JAPAN TO RECEIVE THE FLEET ROYALLY

Bishop Harris Says That Prospect Causes Much Joy

Bishop Merriman Colbert Harris of Tokyo, Japan, Methodist Missionary Bishop for Japan and Korea, was an arrival on board the Korea this morning, and expects to go out on her again this afternoon. He was kept busy in the forenoon, and spoke twice while here. When seen this morning, the Bishop talked freely of Japan, with which nation he has become thoroughly acquainted through long residence. Among other things, he outlined elaborate plans which the Japanese are forming for the entertainment of the Fleet upon its arrival in Japan, at the port of Yokohama.

"Public feeling in Japan is all very quiet," he said. "There is a feeling that the matter of immigration is settled, and the people regard the whole thing kindly. The whole nation is rejoicing in fact.

"And it is rejoicing over the prospective visit of the American Fleet to Japanese waters. The Japanese are very friendly, and want to take this opportunity of showing their friendship. Plans were in outline, so far as I know, and I cannot furnish details, but the preparations are elaborate. Among other things, the Emperor will give an audience to the officers, and a dinner. The citizens at Tokyo are planning things on their own account, and will furnish another reception.

"The Fleet will make the port of Yokohama first, and may not touch at any other Japanese port, though it may possibly touch at Kobe. The official receptions and entertainments will be at Yokohama and Tokyo. The ships will stay at Japan for a week altogether.

"There is at present great interest felt in Japan over the coming elections in June."

Besides outlining the above, the Bishop spoke enthusiastically of the church work in Japan and the Orient. "Christianity is now prospering," he said. "The year 1907 was the greatest year in the history of Christianity. There were 10,000 Protestant baptisms during that period. The three Methodist churches have been consolidated in Japan."

The Bishop has been a resident of that country since 1873.

At 11 o'clock this morning he spoke to the Koreans at the school on Punchbowl street. At 2 o'clock he spoke at the Methodist Church. He was invited to address the Japanese River Street Methodist Church on "Conditions in the Orient," should the steamer remain over-night, but as the boat goes out at five this engagement was cancelled.

In the party with him are Mrs. M. J. Edmunds, superintendent of nurses in the training school at Seoul, Korea; Mrs. Gillette, mother of the Y. M. C. A. secretary, P. Gillette, of Seoul; Rev. Mr. McCutcheon, of the Southern Presbyterian Mission, Korea; Mrs. Jankin and children and Miss Moreland of the same mission; Rev. Mr. Johnson and wife of Sapporo, Japan; Rev. Mr. Murphy and wife, from Nagoya; and Dr. and Mrs. Hamill, of the International Sunday School work.

MARSHAL HENDRY RECEIVES MONEY

Gets Letter Notifying Him Of Credit Of $9700

United States Marshal Hendry has at last got his money. That is, he has got the money which he will pass out to other people. This morning he received a letter from The Bank of Hawaii to the effect that the Treasury Department at Washington had cabled them to place the sum of $9,750 to his credit.

The cable was as follows: "Anti-estate judiciary warrant fifty-two thousand nine hundred and seventy-five dollars." Moline, Assistant Treasurer U. S.

The island of Marshal Hendry is much relieved because of the arrival of the money. There are a number of old Hawaiians to whom money is due and they could not understand why it was not forthcoming long ago. They think that the United States is a very rich nation, and should therefore have no trouble in paying out money. They did not realize all the phases of the case, how the Marshal's bond had to be approved, how many people had to sign it, and what a lot of red tape there is to the whole business.

Anyway, the Marshal says that he is much happier now that he has the money to pay these people.

TAMARINDS

A gentleman took a jar of tamarinds to Manila. On his return he said: "Tamarinds are the finest medicine I ever took on a voyage. The value of tamarinds as a remedy for seasickness is not generally known. In countries where tamarinds do not grow the druggists sell them as medicine for seasickness, and it costs about 25 cents for three beans. Here in Hawaii they grow in splendid perfection, and can be obtained for 25 cents a pound jar. A spoonful dropped into a glass of water, allowed to stand for a few seconds and then stirred, is the finest liver medicine and stomachic regulator. If this were generally known travelers would never leave these islands without a jar of tamarinds.

MILLS LANGUISHES

A number of notaries, Notarhos Bursette and Ferreira were the first to each the station, but the job was given to the latter, he having beaten Bursette by a neck. Judge Quarles then took the petition before Judge Lindsay, who issued orders to have Mills appear before him at 2 o'clock his afternoon, when the battle will be fought.

Mills in his petition sets forth that he is unlawfully imprisoned by Sheriff Laukae by virtue of a so-called mittimus issued by Judge Andrade. He goes on to give an account of the scramble which caused his imprisonment, in part, that he was addressing the Court when he was accused of opposing counsel of having assaulted him, and that this attorney then maliciously assaulted, struck and grappled with this petitioner, and without fault and provocation on the part of the petitioner; that petitioner then and there assumed an attitude of defense, but did not return or retaliate the assault, but, on the contrary, deported himself strictly on the defensive in the endeavor to ward off the attack—and to defend himself from injury, and at all times demeaned himself with due respect to the Court,—that the attack was continued for a considerable period of time, during which the petitioner made no attack, but conducted himself purely upon the defensive.

Mills goes on to show that, with the exception of an entry on the minutes to the effect that Mills had been assaulted and had been fined $10 for contempt, no judgment has been entered against him. That a mittimus was then issued, which, so he is informed, mentioned no acts on his part showing that he had been guilty of contempt. Mills then noted an appeal, but the clerk refused to accept the costs, and the appeal was not certified. Later on, it is stated, Judge Andrade withdrew the mittimus, which was probably destroyed, and another purported mittimus was issued, on which Mills believes he is now being held.

The petition alleges that this mittimus is void because it is not supported by any judgment, because it does not allege facts sufficient to constitute contempt, or that Mills was acting otherwise than in the legitimate and necessary defense of his person.

He asks that the Sheriff be required to produce him before the Court and that it inquire into the legality of his detention.

Jacob Rosenberg, on trial on a charge of receiving stolen goods, pleaded not guilty this morning, and his case was set for trial to follow the other case against him, which is set for May 4. The other arrangements were continued.
