JAPANESE IMMIGRATION REFORM

Outline of the reform in Japanese immigration as given by the representative of Consul Saito is accepted with the hope that the assurances of improvement will be amply fulfilled.

To an outsider it is rather difficult to understand how these new rules will prevent the latest arrivals from Japan, forthwith taking up their abbreviated beds and sailing to the mainland. This, however, is a matter of quite as much importance to Japan as to Hawaii.

This Territory needs labor, bona fide agriculturists who will go to the plantations to work. In the final analysis Japan needs the same thing, sooner or later the use of Hawaii as a half way station for Japanese going to the mainland will arouse a widespread antagonism that will present some very delicate questions for the Japanese government as well as our own.

The labor unions of the States are a steadily growing power. Should Japanese from Hawaii become too numerous in California and along the Pacific Coast, the time is comparatively short before the demand for further restriction of the immigration will be heard throughout the country. Once the people become thoroughly stirred up few considerations of diplomacy will check very positive action.

As we understand it Japan is not unenthusiastic over the emigration of its people in this direction; it is supposed to unalterably oppose to their jumping to the mainland. Hitherto this barrier of official disfavor has not amounted to much.

It is to be hoped that the reform will accomplish all that is expected and promised. Results alone can prove it.

FELT NO EARTHQUAKE

Purser Charles Kibling, of the steamer Claudine, which arrived this morning from Hawaii, was rather surprised when he found out from the files of the local papers that there had been an earthquake in Hilo while his ship was in that port. In speaking of the matter to a Bulletin reporter this morning, he said:

"I never heard of any rumor, even of an earthquake while we were in Hilo. In fact I heard nothing of such an event till we arrived in port this morning. I did hear something of a cooked fish being found on the beach but even that I regarded as a 'fish story.' There might have been an earthquake there but if there was, no one from the Claudine felt it. We had a pleasant trip both ways except for a little rough weather which we caught at one of the smaller harbors while we were discharging freight. One of the boats was a little damaged but no one was hurt at all."

The BUSINESS MAN'S HANDY IN DEN, published in the Saturday Bulletin and the Weekly Edition, gives a concise and complete resume of all legal notices, calls for tenders, judgments, building permits and real estate transactions. Evening Bulletin, 75¢ per month. Weekly Bulletin, $1 per year.

WHAT BUSINESS MEN WANT

Established with such safeguards as the Legislature may deem desirable. If the Legislature desires a greater responsibility than the Board of Health and its officers, the Governor and Treasurer of the Territory could be added to those responsible for proper expenditure.

The Board of Health recommends an Emergency Appropriation of $35,000.00 for the period. The greater or all might be unused unless a severe epidemic occurs.

This amount was assigned on our books to items as follows: Quarantine ..... $2,400.00 Disinfection, fumigation and vaccine ..... 3,000.00 Dispensary for government physicians ..... 3,000.00 Medicines for government physicians ..... 1,500.00

From the proportion belonging to Quarantine and Disinfection ..... $5,400.00 Do not keeper and fixed charges at Quarantine Hospital ..... $1,100.00 For vaccine, say ..... 1,200.00 2,300.00

Balance ..... $3,100.00 This small balance is all we have to fight epidemics. The pro rata of $5,400.00 per annum for 11 months to Aug. 1st, 1906, is $4,850.00 We have expended to Aug. 1, 9,732.90

Making an overdraft to Aug. 1st of ..... $3,882.90 This was expended as follows: For necessary equipment ..... $1,114.81 For stock of disinfectant (formal line) ..... 1,997.60 For sundry expense ..... 59.34 For extra labor ..... 1,611.75

..... $3,882.90 $3,882.90 Besides guard duty, inspection and disinfection in cases of epidemics our extra force has done the following work with the aid of Messrs. Lawrence, Charlock and Dr. Pratt.

Outside of Honolulu—Disinfected: 208 buildings, 289 kitchens, 27 wash houses, 308 outhouses, 2 stables, 2 warehouses, 50 quills. Within Honolulu—Disinfected: 125 buildings, 1709 rooms, 264 outhouses, 267 stores.

This is a mass of work the Government has neither provided complete means or labor for.

My reliance has been the Shippers' Wharf Committee, but my experience in trying to secure a refund of $1,146.22 from the last Legislature and failing has made me cautious for the future, as the Shippers' Wharf Committee seems to demand a promise of me that their advances be refunded, a promise I cannot give.

For a term of thirteen months, ending September 1st, 1906, I have received from the Honolulu Shippers' Wharf Committee for: Rat and Mosquito campaign ..... $2,278.99 Sanitary work, first period ..... 1,582.20 Sanitary work, second period ..... 99.29 Sanitary work, Waikiki investigation ..... 300.10

..... $4,260.58 During the same period I have received from the Hilo Shippers' Wharf Committee $1,773.52. I came to the conclusion in April to ascertain where the responsibility for the care of epidemics rests.

It is the purpose of the President of the Board of Health to entirely exhaust his appropriation before calling for aid.

The appropriation will probably be exhausted about January 1st at which time all quarantine, disinfection, dispensary work and medical supplies and vaccine will cease unless some clearly agreed and defined provision is made.

Whether the Shippers' Wharf Committee or some other branch of the Merchants' Association chooses to step into the breach is a matter for them to determine.

The Board of Health will not ask for any heavy increase in its appropriations, provided its work and responsibilities are not increased materially.

It will ask for an emergency appropriation suitably guarded. Faxon Bishop offered a resolution to the effect that as the records of the Board of Health showed the past appropriations had been inadequate, the parties be urged to incorporate in their platforms a plank recommending larger amounts for the protection of the public health. The resolution was passed unanimously.

Mr. Morgan brought up the fact that while the Promotion Committee worked for the whole group of islands the burden was entirely on the merchants of Honolulu.

President McCandless stated that the committee was now spending about $2000 per month and was compelled to be very careful in its expenses. He stated that this money came entirely from the wharf tax and local subscriptions. He said that he believed that part of this should be borne by the general public. No action was taken on this matter.

The matter of the Territorial support of the militia was then taken up. Upon motion by F. J. Lowrey it was decided that the meeting was in favor of ample appropriation for this work.

Geo. W. Smith suggested the enactment of a new license law. J. P. Cooke suggested that this would come under the tax commission.

Willard Brown moved it be the sense of the meeting that an appropriation be made by the next Legislature for promotion work. Fred Macfarlane presented a formal motion to the same effect which was accepted.

W. R. Farrington moved that the policy of the Territorial Immigration Board be endorsed. E. D. Tenney spoke on the importance of the commission and endorsed the motion as one of vital importance. He stated that it was most important to the agricultural interests and therefore to the merchant. The motion was amended to ask that a plank be inserted in the party platforms pledging continued support to the Immigration commission. Faxon Bishop stated that he did not believe that the meeting should advise that this matter be placed in the party platforms. Mr. Farrington replied that he had thought the meeting was one in which all were expected to say what they thought.

E. D. Tenney again spoke strongly on the subject, saying that he wished to see the matter forced through. He said that speaking for the interests he represented, he would heartily support the motion.

A general discussion followed on the subject of recommending candidates at the present meeting. Clarence Cooke moved that the meeting recommend such candidates as they saw fit. J. P. Cooke moved that the meeting adjourn; and that a second meeting be held before the district convention in which candidates for the House and Senate are nominated. The motion was carried unanimously.

Job Batchelor has filed his report as master on the annual account filed by Wm. Savidge as trustee of the estate of M. A. Barete, which became quite famous in the matter of the Kellett defalcations. The receipts include an item of $3,609.22, cash received from Kellett. Batchelor finds the account correct and recommends that it pass.

Judge De Bolt has appointed R. W. Podmore, Albert Waterhouse and G. M. Yamada appraisers of the estate of the late J. H. Nishwitz.
