This art of using moderate abilities to advantage wins praise, and often requires more reputation than real brilliancy.—La Rochefoucauld.

The Bulletin in its Friday issue will publish the Graphic Charts prepared by Expert H. Gooding Field as a result of his investigation of the administration of the City and County of Honolulu.

HOLSTEIN AND PARTY UNITY.

National Committeeman Holstein previous to his departure for the mainland on the very commendable mission of fighting the battles of President Taft in the National Republican Committee, let loose to some extent in his comment on the differences of opinion in the Republican party.

He unquestionably voiced a sentiment that prevails among a very large numerical force of the Republican party and more or less of it will undoubtedly be heard from various people from time to time.

One thing can be said of Mr. Holstein however which he did not mention. He is first, last and always a party man and will stand loyally with the organization.

It should be borne in mind by all Republicans that no single faction can carry an election or secure the best results in government. Party unity is the secret of success and to bring about a strong and thoroughly united army of workers should be the aim of party officials and all loyal men of the rank and file.

It stands to reason that the friends of the Delegate will not stand idly and quietly by and accept without resentment or counter attack the daily sneers and condemnation handed out to Kuhio while he is in Washington fighting the battles of the Territory, and standing guard to protect the industries of the islands from legislation most disastrous to labor and to capital.

If all that his enemies say of him were true, it is certain that the Delegate to Congress is showing himself much more of the man, more the courageous and loyal American-Hawaiian citizen than the coterie of pinheads who are spending their time here at home making faces at him and thereby doing their part to complicate and irritate the local situation.

Delegate Kuhio commands the loyal support of an overwhelming majority of the voters of this Territory. The same cannot be said of any other man in the Territory, as against Kuhio.

In view of this fact and considering the great amount of important work that is before the people, especially of Honolulu, the folly of the continued attack on the Delegate is at once apparent to any sensible man. If some are so blind that they can't see it now, they are slated for a rude awakening in the Fall elections.

PUNAHOU

Kroll, Hans Hansen, Richard Gartley, Bonnar Lindsay, John Scoville. Soldiers—Clark, Cottrell, Alexander Cleghorn, Leighton Dyer, Walter Vettesen, Anton Vettesen, Bonnar Lindsay, Reuben Campbell, Ellsworth Deely, Paul Fassoth, Ernest Gray, William Kamakani, Eldredge Pond.

5. Medieval Civilization. The Crusades. The pawing steeds of the Crusaders were the spectacular feature of the medieval portion of the pageant.

EVENING SMILES

"That man has been making that same tariff speech for years and I don't understand it yet." "Certainly not," replied Senator Sorghum; "that speech is like a conundrum. After you guess it, it's no good any more."

Crusader to be knighted. Raymond Arthur Ebersole. Crusaders' procession: King Nelson Nowell, Queen Emma Woods, Page Era Crane, Mounted Knights—Raymond Ebersole, Frank Gardner, James Widder, Frederick Waterhouse, Donald Youma, Roy Graham, Fred Makinney, Herman Alexander, Laurence Kennedy.

Monks—Dudley Pratt, Lawrence McLane, Raymond Scudder, Rudolph Silva, Sam Stacker, Arthur Vinkley, Walter Samson, Thomas Singlehurst, Nuns—Florence Gibb, Dorothea Kraus, Debbie Lyle, Alice McQuoid, Anna Pratt, Euphie Shields, Ivy Warren.

9. A Washington Tea. The stately dinner, danced by colonial dames and gentlemen, was the feature of "A Washington Tea," at which Archie Campbell, as the father of his country, and Eleanor Gartley, as Martha Washington, were the hosts.

10. Miss Columbia's Party. "Miss Columbia's Tea Party" was the final set piece of the pageant, and with the beautiful salute to the flag which every State and Territory, represented by white-clad girls, and "the men of the great west" in rough-rider costume, performed in a grand finale.

11. The Life of Columbus was chosen to epitomize the beginnings of modern civilization. Beautifully costumed, Edith Carter, as Isabella, and Samuel Wilder, as Ferdinand, welcomed the discoverer on his return.

12. The pageant closed with a grand procession of the characters. Led by the mounted crusaders and their ladies, and followed by the other actors in the order of their appearance, they marched to the stirring music of Berger's band, and the best tribute to the success of the entire performance was that the great audience remained seated until the fall of the procession had disappeared from view.
