Coal Conference at the White House Ended in a Failure.

The Presidents of the Railroads and Coal Companies Refused to Arbitrate and Denounced the Miners' Labor Organization.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The coal conference between the president and representatives of the operators and the miners came to an end at the White House today after a session with a failure to reach an agreement. Apparently the rock upon which the conference split was recognition of the miners' union.

The president had urged the contending parties to cease strife in the interests of the public welfare. The miners, through the president of their union, had expressed a willingness to submit differences to arbitration, but a tribunal to be named by the president and to enter into an agreement to abide by terms fixed by the arbitrators for a period of one to five years. The employers, through the president of the railroad and coal companies and a leading independent mine operator, had squarely refused arbitration, had denounced the miners' labor organization as a lawless and anarchistic body with which they could not deal and had demanded that the government should demand federal troops to ensure complete protection to workers and their families in the mining region, and court proceedings against the miners' union, and had offered, if the men returned to work, to submit grievances at individual collectives to the decision of the judges of the court of common pleas for the district of Pennsylvania, in which the colliery was located.

It was a remarkable chapter in the economic history of the country that was written Friday. For the first time the president of the republic had intervened directly between the forces of capital and labor in an effort to avert what he himself regarded as a great national calamity. The result was to bring the principals in the great controversy face to face with the whole country aware of the issues between the two great forces that he had tried before the president.

The president entered at once on the business in hand by reading a statement which he had carefully prepared urging a settlement of the strike in the interests of the public. His manner was exceedingly serious and his voice showed his deep feeling. Almost immediately after the president had closed Mr. Mitchell arose and on behalf of the miners offered to submit the differences to arbitration. The operators looked surprised, but before any reply could be made, President Roosevelt said he desired that both parties take the matter under consideration and meet him again at 3 o'clock. The first session of the conference had lasted less than 15 minutes. The operators were driven to their private cars in the railroad yard and Mr. Mitchell and his party returned to their hotel. Both parties immediately set to work to prepare statements in reply to the president's suggestions.

The operators made it plain that they would insist to no proposition whatever emanating from Mr. Mitchell. It was five minutes of 5 o'clock when the conference ended. The operators came down stairs and held a brief consultation and then left in their carriages for their train. Several of them declared the interference of the president in the matter was rather than forwarding the settlement. They asserted that no progress had been made and said they would return to continue the contest. They declared the situation was most serious as to coal supply, but said that coal would be furnished to the public and that if non-protection they could get down to mine coal to at least 70 per cent of their capacity. They said there would be no compromise and that the strike would continue until the miners succumbed. They asserted their determination to make no concessions.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.
President and Cabinet Again Consider the Coal Situation.

Washington, Oct. 6.—In an earnest effort to expedite the adjustment of the coal strike, another conference was held at the White House today and adjourned after three hours of deliberations. No statement was given out as to the conclusions reached and every participant absolutely refused to discuss what had taken place during the meeting. The conference was called for in view of the importance to the American people of a speedy solution of the matter to the conference it is almost impossible to do more than draw the most general of conclusions as to the nature of the proceedings had upon what preceded the meeting. It is known that the president reached the conclusion that

THE NATIONAL GUARDS

Entire Division in Pennsylvania Ordered Out.

All Men Who Desire to Work in the Mines and Their Families Are to Have Ample Military Protection.

Harrisburg, Pa., October 7.—Gov. Stone late Monday night ordered out the entire division of the national guard of Pennsylvania to duty in the anthracite coal regions. The soldiers will be in the field Tuesday. The order calling out the guard is as follows: "Headquarters National Guard, Adjutant-General's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., October 7. The following counties of Luzerne, Schuylkill, Carbon, Lackawanna, Susquehanna, Northumberland and Columbia, to wit: and their families are to have ample military protection. The order is issued in view of the fact that the situation grows more serious each day. The territory involved is so extensive that the troops now on duty are insufficient to prevent all disorders. The presence of the entire division national guard of Pennsylvania is necessary in these counties to maintain the public peace.

The major-general commanding will place the entire division on duty, distributing them in such localities as will render them most effective in preserving the public peace. "As tumults, riots, mobs and disorders usually occur when men attempt to work in and about the coal mines, he will see that all men who desire to work and their families have ample military protection. He will protect all trains and other property from unlawful interference and will arrest all persons engaging in acts of violence and intimidation and hold them under guard until their release will not endanger the public peace; will see that threats, intimidations, assaults and all acts of violence cease at once. The public peace upon all occasions and throughout the several counties and no interference whatever will be permitted with officers and men in the discharge of their duties under this order. The dignity and authority of the state must be maintained and her power to suppress all lawlessness within her borders be asserted.

"By order of
"WILLIAM A. STONE,
Governor and Commander in Chief.

The formal order was given out at the executive mansion shortly before 11 o'clock Monday night by Private Secretary Gorwig.

Gov. Stone called a conference of the general officers of the guard, at which it was decided to place these troops in the field. Those present at the conference were Maj. Gen. Miller, Gen. Gebbia, of the 3rd brigade; Gen. Schall, of the 1st brigade; Col. Hulings, of the 1st regiment, who represented Gen. Wiley, of the 2nd brigade, who is in Kansas; Assistant Adjutant-General, Richardson.

MITCHELL ISSUES ADDRESS.
Counsels the Strikers to Abstain From Deeds of Violence.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 7.—The conference between Mr. Mitchell and the district presidents continued until 11:15 p. m. at 11:30 o'clock, five minutes before the national president left for Buffalo, he gave to the press a statement, which was hurriedly prepared, after he returned from Philadelphia Monday night.

He counsels the striking miners to abstain from deeds of violence and says:

"Great care should be exercised that there be no strike do not permit themselves to be provoked by the coal and iron acts into the commission of over acts. The operators, failing to break the strike and deprive you of your well-earned victory, are now attempting to array public sentiment against you by making false claims that a reign of terror exists in the coal fields. The steadfast and true while the struggle for living wages and American conditions of employment is going on, and we have no hesitancy in saying that victory will be achieved in the not distant future. The heart of the nation beats in sympathy with you and all good citizens favor your cause."

Mr. Mitchell calls a mass meeting of all striking miners to meet in each mining town at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in order to demonstrate to the people of the country that the statements of the operators are unfounded, and that the mine workers are law-abiding citizens.
