CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PRATT EXPECTS HELD RE-ELECTION BETTER LAND LAWS

Endorsed by everyone, his name received at every turn with applause, James F. Morgan was yesterday re-elected as president of the Chamber of Commerce.

With him, unanimously, according to the recommendation of the nominating committee, were elected the following, all to succeed themselves: J. P. Cooke, vice president; H. P. Wood, treasurer and secretary. Trustees: F. M. Swanky, E. D. Tenney, W. Pfothauer, Richard Ivers, E. F. Bishop, J. A. Kennedy, A. W. T. Bottomley, E. I. Spaulding, C. H. Cooke, L. T. Peck, E. E. Paxton and Jas. D. Dole.

The treasurer's report showed total receipts of $13,122.55 and disbursements of $12,971.04, leaving a balance of $151.51.

The report of Secretary Wood showed a total membership on the active list of 102. At the date of the last annual report the membership numbered 73, and during the year 33 names were added, an increase of 45 per cent.

Mr. Morgan notified the Chamber of the appointment of L. A. Thurston, E. H. Wodehouse, and W. F. Dillingham as members of the Tariff Convention.

COMMITTEE WILL SELECT DELEGATES

At the meeting of the Seventh Precinct of the Fourth District Republican Club at its meeting, held last night in San Antonio hall, the president was given authority to appoint a committee of three to select the names to be presented to the meeting on August 29 to be placed in nomination as delegates to the Territorial and county conventions.

The proposition was presented by James F. Morgan, president of the club, and endorsed by John C. Lane, now a member of this city, Dan Kikaha and H. P. Wood.

A committee, including the president and two others, will be appointed today, after which it will commence an active canvass of voters from whom nominees will be selected. The precinct has twelve delegates to choose, four Hawaiians, four haoles and four Portuguese. The precinct roll will be open at Mr. Morgan's office during the week.

Senator Lane stated that the highest duty of the Republican party was to try to harmonize all its members in order to carry its ticket to victory.

HOW THEY VOTED FOR COUNTY ATT'Y

MauI Supervisors Balloted Many Times Before Decision

The fight for the position of county attorney of Maui, which had been watched with great interest all over that island, was finally concluded last week, when, after a very spirited meeting, at which the County Fathers locked horns after several hours of contest, necessitating one adjournment, the plum was finally landed by Kalua, who was Kepoikai's predecessor on the Maui Circuit bench.

When the matter of selecting a successor for D. H. Case, who resigned, came up, nominations were offered thick and fast. Hata nominated Kalua, seconded by Kaku; Pogue nominated Rex Hitchcock, seconded by Meyers, and Henning nominated Kahaloilo. The vote thus stood two to two between Kalua and Hitchcock, but Henning, who could have cast the deciding vote, stuck to his fellow-Lahainan, and after several hours of seeing an adjournment was taken for a few hours.

When the Board reconvened matters remained in statu quo. It was suggested that the situation might be relieved by considering the names of other attorneys for the position, and Hata immediately nominated Anthony Correa, seconded by Kaine, while Pogue nominated Jas. Coke, seconded by Meyers. Henning, however, still stuck to Kahaloilo, and again there was a deadlock. Finally after considerable more debate, it was decided to eliminate the new names and to return to the original contestants, and then finally did Henning cast his vote for Kalua, thus deciding the battle in his favor.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PRATT EXPECTS HELD RE-ELECTION BETTER LAND LAWS

The Examiner of Aug. 12 says: With the view of preventing further land frauds in the Hawaiian Islands and of making conditions more promising for settlers there, J. W. Pratt, Land Commissioner for the Territory of Hawaii, arrived on the steamer Alameda yesterday, en route to Washington. Mr. Pratt's journey is the direct result of the visit of Secretary Garfield to the islands.

Mr. Pratt declares that the land records of Hawaii are confusing and the land laws cumbersome, and that both must be made like the American laws and records.

"The old Hawaiian laws apply to the taking up and ownership of land on the islands," Commissioner Pratt said yesterday, "and they are very cumbersome. There is little to invite settlement, but there will be, I believe, after this visit to Washington. There are too many loopholes for fraud in the present laws, and therefore, also, they must go."

"The matter of the reclamation of rich lands which cannot at present be irrigated is another matter I will endeavor to bring to the attention of Washington, with Secretary Garfield's aid. That will mean a Federal appropriation, but the lands will be more than worth it."

"What we want on the islands is a short season crop—something like wheat and similar crops here. It takes two years to get results from pineapples and sugar, and four years for coffee, and we want to plant something that will pay the planter while he is waiting for those other crops to mature."

WORKERS AT KANEOHE WORRIED ABOUT QUARRY

The natives who are working in the Kaneohe quarry are suspicious of the pals surrounding them. Since the death of Sheldon, who was injured by an explosion last Friday in the quarry, the appearance of the surrounding pals became more and more curious to them.

Tuesday while they were working in the quarry, digging dirt and shoveling it into the lower portion of the valley, the pals moved and slid down towards them. Had they been slow in getting out of the way they would all have been showered with dirt and probably buried.

One of the natives who came up Wednesday from Kaneohe stated that their luna, Ned Gere, brother of the county engineer, had since compelled them to go right into the cave and dig dirt out. When the natives refused to obey his orders they were told to quit. On that account they are continuing their work in order to get their daily bread; at the same time they frequently watch more of the moving pals than the shovels and dirt.
