EX-MAYOR PHELAN THANKS HAWAIIANS

Thanks of San Francisco For Generous Aid From Islands

The money sent from this Territory to aid those who suffered from the San Francisco earthquake has been expended and a letter, enclosing receipt for the same, and the cordial thanks of the committee in charge of the relief funds and also the general public of the city, was received in the Ventura mail by Governor Carter. The work is by no means completed as shown by the statement in the letter that there are 20,000 people still depending on the funds of the committee for support and that as many more will receive relief during the rainy season.

The letter reads as follows: San Francisco, Sept. 28, 1906. His Excellency, Hon. G. R. Carter, Governor, Territory of Hawaii. Dear Sir:—I beg to hand you herewith our official receipts, being acknowledgments of receipt of subscriptions from the Territorial Government and from the citizens of Hawaii of $15,000, $5,000, $2,000 and $194.55, in the aggregate, $22,194.55.

Allow me at this time to express the gratitude of this community to its generous friends among your beautiful islands and to say that their splendid donations have been indeed of great assistance in relieving the sufferings of our stricken citizens. Our great fire left thousands homeless; left them without means of securing livelihood; without even the very necessities of life, and it was only through the great generosity of the world that they were saved from actual starvation. At the present time we are feeding twenty thousand and are also engaged in an endeavor to provide shelter for as many as possible during the rainy season. In addition to this we are caring for as many more in hospitals, orphanages and other public institutions, besides aiding in the rehabilitation of those who can with a little assistance help themselves, and I am sure that you and the generous citizens of Hawaii feel some recompense in knowing that you have done so much in this noble work. Yours very truly, JAMES D. PHELAN, President.

SUPPLY SCHOONER FOR THE CABLE COMPANY

When the Commercial Pacific Cable Company's steamship Restorer was sent to Midway Island to the aid of the stranded Mongolia, it was necessary for her to take certain supplies intended for the use of the passengers on board the liner and of the station people. At that time an objection was raised in certain quarters that, under the laws the Restorer was not eligible to carry supplies and an attempt was made to stop her. However, in this case common sense prevailed over red tape and the Restorer was allowed to proceed on her errand of mercy.

The cable company is now to have a new supply boat for service between its Pacific ocean stations. A steam schooner is being built on the Coast, under the direction of Captain Metcalf, and is expected to be ready for service the early part of next year. The craft is a wooden vessel. She will, in all probability, be stationed here, to carry supplies between Guam, Midway and other place, and Honolulu.

Castro Ill Venezuela Is At Sea

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 15.—President Castro is ill and an uprising is feared.

Swept By Hurricane 100 Buried In Mine Is Complete

ESSEN, Prussia, Oct. 15.—The church wedding of Miss Bertha Krupp, daughter of the famous gunmaker, took place today.

LAUKEA OPENS DOORS TO HOME RULERS FOR POLICE FORCE

D. Kalaoukani Sr., the "grand old man" of the Home Rule party, stated today that it was an error to state that Curtis Iaukea has promised the Home Rulers a one-third the police force should be elected Sheriff. Kalaoukani says that Iaukea promised that if he is elected Sheriff and the Home Rulers want office on the police force, he will give them room. Thus it appears that the promise is broader than the original proposal as first given in the Bulletin. Iaukea has practically opened the doors of the police force to the Home Rulers and agreed to make room for them.

KALAU ORDERED TO REFUSE NOMINATION

Home Ruler Leaders Tell Him To Throw Down Democrats

A meeting of both the executive and county committee of the Home Rule party was held at the Kahiliulani Hall on Kukui street this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Prominent among those present were Senator D. Kalaoukani, Rev. J. Kehi, Jessie Makainai, Wm. Mossman, D. Kupihia, D. Kaona, J. M. Poopoe, J. K. Nakookoo, P. Lane, Kaimakaohe and others, numbering in all about forty people.

Wm. Mossman, who is a regular nominee for the House from the Fifth District has withdrawn from running and accepted the candidacy to the Board of Supervisors, District of Ewa, with the approval of the County Committee. This action of Mossman's has created some heated expression of opinion among the Home Rulers and hence the outsiders who were originally admitted to the meeting were on motion of Wm. Kahiliulani requested to vacate their seats.

Samuel Noar, the legal adviser and the regular nominee for the office of County Attorney, made appearance at the meeting at 11:45.

It is understood that when the proposition of Kalaoukani's accepting the nomination of the Democratic Senatorial ticket came before the Home Rule County Committee, it set its face dead against it, and instructed him not to accept. As Kalaoukani is, above all, a Home Ruler he will undoubtedly have to obey the committee's command, and will have to refuse the offer of the Democrats.

CROWDS AT REPUBLICAN AALA RALLY ATTEST OVERWHELMING STRENGTH WITH VOTERS

It was a rousing big meeting that the Republicans held at Aala Park last Saturday night. And it was a good meeting in every way.—in the immense crowd present and the way they stayed until the end, in the attention with which they listened to the speakers, in the excellence of the addresses made by the Republican candidates and leaders.

J. Hopp & Co., 1053-1055-1055 BISHOP ST.

they showed their intense interest in the issues of the campaign, and when, at 11 o'clock the last word had been spoken, there could not have been less than 1000 people at the park.

W. A. Kinney got his, Saturday night. His claims to leadership, his right to expect the support of the native Hawaiians, were punched so full of holes that they couldn't hold anything. Vida and Keahumoku reminded the Hawaiians that it was Kinney who tore down their flag, who sat as Judge Advocate and tried them before a military court because they fought for the flag they loved and that had been the protection of them and theirs for a hundred years. This is the Kinney who now comes before the Hawaiian voters and asks for their support.—his man who has no use for the Hawaiians and no love for them. His heart is still black.

And this man, this hater of Hawaiians, is opposed as a leader to the all, the prince of the royal family, Kaho, the man whom the people venerate. Which, asked the speakers, should the people follow? Drunk and Glad For the most part, the meeting was a quiet and orderly one. The only interruptions were those made by a couple of drunks. Mahoe had imbibed more of the oil of joy than he could carry comfortably, and exuberantly insisted upon sharing the limelight with the speakers a part of the time. Finally he concluded that his place was on the platform, where he could be seen of the admiring multitude, so he climbed up and went to sleep. He was quiescent for a time, but after a while the spirit—or spirits—moved again, and he went down and, advancing to the center of the open space in front of the platform, announced enthusiastically that he was drunk and glad of it.

The only other interruption came from an inebriated old Democratic sister down in the Amen corner, who didn't like Vida. Probably Vida had had her as a guest at the police station some time, for when he got up to speak, she made night hideous with vile curings and obscenity until she was dragged away.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one, each telling point of the speakers being heartily applauded. S. Kanepuu was chairman of the evening.

Among those on the platform were A. V. Gear, John Hughes, Ben Zablun, S. Kanepuu, Sam Dwight, Charlie Clarke, J. H. S. Kaleo, John Sheldon, Sol, Kaleiope, Geo. A. Davis, W. T. Rawlins, Dan P. Hanalei, N. Fernand, Chas. Huestace Jr., Harry Murray, C. B. Maille, A. St. C. Pihanaia, Judge Hookeano, Eugene Buffandau, Mr. Kaka, Harry Klemme, A. D. Castro, Henry Vida.

Straight-Ticket Hughes John Hughes, candidate for Representative, was the first speaker of the evening, after the introductory address of the chairman, Kanepuu. Asking the support of the voters for himself and the rest of the Republican ticket, the speaker referred to the assertions of the Democrats that they will swallow the Republicans. "If they do," he said, "they will find the first Republican they swallow lodged crosswise."

The speaker deplored the use of personalities in politics. "But," he said, "you can't play politics with kid gloves on, and I propose to analyze the records of the different parties."

Speaking of the Home Rule party, he said that when they had control of the Legislature they played such antics as made Hawaii the laughing stock of the nations; they passed bills which were worthless or worse. "And what has the Democratic party done?" the speaker asked. "I do not know of anything they have done. Do you? They have not had the opportunity, and I think it will be quite a while before they have the opportunity."

"And the Republican party—what has it done? The records of its deeds are written deep in the history of this country. The first Governor, Judge Dole, was an inviolable opponent of corruption; and our present Governor, Geo. R. Carter, has placed the finances of this country on a stable basis. Our Legislature has passed laws that have made this country what it is."

Referring to the "red herring" that the Democrats have drawn across the track, the question of Cuba, Hughes said the Democrats ask the voters to return a Democrats as Delegate to Congress. If the Democratic policy of free trade were carried out, it would be as barren as the top of Diamond Head. No man need worry about the annexation of Cuba, for we have a Republican President, and when he thinks it is best for the country, the Democrats can't stop him. But the Republican party is working to prevent annexation. There are 1,200 immigrants now on the way to this country, eligible to become American citizens and Republicans, and that is the way we are going to prevent the annexation of Cuba,—by having 100,000 voters to cast their votes for the Republican party.

Voters Should Stand Together

J. H. S. Kaleo opened his address by stating that nothing else than a desire on the part of the people to get the real truth of what the parties are going to do could have brought together such a large audience.

Kaleo said that only the Republican party so far has given the Hawaiians any work, so that they can supply their families with fish and poi. Therefore he urged them to stand by the Republican party as Lincoln urged the soldiers to stand by the Union. He called attention to the plank in the Republican platform urging Congress to make an appropriation of $250,000 for Queen Liliuokalani to pay her for the crown lands taken from her. The voters should stand together, for that is the only way to continue the present prosperity. "United we stand; divided we fall."

Republicans Will Suppress Dives George A. Davis opened by the statement that there are no angels in the Republican party. There are, however, good men who are candidates. "And we give notice from this platform tonight," he said, "that if you return a majority of our candidates, every disorderly dramshop in Honolulu must close. We make this promise and it shall be kept. It is not the fault of the police; it is the fault of the law that these dramshops are running tonight. The petty officers sink into insignificance beside the law. It was a Republican Legislature that passed the County Act. This act was passed over the veto of the Governor. Don't let them tell you that the Republican party supports these disorderly places. And on the 6th of November we are going to elect a majority of the Republican candidates."

Davis strongly endorsed the candidacy of W. O. Smith, whom he described as a strong man who is not afraid of the Executive veto, Rawlins and Quinn were mentioned as worthy candidates, well deserving of the support of the voters. Long, Davis predicted, will have an illustrious career in the House of Representatives, as a man who can not be bribed. John W. Cathcart, said the speaker, will be a man who will perform the duties of his office honestly and well. The entire ticket should be supported.

The Home Rulers, the Democrats and the Civic Federation were bunched together by the speaker as parties without a policy and without a leader. If their candidates should be elected Donnybrook Fair would be about the same as the government they would give. "I do not believe," he said, "that there is a newspaper in Honolulu which would be willing to entrust the government to the hands of the Home Rulers, the Democrats or the Civic Federation."

Referring to the acts of the Republican administration at Washington, the speaker said the Panama Canal being built under its direction, will prove of incalculable value to the people of Hawaii, and the voters of Hawaii ought to support the party which is doing this for them.

"If the opposition candidates, without a policy and without a leader, should be put in charge of this government tomorrow, wouldn't they be in a pretty position? Now, if you think you can improve the situation by voting the Democratic ticket, go to the polls and vote it," concluded the speaker.

Davis was interrupted several times by a drunken man in the audience who finally had to be suppressed.

Before the next speaker was introduced, Sam Kamakia rendered a solo on the cornet, which was heartily applauded. He said the name of the selection was "Forget Me Not," to remind the voters not to forget to vote the Republican ticket.

A Laboring-man's Advice Sam Dwight made the next address. He said he was a laborer and would always be a laborer until he died, and he was a candidate by virtue of the voice of the laboring people. The Republican party, he said, is the party which will help you and your children. It is well enough for the Democrats to advocate higher pay for you, but if they were in power they would have to say to you "it can't be done." With that argument of the Democrats out of the way, the only thing for you to do is to stand by the Republican party and elect its candidates. The laboring party in this country has a great deal to do with the prosperity of the country. I advise you to support the Republican party. Follow the motto of your great monarch (Kamehameha I): "Go forward until you drink the bitter water."

Need More Police A. V. Gear, candidate for Supervisor, announced that he is going to be elected on the 6th of November and after his election, he will consider himself as a servant of the people. The people need many things—better lights, better roads, better police protection. Whatever you want, come to me and I'll try to get it for you. The police force should be increased 25
