FRIDAY JULY 21, 1911

Not only to say the right thing in the right place, but far more difficult still, to leave unsaid the wrong thing at the tempting moment.—George A. Augustus Sala.

GOOD POLITICS AND GOOD BUSINESS.

The tendency to "kid tricks" must be in the air. On Wednesday a visiting baseball team wouldn't play because the umpire's decision went against it.

Now the morning organ that has been trying to do politics through the Mayor, an organ whose editorials have sometimes come from the office of the chief executive, an organ also that has made a business of batting around the political compass in a most amusing way, comes to the front with the whine that there ought to be an independent party in Honolulu; this on account of the Republican Supervisors not having done as the organ wanted.

As we understand it, the complaint is that there is "too much politics" in the work of the city government.

As the morning paper understands it, the addition of an independent party would reduce the politics.

It is to laugh.

Only from a Fool's Paradise could you get a solemn conclusion that there is less difficulty in running a three-ring circus than the old-fashioned two-ring.

If any demand has come for a new political party the sponsor for it has yet to appear in the open.

What the business men want is results in the particular matters with which the Supervisors have to do, and this the Supervisors are getting in shape to give, as rapidly as is possible with a nagging combination on their heels that does nothing but find fault and "lay it on the Supervisors."

Independent party talk is factionalism pure and simple. Constructive political work should be done however in preparation for the election next year.

Honolulu needs a Mayor who can lead the way for a growing and progressive city.

The next mayor of this city is a subject that should engage the serious attention of every person who has spare time to give to the important work of government, and at the same time, thought should be given the make-up of the Board of Supervisors.

This should be done now in order that a strong ticket of aggressive men may be put in the field early next year. And it may be done without in any way complicating the administration of the present city government.

We presume it is safe to assume that Mayor Fern will not seek re-election and it is equally certain that John Lane will not again be a candidate for the position. Mr. Fern's two terms should be sufficient to satisfy anyone, and as a matter of fact the situation calls for a stronger man. Mr. Lane may hardly be expected to ask his party for a third nomination. There will also be changes in the Board of Supervisors, and without trying to force out any of the present incumbents there should be a general casting about for two or three strong men to take the places of those who will retire from the Board by preference.

Preparatory work of this character should be done by men who have the broad interests of the city at heart, because to do this is just as plainly good business as anything that is demanded of the present city government. Sitting up nights complaining is mighty poor business. It furnishes a bad example and gets no results.

There is indeed an opportunity for first-class constructive political work. Only misguided fools will waste time and energy by going off on tangents.

EVENING SMILES

He—Do you think you can catch any thing from kissing?
She—Well, you've been laughing around since Monday and you haven't caught anything yet.

Father—You spend too much money. Why, at your age I didn't have a cent.
Son—Well, You've nothing on me.

"Oh, don't keep fighting and quarreling all the time. As Patrick Henry once said, 'Let us have peace.'"
"Who said that?"
"Patrick Henry, an Irish patriot."
"Go on; no Irishman ever said anything like that."

"What do you think of my harem skirt?"
"My Jove, I think it is ripping."
"Heaven! Where?"

BAN ON CAMPAIGN BOOZE

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—Congressman Caleb Powers of Kentucky introduced a bill today that contemplates the amending by Congress of any member who uses whisky or other intoxicant during his campaign to influence voters, or who permits others to use it in his behalf.

Other things like money, promises of office and articles of value are included in the prohibited class of gifts, but whisky is made most conspicuous. Comment was made today that, coming from a Kentuckian, the spirit of the bill would indicate a remarkable change of moral sentiment in Kentucky.

formation of coolie settlements along the border. Much Chinese Smuggling. Coincident with the starting of a movement to purchase Lower California, government officials here have become much alarmed by the smuggling of Chinese across the border. It is asserted that herds of Chinese are being landed on the peninsula and smuggled across the border at convenient points. For the first time in its history the United States has found it necessary to patrol the coast of a friendly power. The revenue cutter McCullough is now sailing up and down the Pacific watching for Chinese coast runners. The commander must avoid arousing the ill will of the Mexican authorities, but his instructions are to make it mighty unpleasant for any vessel that he overhears loaded with coolies.

DR. RYDER LECTURES HERE

Rev. Charles J. Ryder, secretary of the American Missionary Association, will arrive in Honolulu the early part of August and occupy the pulpit of Central Union church during the vacation season.

Mr. Ryder is one of the foremost speakers of the country, and one feature of his stay will be a series of illustrated Sunday evening lectures on the mission work with which he is connected. These lectures have been delivered in other parts of the country to audiences that packed halls and churches to the doors, and a rare treat is in store for the people of Honolulu.

Both Mr. Ryder and his wife are graduates of Oberlin College, which is represented in Hawaii by a larger number of graduates than any other mainland college or university.

KEIOS PROTEST

field. The protest is based on rule 22 of the Spalding baseball rules.

The protest is as follows: Honolulu, T. H., July 20, 1911. Thomas Treadway, Promoter Keio-Chinese Special Series:

Dear Sir:—We, the captain and manager of the Keio baseball team do hereby protest to the decision given by the umpires declaring that the Keio baseball team forfeited the game to the Chinese team.

We claim that when Koyama batted the ball toward center and right fields the fielders of the Chinese team, Ea Sue and Chung Hung tried to field the ball, but both dropped the ball first on the ground, before they recovered the ball, while the batter, Koyama was running home touching every base in order, but the umpires called the batter out, declaring that the fielders of the Chinese team caught the ball in the hand before same touches the ground, which is entirely the fact. We further claim that no umpire can award the game in favor of one team and against another under the Spalding baseball rule 22, when we did not commence the game two hours before the sun set, therefore we respectfully request you to call a meeting to consider above matter.

We further state that up to yesterday (meaning Wednesday) we had been given fair decision by the umpires but yesterday's game the umpire was too far off in giving his decisions on balls and strikes against our team.

We know some facts and able to prove same. If necessary that we should state, but we will omit. Thanking you for consideration on above matter. Dear Sir we are,

Yours respectfully,
E. KANKI, Captain,
Y. SAKURAI, Manager.

TO MOVE GARBAGE DEPARTMENT

The headquarters of the garbage department will be removed from the present headquarters on Hotel street to office room to be provided for its reception in the McIntyre building. Chairman McClellan of the health committee stated today that the removal would save the city and county some $25 a month.

Retrenchment being the order of the day, the department will be transferred to the more central location without delay.

MORE TIME FOR FOOD ORDINANCE

Chairman McClellan of the health and sanitation committee asked for further time today in the presentation of the ordinance which has to do with the protection of foodstuffs from dirt, dust, flies and other insects. The measure is being put in shape for introduction at an early date.

WHEN THE KINGS WERE IN POWER

New Section at Bishop Museum Will Be Most Interesting Opened.

The plans which have been under consideration for some time past for opening the third story of the Hawaii section of the Bishop Museum are now being carried out. When completed it will form one of the most interesting in the building. All the royal jewels, the crown and the throne will be on exhibition besides many other things of the time when Hawaii had her own royal court.

The third story has been used as a store room, the big cases up there being filled with all manner of curious things. These have now all been cleared away to the new building and room made for the new stuff. The main collection will be that known as the "Cloghorns" and will consist of the things at one time owned by Princess Kaulani, of whom Robert Louis Stevenson thought so much.

In one big case will be placed the old throne and with it the robes and crown, besides some of the royal jewels. This will be known as the King's case. In another, to be known as the Queen's case, will be the dresses worn on state occasions by the queens. The collection will be a most interesting one for the tourists, as well as for kamae'āias.

Two other private collections are to be added, all of which deal with the history of the islands. The section is to be known as the historical floor. Carpenter Reynolds, of the museum staff, is hard at work making the cases now and has a long job in front of him. The exhibits will take a long time to get ready as an effort is to be made to get them as nearly life like as la possible.

It is also said that a strenuous effort is to be made to get the Damon collection. This contains some very rare things and would add much to the general interest of the whole. No definite time can be stated as to when the floor will be open to the public but it is thought that there is very little likelihood of it being this year.

LAND OF PUUPUEO

Manoa Valley

Since we began selling lots in this land we have learned a thing or two:

First—That the real demand is for medium-size house lots; and in accordance with our suggestion the owner has subdivided the two large lots into twelve smaller ones, containing from 18,000 to 20,000 square feet. Still good-sized lots!

Second—That the lots in this land come pretty near selling themselves. The reason? Because the lots are not remnants nor undesirable left over after the pick, but are the real choice locations. This is easily proved by a visit to the land. Let us show you!

LARGE PROPERTY HOLDINGS TO WOLTERS

subscriptions will be made to a fund for the Bishop street opening. The cost is estimated at approximately $50,000, and the work is to be done under direction of the department of public works.

Mr. Wolters said this morning that the entire work of improving this district should be taken up at once. It was because of the proposed opening of Bishop street and the plans to close Union street that he has been quietly enlarging his holdings here, so that if Union street should be closed he will still have a frontage on Bishop. In fact, the property in which he now has a four-fifths interest would have a frontage on Bishop street of some 150 feet.

The Brewer Estate meanwhile is proceeding with plans for its building on Hotel and Union streets, the architects, Ripley & Reynolds, being now engaged in drawing up the specifications, and bids will be called for shortly. Mr. Wolters, now the principal owner of business property here, says he will be forced to go ahead and build too with a frontage on Union street, which will forever stop the closing of this street and delay the opening of Bishop, unless before the Brewer Estate builds the plans for the Bishop extension are worked out.

"It is up to the superintendent of public works to do something about this," said Mr. Wolters this morning. "We should get some definite move right away, otherwise buildings will go up on Union street that will prevent its being closed."

Chairman Berndt of the Oahu central improvement committee said this morning that the committee will take up this matter of the Bishop street extension early next week and will endeavor to secure the unanimous action of interested property owners in raising private funds to put the street through. A public subscription to a small amount may also be asked.

of the road supervisor and will not be in the hands of the city and county engineer."

Murray again disclaimed any intention upon the part of the majority faction to do politics, and expressed the hope that Mayor Fern and his supporters would readily see the many advantages for the city under the new arrangement.

That Mayor Fern will take the veto of Ordinance 33 to the Supreme Court for a test of its legality is certain from remarks dropped by his Honor this afternoon.

"Under the provisions of Section 1748 of the city and county act, I can take this matter up with the Supreme Court, though that body is not in regular session."

Mayor Fern stated also that it was not his intention to bring the matter of legality up before the higher court with the intention of blocking the progress of work on city and county roads.

"I can submit a statement of facts before the Supreme Court, and the opinion can be had within three days," was the belief expressed by Fern today.

The law declares that no vacancy exists so far as the office of road supervisor is concerned, and that is a point which will be brought before the high tribunal by Mayor Fern.

Congressman A. C. Mitchell of the Second Kansas district died recently at his home in Lawrence, Kan.

KAISER FORCES MORGAN INTO ROYAL YACHT CLUB

"We Have a New Member," Says Wilhelm and That Settles It.

BERLIN, July 5.—The election of J. Pierpont Morgan to membership in the Imperial Yacht Club at Kiel by Kaiser Wilhelm's command last week is described as follows by a Berlin society paper:

"Ordinary mortals desiring to join this most exclusive club need three sponsors. Their names are displayed for several weeks at three different places—first at the Ministry of Marine in Berlin, then at the clubhouse at Kiel, and finally at the casino of the First Regiment of Foot Guards at Potsdam. One vote suffices to debar a candidate from election.

"Moreover, the club statutes contain a provision that no foreigner shall be admitted to membership, by which it was probably intended to erect an obstacle in the path of ambitious American financial magnates.

"In Morgan's case the imperial wish swept away all these obstacles. The Kaiser simply appeared one day at the clubhouse and said:

"We have a new member, J. Pierpont Morgan of New York."

"This, of course, settled the whole matter. At the club banquet last week Morgan sat next to the Emperor."
