Home Circle Column.

A Column Dedicated To Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle.

The best thing to give your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to a child, a good example; to a father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men charity.

The young man who says that he cannot succeed in such a country as this, with all its magnificent opportunities, is the poorest kind of a stick. Why, there are men today who, when they see the young man has the right kind of pluck, are willing to advance him money to build up his business and give him a start.

These are the young men, however, who stick, dig and save. What others have done can be performed today by our young men. They are in a great measure the architect of their own fortunes. Upon themselves alone rests the responsibility. They have it in their power to either make or unmake, and every young man should earnestly and seriously ask himself which shall it be.

Every well regulated family ought to be a little theater and concert room to itself. Teach your sons and daughters to sing, read, recite and declaim. After a little discipline they will make the evening the brightest part of the day.

Any business is more respectable than what is termed loafing. A young man had better sell claims by the painful than hang around the public resorts, muddering time and his own reputation.

A BABY'S SOLILOQUY.

One of our good neighbors who claims she can interpret "baby talk," touches for the truthfulness of the following having fallen from the lips of a sweet little blossom of humanity that recently came to a home in our city: "I am here and this is what they call the world. I don't think much of it. It's a very flannelly world, and smells of paregoric awfully. It's a dreadful light world, too, and makes me blink, I tell you. And I don't know what to do with my hands. I think I'll dig my fists in my eyes. No, I won't. I'll scrabble at the corner of my blanket and chew it up, and then I'll holler; whatever happens, I'll holler. And the more paregoric they give me the louder I'll yell. That old nurse puts the spoon in my mouth in a very uneasy way, and keeps tasting my milk herself all the while. She spilled some in it last night, and when I hollered, she trotted me. That comes from being a two day's old baby. Never mind, when I am a man I'll pay her back good. There's a pin sticking in me good now, and if I say a word about it I'll be trotted or fed, and I would rather have catnip tea. I'll tell you who I am. I found out today. I heard folks say 'Hush, don't wake up Jane's baby.' That's me I'm Jane's baby, and I suppose that pretty white-faced woman over there on the pillow is Jane. No, I am mistaken, for a chap was in here just now and wanted to see Charlie's baby, and looked at me, and said that I was a funny little toad, and looked just like Charlie. He smelt of cigars and I am not used to them. I wonder who else I belong to. Yes, there's another one—that's grandma. Jane told me, and then she took me up and held me against her soft cheek, and said: 'It was Grandma's baby, so it was.' I declare I do not know who I belong to; but I'll holler and maybe I'll find out."

GOOD FOR EVERYBODY.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Deibert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled. 50c at A. M. Hughes' drug store, Louisa, Ky.
