BAKER DENIES. (Continued from Page 1) with cheat, had been sworn to by Manager Hertsche of the Alexander Young Hotel.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon Manager Hertsche of the Young Hotel swore out a warrant for the arrest of R. M. Baker, who has been stopping at the hotel. Baker is charged with gross cheat, and the complaint states that the accused man had cashed a check for $100 with the hotel people. The check was drawn on the Western Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, and on presentation there was dishonored.

Shortly after 2:45 o'clock Baker called at the Palm Cafe and endeavored to get Ludwigen to endorse his check. Baker took Ludwigen to the bank on the plea that he wanted to identify him as the Baker who came over on the Alameda, the two men having made the trip together. At the bank Baker drew a check and asked Ludwigen to endorse it. The latter declined to do so, and Baker accompanied him back to the Palm Cafe, where he endeavored to get the partner to affix his signature to the check. The latter also declined to lend a hand to the affair, and Baker left the restaurant.

A few minutes later Baker found a man willing to endorse his check, and the paper was cashed at the First National Bank. From there Baker went to the Alexander Young Hotel, where he took up the check which had been pronounced bad by the Chicago bank.

Just as Baker turned from the clerk's desk, he was stopped by a Bulletin reporter, who asked him about the charges preferred against him. He expressed surprise when told that Manager Hertsche had sworn out a warrant for his arrest, and seemed greatly relieved when the clerk told him that, having taken up the check, he was "safe."

Baker was taken to the Bulletin office, where he was shown a copy of the San Francisco Chronicle and asked to make a statement. He was very much upset, his hands shaking noticeably, and he wiped the perspiration from his forehead as he read the account.

"There is not a word of truth in it," said he. "My father is Charles W. Baker of the Union Stock Yards, and I have a brother Harold. There must be some mistake. "I never called on the von Hamm-Young Company as a representative of the Buick Company. I called in response to a request from that company. I am connected with the Buick Company, but am traveling around on a vacation."

Baker promised to make a statement tomorrow.

BRITONS SCARED BY GERMANY

LONDON, May 18.—The German scare is growing apace, and the wildest and most absurd rumors are in circulation. It is seriously reported that a German liner filled with troops entered the river Humber today, surveyed the possibilities of landing and departed. Sir John Barlow, Liberal, stated today in the House of Commons that the Germans had established a depot of 50,000 rifles and ammunition in London to arm the Germans of the city.

The river Humber divides York and Lincoln counties, and its mouth is opposite the northernmost part of the Netherlands and the coast of Germany bordering on the North Sea. The City of Hull, one of the most important commercial cities of England, is on the Humber, several miles back from the coast. Henry VIII made Hull one of the foremost cities of his time by ordering it to be amply fortified, and the opening of the Humber to navigation made the place a seaport. One of the early invasions of England occurred at the mouth of the river.

CASTLE COMING WITH CONTRACT?

Ohia Tie Business Is Said To Be Much Improved. It is expected that J. B. Castle, who arrives today by the Lurline, will have an important announcement to make in connection with the new contract for the manufacture of ohia tires for the Santa Fe railroad.

It has been understood from the outset that when the Mahogany Lumber Company was closed out, the Hawaiian Development Company would carry on the contract for ties at an advanced figure agreed upon tentatively when the Santa Fe officials were last in town. To finish this business up is thought to have been the cause of Castle's trip to the Coast, as he is the Hawaiian Development Company, though there are some other men in the company's offices. Sam Johnson, after much hard work, is getting some record-breaking work out of the ohia tie saw mill in Puna. In the last few months he has doubled the capacity of the mill and put an end to all the saw-breaking stumps and other difficulties that hurt so much at the outset.

THE LIGHTHOUSE tender, Kaula, returned this morning from Kaula, where Lieutenant Hinton, the lighthouse inspector, who also returned, went to select the permanent site for a new lighthouse to be erected on that island. Lieut. Hinton stated this morning that a site has been decided upon, but he could not give it out for publication, until the Washington authority has been heard from.

THE W. G. HALL, arriving from Kaula this morning, brought 550 boxes sugar, 60 bags taro, 20 bags rice, 21 barrels empty bottles, 20 empty wine barrels, 22 empty gas drums, 50 cases honey, 30 sacks wood, 35 bundles hides, 31 packages sundries.

STOCK MARKET HAS HEALTHIER TONE

Stocks, which since the strike of Japanese plantation laborers have showed but little activity, took on a new lease of life this morning, and there was considerable trading between boards. Though the market is hardly normal as yet, it is becoming decidedly healthier. When the Aizu Japanese walked out, some of the small holders of sugar stocks got panicky and began to sell. Those conversant with conditions, smiled and bought what there was loose and there was no noticeable slump, except in the amount of trading.

Those who wanted to unload their little holdings are showing signs of awakening to the fact that they made a mistake, and there was a noticeable movement this morning on the part of those who had repeated of their hasty action.

EVERYTHING WAITING NO THE SECOND JUDGE

Judge Dole, who is spending his vacation at Lale, will return to the city Monday to open court for the purpose of conducting some naturalization proceedings, and for hearing one or two minor matters. The court, however, has practically shut down, awaiting the arrival of the Second Judge. As the law under which he is to be appointed does not go into effect until July 1, it will be some time after that date before the new judge arrives. Judge Dole has been working hard and without intermission for so long that he found it necessary to take a rest, and as the important matters before the court have all been disposed of, he can afford to lay-off for a while to recuperate.

B. Hinton, a respectable-looking young man, was up before Judge Andrade this morning on a charge of assaulting a young Hawaiian girl. The assault consisted in grabbing the girl by the neck as she and her mother were entering the gate to their home. After the girl had told her story Hinton went on the stand and testified that on the evening in question he had seen the young lady at a moving picture show, and mistaken her for another damsel of his acquaintance, had tried to speak to her. He did not find out his mistake till he had caught her by the arm. Judge Andrade found him guilty and inflicted a fine of ten dollars and costs.

TERRITORY SUED BY JIMMIE LLOYD

James W. Lloyd, sometime stenographer of the House of Representatives of the Legislature of 1908, has brought suit in the Supreme Court of the Territory against the Territory to recover $279.99 which he claims is owing him on account of the work he did in transcribing the House minutes during the time he was official stenographer, from February 17 to April 9.

This is an echo of the row in the House which was started by the Speaker's insinuation that Lloyd's demand for pay for transcribing his notes smelled of graft. This row resulted in Lloyd's resignation and indirectly in the graft investigation which made things about the House of Representatives unpleasant for a week or more.

In his petition, which is presented by Attorney Judge Quarles, Lloyd, by insinuation at least, charges Speaker Holstein and the Committee on Public Expenditures and Accounts with having acted in bad faith toward him. He alleges that they promised him that they should pay the regular rate for transcribing his notes—15 cents a folio for originals and five cents a page for carbon copies, but when he presented his claim, they repudiated it and he was not paid.

Lloyd alleges that his entire time during the day was taken up with his duties in the House and that it took him three or four hours a day after the House adjourned to transcribe his notes. He did this typewriting under the agreement and with the belief and expectation that he would be paid out of the current expense fund of the House at the rate agreed upon.

In support of his claim Lloyd states in his petition that at former sessions the official stenographer has been paid for typewriting minutes and for carbon copies, and it is and has been the custom of the House to pay its stenographer extra for such work. The Speaker of the House and Chairman Castro, Lloyd says, offered to compromise with him by paying him for carbon copies but not for originals, but he refused to take a lesser sum than the full amount.

Two men, one who knew his own name, and another who did not, and cared less, were picked up by the police this morning in the Palace square, where they had roomed for the night. They now have rooms at the Police Station, and will appear before Judge Andrade tomorrow morning.
