getting two strikes Williams popped an easy fly to Reuter. Sheldon came in to field the ball and just as Reuter's hands met the sphere Sheldon ran in to him and they both fell to the ground. Reuter dropped the ball and it rolled clear of his body in plain sight of everyone but Empire Bowers, who had given his play a little hastily and had walked away. An angry crowd met Bowers as he walked from the field and accused him of making a mistake. This is the first demonstration that has been made against an umpire's decision in years and had it been in any other place than Honolulu there would have been trouble. Reuter admitted to a Bulletin reporter after he had come off the field that he had dropped the ball. In this case the score should have been tied and the chances are that it would have taken several innings to have decided the match. Just at this stage of the series it was a hard game for Punahou to lose, as it puts them out of the running.

Outside of the interesting finish there was nothing particularly bright in the game. In the very first inning the Kams pulled up five runs. Desha got off bad and gave an exhibition of poor pitching. In this inning Sheldon, the first man up, walked. Left-wheeler Lemon hit to right and Sheldon went on to third and Lemon to second. McCarrison caught Miller's foul. Sheldon came home on a wild pitch over McCarrison's head. Jones drew a pass and stole second. Reuter binged and Lemon came home. Jones spiked the pan on Fern's sleeve and Meyer made a poor throw to first and Reuter scored. It looked as though the Kams would make 100 runs, but the Colts at last got together and stopped them. After this the Kams got but two runs across the pan and that was in the fourth, when, with Hamauku on first, Lemon drove a home run down to the right-field fence.

The second was a good inning for Punahou and they got the Kams in the air and before the team came to earth Meyers, Marcellino and McCarrison completed the circuit. McCarrison made a home run on a hit to Reuter, who kindly threw the ball amongst the carriages. This game puts the Kams in good position for the second series, and it is now up to the H. A. C.'s to dump them.

PICKUPS MAKE SHOWING

It was whispered about town yesterday morning that the Oahus would not show up to meet the Honolulu. Catcher Ringland hustled about and got together an aggregation that looked like a joke. Three Mailes in the infield was enough to make any one place odds of 100 to 1 on the Reds. The outfield also was a combination of stars who never did anything. For seven innings this bunch of pickups wielded the whitewash brush in great style and the Honolulu thought that they were in for a shut-out. The first run of the day was scored by Evers, when Aylett in left garden

MISSING AN EASY FLY FROM KIA'S BAT.

This made the crowd shout for joy. In the eighth the Reds got busy and took a fall out of Hampton. By making three hits they got Williams and Lota around the circuit. This was enough to win out, and what looked to be a bad game when the teams lined up turned out to be by far the best game of the two.

Talk about your fielding stunts that Ringland team pulled off some glitzy ones and players who were never known to catch a ball ate up everything. Think of Fenner having 12 put-outs without a miss and Boyle at shortstop accepting 11 out of 12 chances, and some of them the hardest kind. Then there was McQuade in center who made some plays that took the house. Double plays were many among the Oahu infield and they performed them as if it was an every-day occurrence. This game will not be quickly forgotten.

LOCAL GOSSIP

Welch admits that he is "all in." He will take the next boat home and say off for a while. Welch is a baker by trade and we advise him to go back and punch dough.

Do not be surprised to see Joe Cohen bring back a man to meet Sullivan. If Cohen brings a man he must be a good one to beat the left-handed kid.

Sullivan has won many admirers by his showing Saturday night.

Lon Agnew and Welch would have made a great fight.

The public would like to see McCarrison up against some good man.

The seconds that Welch had behind him Saturday night were enough to queer any fighter. Silva, Huihui and Moch were a few.

Ah Sam is certainly the champion of Chinatown.

Will the Kams ever get through protesting? Their idea of sportsmanship is also very limited.

Reuter admitted after the game that he dropped that ball in the ninth. He did not need to admit it—everybody but Bowers saw it.

It was hard luck for Punahou but the only way they can win is with an axe.

That Oahu combination played some ball yesterday. Four doubles is going some.

That fellow Boyle at shortstop played better than he knew how.

Aylett was responsible for Oahu's one run by missing an easy fly.

After the first Desha pitched good ball.

Joy and Hampton both pitched first-class ball in the second game.

The Oahu team looked like a joke but they delivered the goods just the same.

The Metropolitans have the first series of the Winter League clinched.

Wonder if the Kams think they have won any glory after taking their last two games?

Sheldon was in the game from start to finish Saturday. He made some pretty pickups.

PARTS FOR THE PUGS

Now that the Gans-Nelson bout is over and the affair proved such a success both men will probably be bombarded with offers from theatrical managers all over the country. Whenever a fighter emerges from a battle without being mangled an ear and several ribs he is grabbed up as a bargain by dealers in the thespian goods and unloaded upon the public with due commotion. The Goldfield battle, being one of the star attractions of the century, no doubt theatrical managers will break their necks trying to get the fighters to sign contracts. Nelson falls naturally into the part of Hamlet, the Melancholy Dane, and should have no trouble making Mansfield look like a barn-stormer. His Danish phiz would eliminate the expense of make-up material and he could put his whole native soul into the action when he murmurs, "There's something rotten in Denmark!" Gans' charcoal tendencies would fit him for the part of Uncle Tom in Uncle Tom's Cabin. The ebony tree from Baltimore could slip a fuzzy-white toothbrush over his lower jaw and pull off a few rounds with Little Eva that would make tears come to the eyes of a marble statue.

LATEST FROM THE COAST

Jim Corbett springs a new one in connection with the recent Berger-O'Brien affair, in which the former's showing surprised every fight follower in the country. Corbett says Berger over a twenty-round route. Jim says Berger is content to go easy in his journey toward the championship, remembering the fate of Kaufman and Monroe and others. This was the system that Jeffries followed right from the start. In his decisive fights, notably those with Sharkey and Fitzsimmons, Jeff hung back and let the other man do the leading. After they had tired themselves out trying to make an impression upon him, Jeff came along and won.

Without exception every New York paper roasted the management of the Giants for barring Empire Johnstone during the recent series with Pulliam. The decision of President Pulliam, awarding the game to Chicago, met with unanimous approval. Not yet out soon, the McGraw crowd will be tame enough to be led by hand.

Only four managers of the National League have had the satisfaction of winning pennants in the last fifteen years. Ned Hanlon, the present Cincinnati leader, has scooped in five victories, three with Baltimore from 1894 through to 1896, and two with Brooklyn, in 1899 and 1900. Frank Selee, ex-manager of the Chicago team, who is now managing a team in Pueblo, Col., won the banners for Boston in 1891 and 1892, and 1893 and 1897 and 1898. Fred Clarke, of Pittsburgh, took them three straight from 1901 through 1903. McGraw has won two with New York. The teams which captured over 100 victories are: Boston in 1892 and in 1898, Brooklyn in 1890, Pittsburgh in 1902, New York in 1904 and 1905.

One of the oddest examples of untimely hitting on record was a Chicago-Louisville game played at Louisville in 1899. Chicago won the game 2 to 1. How Louisville ever managed to keep away from the plate is a mystery. During the game the bases were filled with Colonels exactly 12 times. In every inning except one the bases were full one or more times. Yet on 12 hits, six bases on balls, one hit by pitched ball, and three errors, they made but one run. Four times they had the bases full with but one man out. Yet each time a man was either cut off at the plate or doubled up except in the fifth inning, when, with the bases full, a little tumble by Lance let Dexter score. Any one of 24 hitters could have won the game by one timely hit, yet none was delivered.

A recent bulletin issued by the National Baseball Commission gives a list of players ineligible to play with "National Agreement" clubs. Among those mentioned are Joe Corbett, Fred Raymer, F. J. Ferguson and Bob Unglaub.

COLBURN'S BUGGY WAS BADLY UPSET

John Colburn suffered a very painful injury this morning by being tipped out of his buggy when near the Central Fire Station. He was driving into town with one of his boys. The horse went wrong near the fire station and tipped them both out. Mr. Colburn struck the curb and seemed badly hurt. The boy was cut on the head but seemed not to mind it. Mr. Colburn was taken home and a physician called. He is resting easily.

WOMAN'S BOARD

The Woman's Board of Missions will meet in Central Union church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The new study of Africa, following the outline of Christus Liberator, will be introduced by Mrs. Withington—"The Dark Continent." The first report will be given by the Board's very new and welcome auxiliary, the Kin Kok Kong Ten Fall. A number of visiting missionaries will be with us, and it is hoped that for at least a portion of the hour we may have the presence of our pastor, Rev. J. Walter Sylvester, who sails on the Siberia in the afternoon. Strangers in the city, as well as resident friends are always welcome to the meetings of the Board. A special invitation is extended to the Missionary Gleasers. M. L. SHEELEY, Recording Secretary.

Bioplasm (Bower)

It is the most powerful remedial agent ever discovered. Bioplasm is endorsed and used by the leaders of the medical profession in France and the U. S. It is a discovery resulting from the teachings of Prof. Elie Metchnikoff, successor of the great Pasteur.
