CAMPBELL FINISHED

With the denial of a motion for a new trial this morning by Judge Robinson, the famous $10,000 damage case brought by Edward Campbell, stevedore, against Hackfeld & Co., has come to a close.

WILFUL PERJURERS, IS CHARGE OF LIGHTFOOT

(Continued from Page 1.) Officers should sit here and listen to the counsel for the defense pouring out the vials of his wrath against them and make no reply. He calls McDuffie, that fellow McDuffie. I do not think that counsel should lose his temper and call others names or brand them as perjurers in the open court. I believe that the verdict of the jury in this case is in accordance with the testimony given.

The testimony of these officers was given in good faith and the material facts are true. These officers need no vindication at my hands—their work speaks for itself.

Attorney Lightfoot was on his feet as soon as Cathart finished, and he said that if the prosecutor had looked through the hole he would not have made the statements which he had just made. "If what McDuffie and Kellett said is true, then I am a perjurer for my testimony on the stand in this case, and I invite the City and County Attorney to set the law in motion to see if I did commit perjury when I stated that McDuffie could not see what he said he saw."

Judge Cooper, in pronouncing sentence, confirmed the sentence of the lower court partly, but in the other cases he did not. Nine of the men, never having been arrested previously on the same charge, were fined $7 and to share the costs. The other four, being old offenders, had a fine of $50 and costs assessed against them.

BODY OF SAILOR FOUND FLOATING

This morning at about 5 o'clock a Hawaiian made a gruesome discovery at the Mauna Loa wharf, when he saw a dead body floating around near the piers. The Hawaiian at once dived overboard and caught the corpse by the hand. Another native threw a rope to the man in the water, and it was made fast to the body, which was then hauled out onto the wharf. Shortly afterwards the corpse was identified as that of a sailor named A. Lundblom, who at one time was a member of the crew of the Babcock.

Lundblom, who was a Swede and about 37 years of age, was seen at 7 o'clock last evening by a fellow sailor, and he at that time seemed in his usual health. The dead man had announced his intention of shipping on the bark Foohing Suey, which is to sail soon for the mainland. Death, however, stepped in and took charge of things. There was a slight scorch on the dead man's forehead just over the left eye, but no other signs of violence were found.

An inquest will be held this evening at half-past seven o'clock, and Coroner Rose will preside. Post play is not suspected, as it is thought Lundblom was partly intoxicated when he fell into the harbor.

SHERIDAN BROUGHT FEW CAVALRYMEN

Casuals and recruits monopolized the troop quarters of the United States army transport Sheridan, which arrived at the Channel wharf at 11 o'clock this morning after a seven days' uneventful voyage from San Francisco.

The Sheridan is to make an extended stay at the port, mainly for the reason that 620 tons of general quartermaster supplies must be discharged here and then the troops will be obliged to take on seven hundred tons of coal in order to carry her to Manila.

The vessel will probably be dispatched for the Philippines by the way of Guam at noon on Saturday or as soon after that time as circumstances will permit. Surgeons connected with the Federal hospital there. A dozen or more ordinary stamen are being taken to Guam for station.

Upon the Sheridan departing from Honolulu, Captain J. S. Herron of the Second Cavalry will be the ranking officer.

Lieut. Col. H. W. Wheeler of the Fifth Cavalry leaves the transport at Honolulu. He was the ranking officer on board the vessel from San Francisco.

First Lieut. John G. Winter of the Fifth Cavalry also arrived by the transport. Among the army people for Honolulu were Second Lieut. Homer M. Groninger and Second Lieut. C. W. Stewart of the Fifth Cavalry.

THREE MONTHS AND FINE

Harry L. White, the chauffeur who took four cases of whiskey to Lilibua and retailed the same to soldiers on January 10 last, was this afternoon sentenced by Judge Robertson in the Federal court to a fine of $100 and three months' imprisonment.

Attorney Harrison for the defense asked for a minimum sentence in that it was the prisoner's first offense and he had not made a business of selling liquor, also on account of his family.

The Court in pronouncing sentence said that had the prisoner sat by and left it to the prosecution to prove the case against him, or if he had pleaded guilty, the Court would have felt justified in imposing the minimum sentence of one month imprisonment and $100 fine. Owing to the fact, however, that the prisoner had taken the stand on his own behalf and had committed perjury, the offense took a more serious aspect as perjury was a more serious offense than one sale of liquor without a license. On this account White received a heavier sentence.

The two Russians who were arrested for trying to get into the Immigration station the night before last, have been charged under the vagrancy section, which covers a multitude of sins; the men will appear in court on May 18.

SERENADE TO MOTT-SMITH

As is usual upon this day, Bandmaster Berger at 5 o'clock this morning appeared with his musicians at the Nuuanu residence of Secretary Mott-Smith and gave an hour's concert, the occasion being the thirty-seventh birthday of the secretary.

The old bandmaster has a warm spot in his heart for the son of the man who brought him from Prussia 35 years ago to Honolulu as leader of the Royal band, and every birthday of Mott-Smith the bandmaster brings his musicians to his home early in the morning for a surprise.

It is usual for him to telephone to Mrs. Mott-Smith the afternoon or evening before to tell her of his intention and to make sure that the husband will be at home when the serenade commences.

This year, however, he thought he would have a real surprise and said nothing. The result was that when 8 o'clock arrived Mott-Smith looked up at his wife and remarked that Berger must be going to miss the concert this year, but the words had hardly left his lips before the old veteran and his men appeared at the house, and for an hour and more rendered the music for which the organization is famous, especially Hawaiian airs.

In speaking of the custom of the grizzled bandmaster this morning Mott-Smith said that due to the fact that his father had brought the leader here and the first band was formed at his instigation in 1872, and that during '98, '99 and 1900 he himself had had direct control over it and had, perhaps, helped bring it to notice outside the islands, more than any other, the tribute yearly paid him on his birthday was appreciated.

"Two years ago the band was put under the charge of the county of Honolulu but I think it should be a Territorial affair as it was in the earlier days. Then trips were made to other islands each year and it was good for outsiders as well as Honolulu," said he.

"This band has become a famous institution," he continued, "and tourists who come here remember it along with the Paik, the surf riders and other noted attractions, and speak of it after leaving here. As I said before, I believe that it was a mistake in taking it away from the Territory and giving it to the County to support, for the County cannot afford to keep it up to the number that it really should be."

MAKINO TENEMENTS RECEIVE APPROVAL

K. Makino has been permitted to carry out his plans for the erection of a tenement house on a lot between King street and Huxtable avenue.

The matter was brought up by interested parties and the question was finally carried into the Board of Supervisors. The Makino proposed plans were one of the matters that engrossed the attention of the City and County Attorney's office.

At noon today, Deputy Attorney Milverton handed down an opinion to the effect that inasmuch as seven adjoining property owners out of a dozen registered on the city plat had agreed to the erection of the Makino tenements, the petitioner was entitled to go ahead with the construction of the building.

SHOWS SENTIMENT AGAINST WOOLLEY

(Continued from Page 1.) and is a proper vehicle for the enforcement of local prohibition if there be a sentiment favorable to absolute suppression of the liquor traffic.

Woolley is meeting the objection that liquor could be shipped into the Territory under a prohibition law by the statement that he "thinks it probable" that Congress will stop the shipment of liquor into prohibition communities in the near future. But Woolley's predictions and Congressional legislation are recognized as constitute two different things.

CORKSREW LANE NEEDS ILLUMINATION.

Corksrew Lane may not be a long one, but the inhabitants therein make loud complaint concerning its tortuous navigation after nightfall, owing to the absence of proper illumination. Sixty-three petitioners along that road and adjacent thoroughfares have forwarded a petition to Mayor Fern asking that the City and County fathers supply a little artificial light to a now darkened district.

The light committee of the Supervisors will attend to the matter. High Sheriff Henry's men are still on the hunt for Grace, and all the likely places are kept under surveillance night and day.

BIG CHOWDER AT PEARL HARBOR

There will be one of the ever popular chowders down at Pearl Harbor next Saturday evening, and a large number of the members of the Yacht Club intend to sail down on Saturday afternoon and reach the club quarters in time to take in the feast that will begin about 7 o'clock.

The party will remain at Pearl Harbor all night, and on Sunday there will be two sailing races for the boats that are down at the locks. One event will be for the wrens, and the other for second class yachts, and the Ford Island course will probably be sailed over.

All the chowders in the past have been very enjoyable, and it would appear that the one on Saturday night should be as good as any that have been carried out in previous years.

There are sixteen property owners and residents along Metcalf street who do not hesitate to declare that the thoroughfare is a disgrace; they have told their troubles to Mayor Fern and the City and County Supervisors through the mediumship of a petition. They state that the road is in wretched condition and ask that it receive immediate attention from the road repair gang. The light macadam covering the street has been badly cut up owing to the heavy traffic over it during the construction of the Mid-Pacific Institute. The street is pronounced as almost impassible during rainy weather.

METCALF STREET IS A DISGRACE
