KAUAI JAPANESE ARE GROWING LESS

STATISTICS GATHERED BY JAPANESE EDITOR SHOW THAT GARDEN ISLAND POPULATION IS DIMINISHING.

That the Japanese residing on Kauai are decreasing in number is established by the fact that a large number of them have left the plantations and returned to Japan to enjoy the home life. Some of them, of course, since leaving Kauai, have come to and are living in Honolulu. Since the further emigration of Japanese into Hawaii was stopped by the Japanese government, the Hawaii-Japanese who have been unsuccessful in their business closed their stores and returned to their native land.

According to Editor Fukunaga of the Kauai Shingo, who was interviewed by the Bulletin man who visited Kauai recently, there are 12,228 Japanese on the island. Of this number there are 6,997 men, 2,151 women and 3,080 children.

There are about 545 acres of land under cultivation with rice, to which the Kauai Japanese are devoting their time in improving the barren land. The only trouble they have found is the general shortage of water, which is causing considerable anxiety.

Some of the Japanese are planting sugar cane, which they sell to the plantations when ripe.

The Japanese of Kauai are good-natured people. They seem willing and eager to satisfy their employers. Those who are not working in plantations find employment in catching fish, blacksmithing, tailoring, carpentry and other lines of employment by which they make their living.

Most of us are anxious to pose as reformers, but we don't want to begin at home.

MRS. KEARNS ASKS DIVORCE

A libel for divorce has been filed by Mrs. Annie Aubert Kearns against Ralph Archibald Kearns, the allegation in the complaint being non-support and desertion. Mrs. Kearns declares that her husband has left her for a period of a year and has contributed nothing to her support. She declares that he is in receipt of $150 per month as a stenographer and petitions the court for the granting of $25 per month alimony.

JAPANESE STEALS COIN AND CONFESSES

Chief of Detectives McDuffie this morning arrested a Japanese named Okin, who has been working at George Beckley's house at Waikiki. The man was accused of, and finally confessed to stealing $11.25, which had been placed in a koa poi bowl.

As soon as the robbery was reported McDuffie got busy on the job, and in a short time found that suspicion pointed to Okin, who was yard boy at the Beckley residence.

As soon as McDuffie charged Okin with the theft, the Japanese broke down and confessed that he had taken the money as he was broke and hard up. He showed the chief where the money was hidden in a dresser, and gave all the assistance he could in recovering the stolen cash. Okin will have to appear in court tomorrow morning before Judge Andrade.

CENSUS POSITIONS

All applicants for positions on the census staff should put their wishes in writing as no notice will be taken of verbal applications. Dr. Clark wishes it to be understood that personal application should only follow a letter applying for a position.

TWO PARTIES TO ROW SHAKE HANDS

This morning at the Police Court Edie Smith, who was charged with using threatening language, was up before Judge Andrade. As reported in yesterday's Bulletin, the trouble occurred on board the bark Mutanu, and arose between the first mate, a stevedore and the ship's carpenter.

In court this morning the defendant stated that he had gone to the assistance of the mate, who was an elderly man, and that the gun play was only a bluff.

Judge Andrade listened to all the evidence, and then suggested that the complainant and defendant go outside and shake hands. This remark brought forth a real hearty laugh from the complainant and the two men, acting on the Judge's suggestion, walked down the court room and then shook hands.

There were many smiles in court when the Judge added that on January 15 the case would be taken up again; by that time the bark should be well away from the Paradise of the Pacific.

NO TALCUM OR FLOUR THROWING

According to Sheriff Jarrett there will be ample police on the city streets tomorrow night to control the big crowd that is expected to turn out and parade the town.

Although the police will be as lenient as possible as regards merry-making, any rough house methods will be suppressed at once. While no exception will be taken to the throwing of confetti, flour and talcum powder will be strictly barred and anyone pitching that material around will go in on the lops to the police station.

The Sheriff does not anticipate any trouble, however, and the good natured crowd will doubtless enjoy itself and injure nobody.

Good Place to go when you buy
Christmas Jewelry.

JEWELRY is the gift for Christmas. There is something personal about it that appeals to everyone. It has charm and sentiment and will serve as a reminder of the giver to be treasured long after styles and fashions have changed.

There is always some one Jewelry store in a city this size that enjoys the advantage of being considered "the best place to go." This is generally due to a long established reputation for selling high class goods, and to the confidence of the public.

We believe most people in Honolulu if they had their choice would prefer to have their gifts come from "WICHMAN'S."

This year—as in the past—we have given careful attention to the selection of our large stock of Christmas jewelry.

We will be glad to have you come to us for suggestions: We know we can please you.
