HOME RULE ISSUE PRESENTED TO MERCHANTS MOSQUITO CAMPAIGN PLAN LAID

Mosquito War Plans Ready

Active Campaign Will Be Waged Relentlessly Against The Pests

The Shipper's Wharf Committee, at a meeting held on Saturday morning last, came to final arrangements with the Territorial Board of Health in the matter of inaugurating the so-called "Mosquito Campaign." The plan, as outlined, will involve an expenditure of approximately $1000 per month, and the Territory to be covered extends from Kapiolani Park and Kaimuki to Kaili Valley, bounded by the sea on the makai side and practically the mountains and lower portions of the valleys on the mauka side. The funds of the Shipper's Wharf Committee from which this project will be financed, are, as is well known, supplied through the so-called Tonnage Tax collected by the various shipping agents from merchants and importers. The importance of this work cannot be overestimated, and where the Government is lacking in funds to inaugurate the same, the community and merchants are to be congratulated in assuming the burden themselves. Honolulu, in becoming the seaport that it is, and the direct calling station for steamers from all points and countries bordering on the Pacific Ocean, the great majority of which are infested with epidemic diseases, cannot be too carefully guarded against any of these diseases, particularly with reference to plague and yellow fever.

Through the courtesy of Secretary T. H. Petrie of the Shipper's Wharf Committee, the following plan is given out, which is to be put into operation as soon as possible, and the community are in co-operation with the officials of

W. A. KINNEY DENOUNCES FEDERAL CONTROL EFFORT

"We are certainly running our heads into a nose and must secretly be a laughing stock in the eyes of those who not only are stimulating government by commission but under that government propose a plan of campaign that, if I do not miss my guess, will raise the hair in consternation of many who are now helping on that form of government because they think it will inaugurate a rule by 'some of us' without the bother of referring matters to the people once in a while at elections."

In a communication to the Bulletin W. A. Kinney voices an emphatic protest against the danger involved in the present campaign at Washington to enact a prohibition for Hawaii. Mr. Kinney's letter is as follows: Honolulu, T. H., Feb. 7th, 1910. To the Editor of the Evening Bulletin, Honolulu.

Dear Sir:—The citizens of Hawaii are now waking up to the fact that a vital issue confronts them in the proposition before Congress to enforce prohibition against Hawaii through Congressional action. The latest reports indicate that the measure may go through; some say it is likely to go through, and this before the Territory has hardly been heard from. To my mind the extraordinary headway made in Congress by this measure has little or no relation to the liquor question. The motive power pushing it along is the desire and feeling to deprive Hawaii of its status as a Territory and put it wholly and fully in the Porto Rico and Philippine class. As long as Hawaii is a Territory she can at any time become a State, and great party exigencies and the imperative need of two more Senators has before now resulted in Statehood for Territories wholly unprepared and untried for that status. President Taft and the military and naval authorities stand confessedly for the extension of Federal control over Hawaii, and the dominant party in Hawaii, and its supporters, by a series of acts have been paving the way and making things easy for the destruction of our Territorial rights. This, I believe, has been largely unconscious, for the great majority of all parties and all citizens stand uncompromisingly for the preservation of our Territorial form of government and the constitutional right to govern ourselves in local matters according to our own judgment. Our petition to Congress to continue to us the penal contract system, after annexation; our repeated demands

Schlemmer Faces An Indictment

Japanese Poachers Tell Federal Grand Jury "King Max" Was Employer

As a result of the investigation that was resumed this morning by the Federal Grand Jury in the case of the Japanese poachers arrested at Laysan Island by the revenue cutter Thetis, it is now believed to be practically certain that a true bill will be returned by the Federal grand jurors against Max Schlemmer, "King of Laysan."

The charge is that he violated and countenanced the violation of the executive order of President Roosevelt, which included Laysan Island in the Hawaiian reservation for the protection of birds.

The Japanese who gave the testimony this morning before the Federal Grand Jury all declared that they were in the employ of Schlemmer and prosecuted their work of bird killing and the guano business under the direction of their employer.

This testimony is declared to be borne out by the documentary records in possession of the United States District Attorney, and it is considered distinctly probable by United States officials that "King Max" will be drawn into court to defend himself against a charge for which the Federal penal code provides a maximum punishment of six months imprisonment and a fine of $500.

The case against the poachers has been worked up carefully by United States District Attorney Breckons, and it is stated that the evidence presented will be amply sufficient to warrant the returning of a true bill against Schlemmer, who makes no denial on the fact that the men were in his employ when they indulged in the bird killing.

MERCHANTS VOTE ON HOME RULE

Special Meeting Of Association Convenes For Expression Of Sentiment—Question of Federal Control

The Merchants' Association meets in special session at 3:30 this afternoon in an effort to determine and give expression to the opinion of the majority of its members on the principles involved in the campaign that is being conducted at Washington by John G. Woolley in an effort to secure the enactment of a Federal prohibitory law for the Territory.

Resolutions have been prepared for and against the idea of the association expressing itself on the subject, and there are several members who are known to favor the idea of allowing the matter to "lie on the table" for the time being at least. The Chamber of Commerce meets for the same purpose tomorrow afternoon.

CALHOUN MUST GO TO TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Patrick Calhoun will have to go to trial a second time on the charge of bribery, despite the effort of the new district attorney to dismiss the indictments against him and some of his associates.

This was the result of the proceedings in Judge Lawlor's court today, when District Attorney Fickert presented a motion to dismiss the indictments against President Calhoun of the United Railways, Trolley L. Ford, the attorney for the road; Frank Abbott of the telephone company, and Thorwald Mully, Judge Lawlor denied the motion. The second trial of Calhoun will proceed in Judge Lawlor's court on Monday morning. A part of the jury has been secured, the trial having been postponed to await the result of the city elections.

MINDORO SCHEME NOT SUGAR TRUST'S

Iron Works Contract To Build Sugar Mill To Supply Market Of Philippines

Reports that the new sugar mill of the Mindoro Development Company, for which the Honolulu Iron Works has received the contract, is a project of the American Sugar Refining Company are strenuously denied by the New York officials of the American Sugar Refining Company and also the officers of the Iron Works in this city.

The Mindoro Development Company is a New Jersey corporation organized to handle a sugar growing and refining proposition in Mindoro. One of the men interested is Charles Welch of the New York office of Welch & Co., and as is very well known locally Mr. Welch has large Hawaiian interests. Some of the officers of the new corporation are men whose names are found in the American Sugar Refining Company's official list and consequently in the rumor of the Trust's operations in the Philippines, that was published in New York. This rumor was promptly denied in a statement published in the New York Commercial.

This development company has bought a tract of trifer lands and its intention is to grow cane and produce the refined article for the Manila market, in competition with the present supply of refined sugar from Hongkong. "It is a mistake to assume that the local iron works is going to build mills that will come in competition with our local sugars," said an officer of the iron works. "This mill is to make a refined sugar for the Philippine market." The Iron Works has the contract for the construction of the mill that will cost five hundred thousand dollars. All the work will be done at the local works, furnishing employment for local mechanics, with the exception of some special machinery for the refinery department of the mill that will be imported from the United States.

JAPANESE SHOT BY SAILED AT IWILEI

Wounded Man May Pull Through—Doctors Hopeful

"Well, you can mark me down for the nut factory," was J. P. Hussey's remark when he woke up in the police station cell yesterday morning. Hussey was arrested on a charge of shooting Kachi, a Japanese resident of Iwilei, on Saturday night.

It appears that Hussey and a mate named R. J. Ryan, both of them bluejackets belonging to the U. S. S. Colorado, attended the ball at the Moana and Seaside hotels, and late at night adjourned to the notorious district—at about 4 o'clock on Sunday morning. The two friends went to Kachi's house and demanded admittance, but the Japanese and his wife would not allow the sailors to enter the house. This enraged the Jackies, and Hussey is alleged to have, on finding the door barred to him, gone to a window and fired his revolver through the window into the room. There was a curtain across the
