BASEBALL ROW
AIRED IN COURT

Players Resort to Fighting and One Town Man Is Beaten Up.

As a result of a nice little game of baseball that was played at Waipahu a few Sundays ago, there was a case heard in the police court this morning that caused some amusement. When the game was over at Waipahu, it is alleged that a bunch of Honolulu players and fans started in to rough house things generally. A Waipahu man named Spiller, whose father is a police officer at the plantation, is alleged to have assaulted a Honolulu citizen named Santos. The city fellow got a doing up, and his face looks far from good even now, a week after the affair.

Lorrie Andrews appeared for the defendant and he sought to prove that the Honolulu fans were a bunch of toughs who went down to Waipahu ready to bet on their team to win, as they had brought their own umpire along, and knew he was O. K. for them.

The evidence in the case was principally to the effect that some unprintable remarks were made by both sides, and that then the argument was renewed and fists were resorted to. Judge Andrade listened to the evidence and to a rather heated argument between Brown for the prosecution and Andrews for the defense, and then announced that a decision would be given in the matter on Tuesday morning next.

BOYS' SCHOOL
EXPENSE SHOWN

Industrial Institution Upkeep Increases But Rate Is Low.

Figures that have been compiled upon the request of Governor Frear show that the Boys' Industrial School is maintaining a high standard of efficiency and that the increase in the expense of the maintenance of the school is due to natural causes, many boys having been sent to the school during the course of the present fiscal period.

The cost of maintenance of one boy at the school is found to approximate thirty-three cents, this being considerably less than the cost of maintaining a prisoner in the Territorial jail.

The expense of the school is materially lessened by the fact that a large quantity of the food used at the school is raised by the boys on school land and in the cultivation of sugar cane which is sold to the plantation.

BRIDE IN WHEELBARROW;
BRIDEGROOM ON RAIL

With Cowbells and Tin Pan Music Friends Escort New-Lyeds Through Town.

DALTON, Ga., Sept. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Smith, a popular young couple, members of prominent families, were given a unique wedding celebration last night.

Their marriage had been expected, but the couple decided to forego a fashionable wedding and steal a march on their friends, no going to the residence of a preacher they were married. Their plans had become public, and as they left the minister's house they were greeted by nearly two hundred friends. The bride was put in the wheelbarrow, the bridegroom on a rail, and to the noise of cowbells and pans the procession wended its way through the principal streets of the east side of the city and to the home of the young couple. Then, after a hearty cheer, they left.

PLAN SIGHTS FOR VISITORS

Promotion Committee Getting Ready For Puget Sound Party.

Plenty of entertainment will be given the business men who are coming to Honolulu from Puget Sound by a special steamer next February. Plans for keeping them busy with local attractions and showing them Honolulu at its best were discussed yesterday by the Promotion Committee.

Secretary H. P. Wood outlined in brief the plans for entertainment while the steamer is in this port. It will arrive from Hilo on February 14 and will be met by the committee of port and the passengers, decorated with leis. The band will serenade the visitors at the wharf and they will be escorted uptown.

During their visit here there will be dances, galas, trips to Waihala and sugar plantations, to Pearl Harbor and perhaps to Haleiwa.

Local features include a water carnival at Waikiki under the direction of the Outrigger Club, a performance by the company which gave the ancient Hawaiian tableaux, and a Sunday song service at Kawaiahua church.

Secretary Wood says he has a plan to get together a committee of former Puget Sound residents to help welcome and entertain the Northwestern visitors. There are scores of people in and around Honolulu who have acquaintance in Seattle, Tacoma, or other of the Puget Sound points and who can be of great assistance in meeting the Prince Rupert party.

ALLEGED THIEF
CAUGHT IN ACT

Japanese Storekeeper Lands On Man As He Tries Safe Combination.

Last night a Japanese storekeeper at Kakaako was awakened by hearing a noise that sounded very familiar to him. He crept out of bed and calling upon a friend to give a hand, went softly into the front of his store. There, to his surprise, he saw a Hawaiian, busily at work trying to work the combination of a safe that contained some cash and jewelry.

The Japanese at once jumped in and fell on top of the intruder, who proceeded to put up a stiff fight for his liberty. His assailants were too many, however, and in a short time the native was tied up like a sack. His captors then rang up for the police, and in a short time the man was locked up in a cell and booked for investigation.

Acting Chief Kellett is working on the case and this morning had the Hawaiian up before him. The man will be charged some time today and, although he did not get any hold of valuables, the breaking and entering charge will stand.

UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY SALES GROWING

Business Already Thirty-Five to Forty Per Cent Larger Than Last Year.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—If United States Rubber shows for the fiscal year to end March 31 next a balance for dividends approaching the 14 per cent, earned on the common in the late fiscal year, including, of course, its equity in undivided earnings of the subsidiary companies, a decided movement for common dividends is likely. There is a very fair chance that the company will earn about this amount for its $25,000,000 common stock this year, as gross sales already booked are 35 per cent, to 40 per cent, in excess of last year and the year as a whole promises to produce the largest volume of gross in the history of the corporation.

The single "cont" in the situation is where it has been for two years—the high cost of crude rubber and the very large amounts to carry the necessary stocks of crude rubber which must be secured if the company is to protect itself against abnormal fluctuations in the price of this commodity. Crude rubber has declined in recent months from $3 to slightly less than $2 per pound, a 33 per cent drop. But United States Rubber, in spite of a 25 per cent advance in the cost of rubber boots and shoes, is not asking for its footwear a price that corresponds to more than $1.25 per pound for crude rubber. The company has been well stocked with rubber until this summer, but between now and next spring considerable purchases of rubber must be made. The immediate problem ahead of common dividends, therefore, is the probable trend of crude rubber prices.

Every month is, of course, bringing United States Rubber nearer to the time when it will begin to get rubber from its own plantations. At the earliest it must be two years and probably three years before the East Indian plantations come into bearing, so that the company will get any rubber from its own trees. The creation of an annual supply of 18,000,000 to 20,000,000 pounds of rubber is a slow process and it must be at least four to five years before this goal is obtained. It does not necessarily follow from this that common dividends are as distant as that.

LITTLE BUSINESS AT BOARD MEETING

The Territorial Board of Immigration met this morning for a short time for the transaction of some routine business. Assistant Secretary Walker's resignation on account of pressure of private business was accepted and R. W. Kearns appointed in his place.

With the exception of the approval of some bills and depository disbursement of funds little came before the Board. Arrangements were made for the deportation of a couple of Russians who are mentally deranged. The meeting today was the first in the new offices at Alaka and Merchant streets. It is probable that the next meeting will be held on receipt of news from A. J. Campbell regarding Portuguese immigration.

ALL RUBES DO NOT LIVE HERE

Boston Merchant Gets Into Special Class in Shipping Mower.

Sometimes Honolulu merchants are criticized for lax methods and scant attention to the interests of their customers, but a particular case has come to the attention of one of the local merchants, from the office and intelligence East showing that all of the "Rubes" do not live in Hawaii. A local wholesale house recently ordered of a Massachusetts firm a special lawn mower for a customer and when this machine, was received by the local merchants, they were surprised to find that in an effort to save freight and expense, the Boston house sawed the handle of the lawn mower, which is a very necessary part of the machine into three different pieces, in order that it might be put into one crate.

This is quite in keeping with a similar instance which recently occurred, wherein the shipper making a special consignment wrote out a note stating that they had included in the case a nail puller, so that the box might be readily opened.

TO USE AIRSHIPS IN ALL FUTURE WARS

Opinion of General Bruns After the Experiments Made in France.

GRANDVILLIERS, France, Sept. 17.—General Bruns, French Minister of War, and the entire army are enthusiastic over the achievements of the aeroplanes and dirigible balloons during the military maneuvers which ended today.

The military experts are unanimous in the opinion that the air machines are destined not only to play an important role in future wars, but to greatly modify if not revolutionize army strategy. Henceforth it will be almost impossible to conceal the position and movements of troops and so will be eliminated practically the surprise flank operations which have decided so many critical battles.

Regarding the relative merits of the aeroplane and the dirigible, opinions differ, but the consensus of opinion appears to be that as each supplements the other, a combination of both is necessary. The aeroplane demonstrated its superiority in the matter of speed, invulnerability, independence of wind and weather, while its portability avoids the necessity of housing, but at the same time, the excessive speed of the machines is a drawback, as it makes observation from them necessarily vague while fleeting. Twice during the maneuvers, General Munier, commanding the third corps, was compelled to send a pilot of an aeroplane back over the scouting field to obtain more precise information.

E. M. WATSON IS AFTER REAL FISH

Let the Campaign Go; It's Izak Walton For His.

E. M. Watson, one of the most courageous of the "antiriffled," is going fishing tomorrow.

This simple announcement has a world of meaning behind it. In fact, it is Attorney Watson's declaration that he will vindicate his reputation as an Izak Walton before any jury of his peers in the Territory.

A few days ago Mr. Watson went fishing. He chose that part of the Pacific Ocean which lies off Diamond Head as the spot for his miraculous haul. He was armed with everything from bait to boat hooks, and prepared to catch anything from a flying fish to a whale.

Mr. Watson cruised around in an open boat for hours, exposed to all the sunshine that fell in the vicinity of Diamond Head that day. He caught sixty-five square inches of sunburn, distributed over various parts of his Democratic anatomy, and two small fishes.

It hurt Attorney Watson to waste his philosophical energies on two such inconsiderable denizens of the deep, so he decided that the next time he went fishing he would come back with enough to put the King street market out of business.

Tomorrow he is going down to Haleiwa, accompanied by W. H. Hahili, of the Sugar Planters' labor bureau, and when the two come back, they expect to make the Japanese sampan fleet look like thirty yen.

WATERFRONT NOTES

THAT BAGGAGE inspection of passengers coming into Honolulu from San Francisco or other coast ports will ever be ordered is so near the impossible as to be almost ridiculous, according to those well informed in the matter.

The talk that opium is coming in from the coast may be true, but if it is coming from that direction instead of from the Orient it is not generally conceded in the language of cabin passengers arriving here from coast ports.

It is known that one time Collector Stackable proposed to Washington authorities that the baggage of all persons coming from coast ports be examined here the same as that from foreign ports, but the Treasury Department declined to permit it and the refusal was stated in no unambiguous terms.

It was held at that time that passengers coming here from coast ports should no more be subject to baggage examination than those coming to San Francisco from Portland, or to New Orleans from New York.

With the present high price of opium in the local market it would be a profitable business if the dope could be taken from Oriental steamers in San Francisco and brought to Honolulu on other vessels, but if this were done it is more likely that it would be done by crews of the vessels themselves who could see easy money in it as long as they were not caught rather than by passengers traveling in the cabins of the vessels.

To make the business profitable for a person to engage in, it would be necessary for the poppy product to be brought here in large quantities, and that this could be done by any person regularly without exciting the suspicions of customs men is unlikely.

WHEN IT became known that the two liners Ruhl and Zafiro of the China-Manila Steamship Company were to be transferred to the American flag in order that they might call at more than one port in the Philippines the market price of the stock of the company more than doubled.

The liners will change to American officers and Filipino crews which have manned them in the past and the routes will be extended so as to make three ports in the Philippines, Manila, Cebu and Iloilo instead of running only between Manila and Hongkong as in the past.

INTERNATIONAL congress of seamen in session at Copenhagen last month advanced the proposition of a worldwide strike to enforce certain demands of the men. The German delegation at the congress objected to this plan but the delegation from Great Britain said that the seamen of the world had many grievances which must be set right. They served notice that if the other delegates did not give countenance to the demand they would return home and urge a general strike of all British seamen.

NEXT WEEK will be a busy one in the shipping world of Honolulu as there will be two ships in from the coast, two from the Orient and one sailing for the coast during the first four days of the week.

The week starts in with the Manchuria arriving Monday from San Francisco, Tuesday the Wilhelmnia is due from San Francisco and the Lurline sails for that port, Wednesday the Sheridan may arrive from Manila and Thursday the Mongolia is due from the Orient.

CRUISER REDFORD of the British Asiatic fleet went ashore off the coast of Korea on August 25 and could not be refueled. Hongkong advices of the following day state that all efforts to float the cruiser were unavailing and that the hull would have to be left on the rocks after stripping and dismantling had been finished.

TARGET PRACTICE at Lahaina is the purpose of the present cruise of the revenue cutter Thetis which left three days ago. The vessel is to do the practice near Lahaina and will return to Honolulu tomorrow it is expected.

NEXT SAILINGS of the American Hawaiian freighters from the Sound for Honolulu will be the Virginian on October 4, the Mexican on October 12 and the Missourian on October 28, all these vessels coming direct to Honolulu.

THE FLAURENCE Ward sailed yesterday for Midway with supplies of different kinds for the cable station at that island, among them being a new supply of records for the phonograph in the quarters of the operators.

THIS AFTERNOON at five o'clock the Inter-Island steamer Claudine, Captain Bennett, sails for Maui and Hawaii ports with general cargo and passengers.

THE ONLY steamer in the Inter-Island service due in port tomorrow is the Mauna Kea which will come in from Hilo early in the day.

PASSENGERS BOOKED

Per S. S. Manchuria for Oriental ports, Oct. 3.—Mrs. N. B. Hoyt, G. M. Neill, Miss Marion Mill, C. C. Ayer, F. L. Boeck and wife, Mrs. G. Clement, A. F. Piffner, Bishop Honda, A. J. Welsh.

WATERFRONT NOTES

MORE THAN 100 passengers will leave this port by the Pacific Mail steamer Mongolia when that vessel sails for San Francisco on Saturday of next week. The Mongolia is now en route to Honolulu from Yokohama and is bringing 2,200 tons of Oriental freight for discharge here, the largest freight brought by one steamer for many months. It is expected that the vessel will arrive Friday and will remain over night to discharge the large cargo.

OIL, AMOUNTING to 18,500 barrels arrived this morning consigned to the Pacific Oil and Transportation Company by the American ship Falls of Clyde. The Clyde sailed from Los Angeles of September 15, arrived off port late yesterday, and is now discharging at railroad wharf.

TEN PASSENGERS are already booked on the Manchuria which will sail from Honolulu for Hongkong via ports of call next Monday in the afternoon. The Manchuria will take but little cargo from Honolulu.

THE MAUI sails tomorrow afternoon for Kohala and ports taking a general cargo.

HAS DOCTOR COOK
GONE BACK NORTH?

A Danish Captain Thinks He Is On Way to Etah With Bradley for His Records.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 15.—The Danish government steamer Hansgede arrived here today with the news that John R. Bradley, the financial backer of Dr. Frederick A. Cook's north polar expedition, was on his way to Etah to secure the much talked of records and instruments which Cook has said that he left at that Eskimo settlement on the northwest coast of Greenland. The captain of the steamer thinks that Cook is with Bradley, but gives no particular reason for this belief. The Hansgede which is the vessel upon which the explorer traveled to civilization after his exploit in the Arctic a year ago, fell in with a yacht at Godhavn, a Danish settlement on the south coast of Disco Island, Greenland, and in the course of exchanges between the masters learned that Bradley was aboard the other craft.

The polar hunt promoter admitted his identity and explained that he was bound for Etah to recover whatever had been left there by Dr. Cook. He refused, however, either to deny or confirm the report that he was accompanied by the explorer.

The government vessel also brings the information that two missionaries who are working among the Eskimos also accompanied Cook on his expedition, say that the Eskimos insist that the doctor reached the north pole as he claims prior to its discovery by Commander Peary.

It is definitely known that Dr. Cook left Santiago de Chile on March 1 last for Buenos Ayres. Subsequently he has been reported in various places throughout the globe.

MORE OPIUM FOUND
BY CHIEF KELLET

Dope Was Unstamped So Matter Was Turned Over to Breckons.

Acting Chief Kellett made a haul of opium last night when he sent an informer out with a marked half-dollar to purchase some of the poppy juice. The spy went to a store and there procured two bits' worth of the dreamer's delight. Kellett then dropped in and found the marked coin in a drawer. Another moment and some unstamped opium was discovered under some bags of beans.

As the unstamped dope came under the jurisdiction of United States District Attorney Breckons, he was telephoned for and was quick to arrive at Kellett's office.

The defendant, whose name is Cheung Tuck Poi, claimed that he was not responsible for the opium and that he was simply acting as the executor of a dead man's will. This story may, or may not, be true, but, at any rate, it is up to Breckons now.

The whole family was picking blackberries; but Marty, the youngest, was not filling his bucket. Two of every three berries found their way into his mouth instead. His attention was sharply directed to this maneuver. "Oh, I'm doing that," he said, "so I won't have to carry them home." "But you will be carrying them home inside of you," big brother pointed out. "Well, anyhow," retorted Marty, "they won't spill out when I stumble."
