$200,000 Voted For Our Fortifications

Washington, D. C., January 31, 1907.

Governor Carter, Honolulu.

Two hundred thousand dollars Hawaii fortifications passed Senate. Now in conference.

J. KALANIANA'OLE.

A cablegram in the above words was received this morning by Governor Carter from Hawaii's delegate to Congress. Secretary Taft's ideas as to the importance of fortifying Hawaii have evidently borne fruit, and the Senate has voted to add two hundred thousand dollars to the $260,000 appropriated by the last Congress. This will make a total of $460,000, somewhat less than the amount asked for by Taft, which was $600,000, but still enough to go far toward fortifying these islands. As the matter is still in conference, there is a possibility that the amount will be still further increased by the time the bill becomes a law.

FIGHT FOR HAWAII INDIVIDUALLY IS WELL PLANNED

Captain Otwell, who will be in charge of the construction of the fortifications for which Congress is at present engaged in appropriating believes that one great advantage has been given the Territory in the present battle, by making a separate and distinct appeal for the defense of Hawaii as a Territory of the Union.

Formerly Hawaii has in the appropriation bills before Congress enjoyed the disadvantage of being associated with Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines. Undoubtedly she suffered from this association. Congressmen of the anti-imperialistic type were strongly against providing more for the Philippines than absolutely necessary, going on the theory that it would be poor policy to make heavy permanent investments in a place which the United States might better get rid of. It is impossible to tell how much Hawaii suffered by being associated with the Philippines. That she did suffer is more than probable.

Now, however, the fight is being made for Hawaii, as a Territory, and an integral part of the Union, which must be preserved and defended. California especially is taking a hand in Hawaii's fight, as that state is herself interested in having this outpost fortified. That Hawaii's chances have been bettered considerably by this change of line of attack.

FULLERTON TOOK PHONEY MORTGAGE

Grantors Had No Right To The Property Hypothecated

That James B. Fullerton, guardian of the estate of Mabel, Edith, Helen and Elsie Roberts, minors, has been guilty of gross carelessness in accepting, for the estate, a mortgage on property to which the mortgagors had no right in law, is the charge made by John Marcellino in his report as master on the third annual account of Fullerton. Marcellino seems to have developed a habit of going after careless and incompetent guardians, and is making an effort to do away with some of the carelessness which has marked the handling of minor's estates by certain custodians. A few days ago he submitted a report on the guardianship of Frank Archer which must have made Archer squirm.

Marcellino calls Judge Lindsay's attention to the fact that Fullerton on October 15 accepted from John P. and Isabella Mendiola a mortgage for $2,200 on certain pieces of property, in all but one of which the mortgagors had no interest whatever. The only piece of property in the list in which they did have any interest whatever is not defined with sufficient distinctness to make it possible to foreclose on it. The rest of the property belongs, according to the decision of the Supreme Court, to C. W. Ashford.

That the decision mentioned was rendered by the Supreme Court subsequent to the time the mortgage was given and accepted, appears to be no excuse for the guardian, as the matter was at that time in the courts and had been since 1905.

"It was the guardian's business," says the master in his report, "before

EX-QUEEN IS TO BE MARRIED

SO EXAMINER SAYS.

The San Francisco Examiner of January 22, prints the following:

Honolulu, Jan. 21.—The betrothal of throneless Queen Liliuokalani is persistently rumored among the natives, and the report is becoming a general topic of comment. Authentic details have not been obtained and every effort is being made to keep the facts secret. The most generally accepted of the different versions current is that the ex-Queen is engaged to a Tahitian Prince, who is now on an extended tour through the United States. He will soon visit Hawaii and the announcement of the date of the marriage is then expected. The former queen of the islands is reticent and refuses to discuss the matter.

he made this investment of $3,200 to find out if the grantors had a clear title to the property. The guardian has informed the master that he acted upon the advice of his attorney in investing in this property. The guardian, knowing that there was litigation pending, in which this property was involved, should not have invested in the same. It is easy enough to get first mortgage securities or reliable bonds. I call attention to this investment in order that the Court may be advised as to the true facts concerning the same."

The mortgage referred to, Marcellino states, is not even a first mortgage, but there are three prior mortgages on the property. Also another mortgage for $850 was given on the same day that the $2,200 mortgage was given.

In addition to the above charges, Marcellino states that during the year 1906 the guardian did not forward any part of the estate or principal for the support of Helen Roberts, in San Francisco. The guardian says that he is informed that Helen is dead, but he is not sure of the fact.

The strikers have been sentenced to a month's imprisonment at hard labor.

THOMAS NOTT BUGKS ORDERS OF COURT

Takes Belongings Of Deceased Wife From Dayton

According to the affidavit of David Dayton, Thomas Nott seems to have a pretty poor idea as to the effect of court orders. At any rate, he appears to believe that his own rights are paramount to any court order which conflicts with them.

Nott has been summoned to appear before Judge Lindsay and show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt of court. This action is taken on complaint of Dayton, who files an affidavit showing that Nott has deliberately defied the order.

The Promotion Committee will hold a regular meeting this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.
