TURN'S DOWN GOVERNORSHIP MUST LOOK INTO TERRITORIAL LABOR

Federal Labor Inquiry Ordered Law Declares Investigation Must Be Conducted This Year--Washington Silent

Before the year 1910 is ended the United States Government will undertake a thorough and far-reaching investigation into the labor conditions prevailing in the Territory of Hawaii, work which will be directed by United States Commissioner of Labor Keefe.

Under the provisions of the Organic Act, the Federal government is empowered and practically directed to investigate labor conditions in Hawaii every five years. The last investigation was made in 1905, and consequently this year is now due to produce a Federal investigator from Washington.

The law under which the investigation will be conducted reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the United States Commissioner of Labor to collect, sort, arrange and present in reports, statistical details relating to all departments of labor in the Territory of Hawaii, especially in relation to the commercial, industrial, social, educational and sanitary condition of the laboring classes, and to all other subjects such as Congress may by law direct. The said commissioner is especially charged to ascertain the highest, lowest and average number of employees engaged in the various industries in the Territory, to be classified as to nativity, sex, hours of labor, and conditions of employment, and to report the same to Congress."

It is considered rather strange to the officials of the Territorial government that nothing has been heard yet from Washington on the labor investigation that is due this year, it being of particular importance because of the possibility of it bearing directly upon the problem of immigration.

It is probable, however, that the special agent of the Department of Commerce and Labor, who is due to arrive shortly to investigate the complaints of the Russian immigrants, will also be directed to undertake the general labor investigation, provision for which is made in the section of the Organic Act quoted.

The fact that a man to investigate the Russian situation is coming has been received by cable, but there is nothing to prove that the officials mentioned in the cable will also conduct the inquiry into general labor conditions.

PREDICTS A BIG MAJORITY FOR KUHIO AND REPUBLICAN TICKET THIS YEAR ON MAUI

Maui will roll up a big Republican majority for Kuhio and the Republican ticket, according to George D. Cooper of Hana, who has sent in a communication and informal report of political conditions to Secretary A. D. Cooper of the Republican Territorial central committee. According to the Hana politician, Kuhio will receive a big vote on Maui, and McCandless and the Home Rulers will cut into each other badly.

The Maui county Republican convention is to be held today. Cooper's letter was written yesterday, and he predicts that though there will be some scraps in the convention, the party will not be divided into factions at all. On the contrary, harmony will rule supreme after the heat of the convention passes away.

The slate for today, according to Cooper, includes Philip Pail for the Senate, and the following are leading candidates for the House: Joel Nakaleka, Charles Makekau, Sam Kelline, E. H. Carley, John Wilcox and Ant. Gomes. Other candidates are Ed. Waiholo, Waiwale, Kawale.

LURLINE HAD PLEASANT TRIP

Brought Many Passengers, Livestock and Cargo From 'Frisco.

Six days, twenty-one hours and forty-five minutes from San Francisco, the Matson liner Lurline, in command of Captain Weedon, arrived off port during the forenoon and brought fifty-six passengers and 4200 tons of cargo for this port and Kahului.

The trip of the liner from San Francisco was uneventful, good weather being encountered during the entire time the vessel was at sea.

It was about 10 o'clock that the Lurline arrived off port, but she was delayed somewhat in coming in, as the quarantine officials were not out to meet her for considerable time. The customs launch had been lying alongside for ten minutes or more before the quarantine launch came out, and the vessel had been waiting.

ALLEGED SPY IS A WITNESS

Korean Who Was Nearly Disemboweled Is Before Jury.

The only case of any consequence which the Territorial grand jury has under investigation this afternoon is that of Choy Sung In, who nearly killed Choy Sung Soon a short time ago by slashing him with an I. X. L. knife, in the bowels.

The assaulted man was believed by other Koreans to be a spy for the Japanese; at least, he was believed to have given information to the Japanese of the plans being made by local Koreans to help their countrymen at home prevent annexation by Japan or throw off the Japanese yoke.

Soon was a witness before the grand jury this afternoon, this being the first time he has left the hospital since he was attacked.

His assailant nearly disemboweled him with the knife used, and it was thought for several days that he would die.

REPUBLICANISM IN WISCONSIN RADICAL

(Associated Press Cable.)
MADISON, Wis., Sept. 28.—Echoes of La Follette were heard today, when the Republican State convention here adopted a radically progressive platform. The platform is in line with La Follette's latest utterances on national political and economic questions.

FOOTBALL OPENS UNDER NEW RULES

(Special Bulletin Cable.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The intercollegiate football season opened in the East today, with Yale and Harvard each playing minor games in preparation for the harder contests that are to follow. Wesleyan went to New Haven to meet the Yale, while Bates College was the Crimson's opponent at Cambridge.

Yale beat Wesleyan 22 to 0, and by a curious coincidence, Harvard defeated Bates by the same score. The games today were the first test of the new rules, but as the contests were easy victories for the larger colleges, nothing definite can be gained from the formations worked out.

SAYS AYLETT MUST EXPLAIN

Supervisor to Give Reason for Continued Absence from Meetings.

Bill Aylett must explain to the Board of Supervisors why he has been absent from a number of consecutive meetings according to action taken at the meeting of the Board this afternoon.

The resolution was presented by Supervisor Logan and endorsed by Supervisor McClellan instructing the County clerk to write Aylett for an explanation and passed unanimously.

In presenting the resolution Logan stated that as chairman of the health committee there were a number of important matters which were evidently locked up in Aylett's desk and should be brought before the Board for action.

At 12:15 today the Supervisors gathered in special session to transact important business necessary to be finished before the end of the month.

CAPT. FULLER ESTATE IS VALUED AT $35,000

Captain Andrew Fuller left an estate valued approximately at $28,000, the will being admitted to probate this morning. Mrs. Fuller is named executrix without bonds and Clarence Cooke, Fred B. Damon and M. T. Simonton have been named as appraisers to determine the exact value of the estate. The greater part of the estate consists of stocks and bonds and cash in bank.

There was one drunk on the police court, calendar this morning and he was asked for $7 by Judge Thayer, who handed out justice tempered with mercy.

PROSECUTOR OF SUGAR FRAUDS FOR GOVERNOR

Nominated for Governor of New York by Republicans at Saratoga.

Henry L. Stimson to Head New York State Ticket.

(Special Bulletin Cable.)

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Henry L. Stimson, the New York lawyer who was the prosecutor in the famous "sugar frauds" case and as such came into national prominence, was today nominated for Governor of New York by the Republican State convention assembled here.

Stimson was a former United States district attorney, and although a staunch Republican, has heretofore not been particularly active in politics. His nomination is due to the "progressive" wing of the party in New York. Stimson is understood to be favored by ex-President Roosevelt.

Henry L. Stimson has been prominent in the legal profession in New York for a good many years. He was born in 1867, is a graduate of Yale and of Harvard law school, and was for a time a member of Elihu Root's law firm. He is keenly interested in questions of public welfare, being a member of the American Forestry Association and the National Conservation Association.

DEMOCRATS TO TAKE IT EASY

Will Not Start Active Campaign Till Some Time In October.

REPUBLICAN WORK IS NOW WELL ADVANCED

Headquarters Buzzing With Business and Precinct Activity Is Already Begun in Honolulu and County.

Oahu Democrats plan a short, sharp campaign, and in pursuance of this plan it was given out at Democratic headquarters this morning that the Democrats will take it easy until the first week in October, and then slash into the fray with lots of energy.

In the meantime the candidates will do a little road work to get themselves into condition by attending precinct meetings. The precinct meetings have been going on for several months, and are welcomed by some of the lesser-known nominees as a chance to get themselves and their views before the voting public by personal appeal.

Bertram G. Rivenburgh, the newly appointed campaign manager, took charge of things at Democratic headquarters this morning. He found a pretty badly jumbled mess, and in particular discovered that the records of the campaign two years ago, including some valuable statistics, have been lost. However, Manager Rivenburgh says that things will be running smoothly from now on.

He does not appear at all worried.

NOTLEY FILES HIS NOMINATION PAPERS

Charles R. Notley is the first candidate for delegate to Congress to file his nomination papers with Secretary of the Territory Mott-Smith.

The Home Rule aspirant for the honor of representing the Territory at Washington appeared at the office of the Secretary of the Territory at the Capitol this morning and presented his credentials in the form that the law demands.

After eight years of steady work as secretary of the Lihue Ice and Electric Company, A. D. Hills has tendered his resignation. He, with Mrs. Hills, will take a long vacation and do some traveling on the mainland before again entering employment.

Gaynor Refuses To Quit His Post

New York's Mayor Will Not Leave Chair To Run For Governor

(Associated Press Cable.)

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Mayor W. J. Gaynor of New York City today definitely refused to run for Governor of the State on the Democratic ticket.

The Mayor's action, while not unexpected, is a notable one in New York State politics, where the election as Governor is regarded as almost a sure stepping-stone to national political preferment. Gaynor is looked upon as one of the most influential Democrats of his State as well as of the nation, and with his name at its head, the Democratic ticket would have been strong.

Gaynor's refusal to become a candidate is due to his desire to continue his work of reform in the city of New York. Widespread attention has been attracted to the metropolis by his active work in stopping graft, in cleaning up the city and in driving undesirable politicians out of public life. Some time ago Gaynor told his friends that it is his chief aim to finish the work he has begun, and that until that is done, he will not be actively identified with politics.

The ticket will be named tomorrow.

PAHALA, Sept. 25.—John Bright, whose name seems to fit him when it comes to working somebody else for the good things of life, has been getting in his fine work in and about this place.

It will be remembered that some time ago this same John Bright, alias Amana, cut a brilliant dash in Honolulu, stopping at the Young hotel, eating at the best restaurants in the city and riding about in automobiles, and doing it all on gall.

A short time ago he showed up in the Kau district and at once began some of his fine work on L. Chong, who is considered the chief Chinese business merchant in Kau. He stood off Chong for board and lodging at Chong's hotel, worked him for one of the best saddle horses in the country with which he put in some heavy riding trips about the country.

According to Chong, Bright told him that he was the son of a business man who owned a cattle ranch near the Parker ranch; that his father had big rice plantations in Kohala and was the owner of a number of stores in China. Among his other stories he said that he came to Pahala on a motorcycle but that the machine broke down before he arrived and he had to leave it on the road some distance away.

He also told Chong that he was supplying the leper settlement with beef cattle, and he ordered fifteen head to be sent down on the steamer Maui. With many other good stories he
