The Silver City Enterprise says: "R. C. McClure, supervisor of the Gila River Forest Reserve, was notified Wednesday, in a communication from Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, that by act of congress passed in the month of February, 1905, all forest officers have been invested with police powers and might arrest without warrant, for any forest reserve laws or regulations. Supervisor McClure has transmitted the contents of this communication to the forest rangers under his jurisdiction, with instructions that the provisions of the law be carried out. Heretofore the forest officials possessed no such power and could only proceed against trespassers by indictment before a federal grand or complaint before a U. S. Commissioner; now the forest officers are authorized to arrest without warrant and take the offender before the nearest U. S. Commissioner."

Langhorne & Langhorne's steam shovel was moved down into the "narrow" below town Sunday night and began work at once on the land recently purchased from Mrs. Friend. The train being used to fill the ditches is now working night and day. There was considerable talk of injunctions in connection with the work in the narrow, but none was served. The county road is destroyed at that point and the people are going over the hill. It is said the county road will be rebuilt at once and that a side track also will be put in there.

F. C. Kane, familiarly known here as "Jim", paid Louisa a visit a few days ago for the first time in eleven years. Ten years previous to that time he was one of Louisa's most popular young men. He has been located in New York City, since 1896, was married nine years ago and has a little daughter. His brother, Will, who also was in Louisa in the eighties, is now at Marshal, Kansas. They are nephews of W. T. Kane, one of our best informed and most progressive farmers. Jim's old friends were very glad to see him.

A "free" dog show was given on the corner of Main and Main Cross streets Wednesday. It is unnecessary to say that the attendance was good. The manager gave a very clever exhibition of the game of "hold up", thereby adding interest to the program and shakels to his purse.

The request made by the Board of Trade to clean up the streets was promptly heeded by a great many people and our pretty little city is considerably more inviting than it was ten days ago. If everybody would join in this work the results would be very pleasing to the eye.

Committee of the M. E. Church Visits Louisa on Trip of Investigation.

Louisa entertained a very important committee last Tuesday afternoon and evening. It was a special committee composed of the Rev. Amos Boring, D. D., and the Rev. Thos. Hansford, D. D., who were sent out on a tour of inspection by the Board of Education of the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church. The object of the visit here was to investigate the fitness of Louisa as a location for a school of considerable size. Other points under consideration are Ashland and Paintsville. The church already has a small school at Ashland, but since the large Speed fund came into the hands of the conference it is proposed to establish a first-class school at one of the points named.

The gentlemen arrived here from Paintsville at 2:16 p. m., and were met by a reception committee composed of a dozen citizens, headed by the Mayor, Augustus Snyder. Carriages were at the station and the committee at once began the inspection of the available sites, of which there are quite a number. This conference most of the afternoon. Special preparations had been made at Brunswick Hotel for the entertainment of the committee and a very delightful supper was served.

A program had been arranged for the evening at the M. E. Church and by 7:30 o'clock the house was well filled by ladies and gentlemen representing all the various denominations and interests of our city. The meeting was presided over by the Mayor. After a song by the choir, the pastor Rev. Grizzle, led in prayer. Rev. L. M. Copley delivered a very appropriate address of welcome in which he took occasion to name many reasons why Louisa should be selected as the location for this school. Dr. Hansford responded in a very entertaining manner. He was followed by Rev. O. F. Williams, J. A. Abbott, J. W. Herron, M. S. Burns, C. C. Hill, E. C. Sullivan and W. D. O'Neal. Dr. Boring then delivered a brief, but interesting talk, expressing himself as well pleased with Louisa.

All the speakers covered themselves with glory and put forth so many arguments in favor of Louisa that it is difficult to see how any other place is to win over us.

The matter will be settled soon, as the full Board will meet in Louisville next week to hear the report of this committee and decide upon a location.

Dr. Boring said, after hearing the appeals of the local speakers, that it was evident that he and Dr. Hansford would be long remembered if the school be located here; and that if he be located elsewhere they would not be soon forgotten. He also said the speakers had convinced him that the people of Louisa believe steadfastly in three things—God, Education and Louisa.

The decision of the Board is awaited here with deep interest.

Death of a Good Man.

Mr. Martin R. Hays died last Sunday at his home at Adams, this county, of Bright's Disease. He had been a sufferer from this trouble for a long time and it had been realized for a few weeks that the crisis was not far away. Mr. Hays was one of the county's very best citizens. He was thoroughly honest, sober, upright in all his dealings. He enjoyed the respect and confidence of all who knew him. He was an indulgent husband and father, and his death is a heavy blow to his family and also to the community in which his life wielded an influence for good. Mr. Hays was a well-to-do farmer and merchant. Further particulars will be given of his life in these columns later on.

A Louisa Relic.

A very interesting and unique piece of work was brought to Valentine & Newcomb last Wednesday to be framed. It is a piece of silk, thirty-six by forty inches with pictures upon it of several of the noted men of the civil war. It belongs to Mrs. Robt. Burchett, who values it very highly as it was made during the civil war and given to her. The piece owing to its age is very fragile and easily torn. Among those whose portraits are on it are Davis, Lee, Morgan, Johnston, Sibley, Beauregard, Mason, and Jackson. It is now on exhibition in the window of the big store—Huntington Advertiser.

Entertainment.

At Masonic Hall on Friday evening April 21st, will be given a very pleasing entertainment by the children. The main feature will be a cantata and drill. The program will also contain other interesting numbers. The proceeds will go toward paying the balance due on the repair work recently completed on the M. E. Church South. The affair will be well worth attending.

Get The Best.

Painting time is here again and you should let your thoughts turn to United States paint as the best on the market. It is positively the same paint that is sold under the best known brand in the country today, is made by the same people, and comes with it the same guarantee. By using the name "United States Paint" instead of the other we save you fifteen cents per gallon. Snyder Hardware Co.

Lock No. 2 Completed.

The finishing touches have been put on Lock and Dam No. 2 at Kawango and the contractors, E. Brown Baker & Co., have moved their plant and force to No. 1 on Levisa, near Chapman station. The management there will be the same. Daniel McKay will superintend the work and John Rice will look after the office work.

PIKEVILLE (Times).

John McDerby is in the city this morning from Catlettsburg, looking after the letting of the contracts for erecting bridges on Buckley and Tollett creeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Power left Sunday on a trip to Chicago, where Mrs. Power goes to have her eyes treated by a specialist.

Rev. R. B. Neal, of Grayson, is being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Flannery during his stay in Pikeville. He is doing much for the counties of Carter and Rowan, from a moral and educational standpoint.

While the railroad has been longer in reaching Pikeville than it was expected to be, and much longer than a great many think it should have been, the Times is now in a position to say that unless some accident occur the iron horse will be in Pikeville by Saturday of next week. The track is laid to within five miles of our city, and they are laying about three-fourths of a mile a day.

The old blacksmith shop at the corner of Second and Shop streets was torn down last week preparatory to the erection of a large modern business block. The plans show that the new building will be 75x102 feet, three stories high, and will be built of brick and stone. The first and second floors will be occupied by a large department store. The third floor will probably be used by the same firm as a shirt and trousers factory. The building will be heated by hot water, and will be entirely modern.

The Pikeville Brick Co. is having its yards put in shape for work, and will begin making brick in a few days. They will have their yards sheded, and will not then have to shut down on account of rain. The capacity of this plant is over 1,200,000 per month. The services conducted by Rev. R. B. Neal in the Christian Church are being well attended, and will no doubt strengthen that church in this city and county. He expects to spend the greater part of the summer in old Pike, and later in the season will inaugurate a series of meetings to be held in each school district in the county.

Dr. W. A. Campbell and N. J. Auxler will, in a few days, begin the erection of a large brick building on the lot on Grace avenue, adjoining the Pikeville National Bank building. The first floor will be a drug store; the second floor will be fitted up as an office. The building will be entirely modern, and will be heated by hot water. The building will be in keeping with the march of progress that Pikeville is making.
