More Mystery In Mahuka Site

Report That Frear Received A Cable On New Status--Kuhio Writes

The Governor might have received a cablegram from Kuhio on the Mahuka site development," said Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell this morning, "but I don't think that he did."

This was the statement made this morning by Campbell in reference to the latest development on the Mahuka site and the McClellan letter, stating that the Treasury Department feels that the Mahuka site is too small for the construction of the United States building.

But downtown rumor that the Governor received a cablegram from Kuhio on May 23rd containing practically all of the information that was contained in the letter to the Merchants' Association. Also, that upon receipt of this cable the Governor had the tax returns examined as to the value of the property that it would be necessary to purchase to give the Government an entire block.

This report is in direct opposition to the statement of the Governor that he heard nothing from Kuhio on the subject and was entirely in the dark on the change in the status of the Mahuka site in the consideration of

DAMAGE TO STEERING GEAR NEARLY CAUSED LURLINE TO PILE UPON THE SHORE

The Matson Navigation steamer Lurline escaped a close call from piling up on the shore of Honolulu harbor near the marine railway this morning.

Through the exercise of a fine display of seamanship and timely action upon the part of Captain Henry F. Weedon, the vessel was brought to a sudden stop and her nose turned towards the Hackfeld wharf, where she finally berthed at noon today.

The hydraulic steering gear of the Lurline became unmanageable just about the time that the vessel passed through the channel and was heading for the upper end of the harbor.

Captain Weedon immediately issued orders for letting go the vessel's anchors, and she was brought up not a great distance from the marine railway and the boat-houses which line the shore at that point.

Captain Hyde of the Matson tug Intrepid was watching the Lurline

ROOSEVELT TOLD BRITONS RULE OR LEAVE EGYPT

London, May 31.—Quite unexpectedly today Theodore Roosevelt delivered what is considered by Englishmen as a severe arraignment of the nation in its attitude toward Egypt. Something picturesque was looked for from the former President of the United States, but in view of his utterances in Egypt, in which he gave praise in full measure to the British Government for the development that followed British rule there, it was not expected he would revert to that subject, especially to take England to task.

But, with a frankness that gathered a stir among those who had gathered in the ancient Guild Hall to witness the ceremony of conferring upon him the freedom of the city of London, Roosevelt declared that while Eng-

HUMANE TREATMENT IS NOW ASSURED WOMEN PRISONERS AT THE HONOLULU JAIL

There will be a marked change in the handling and treatment of all women prisoners brought to the city and county jail commencing with the first of July.

In setting aside the several amounts needed for the carrying on of the city and county government for the next six months, the Board of Supervisors have appropriated the sum of fifty dollars per month as the salary of a police matron. In addition to this sum the police commission has gone into the matter of the care and attention of women prisoners and a separate cell will be fitted up at the station for the reception of all such charges of the city or the county.

When Miss Ada Van Kirk, a slightly demented lady passenger by the Oceanic Steamship Company liner Alameda visited this port some months ago, her case and its development caused considerable adverse comment. Miss Van Kirk as will be remembered was taken in charge by the local police authorities and as

QUINN CASE IS NEARING END

Conflicting Evidence Given In Regard To Lamps

At the police court this morning all the time was taken up with the Quinn automobile case. Ogawa, the Japanese who was on the witness stand yesterday afternoon, was cross examined by attorney Lightfoot this morning but his evidence remained unshaken.

The defense then were allowed to put on two Rapid Transit men who wished to lose as little time as possible over the case. J. Dwyer, a conductor testified that he was going toward town on his car when he saw a water buffalo on the track ahead of him and the animal was zigzagging across the rails. Witness did not see the accident between the automobile and the wagon.

H. J. Andrews, who was working as motorman on another car going Wai-kiki heard the smash and stopped his car about 400 feet away from the scene.

The prosecution then took up their side of the case again and called the British Consul, R. G. E. Forster. The witness swore positively that he saw the Chinese vegetable wagon approaching the spot where he was waiting for a car, and that there was a lamp burning brightly on the vehicle. He also saw an automobile coming along King street and noticed that it suddenly swerved to one side. Knowing that the vegetable wagon was there, the witness fully expected an acci-

LAW MAKERS DISAGREE

Representatives Will Not Dig Wells For Planters

Governor Frear's status as a jurist and lawyer came in for discussion during the debate on the amendment to the organic act.

Following is a continuation of the debate by House Representatives:

Mr. Mann. I think I speak it too often. (Laughter.)

Mr. Hamilton. Not at all. Now, one more section, section 10, which simply relates to naturalization, and I will read for the sake of brevity, so that we may begin the reading of the bill. When I read Governor Frear's statement, I want the gentleman to remember that Governor Frear is chief justice of the island, and I want to say further, that Governor Frear is one of the ablest, and I think many of the gentlemen present know this, including my friend from Minnesota (Mr. Tawney), who started out to make difficulty about a clause in the first section.

Mr. Tawney. And he is not through yet, either.

Mr. Hamilton. I know. I was about to say that Governor Frear is one of the ablest lawyers of my acquaintance.
