DEMAND FOR ACTION ON BUILDING ORDINANCE REBELS REVOLT AGAINST LEADER

Dissension In Rebel Ranks; Madero Seized

JUAREZ, Mex., May 13.—Dissension has broken out in the ranks of the victorious revolutionists, and already it has resulted in a serious split among the leaders. General Orozco, Madero's right-hand man in the recent battle, headed a body of rebels that today made a demand upon Madero that the new provisional republic pay for the feeding of the soldiers. Madero was placed under arrest by the rebels and held a prisoner until he presented his resignation from the cabinet named two days ago and promised to supply immediately the needs of the soldiers. General Navarro, the defeated leader of the federals, was released today and crossed the border to the American side.

FEDERALS EVACUATE CANANEA WITH HONORS

CANANEA, Mex., May 13.—Driven from another stronghold by the aggressive revolutionists, the federals today have completely surrendered and are evacuating the city, the victors showing them the honors of war.

MAZATLAN STRENGTHENED BY FEDERALS

MAZATLAN, Mex., May 13.—The federal garrison was strengthened here today, when it received 30,000 shells, and the officers are now confident of holding the city against the rebels.

FIRE HYDRANT FAILS AND GARAGE AND AUTO BURNED; BLAME PUT ON SEWER DEPT.

That fire hydrants in the city of Honolulu are useless, was revealed this morning when fires broke out shortly before eleven o'clock in a garage belonging to Capt. J. R. Parker, of the Hawaiian Dredging Company, who lives on Young and Pili streets. The garage and a fine automobile were destroyed, and the firemen learned that there is something wrong somewhere. When a hose cart from the Pihokai street and Wilder avenue station dashed down to the scene of the fire in a double-quick order, the firemen first coupled their hose to a hydrant at the corner of Beretania and Pihokai streets. Then they found that the hydrant was useless. The "spindle" that runs down into the hydrant allowing the water to be turned on had been broken. The coupling was abandoned, the hose cart had to go two blocks further to King and Pihokai streets and get water from a hydrant there. By this time the garage was all aflame and the building and all its contents were practically destroyed. Capt. Parker owns a fine Mercedes car, a German machine, valued at close to $5,000. He had ordered a Japanese boy to go out and get the machine ready for a trip to Haleiwa, where he was due for luncheon. Capt. Parker was in his home getting ready for the trip when the garage suddenly burst into flames and in a few minutes it was a mass of ruins. The Japanese boy was badly burned and was sent to the hospital. He could give no clear account of what happened but it is rather believed that he had been smoking and got too near the gasoline. There is $3,000 insurance on the car, and Capt. Parker believes that his insurance on the premises covers the garage. Of this he is not positive, but at any rate his loss will run about $2,000. The firemen stated this morning that carelessness on the part of the employees of the public works department or of the street department may be responsible for the uselessness of the hydrant in time of need. It is declared that the hydrants have been used to "flush" the sewers, and believed by the firemen that carelessness in doing this resulted in the breaking of the spindle. The fire was spectacular while it lasted and drew a large crowd in the neighborhood, as well as several automobiles from downtown.

LIKED Y. M. C. A. FOR GAMBLING

Eleven Gamblers Arrested In the Basement of New Building.

Eleven workmen of the new Y. M. C. A. building selected the basement of the building as a suitable place in which to play the well-known game of "seven-comes-eleven" and the dice were rolling well when a squad of police officers, members of the special detective force, descended upon them at noon today. All eleven were gathered up, hurried into the waiting patrol wagon and taken to the police station, where upon putting up cash bail of $10 each those who could do so were admitted to bail and went back to their work. According to the officers, this game has been going on for some time and complaints have been made that gambling was being conducted in the basement of the house of the Young Men's Christian Association. The raid was the result.

LOCAL BOYS TO SEE THE WORLD

Impelled by wanderlust and a desire for adventure, C. R. Williams and Chris Jenkins, two young men, are leaving the island and settled list of well paid office clerks to go to sea as able-bodied seamen at $25 per month. They have shipped on the sailing vessel John Kna and leave today for the long trip around the Horn to Philadelphia. Both are well known, Jenkins on account of being a Honolulu boy and Williams for his activity in the affairs of the Heanani Boat and Yacht Club of which he is a member. He also has a large acquaintance in local musical circles. They were both office men in the employ of the son Hawaii Co.

Clean-Up Demanded On All Sides; Citizens and Officials Together

Mott-Smith Out With Letter To Board

In a careful analysis of the problems confronting the health authorities, and without minimizing the dangers that exist, President Mott-Smith of the Territorial Board of Health, in a communication to the members of the board, has outlined what he considers the proper methods to pursue in applying the quarter of a million appropriated by the last Legislature and with its work in a manner that will be of lasting benefit to the country and in "deadly earnestness." In the course of his letter to the board members, President Mott-Smith says: "The late outbreaks of scarlet fever, cholera and smallpox have demonstrated to the community what has long been known to your board—the necessity of cleaning up the Territory and putting its house in order. "That Hawaii is under the constant menace of introduction of contagious and virulent diseases from the endemic foci of the Orient has become a generally accepted fact, but, unfortunately, driven in, only by actual introduction. The possibility of introduction of yellow fever has also become a present concern. Malaria is dawdling on public consciousness. Tuberculosis is claiming public attention. It is unnecessary to specify further. "No advantage, however, should be taken of the present unsettled condition of the public mind. This is no

"We therefore with a loud voice would call the attention of the citizens of Honolulu, and through them the mayor and Board of Supervisors and all others in authority, to the lack of proper building laws, or to the gross neglect in their execution. "Every thinking man or woman must know the awful calamity which is sure to befall our fair city some day when the conditions are favorable for a great conflagration in the tenement districts of Chinatown, to say nothing of the physical and moral conditions when so many human beings are crowded into so small a space."—From report of special committee investigating sanitary conditions.

Committee Says Building Laws Needed

Honolulu and its citizens are given warning that speedy action in getting new building laws and enforcing sanitary regulations must be taken, in the report made to President E. A. Berndt of the Oahu central improvement club and chairman of the mass meeting held some time ago to consider sanitary questions. The report is made by the special committee appointed at that time—Colonel J. H. Soper, Dr. A. B. Clark and C. W. Ashford. The report in full was made public today by Mr. Berndt. It is as follows: "Sir: We, your committee appointed to examine into and report on the conditions of the tenement houses of Honolulu, beg to report as follows: "Preparatory to examining into the tenement house question we called on Mr. J. A. Rath, superintendent of the Palama Settlement, and found that, under instructions from the Civic Federation, in September, 1909, he had caused a very exhaustive examination to be made into the condition of the tenements then in existence in Honolulu. "Mr. Rath's report was printed, and with his consent we append a copy of it to this report of ours. "We understand that no material improvement has been made in the general conditions, so that his observations and conclusions apply as well today as in 1909. "Line of Investigation. Japanese To Have Help

(Associated Press Cable.) TOKIO, Japan, May 13.—Spurred on by the desperate need apparent in many places in the empire, Premier Katsura has begun the leadership of a movement to raise a fund of $10,000,000 for the relief of the poor. It is declared that conditions are appalling and that unless relief measures are taken, Japanese poor may suffer as the Chinese are now suffering.

EFFORT TO LINE BUSINESS MAN UP WITH SITE-SHIFTERS FAILS; NAMES HARD TO GET

R. W. Shingle of the Waterhouse Trust Company, Ltd., today declared himself absolutely against the attempts being made to change the Federal building site from the Mahuka location. An effort on the part of the "site-shifTERS," through the columns of the morning paper, to line Mr. Shingle up with those who are veering towards a change has failed. Mr. Shingle this morning made the following statement: "You can say for me that I am now and always have been in favor of the Mahuka site extension. I have never changed my position. "I believe that any move to change the site location before the suit now pending has been heard would result in further unnecessary delay. "I do not consider any proposition fair or suitable to change the site location before a verdict has been given, at least in the United States District Court here. It seems to me like getting the cart before the horse.

Before any such move could be made, the United States government would be in honor bound, in my opinion, to return the property condemned for the site to the former owners in return for the money paid and to refund the sum of $35,000 donated by various parties for the extension of Bishop street in front of the proposed Federal site. "The price awarded in the condemnation suit was $2.17 per square foot. I consider this property to be worth more than twice this amount." "Charley Clark, who is in direct charge of the "runners" employed in getting names to the petition for a change of site, said this morning that present plans are to call in the petitions in a day or two. The management claims that the petitions have been largely signed, but the runners themselves, even working among people many of whom have no interest in the site question, have been unable to get many signatures within the last few days.

LORD-YOUNG ENGINEERING CO. AGAIN LOW BIDDERS FOR THE LIBRARY CONSTRUCTION

Lord-Young Engineering Company were the low bidders today on the third alternate proposal for the construction of the Carnegie library offering to do the work for $20,000, this alternate providing for the use of reinforced concrete in place of lava stone called for in the original contract. There were five bidders who tendered bids on the work at the office of Architect H. L. Kerr at noon today, the bids being opened by Chairman Lewis of the building committee. Three of the bidders were bunched together, two of them being but $150 apart in their estimates, but Lord and Young was $17,500 lower than the high bid which was $37,550 made by F. H. Redward. The tenders called for reductions from the original bid for lava stone construction and the five who bid were: Lord-Young Engineering Co., deduct $33,000, making $50,000 for the work. Pacific Engineering Co., deduct $25,000 making $37,500 for the work. F. H. Redward, $37,550 for the work. Samuel Evans, deduct $43,900 making $34,772 for the work. E. P. Chapin, deduct $39,000 making $35,990 for the work. In time as well as price, Lord and Young is the best tender, as the time to complete the job under the revised specifications was made 230 working days. Pacific Engineering Co. set 240, Evans 250 and Chapin 225 working days as the length of time in which to complete the work. Time as well as amount of tenders was nearly the same with most of the bidders which shows the careful figuring that was done before the tenders were made.

GOVERNMENT JOB FOR ISLAND LAD

Clement Goo On, an island boy, and the son of Goo Wan Hoy of this city, has been offered a position in the land office of the Interior Department, Washington, D. C. The position is an honor to him and to the Hawaiian boys generally. He has accepted the position, and will proceed at once to take up his duties in the national capital. Goo On is a graduate of the Kamehameha School for Boys, and being ambitious he continued his studies at Oahu College, where he took up a special course. After completing his studies he entered the British consular service under Ralph G. E. Forster, consul for Great Britain in Hawaii. Goo On took a civil service examination recently and passed successfully. His name was forwarded to the commissioner in Washington, who in turn recommended him to the chief of the land office, who subsequently appointed him as one of the clerks. The Kamehameha Alumni Association, of which Goo On is one of the officers, will give him a good send-off when he is ready to leave for his post in Washington. The boys are preparing a toast in his honor, to be given on the 22nd. According to the present plan, he will leave in the Wilhelmina on Wednesday, May 24.

SEARCH FOR PRISON SITE

Governor Frear is searching for a new prison site and several possible locations are under consideration. The last Legislature made appropriations for the construction of a new prison and it is contended that the present location will not do for the new Territorial penitentiary. As a consequence a search is being made for a new site. Yesterday Governor Frear and Attorney General Lindsay made an inspection trip to several possible sites, the one favored being in the vicinity of the Kamehameha schools.

PRINCIPAL ON SCHOOL THEFTS

Only after three years of annoyance with hoodlums culminating in a series of petty thefts did Principal Isaac M. Cox of the Kalihi-waena school take up the matter with the police, according to his report, which has been made to the department of public instruction. Police have been investigating the thefts, but have not decided yet to prosecute. In his report, Principal Cox says: "At the request of Mr. Gibson, Nor-
