WEDDING OF MISS REID IN LONDON

LONDON, England.—With King Edward and Queen Alexandra smiling approval from their private gallery, Jean Reid, daughter of White-law Reid, the American Ambassador to England, was married Tuesday afternoon in the Royal chapel of St. James Palace to Hon. John Hubert Ward, brother of the Earl of Dudley and quarry in waiting to the King. The ancient chapel, one of the few remains of the old palace of the Tudors in which Queen Victoria and several of her daughters were married, was prettily decorated with flowers for this, the most fashionable of recent weddings in London.

A great crowd assembled in St. James Square to watch the arrival of the bridal party and the King and Queen and other members of the Royal family who, by their attendance at the chapel and the subsequent reception at Dorchester house, the city residence of Ambassador Reid, paid a compliment to the American Ambassador and his daughter seldom accorded even to members of the English nobility. The invitations which were limited to less than 100 on account of the smallness of the church, set the time of arrival at 2:45 p. m., and by that hour all the guests had found their seats.

A few minutes before 3 o'clock King Edward and Queen Alexandra, accompanied by their suites, drove up from Buckingham Palace and proceeded at once to the Royal gallery, where the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and Princess Patricia already had arrived.

As is customary in the Church of England service, the officiating clergyman, accompanied by a surpliced choir, met the bridal party at the entrance to the chapel, the choir singing "Lead Us, Heavenly Father, Lead Us."

Rev. Edgar Sheppard, canon of St. George's Chapel, Windsor, where the King and Queen attend services when in residence at Windsor Castle, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. William Grosvenor, rector of the Church of the Immaculate, New York, the church of which Mr. and Mrs. Reid have been members for many years, and Rev. Hilda Claughton, rector, Hinton-Brentwood, a cousin of the groom.

The bride's dress was of soft white satin trimmed with old rose point lace given her by her grandmother. The fronts of the skirt and waist were practically covered with this beautiful lace, which was caught up with tiny white rosettes and braids blissoms. The court train was of the same material as the roses, and like it was trimmed with rose point lace. The veil, too, had a lace center and edging and was held by a wreath of orange blossoms. The bride wore but three pieces of jewelry and these all were old-fashioned clasp bracelets, the wedding presents of King Edward, Queen Alexandra, and Mr. Ward. She looked charmingly beautiful as she walked up the aisle of the historical old chapel on the arm of her father.

Miss Jennie Crocker of San Francisco attended her cousin and on account of the smallness of the chapel, which even with all the precautions taken was rather overcrowded, was the only bridesmaid. She wore a dainty costume of white embroidered muslin with blue sash and a large picture hat trimmed with flowers. There were also in attendance five little children, two boys and three girls all in quaint costume of blue and white, taken from one of Reynolds' famous child pictures. They made a pretty little troupe as has been followed a bride to the altar. The children were: Hon. Roderick Ward and Miss Margaret Ward, son and daughter of the Earl and Countess of Dudley; the Honorable Nigel and Marion Glyn, children of Lord and Lady Wolverton; and Miss James, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James.

Major George Holford, equerry-in-waiting to the King, through whom the bride and groom first met, supported Mr. Ward and the ushers were Cyril Robert, and Gerald Ward, brother of the groom, Ogden Reid, Carl Wentworth, Grant Smith, and E. Sheldon Whitehouse. Among those invited to the ceremony in the Royal Chapel were: All the Ambassadors of foreign countries accredited to the Court of St. James; P. E. de Hille, Danish Minister and dean of the Ministers; Right Hon. H. H. Asquith, Prime Minister and Mrs. Asquith; Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; Sir Charles and Lady Hurdington, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harcourt, A. J. Balfour, ex-Premier; Lord and Lady Lansdowne, the Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch, Lord and Lady Londonderry, the Misses Helen and Kate Bryce and Miss Elvyl Douglas of New York, Lord and Lady Gouford, Lady Theo. Asheton, Miss Helen Post, Henry White, American Ambassador to France, Mr. and Mrs. White, Captain and Mrs. Clonnon, Commander and Mrs. Gibbons, Mr. J. Ridgely Carter, Mrs. and Miss Carter, Mr. D. O. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills and Miss Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Cavendish Bentinck, the Earl and Countess of Dudley, the Dowager Lady Dudley and Lord and Lady Wolverton. J. P. Morgan was invited, but as he had to sail for America last week he could not attend.

Seldom has a bride been the recipient of a greater or more beautiful lot of wedding presents. There were many handsome and costly pieces of jewelry, lace-s-brace and hundreds of other articles, besides the presents of the immediate relatives of the couple, the nature of which remain their secret, but the hobby of both Mr. and Mrs. Ward of collecting old silver must have been known to their friends, for the presents of silver form a very fine collection. The Prince and Princess of Wales were among those who gratified the couple's love of old silver. Their Royal

Heinz' Apple Butter

IS made of selected tart apples, boiled in pure cider. It's made in the Heinz way.

There is no relish that is quite so good as this.

It is so high in quality, so pure in flavor, and so cheap in price that all good housewives order it instead of putting up their own.

In the Heinz Sanitary Tin it retains all its true flavor and delicious wholesomeness absolutely unaltered.

Can Our City Afford To Be Quarantined?

"Should the plague continue to show a marked increase our city probably will be quarantined. This will bring ruin to our people and our homes. This plague is entirely a disease of rats."—The Citizens' Health Committee.

We offer $100 reward to anyone using Stearns' Electric Rat and Roach Paste who does not find it successful in killing off rats.

Stearns' Electric Rat and Roach Paste is one death, driving the dangerous rats out of the house to die. It is the only guaranteed rat poison, and should, for your own protection, be placed in rat holes and beneath floors and covered places everywhere. You cannot afford to take any chances of quarantining—exterminate the rats with Stearns' Electric Paste.
