TAKES TALKS ON WAR AND PEACE

Declares Many Foreign Conflicts Could Have Been Settled by Arbitration.

MARION, Ind., July 3.—With the temperature in his private car above the 100 mark for hours at a time, President Taft hurried through Ohio and Indiana today. He began speaking from the rear platform at Cleveland after breakfast and did not get through until 5 o'clock.

He ended with two addresses at the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers here. The President spoke of war, but more of peace and arbitration to the veterans. To the bankers and editors of the Eleventh Congressional District he talked about the Aldrich plan of currency reform. At Indianapolis tomorrow he expects to talk of the "third most important measure" of the Administration—reciprocity with Canada.

On the way over from Cleveland the President made nine rear-platform talks. Sometimes he talked about the heat, and at others he argued for a "safe and sane Fourth," and once in a while turned to prosperity and Canadian reciprocity, which, he said, would bring more prosperity.

In the speech to the old soldiers, the President declared that all of the foreign wars waged by this country, except the War of the Revolution, and possibly the Civil War, could have been settled without bloodshed through arbitration. No less than five times, said the President, has the United States intervened between South and Central American countries, and by peaceful persuasion averted war.

"I am not a wild enthusiast or a blind optimist," said the President. "I do not look forward to a complete restoration of a peace which can not be disturbed in the world even if these treaties (on arbitration) are adopted. Morality of nations improves only step by step, and so the making and confirming of these treaties must be regarded only as a step, but as a long step, toward the securing of peace in the world."

"For the further securing of peace, and as an example to all the world of the possibilities of the use of arbitration, we have invited England and France and Germany to make a treaty for the arbitration of all differences of an international character that in their nature can be adjudicated. We have left out those exceptions which have heretofore always been excluded from arbitration controversies—questions of a nation's honor and of its vital interest."

"Of course, I can not say with positiveness that these treaties will all be made and confirmed. I can only say that the prospect of an agreement with the executive of one of the countries is reasonably sure and we have every hope as to the other two."

The speech to the bankers and editors was in the nature of a reiteration of his address to the New York State Bankers at Manhattan Beach.
