LOS ANGELES GUESTS BECOME HOSTS AT UNIQUE DINNER PARTY

The Japanese dinner at the Mochizuki Club last evening turned out one of the happiest return events ever given by visitors to the city. Representatives of the committees in charge of the entertainment of the Los Angeles visitors were entertained by the Los Angeles committee. And it turned out that the entertainment was as attractive and novel to the hosts as to the guests.

The Japanese club was a revelation to the people from Los Angeles and it rounded out the record of the trip that has had something new and entertaining for every day. "We have learned to eat with our fingers and now we have conquered the chop sticks; have you anything more coming," said one member of the party.

The joy began when the hosts and guests were robed in Japanese kimonos, which, by the way, so pleased the newcomers that many took their clothes home with them, paying a nominal figure for what was a very useful souvenir of the occasion. The tables were laid in the large dining room and it was a very jolly party that sat down, with Mr. Herron presiding and Mr. McCandless occupying the opposite end of the table. The menu was printed on pretty Japanese fans and the story of that part of the dinner is told in the following terms:

Sumono (Soup)
Kaki-Sumono (Oyster)
Shio-yaki (Broiled Fish)
Koshi-yori (Sweet side)
Oshira-yaki (Lobster)
Clawan-nashi (Steamed mixture)
Tori-mushi (Stewed chicken)
Umagi-meshi (Rice eel)

As the dinner progressed Japanese singing girls furnished music which was enjoyed if not understood. During the last course Mr. Herron announced Fred Alles as the toastmaster of the evening, and he kept things moving, as he always does. His first call was to drink to the toast "The President," a toast which characterizes every American gathering. Turning to the affairs of the immediate hour he discoursed on the trade of the islands and of the Pacific and called on J. A. McCandless to speak for the commercial interests.

McCandless said it was a late hour to formally extend a welcome to the visitors but the people of the town had been trying to express their ideas along this line in many different languages for a week past. He hoped that this visit of the Los Angeles would result in a permanent steamer line to the port of San Pedro. The trade of these islands have to give is estimated at a million dollars a month and upwards of three hundred passengers a month go each way. There is no reason why Los Angeles should not have some of this business. He was glad the Los Angeles had come and hoped to see them all again.

Secretary Wiggins spoke of the promotion work in which he is interested. He said he knew no reason why he should be called the only Wiggins. He had a great combination behind him and they put aside their politics and their personalities while working for the best interests of Southern California. They did not pretend to confine themselves to Los Angeles alone.

Mr. Alles then, prefacing his introduction by presenting Mr. Wood with a splendid catalash as a memento of the occasion, called on H. P. Wood. Referring to his present duties Mr. Wood said he had been credited with more power to win profits in other lines, yet he had been so long in promotion work he had become wedded to it. It was to be hoped this excursion from Southern California was only the beginning of more intimate relations. The present visitors were cordially invited to come again, besides inducing others to visit Hawaii. They had not seen all of the islands.

Judge Bosbyshell, speaking of Los Angeles commercial affairs, said: "In the past Los Angeles had not very intimate relations with any other city than San Francisco, but the present occasion gave promise of something different. He believed that if the people here assured some of their sugar freight, a regular line of steamers between Southern California and Hawaii could be organized within six months."

Hawaii Has Won Every Heart

C. M. WRIGHT "I have nothing but praise for Hawaii," said C. M. Wright this morning. "I have had the time of my life here, and I am sorry that our trip must be such a short one. I wish we could stay about six months, anyway. But I am hoping to come back later on, when I can make a longer stay."

"I think the climate of these islands is the best in the world, and the country is the most beautiful. I have only one kick coming, and that is that I can't find anything to kick about. We have certainly been finely treated since we came, both here and on Hawaii."

"I hope that a steamship line will be established between here and Los Angeles, for I believe that it would prove to be a great thing for both cities. I have not heard one of our party say anything that was not in the highest degree complimentary to Hawaii and the people here."

GEORGE H. PIKE "I think that your islands are exceptionally beautiful and are well worth for anyone to come and visit. I have been particularly favorably impressed with the excellence of the roads, which you have here. I should say that this country should be an exceptionally fine one for automobilists. The tidiness of the town has also struck me as being particularly worthy of notice, being absolutely clean and free from the filth which one so often finds in the warm climates. I have, during my time, visited tropical cities elsewhere, but I have never been in one where conditions were better, or as good for that matter. Unlike other tropical cities, the place is clean, the sanitation excellent, and the population wide awake and alive to business."

J. COOK "This has been a most delightful trip," said Mr. J. Cook, "and I am sorry that it is to end so soon. I should like to stay longer, for I have been having a fine time. Everything has been pleasant and the people of Honolulu have done everything they could to see that we had a good time. I hope to see connections established between Honolulu and Los Angeles, for I believe both cities would be greatly benefited by it."

J. F. HOLBROOK J. F. Holbrook expressed his appreciation of what the people of Honolulu have done to show the Los Angeles a good time. "We have enjoyed every minute of our stay," he said, "and I am only sorry that it can't be a longer one. I think the climate of Hawaii is the most perfect in the world. It is certainly away ahead of ours in the winter, and I guess it is all the year round. We have all enjoyed ourselves and I have not heard one of our party make any kick."

G. G. JOHNSON "I think the visit of this party has been a good thing for both Los Angeles and Honolulu, as it tends to make them better acquainted and will have its influence towards bringing them into direct inter-communication. I see a large number of Los Angeles fruit boxes here, but as the railroads which ship the fruit from us to San Francisco give us very scant attention, you do not get the fruit when it is in its prime, as you would if there was direct line from San Pedro.

"As far as this visit itself is concerned, I can say that Honolulu has had at least some very tangible benefit from it. I can say positively that the party has spent at least $25,000 here. That would be only $100 for each member, and there are many who have spent three or four times that amount."

LLOYD CHILDS "Every one of the party has had the most enjoyable time of his life. I expect to return to Honolulu with as big a party, or a bigger one even, in about two months. There were many people in Los Angeles who wanted to come here in the Ohio, but could not go. These, in addition to a number of Berkeley people who have expressed their intention of coming here, will make up a large excursion."

T. J. HAMPTON "There is one thing which I have missed in Honolulu. That is yachting. The alliance which has been formed between the South Coast and the Hawaii Yacht Club has meant much to us already, and I hope to be here to see the finish of the next trans-Pacific race."

MISS. MARCHER "I never enjoyed the dances anywhere as much as I have here. The music is simply fine and the climate made to dance in. I wish we could have dances like yours in Los Angeles."

W. Y. TEETZEL "This country certainly looks good to me. I am much better satisfied than I expected to be, as I did not expect to find such a fine town and such a lot of wide-awake business men as you have here."

J. M. CARPENTER "I am the president of the Carpenter & Mills Mill & Lumber Co. of Los Angeles, and am naturally most interested in the lumber business. I am taking home a lot of your koa lumber, 2,200 feet, from Honolulu and 2,000 feet from Hilo. I intend to put it on the market as an interior finish wood. I am very favorably impressed with it, and intend to handle it on an extensive scale, if I find a good market for it."

H. J. EVEREST "Hawaii is a nice place for the natives, and I don't think that they should have it taken away from them. It is evidently a good place for the raising of sugar cane and all kinds of fruit."

J. W. EBERSOL "I am from Chicago, but I generally spend the winter in Los Angeles. It strikes me that the town is too big for the people it contains. There are too many vacant business buildings. I do not know the reason for this, but undoubtedly these things will right themselves as the town grows."

MRS. C. M. WRIGHT "This country is certainly beautiful. It surpasses anything I have ever seen. We visited Wahiawa and were much impressed. My husband, who has been a farmer all his life, said that he had never seen such excellent cultivation."

JOHN D. CLARK "This is a nice place, and I am well pleased with my visit. However, it strikes me that the Japanese and Chinese have got you throttled and that the planters and the tourists are all that keep up the town. There is no middle class."

IRA CHANDLER "I think we are all perfectly satisfied. I am delighted with the town and shall certainly give you all the praise I can whenever an opportunity presents itself."

Los Angeles was growing rapidly. It was one of the leading cities of the Pacific Coast and aimed at nothing less than to be the leading city. He thought no city could show a more rapid growth than had Los Angeles within the past few years. "No pent-up Utah contracts our powers, a whole unbound continent is ours," and the next place we are going to grasp is Hawaii.

W. R. Farrington, Daniel Logan, and C. L. Rhodes spoke for the press of the islands. G. G. Johnson made a very happy response for the real estate men of the Los Angeles party. R. H. Trent made a very nice hit by devoting his talk to an exposition of Japanese English. It was good. The dinner closed with three cheers by the Los Angeles for Honolulu and return cheers by the Honoluluans for the visitors who showed themselves such excellent and hearty hosts. From the table the party adjourned to the parlors, where the geisha girls gave a program of geisha dancing and singing. Those who participated in the gathering were: R. H. Herron, chairman; Frank Wiggins, G. G. Johnson, R. D. List, L. Kimble, P. G. Clark, Dr. J. E. Cowles, Dr. R. W. Hill, E. P. Bosbyshell, W. G. Hutchison, Milo Baker, A. Burnhelm, G. W. Randall, A. E. McConnell, M. N. Newmark, F. D. Owen, A. W. Swanfeldt, H. G. Chilton, Fred. Alles, Lloyd Childs, Sherman Wiggins and Capt. Geo. Brown of the S. S. Ohio, J. A. McCandless, chairman, and H. P. Wood, secretary Hawaii Promotion Committee; M. Phillips, R. H. Trent, W. T. Lucas, E. H. Paris, F. C. Smith, A. Garity, T. H. Petrie, W. R. Farrington, C. L. Rhodes and Daniel Logan.

ROBT. M. FULTON "I have been very much interested in the trip here, particularly in the opinions of the people, and am sorry that we are going back so soon. I think your girls here are very pretty and can compare very well with any to be seen in any part of the country."

H. C. KEATING "I was very much interested in the fine dances here. I have studied the dances of the Eskimoes, Samoyeds, different tribes of American Indians and others, and expect to write a book on the subject. I saw several hula girls here and gathered a great deal of interesting information."

W. V. AMBROSE "Both my wife and I have enjoyed the dances which have been given in the various hotels very much indeed, and shall miss them very much. We are very much taken with the Hawaiian music and are very glad that there are some of the quietest boys coming on the steamer with us."

JAMES IRVING "I am an assayer and I have been looking for minerals while I was here. The Volcano was very interesting. It reminded me of a gigantic crucible, and I could not help wondering if there were any minerals there. However, I understand you have none, with the exception of iron, and that in so small a quantity that it does not amount to anything. The islands appear to have been burned out altogether."

M. N. NEWMARK "I have had a mighty good time. I expect to call here again on my way around the world next year. So far as business is concerned, in my line all our grain is taken up in home consumption, but I think that with a steamer line down here, we could get good hay into this market at figures more favorable than you are now obtaining. There are great possibilities in this country for you here and for those seeking to do business with you. You have got the art of making people enjoy themselves down to a fine point."

OTTO DOLFINGER "As far as I, for that matter the entire party is concerned, I can say that we were entertained royally both here and in Hilo. I should like to come back here very much."

JOHN W. BURKE "I have nothing too good to say about Honolulu. Everyone here has been as good as they could be to me, and I have met many old friends whom I had no idea were here. The boys in the Elks Club are all right and when any of them come to Southern California they must look me up and we'll see what can be done about having a good time."

MISS ALICE WERNLUND "I would like to stay here forever and a day, but the Ohio is going back and I guess I must go with her. The swimming at Waikiki is the finest thing that I ever found. I wish we could take the beach back with us."

MRS. F. L. MORE "Like a number of my friends, if I could be sure of getting a steamer from here in about six weeks I certainly would stay over. I like everything in Honolulu, though we were nearly blown over the Pail by the wind."

MRS. W. G. HUTCHISON "Why don't you have more steamers? Mr. Hutchison and I want to stay, but the agents cannot tell us whether we can get accommodation or not till March 27. We both are in love with Honolulu and everything in it."
