As a sample of the extreme and utterly false statements being handed out to the voters by Republican newspapers in this campaign we quote the following paragraph from the Pikeville Herald:

"The Democratic party stands indicted for having tried twice to destroy the good old flag; for the indescribable horrors of Andersonville and Libby prisons, where half a million soldiers died of starvation, their vitals eaten out by vermin, and to whom it have been merciful to have been torn limb from limb."

Let's analyze this statement just to see how big a lie it is. In the first place the Democratic party was not in charge of these prisons. If the Herald will ask any school child it will learn that the war was between the North and South—the Federals and Confederates. Also, incidentally, that there was no Republican party at that time, and that the "good old flag" doesn't belong to the Republican party today, either.

Now, as to the half million soldiers starved to death in those two prisons. A brief calculation shows that if those prisons had been kept packed with soldiers from 1861 to the present day, a period of 50 years, hauling the dead ones out and replacing them with live ones as fast as the deaths occurred, the half-million mark would not yet have been reached. This is allowing 40 days for each man to live, and giving the vermin no time to do the horrible work described. Dr. Tanner fasted forty days and lived more than twenty years afterward. If we allow 50 days for starvation, the two prisons will not have completed that half-million job for 20 years yet. Evidently, the Herald doesn't yet know the war is over.

When the Republicans say complimentary things about the school laws of Kentucky and the high salaries paid to teachers they are complimenting the Democratic party, because every law that makes this condition was passed by a Democratic Legislature. The Republican officials not only have no part in the honor, but they have not given the teachers as good treatment as they are entitled to under these laws. The money due them last February was not paid until June, notwithstanding the fact that the school money is a fund set apart solely and sacredly for this purpose. It is a violation of the law to use the school fund for other purposes. Yet they used the money to pay salaries of State officers and compelled the teachers to wait until June. Also, the Republican administration has failed to pay the teachers promptly oftener than it has paid them on the days fixed by law. The checks do not reach the Superintendents on time very often, except just before a State election. Under Democratic administrations the teachers are always paid on time.

O'Rear is drawing his large salary as Judge of the Court of Appeals and giving the State absolutely nothing in return. He has not done a day's work for the State since the adjournment of the spring term of the Appellate Court. Does that look like he would make an unselfish, non-grafting Governor? Talk about sincerity and purity and patriotism! If that isn't enough to brand him as possessing neither we should like to know how much proof any voter would ask. It's a job with a good salary that O'Rear is after—nothing else. He already has such a job and he is selfish and grasping enough to hold onto it till he is sure he has a better one, or knows he has lost out in the attempt. Is he afraid he can't make a living if he gives up the Appellate Court salary and falls to win for Governor? It would be cheaper for the people of Kentucky to support him by passing the hat than by giving him the salary and opportunities of the Governor's office.

The Mt. Sterling Advocate says: "Judge O'Rear, the announced foe of corruption and graft, the apostle of purity and the sponsor for honesty, especially in officials, admits he has not rendered any service as a Judge of the Court of Appeals since about March 1st, last, and will not do so until after the election, a period of more than eight months, yet he continues to receive his monthly salary checks, drawn on the State Treasury, in the face of a plain law to the contrary, with which he, as a capable lawyer is familiar."

Governor McCreary is closing the most remarkable campaign in his long public career. He has not given his Republican opponent a moment's rest, but has mercilessly arraigned him and his party until they have been on the defensive from the very beginning. Governor McCreary will end his contest in full mental and bodily vigor, and will give the State such a progressive administration that the Democracy will not be out of power again in twenty years.

Dr. J. H. Wade, candidate for the Legislature, is as fine a gentleman as you can find anywhere—sober, discreet, honest, and he can be depended upon to do the right thing at all times and upon all questions. He did not seek the nomination. It sought him and he reluctantly consented to make the race.

If there is a vacancy in the United States Senate, the Governor will fill it. Do you want a friend of the people to be chosen, or a servant to the trusts? A vote for O'Rear means a vote for a high tariff, and for the re-election of Taft.

Urey Woodson, of the Owensboro Messenger, yesterday wired Chairman Langley, of the Republican State Campaign Committee, challenging him to get J. W. McCulloch, wealthy distiller, to join with him in a denial that Mr. McCulloch had made a contribution to the Republican campaign fund.

"The Insurgents say, 'Steal by the protective tariff, but do it moderately,' the Stand-patters say, 'take it all.' Democracy raises the commandment which came from Sinai, 'Thou shalt not steal.'"
—Ollie James.

Up at Pikeville the O'Rear-Langley show graphophone was out of commission, made useless, so the manager explained "by the kick of a Democratic mule." Never again tell us that a mule has no sense.

Are you for Ollie James, the big, brilliant, popular statesman who is attracting national attention? Then vote for Dr. J. H. Wade for the Legislature. Remember, it is the Legislature that elects United States Senators.

Argus of the Louisville Herald says the election for Governor will be very close. Against this "dope" we put our prediction that the Democratic majority in the first four Congressional districts will be McCreary's majority in the State.

A vote under the rooster is a vote for Henry Bosworth, the friend of the mountain people, and their nominee. It was the heavy vote of this section that gave him the nomination for Auditor.

The administration at Frankfort has not yet paid the Jurymen who served at the January term, 1910, of the Lawrence Circuit Court. The man who bought the claim still holds it.

"The Democratic hosts, in this battle, will not lose their Democratic standards, but they will follow the stainless crest of McCreary to victory." McDermott.

W. W. Newsome, at this office

Judge O'Rear spoke to the voters in the heart of the Cumberland Mountains yesterday. He pleaded with them to elect him so that he could redistrict the State.

Judge O'Rear has a habit of playing upon the credulity of his audiences, and he followed the habit in trying, successfully in a degree, to make the Cumberland mountain people believe that he, alone, could redistrict Kentucky. It is easy to imagine what a "good" redistricting bill O'Rear would make if he had the power. And he openly avows that if—Ah, woeful "if"!—if he is elected he will hold the legislature in continuous session until "it" passes one. But the Judge hardly knows where he's at.

Some people want to know about Mr. McCreary's personal life. We can say upon the assurance of those who have lived in his town that he is a high class Christian gentleman, an official in his church, a clean, upright man. He has withstood the temptations of high public positions. He never takes a drink of liquor, which is more than a lot of fellows can say who are running on prohibition platforms.

Judge O'Rear is nothing more nor less than a professional politician. In his own party he is rated as one of their shrewdest politicians—which is not altogether complimentary. The chief business of the professional politician is to fool the people, deal with both sides of almost every proposition, and to get votes in any way possible.

THE BUYING POWER OF $1.75.

A little money sometimes buys a good deal. For instance, take the subscription price of The Youth's Companion for a year $1.75. If all the good reading in the good reading in the 52 weekly issues of the paper were published in book form, according to its kind, it would make about thirty volumes of fiction, science, essays by famous writers, household management and economics, sports and pastimes for boys, natural history, anecdotes, humor, etc. The serial stories alone would fill several volumes. Among these is Ralph Paine's great story of the Boxer Rebellion in China, "The Cross and the Dragon." Another is by J. W. Schultz, who was adopted by the Blackfeet when a boy. It is called "The Quest for the Fish-Dog Skin." Another is a glorious girls' story by C. A. Stephens, called "Julia Sylvester." It is the story of a "Mercer" girl in the pioneer days of Oregon and Washington—and that is only part of the serials.

It will cost you nothing to send for the beautiful Announcement of The Companion for 1912, and we will send with it sample copies of the paper.

Do not forget that the new subscriber for 1912 receives a gift of The Companion's Calendar for 1912, lithographed in ten colors and gold, and all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1911 free from the time the subscription is received.

Only 1.75 now, but on January 1, 1912, the price will be advanced to $2.00. Address THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, 144 Berkeley St. Boston, Mass.
