MOANA HOTEL TENNIS COURTS
TO BE OPENED UP TOMORROW

EIGHT FIRST CLASS PLAYERS WILL TAKE PART IN TOURNAMENT — EX-CHAMPION WILL ROTH WILL TAKE PART IN MATCHES—BIG CROWD EXPECTED.

Tomorrow afternoon at the new Moana Hotel courts, some fine tennis will be seen, when at 2 o'clock the eight experts who are to christen the new grounds get going with their racquets. Everything is ready and the courts look to be in splendid condition. The clubhouse and dressing rooms are nicely fitted out, and the players should be comfortably fixed as regards getting ready to play and afterwards attiring themselves for the trip home. A great deal of interest is being taken in the affair, despite the efforts of the always-a-day-behind morning sheet to knock the tournament. The men who are to play tomorrow are about the best in the Territory, and they are all, with the exception of Roth, in fairly good trim. The ex-champion, Will Roth—not Charlie, as the hanger-on-all-the-time-alleged-sporting sheet has it—has not played much tennis lately, but he is at ways there with the strokes, even if he can not last the distance.

The other players are all in the first flight, and some fine tennis should be seen when the men get out on the courts. It is some time now since any doubles have been played in town, and it will be a change from the single handicap style of tournament.

The drawing for the matches will be made on the courts tomorrow, and it may be that the pairs will toss up to see which team will play the other. As they all play from scratch, it will be a difficult matter to attempt to name the winners in advance. If Will Roth were in any kind of form, he and Al. Castle would stand out like certainties, but as Roth has not played for a long time, the other pairs seem to have a good chance.

It will be interesting to see how Atherton Richards and Captain Low stack up in doubles. The captain is a dashing net player, and the youngster is as safe as a house from the back of the court. That used to be the correct dope some years ago, but the game has changed a lot, and now it is well established that both players should get up as soon as possible and play the volley game.

R. A. Cooke, who, with his brother, holds the double championship of the Islands, should do well, with Backus, who plays a rattling good game. Then Nowell, who since he came down from Maui, a year or so ago, has improved his game a lot, will be sure to pair up well with Steere. The latter is a steady player, or who tries hard to win and who gets in some fine shots at times. He and Nowell will make any of the rest extend themselves in order to win.

Play will begin at 3 o'clock, and if the rain will only hold off there is no doubt—notwithstanding the efforts of the consistent knocker, who gets mad when scooped—that the guests of the Moana Hotel and many friends of the players will be in attendance tomorrow afternoon when the first set starts up.

It was thought that possibly a match could be arranged between Atherton Richards and young Ekland of Ewa, but for several reasons the matter has not come to a head. However, there is little doubt that sooner or later the youngsters will come together, and if Ekland will only put a little more ginger into his play and try harder for shots, that he now lets go, a great match will eventuate.

The Moana tennis club tournament, which is to start up next week, will be the most popular far as crowds go, for people can get out after dinner in the evenings, when they have no chance of doing so on a week afternoon. The electric lights are in good condition and the flickering is very slight now. The players on both sides of the net will be even as regards the light, and it won't be a question of one court being brilliantly lighted and the other being in comparative darkness.

It won't be long now till another turn will be had at the Wall Cup, and Atherton Richards, who at present is the holder, will have to defend his title to the trophy.

HORSE OWNERS SAY

MONEY WAS UP

There May Be Match Race on October 8 at Park.

Although a very plausible spell has been put up by the horse owners who were to race at Kapiolani Park tomorrow, the whole truth has not yet been told about the affair. Broderick, in a written statement to the sporting writer of the Bulletin, maintained that there was no money in sight, and that therefore he would not put his mare Copit against Mary Winkelfield and Lizzie Moore.

Then the others became annoyed and claimed that their money was up but that Broderick would not come through. If the money is up they had better tell in whose hands it is at present. From inside sources it is learned that something of a deep and dark scheme was being engineered to make someone rich, quick, and to play another man for a "sucker."

It is alleged now that two mares will race tomorrow week, and it may be that that is correct. Broderick's final remark yesterday in the Bulletin office was very significant: "I am an honest man and I won't stand for any crooked work."

If the St. Louis team wishes to tour the States as amateurs, it had better have the whitewash brush applied to a number of its players. Rumors of tidy little sums having gone to some of the men are going the rounds, and the lily-whites over the pond might object to playing against semi-pros.

OLD RIVALS
MEET AGAIN

CLOSE RACE YESTERDAY
BETWEEN "KID" CREWS

Boat Clubs Would Start Water
Polo But Are Very Busy
Training at Present for Races—Much Interest.

Ever since Regatta Day there has been much interest shown in rowing and aquatic sports of all sorts. The Healanis and Myrtles have gone in for the game good and hard, and the two clubs have representatives out on the harbor every evening nowadays.

The "kids" of both boat clubs have taken to the rowing game in great style, and it promises well for the future of the sport to see the youngsters getting in and hustling for all they are worth. Remarkable improvement is noticeable in the work of the lads, and they get through the water in great style now.

All sorts of matches are spoken of and when the next big regatta comes off there will be some races that will be close and exciting enough for anything. The Healanis are determined that when they measure blades with the Myrtles again, there will be a different tale to tell to that of September 17, 1910.

Yesterday afternoon there was a great impromptu race brought off between crews from the Healanis and Myrtles. Two crews from each shed went out to the spar buoy and raced back to an imaginary line drawn between the piles that are near the Healanis shed and the quarantine depot.

Besides the youngsters a "pickup" crew went along, too, and when the boats got away to a good start the "pickups", of course, forged ahead and soon had a lead that landed them in first with a big margin. The race between the "kids" was a close one, and there was not much to choose between them at the finish. The youngsters rowed well, and they show great improvement. The roll has been eliminated, the recovery has been altered a lot, and the men get in a good crisp stroke that carries the boat through the water in fine style.

The Healanis members get in some great stunts on the water chute, and time after time the men climb to the top of the toboggan and glide down into the water, only to return and repeat the trick.

The talk of water polo has been revived, and the Healanis say that they would like to start the game up with the assistance of George Froeth, but that it would be slightly inconvenient at present, owing to many of their men being so taken up with training stunts.

Tomorrow afternoon the water polo men will get a start, and a game will be played at Fort Shafter between a team gotten together by George Froeth and a bunch of soldiers.

DOTS AND DASHES.

Sergeant Barry says that he can not see how the fact that the Healanis finished well down the list in the Military series has anything to do with the acceptance or the refusing of his challenge to the Punahou. As to a reputation, Barry says that if the fact that the Healanis won the championship last year, is not sufficient, he would like to know what is. As to the claim that some of the Healanis are ex-students of St. Louis College, the sergeant says that, all the same, the players are enlisted men of the N. G. H., and as such are, of course, eligible for the Healanis' team.

Joe McGurn dropped into the Bulletin office yesterday and announced his willingness to have a go at Jim Hoan if a promoter can be secured. Joe is looking well and he is anxious to have another match in Honolulu.

The long-distance runners, Jackson and Kao, are getting into condition, and the Marathon "Kid" is feeling very fit. He thinks he can defeat Kao, but he will have a hard job to down the 45-year-old "Waialua Horse."

FLEEING FROM HEADLESS GHOST

TAMAQUA, Pa., Sept. 17. — There are strange doings among about fifteen families in the northwestern part of the town, who declare that an apparition visits their bedchamber in the early hours of the morning and is driving them nearly frantic. It is supposed to take the shape of a headless man.

Several of these families are making arrangements to move from the section, while one man has sold his property for considerably less than its real value.

A "voodoo" doctor attributes the trouble to a black cat, and cats of all classes are being slaughtered in that neighborhood.
