

*Yours very sincerely,
Louis Tracy*

The Captain of the Kansas

BY LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," "The King of Diamonds," Etc.

ILLUSTRATED BY BERNEKER

A terrific tropical storm, a dynamite explosion in the ship's coal disabling her engines, mutiny in the crew and cannibals without conspire against the brave and gallant captain of the Kansas. The presence among the passengers of a charming young woman, heroic as the captain himself, throws the glamour of a love romance over the perils of the deep. Told in the author's captivating style it makes a tale of the sea irresistible in its charm. That is why

It Will Be Printed in This Paper

THE thrilling incidents of this story were obtained from the log of the good ship Kansas, Captain Courtenay, bound from Valparaiso to London. She carried a small number of select passengers and a valuable cargo of copper intended to break the European corner on that metal. That is why unprincipled men in the copper pool employed a villain to put dynamite in the ship's coal bunkers, confident she would encounter a storm before she was clear of the Straits of Magellan, for with the engines out of commission the ship could hardly hope to weather the gale. Whether Neptune was in the pool or not we do not know, but it is certain

The Captain of the Kansas

By Louis Tracy

there was some fierce blowing on the second day out when, nearing Desolation Island, the engines were stopped by an explosion. Things happened quickly then. With the disabled ship, she killed and wounded stokers, the mutinous crew, and a terrific sea, Captain Courtenay had his seamanship put to a severe test. If the Captain was a hero Elsie Maxwell was doubly a heroine for she had only a woman's heart and feminine charms to match a sailor's experience. Under the inspiration of the tenderest sentiments she developed the highest courage, as often happens with woman. If you remember the slump in copper you will conclude the Kansas finally reached port. Whether she did or not and how the affair between Elsie and Captain Courtenay ended you can learn by reading the story

Illustrated by Berneker

In This Paper

The story is full of exciting adventure, and is unusually interesting because of its unusual setting.—Brooklyn Eagle.

SOCIAL NOTES

Lippincott's Magazine for October will contain a complete novel by Miss Jessie Kaufman of San Francisco. Very little fiction has been written about Hawaii because there are very few writers who are competent to do it. Miss Kaufman is one of the select few, having spent much time on the islands and being thoroughly familiar with the society she depicts. She is a graceful writer and well qualified to show the life as it actually is—the delightful social functions, the welcome accorded visitors from the outside world, the trials of the housekeeper, all the advantages and disadvantages of living in this tropical garden spot. But aside from its atmosphere and local color, the tale has a strong, well defined plot to commend it—a plot with a mystery, hanging upon the advent of a pair of impostors who create much trouble and amass considerable profit before a suspicious young American lawyer succeeds in "spiking their guns." Altogether, "A Jewel of the Seas" bids fair to deserve the interest that it will arouse in San Francisco.

Mrs. Arthur B. Ingalls will be assisted at her concert this evening by Miss Caroline Sheffield, who is an artist of note. The recital, which will be in Bishop hall, Panahou, promises a fine program of genius. Mrs. Ingalls is a favorite here and always attracts large audiences who are interested in her artistic style of playing that difficult instrument, the violin. Her program is as follows:

- PART I.
Violin—Sonata Handel
Andante
Allegro (Fugue)
Allegretto.
Piano—To a Water Lily... MacDowell;
Ungarish (Hungarian) MacDowell;
Hark! Hark! the Lark
Schubert-Liszt
Violin—Suite III, in G major... Rites
Molto Perpetuo
Gondoliera
Bourée.
PART II.
Violin—Souvenir d'Amerique
Wilhelm;
Piano—Teresita Waltz... Carrenyo
Spanish Caprice... Moszkowski
Violin—Canzonet d'Ambrascio
Ziegenweisen... Sarasate

It is with great regret and sorrow we hear that Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Humphris are to leave Honolulu in January for England to reside permanently. The doctor will take up practice in the West end of London. Naturally modest and unassuming he has progressed in the world of medicine to that point where he is favorably known both in New York and London from his articles in the medical journals in both these cities. Dr. Victor Collins will take over his practice and after the departure of the doctor will occupy his offices as well as his apartment at the Moana hotel. Mrs. Humphris is not only socially prominent but has always been willing to aid in all charitable undertakings. She is an amateur actress of first class ability and her husband, as well, is a clever actor of marked talents. Mrs. Collins and infant child expect to arrive in Honolulu next month.

Miss Bertha Ruth Young, who always entertains so well, gave a bridge luncheon on Friday in honor of Mrs. Hollyday. Pink roses tied with pink ribbon and surrounded with maiden hair, adorned the beautifully laid table. The pretty place cards were handpainted and displayed Japanese scenes: Each guest was presented with a large bouquet of roses tied with pink ribbon. Among those present were Mrs. Selden Kingsbury, Mrs. Parks, Mrs. Clifford Kimball, Miss Nannie Winston, Miss Frear, Mrs. Hollyday were a charming toilette of white embroidered mulle and her picture hat was covered with pale blue plumes. She is a pretty woman and wears her clothes well. Miss Young was perfectly dressed in a blue and white Princess frock.

Mr. James B. Stetson, well known here, was a passenger for the Orient in the Tenyo Maru. Mr. and Mrs. Post Wheeler attracted much attention. Mr. Wheeler is a brilliant diplomat and his wife, nee Halle Rives, the cousin of Amelia, is an authoress also. They attended the reception at the Kluhohn Art League. The guests of the Chamber of Commerce in Japan were extensively entertained during their brief sojourn in our beloved town. A special launch with Kaal's Orchestra went out to meet them and then at the arrival at the dock tallyhoes conveyed the whole party to the Young hotel, and thence to the Fall. In the afternoon the Aquarium and the Peninsula were visited. Secretary Wood of the Chamber of Commerce went out in the launch to greet them. The visitors were most enthusiastic in their expressions of admiration with all they saw. The members who are to enjoy Japan's hospitality are:

W. M. Alexander, vice president of Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd.; F. W. Dohrmann, president Nathan-Dohrmann Co., the big San Francisco house; Robert Dollar, president of Robert Dollar S. S. Co.; M. Greenbaum, retired capitalist; L. Greenbaum, mechanical engineer; R. B.

Hale, treasurer Hale Bros., Inc., the big department store of San Francisco; E. L. Hueter, president Bass-Hueter Paint Co.; Henry Michaels, president Langley & Michaels Co.; Dr. K. Pischel, oculist; Max Schmidt, president Schmidt Lithograph Co.; James B. Stetson, president California Street Cable R. R. Co., San Francisco; J. J. Bergin, vice president and secretary, Los Angeles Soap Co.; A. C. Billicke, president Alexandria and Hollenbeck Hotels; J. T. Fitzgerald, president Fitzgerald Music Co.; Alfred P. Griffith, president Griffith Fruit Association, Azusa, Cal.; S. I. Merrill, president California Industrial Co.; O. Clark, president Clark & Wilson Lumber Co.; L. C. Friendly, member of the firm of Rosenthal & Co., Portland, Ore.; E. F. Blaine, attorney-at-law; James D. Lowman, merchant and capitalist; H. W. Treat, capitalist; A. Kendall, president and general manager Pacific Coast Lumber and Mill Co.; N. H. Falk, president Elk River Mill and Lumber Co., Arcata Chamber of Commerce; E. E. Skinner, the R. W. & E. E. Skinner Co.; Wm. Clayton, vice president Hotel Del Coronada; T. Hofsumi, manager Yokohama Specie Bank; C. Kofke, Japanese Consul General; Mrs. J. J. Bergin, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. A. C. Billicke, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. E. F. Blaine, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. A. Brizard, Eureka, Calif.; Mrs. O. M. Clark, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. C. S. Dohrmann, San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. Robert Dollar, San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. N. H. Falk, Eureka, Cal.; Mrs. J. T. Fitzgerald, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. R. B. Hale, San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. E. L. Hueter, San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. A. Kendall, Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. Francis B. Loomis, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. James Lowman, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. K. Pischel, San Francisco, Calif.; Miss Mabel A. Thayer, San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. H. W. Treat, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. T. Hofsumi, San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. C. Kofke, San Francisco, Calif.

A wedding of interest is the following: The wedding of Miss Irene Van Arsdale and Lieutenant Thomas Kurtz, which took place last evening was one of the prettiest of those recently celebrated here. The bride, a dainty brunette, wore a crown of white satin trimmed elaborately with Russian lace, with a tulle veil and carried a magnificent shower bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. Miss Hazel Ricks of Eureka, her maid of honor, was gowned in white mesaline, with a wreath of gold leaves in her hair, and she carried American beauty roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Helen Sullivan and Miss Florence Boothe, wore pink mesaline dresses; their wreaths were of silver leaves and their bouquets were similar to that of the maid of honor. Lieutenant Hammer, U. S. N., was best man while the ushers were Lieutenant Howe and Paymaster Boecher. The beautiful drawing room where the ceremony took place was a bower of pink hydrangeas and lilies, the bridal party standing before an altar bedecked with these blooms. In the banquet room, where the supper was served, the decorations consisted of flags and huckleberry leaves. In all about 125 guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz left last evening on a honeymoon trip of two weeks spent in the southern part of the state after which they will make their home at Yerba Buena.—Call.

Among those who entertained this week in honor of Admiral and Mrs. Hollyday were Mrs. Parks, wife of Civil Engineer Parks, who was the hostess of a pretty luncheon at the Alexander Young hotel on Thursday. Yellow chrysanthemums and maiden hair ferns made the table charming. Illus leis were at each plate and violets tied with yellow ribbon, were given as souvenirs. Goldenrod place cards were effectively used. Among the guests were Mrs. Robert Lewers, Mrs. Arthur Wall, Miss Bertha Young, Miss Frear, Mrs. Pratt and Mrs. Field.

Little teas have been all the rage this week for the making of paper flowers to adorn the booths at the Gypsy Encampment on Tuesday evening, the 13th. Mrs. Fred Damon had a most industrious one and great things were accomplished. Mrs. McStocker, also energetic, entertained a few friends yesterday when spangles and paper flowers vied with each other for supremacy. Everything seems to be going well, and the Gypsy Encampment will be something to look forward to with pleasure.

The Hedemanns are stopping at the Manhattan Hotel, New York, and the Hatches are at the Wellington. Quite a Honolulu dinner occurred when the two families and several Honolulu friends joined forces one memorable night in the gay metropolis.

Mrs. McKinnon is still enjoying Scottish moors and breezes. Her daughter, Mrs. Hardcastle, nee Inez MacKinnon, has a little daughter, born the last of September.

(Additional Social Notes on Page 12)

AFTER an operation at the hospital, when the patient is in a weakened condition, the doctor will say, "Don't give him any food. Take away that malt extract—it will sicken him. What he needs is good Beer—all he wants of it.

"Beer is the only form of food he can retain, and at the same time the best tonic he can take. I always prescribe it in cases like this, and I have always found that it strengthens and tones up the weak."

"But, doctor, if it is a tonic for the sick, it should be good for the well."

"It is. And if more people used a good Beer as a beverage there would be less work for us. It is a tonic and food, and helps to clear the system of waste matter."

The best Beer in Honolulu is the Home Brew, made to suit the climate—PRIMO BEER.

Drink Primo Beer

MORE HEINZ GOODS

NEW SHIPMENT IN

- India Relish
- Hot Olives
- Mince Meat
- Tomato Ketchup

Pickles --- sweet and sour; Malt Vinegar
Cider Vinegar; White Pickling Vinegar
Apple Butter --- in 3-Pound Crocks

- Horse Radish
- Pearl Onions
- Fine Preserves
- Baked Beans

ORDER NOW FROM YOUR GROCER

H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., Distributors