REPRESENTATIVES HOLDS A GABFEST

Insane Substitute For Lunacy Commission Measure

HOUSE.

Afternoon Session—Twenty-Ninth Day

The House wanted the whole day yesterday, doing nothing with much noise and volubility. The little that it seemed to accomplish might better have been left undone. Most of the afternoon was squandered in a loud and fruitless discussion of the Appropriation bill, which is nothing more than an expensive joke, anyway, as there is no intention on the part of the House leaders to pass it. The Oahu members made most of the noise during the afternoon, which led Rice to remark just before the Committee of the Whole rose to "report progress" that the members from the Fourth and Fifth don't seem to know who ought to have the water works, "but Oahu certainly has the Gas Works."

The excellent Insanity Commission measure introduced by Shinnick and known as House Bill 72, was tabled by the Judiciary Committee, which tabled it in order to introduce a substitute bill which retains the most vicious features of the present insane law.

The administration leprosy measure, introduced some time ago by Hudby, was also tabled and its place taken by a substitute bill which is virtually the same in effect but with the features obnoxious to a certain contingent of the Legislature carefully buried. The substitute was introduced by the Health and Police Committee, which in its report on the original measure said:

"It seems to defeat the object sought, to wit, a general invitation and encouragement, without hardship to individuals, to come and appear for examination whenever the first symptoms of disease arise, which is the best way to reap the full benefit of recent discoveries where a cure in certain stages of the disease is assured by the highest authorities."

A Statute for Kauikaeuli.

Like introduced a bill providing for the appropriation of $10,000 for the purpose of erecting a statue in honor of Kauikaeuli, Kamehameha III.

Kealewaan introduced a bill to prohibit fishing with nets in Hilo bays for two years after May 1, 1909.

Carley had a little resolution to appropriate $15,000 to build an addition to McGregor's landing, and the maintenance of other Maui landings.

Kaula came through with another Kauikaeuli statue petition, signed by 248 persons.

Politics Pure!

Watschell's bill, No. 99, providing for the appointment of deputy sheriffs by sheriffs instead of the first deputy of the day, Coney championed the bill, which was adversely reported by the Committee. He pointed out the very obvious weakness of the present law—the only one of its kind in an American community, which by allowing of the election of deputy sheriffs, gives the sheriff little or no control over his subordinates.

Kaula, of course, was opposed to any measure which would cut down the number of officers to be scrutinized for at election time.

This being a Kaula bill, the Oahu delegation was living for it with a big sharp axe, eager to slaughter it in revenge for Kaula's defeat of Oahu over the Educational Commissioners bill.

Kealewaan supported the bill, saying that under present conditions the deputy sheriffs don't do their work because the sheriffs have no authority to make them.

Makekau thought the measure should be indefinitely postponed. He made a speech and then moved the previous question, much to the disgust of Coney, who wanted to talk himself. The motion for the previous question was carried, shutting off debate, and the report of the committee was adopted, indefinitely postponing the bill.

Fairchild's Resolution.

Senate Joint Resolution 1, introduced by Fairchild, providing that Territorial officers must be kept open from 8:30 to 5 o'clock every working day except Saturday, when they may close at noon, was received from the clerk of the Senate, and on motion of Rice, passed first reading.

The special committee on the Additional Appropriations Bill, Senate Bill 52, by its chairman, Long, reported favorably on the measure. The adoption of the report carried the bill through second reading.

No County Registrars.

By the adoption of the report of the Miscellaneous Committee on House Bill 122, introduced by Furtado, to create County Registrars of Conveyances, the House killed the bill and squelched the scheme for this session at least.

Furtado's Bill 122, providing for a registrar for the City and County of Honolulu, was also tabled on recommendation of the Miscellaneous Committee.

Examination of Masons.

Cohen's House Petition 6, "That the road department and other departments of the Territory of Hawaii have non-citizen labor of all kinds of unskilled work who are unskilled and receive pay at the rate of $1.55 per diem, whereas a mechanic in that line should receive not less than $4 a day, and praying to enact a law at this session of the Legislature whereby it shall be obligatory for all workers in this line to take an examination * * * before they obtain Government work" was tabled. The Miscellaneous Committee recommended that it be tabled, on the ground that Senate Bill 17 prevents further employment of non-citizens, and that a law obliging masons to take an examination would be unwise legislation as well as special legislation which would tend other trades to ask for the same privileges.

Another Substitute.

The Judiciary Committee, reporting on Hudby's Bill No. 41, the object of which was to abolish the office of the clerk of the Judiciary Department and to provide for the appointment of clerks, stenographers, etc. by the Supreme and Circuit Courts respectively, found the purpose of the bill excellent, but the bill itself faulty. Therefore, on recommendation of the committee, the bill was indefinitely postponed, and a substitute bill, given the number 362, was introduced.

House Bill 115, relating to public appropriations and the expenditure of public moneys, was tabled on recommendation of the Finance Committee, its subject matter being covered by Senate Bill 80.

A Gabfest.

Resolving itself into the Committee of the Whole, with Cohen in the Chair, the House proceeded to hold a gabfest over the appropriation bill. It was read and talked and talked and wrangled and did nothing notable and successfully. Shinnick made the statement, openly that it is proposed to introduce another appropriation bill based on the plans and estimates of the Ways and Means Committee of the Senate, with the idea of turning over to the committee the water and sewer works, wharves, buildings, etc., and that in that case all items relating to those public utilities would be cut out of the present appropriation bill. Nothing was said about the gas works at the time, though it is supposed the title to those will be vested in the Legislature.

The Committee did succeed, after much vociferous talk, in passing a few items in the appropriation bill, which, following its usual custom, it will probably want to go back and reconsider another day. An effort was made to cut slices off the salaries of the Superintendent of Public Works, but it failed, the item being passed at 9:25 a. m. in the bill.

After a windy hour the Committee rose. Even the members of the House smiled when the chairman reported progress.
