TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.—Many do not seem to understand the meaning of the date at the top of the Emporia News. It is the date of the issue, not the date of the subscription. It is not the date of the year, but the date of the issue.

RECORDS EMPORIA NEWS.—Dear Sir: Will you please let the readers of your valuable paper know that we are going to give away, on January 1, 1881, a fine $100 music box to the person holding the lucky number in the ground drawing.

Do not think that we sell these tickets for this is not the case. We give a ticket with every 90 cents worth of goods purchased at the store. The music box can be seen at the New York 90 cent variety store, Emporia, Kansas.

Cheap groceries at Butler's old stand. Buy your tinware, glassware, queensware, &c., at the 90 cent store, and save big money.

Glassware and queensware at M. W. Gibson's, Emporia, Kansas. Buy your window shades at the 90 cent store. They sell them very cheap.

Still they come for fine sugar to DeLong & Gray's. Twelve different styles of the best pianos from six different manufacturers are handled by E. B. Olin, Emporia, Kansas, dealer in everything in the musical line.

You can buy an all-wood wash-tub for 99 cents at the 90 cent store, worth from $1.20 to $1.50 elsewhere.

C. Hood, trustee for J. M. Butler, is closing green goods and queensware at much shorter work of the stock. 3812 W. S. ROGERS.

Mrs. C. W. L. Sargent, the merchant tailor, over Latta hardware store, has a first class Davis family sewing machine to trade for a good wench, worth $200.

The newest and largest stock of homoeopathic medicines in Southern Kansas, at the Emporia Pharmacy. 3812 W. S. ROGERS.

The 90 cent store is already receiving Christmas goods. That looks as if they were going to supply their customers more than what they want.

If you want anything in the grocery or queensware line improve the opportunity and buy at the old stand of J. M. Butler before the stock is all gone.

The 90 cent store sells all kinds of goods, such as wash-tubs, clock shelves, picture frames, &c., cheaper than any house in the city. 3812 W. S. ROGERS.

WARNINGS.—Don't borrow money unless you can make more than the interest you have to pay. If you do not, you will get into a bad way.

We saw a wasp nest, which was in a hole in the wall of a barn. It was very large and full of wasps. We will try to get it out.

A Valuable Periodical.
The St. Louis Magazine for September is out, and is really a masterpiece of art, and well printed, bright and interesting. It has seventy-eight pages, and an article on the "New West" alone has fifty excellent illustrations among them. It is a valuable addition to the library of every one who is interested in the progress of the West. It is sold at the rate of twenty-five cents per copy, and is worth the price. It is published by the St. Louis Magazine Co., 100 North Second Street, St. Louis, Mo. It is a valuable addition to the library of every one who is interested in the progress of the West. Four ear loads of anthracite coal from Pennsylvania have arrived in Emporia, within the past few days, for different parts of the city.

The $20,000 appropriation for improving the Arkansas river is being expended at Wichita under the direction of Capt. Curtis, U. S. A.

Charles Russell returned from Wichita Wednesday and reports the Emporia pits about as they are, with a slight improvement on the fair grounds.

At the Marion county fair a portion of each day will be devoted to political speeches by the different parties. The "best" will take the prize, as usual.

A late improved cotton gin has been ordered to Independence, and the owner, Capt. McTaggart, will endeavor to have a bale of Kansas cotton on exhibition at Bismarck fair.

Many portions of Kansas report a largely increased acreage of wheat being sown this year over last. The condition has never been in as good a condition for sowing before.

The Columbus waterman has supplied his town with $5,000 worth of water in the last seven years. We would like to know how many Democratic voters there are in that village.

We saw a wasp nest, which was in a hole in the wall of a barn. It was very large and full of wasps. We will try to get it out.

Mr. L. M. Marsh, superintendent of missions for the S. S. union at Emporia, spoke at the Presbyterian church on Sabbath school work Sunday evening, to a large congregation.

The editor of the Nickerson Argosy writes: "We are a little behind in our issue, but we will get it out as soon as possible. It will be a full and complete issue, and we hope to receive many orders for it."

By order of committee on supplies, Board of Education. J. W. TRUENOV, Chairman.

Sixty-nine pieces of baggage were forwarded from Emporia over the Santa Fe Monday, and forty-one received.

Mr. Tyndberg, the baggage master, says it is the biggest day he has known since being in the employ of the company.

Rev. J. J. Stoenmaker, pastor of the St. Paul's, is recovering from his illness, and is expected to be able to resume his pastoral duties, and divine services will be held in his house Sunday morning at the usual hour.

The Emporia Ladies started Monday for Wichita to attend the state encampment. They will go in camp this evening, and remain four days. We do not believe that any town in the state will be represented by a finer company than Emporia.

We are informed by Will Severy that six students of our city who were from the farm at Reading will average sixty bushels to the acre, and that twenty acres of millet will run from five to six bushels to the acre. Pretty fair for "dooty Kansas."

The fact that the band of a traveling show were permitted to play "My Grandfather's Clock" on the streets of Emporia last Saturday, without suffering any interference in the way of violence or indignation, speaks volumes for the majesty of the law in this city.

There is a great rash of students at the state agricultural college. This is a hopeful indication, what is especially needed in Kansas is a disinclination in the number of indifferent professional men and a more general adaptation to the culture of corn and potatoes.

The new Congregational church is rapidly approaching completion, and will be ready for occupancy in about five weeks. The seats have been ordered from the Michigan and Wisconsin furniture company, at Northville, and are expected to arrive some time next month.

In a quarrel between C. Conwell, the proprietor of the Stock Exchange saloon, in this city, and Pat Danglebury, on Saturday evening, the latter struck Conwell over the head with a shot-gun, which he had in his hand, and inflicted upon him severe injuries.

Daughter is still at large, though a warrant has been issued for his arrest. Conwell is not seriously injured and is slowly recovering.

Morris County Times: A party of railroad surveyors were here this week, having just finished a survey from Ottawa, Kansas, to this city. The route from Ottawa here lacks a quarter of a mile of being 71 miles. The line is not reported by them as very favorable, and it is believed that it will be made immediately from the above mentioned point to Emporia. Our people will anxiously await further developments.

We acknowledge a pleasant call from P. S. Wires, business manager of Milton Nobles' Comedy Co. This first class troupe stays here next Monday evening on its way to Denver and to fill the rest of the engagement at the Pacific coast. Last week the company closed the grand opening of the season at the St. Louis opera house, and this week they will appear at Crawford's new opera house at Topeka.

Topeka Capital: The fact that Mr. W. P. Herrington, of Silver Lake, has been placed in the county jail under the charge of shooting a man, has also been affected the mind of his wife that she has almost lost control of herself, and is now looked upon as being insane. She has been an occupant of the insane asylum for about a week, and spends most of the time in weeping and moaning. Her case has not been tried yet by the probate judge, and it is understood, is indefinitely postponed, probably until Mr. Herrington's trial is over with.

We have received a copy of "Goodwill," a Practical Instruction for Business Men." It contains many brief, instructive and sensible observations on points that are continually presenting themselves to every man who is engaged in business, and which we might mention, are valuable suggestions on selling checks and drafts, on keeping cash and bank accounts, on paying bills, on the management of a business, on the detection of counterfeit money, and on the clearing house. The work is published by J. H. Goodwin, Chicago, Illinois.

The special premium, "Chambers Encyclopaedia" in fifteen volumes, offered by the Emporia News for the district library of the rural school taking the highest rank in the county, has been awarded, and will be seen by the report of the judges in this column. This district has five miles west of Emporia, and the names of the school board are Mr. Metzger, A. B. Moon and James Stout.

The following assignment of teachers has been made by Prof. Carmichael, superintendent of the public schools of Emporia: High school, 1st and 2d grades, Mrs. A. P. Morse and J. H. Hill; 3d grade, Mrs. O. B. Wharton; 4th grade, Mr. M. C. Hodge and Miss Jennie Edgerton; 5th grade, Mrs. Miller; west side, Miss M. J. Watson and Miss E. Maynard; 6th grade, east side, Miss Nettie Smith; 7th grade, west side, Mrs. W. J. Higgins; west side, Miss Belle Wood; outlying schools, Misses Pack and Bartholomew.

The great planet Jupiter is attracting a great deal more of the attention of our astronomers than he has for some time. He is now playing a part in our engagement and is proceeding the harvest moon. Rising early he is watched until late, not only by lovers who swing from front gates, but by all other stargazers who look at him through powerful telescopes and even ordinary opera glasses. He is bright, brilliant and beautiful. His colors are gorgeous, and his satellites cling near him like the planets round a central sun. They are people who ascribe to him the heat waves, and the hurricanes, and the heavy showers. He seems to be the king of the heavens, and he turns his bright spot toward us, even when our sky is not clear.

District Court, Tuesday, Sept. 14. In the case of Kansas vs. Henry Smith, which engaged the attention of the district court yesterday, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, on a charge of burglary.

Today the civil case of Eliza J. Conner, administratrix, vs. E. T. Nichols, et al., is in progress of trial.

The Fair News.—The Weekly News of this week contains a complete and consecutive report of the proceedings of the fair, a list of the names of the leading exhibitors, and a full and complete account of the occurrences of the ninth annual meeting of the Lyon county agricultural society. It is a very interesting and valuable paper, and we hope to receive many orders for it.

The public schools opened Monday morning with an unusually large attendance. Over one hundred new pupils applied for admission to Prof. Carmichael's school, and the departments are all filled, and some of them overflowing.

The completion of the new building on Constitution street will supply a great want in Emporia, and will be a great benefit to the city. It will be a fine and commodious building, and will be a great credit to the city.

One of the leading features of the Bismarck fair will be the grand Republican fair, which will be held in the city on the 20th of September. It will be a grand and successful fair, and will be a great credit to the city.

A convention of Democrats and Greenbackers met at the court house in this city last Saturday, and selected a committee to make up a list of names of parties, who put in nomination the following ticket which was subsequently ratified by the convention:

For representative from the 22nd district, Van R. Holmes, of Emporia; 23rd district, S. P. Elliott, of America; county attorney, Wm. A. Randolph, of Emporia; clerk of district court, E. D.
