Fishmarket Building, Supervisors Decide, Shall Not Be Moved

The old fishmarket building will stay where it is as far as the Supervisors are concerned. This decision they arrived at at the meeting last night, a few figures showing the cost of moving the structure being sufficient to convince them that the plan to remove the building to Aala park, however desirable it might be, would be too expensive to carry out. The meeting was a very quiet one throughout. Archer was a bit peevish, but was smoothed down.

Fire Chief Thurston reported that during November his department had responded to five alarms. Property worth about $10 had been destroyed.

M. Brash called attention to the bad state of the sidewalks on King street between South and Thomas Square. He asked sarcastically if the weeds on the street were part of the Robison plan for the beautification of the city.

Hustace said all this had been attended to and Sam Johnson said indignantly that there were no trees growing on the road, and the sarcasm was uncalled for.

President Pinkham of the Board of Health wrote that the Pinnato stream was in an offensive condition. He wanted the County to clean it. Johnson said the work had already been done. He wondered why people always kicked after the work had been done.

Superintendent of Public Works Campbell wrote that B. F. Dillingham would deed 8925 square feet of land for the widening of Alexander street, provided that the County would lay the curb and build a small retaining wall. Referred to the Road Committee.

A petition of 81 citizens asked for five arc lights on the Waikamilo road. Referred to the Committee on Lights.

Residents of Artesian street asked to have that thoroughfare macadamized. Dwight said that this matter could be attended to.

Dwight recommended that $150 be appropriated to move and repair the house at the Makiki pound. This was done, though Archer demurred mildly in regard to the expense.

Dwight submitted the following figures by the County Engineer in regard to the proposed removal of the fish market building:

Taking down building and hauling	$4,500
Ing	1,800
New piers for columns	1,800
Erecting	5,500
Repairs to roof, etc.	1,500
Total	$13,200

"Under these circumstances I think the building will stay where it is for some time," said Hustace, and the rest of the members agreed.

Hustace said that he had another proposition to make, namely to purchase the old makai fishmarket shed in Kaka'ouke street, which would be more suitable in point of size. The committee was instructed to look into the matter.

Hustace stated further that the next legislature should see to it that the rest of the Aala Park block be condemned for park purposes.

Hustace said that there was some question as to the payment of $500 for a sprinkling cart for Koolau. "I understand that that bill has already been passed," said County Engineer Gere.

"Well, so much the better," answered Hustace. "That saves a fight." Hustace reported that all the road shovels in Koolau had been paid off, and there was no further kick coming. He was glad to make the statement.

Dwight reported that road work was being done at Kahaunui, Paoua, Keawe street, Diamond Head road, 13th avenue, Kaimuki, Palolo road, Young street, Alexander street, School street extension, Alewa and other places.

Archer wanted to know how many roads in the Fifth District had been oiled. He said that no roads had been oiled there but $1500 had been spent on such matters in the Fourth.

Hustace said that only roads with heavy grades were being oiled. All the roads in the Fifth were level.

"What about King street?" asked Archer.

"Well, it had not done any good," answered Hustace. "And we won't oil any more level roads."

Sam Johnson reported that oiling had saved much repair work on the steep roads.

Dwight said that the appropriation for oil had had reference only to the hilly streets.

Archer said Liliha street was steep and should be oiled.

Johnson said that Liliha street was steep and the road near Kahaunui would be oiled in the near future.

But Archer had another kick. He said that Lanikai street was in a bad state. He was informed that repairs had been made. Dwight remarked that Archer as a member of the Road Committee should be better informed.

Archer developed quite a grudge. He said that the Road Committee looked only after the rich people, and left the poor people to shift for themselves.

"That's your own fault," said Hustace.

face. "You're a member of the Committee."

"But I haven't got much to say," complained Archer. "They never ask me to go out with them."

Hustace said that he did not doubt but that Road Supervisor Johnson would invite him to go around with him.

Finally Archer's kick became a boomerang when Hustace called him to task for not taking enough interest in his committee work.

SUPREME JUSTICES NOT DISQUALIFIED

The Supreme Court answers its own question in the affirmative. The question was whether or not a justice is disqualified from sitting in a cause in which a corporation is a party, by the fact of a relative by affinity or affinity or consanguinity within the third degree holding shares of stock in the corporation, the justice having no pecuniary interest in the issue of the case either directly or through such relative.

The question arose in connection with the income tax appeals of the various sugar companies and other big firms of the Territory, which come up from the Court of Tax Appeals. Two of the Justices of the Supreme Court have relatives who hold sugar stocks, so they asked themselves the question whether or not they ought to sit in the hearing of the cases, and requested the various attorneys interested to argue the matter before them. The attorneys all agreed that the Justices concerned should not be held to be disqualified.
