HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

Success Only Through Toil.

Our young readers of this column—especially the young men—should remember that success is found most often in the path of toil. There is no way to genuine success except through toil—either by head or hand. At the battle of Crecy in 1346, the Prince of Wales, finding himself heavily pressed by the enemy, sent word to his father for help. The father watching the battle from a windmill, and seeing his son was not wounded and could gain the day if he would, sent word: "No I will not come. Let the boy win his spurs, for, if God wills I desire this day to be his with all its honors." Young man, fight your own battles all through and you will have the victory. Oh, it is a battle worth fighting. Two monarchs of old fought a duel, Charles V. and Francis, and stakes were kingdoms, Milan and Burgundy. You fight with sin and the stake is heaven or hell.

Do not get the false idea that you are a genius, and that therefore is no need of close application. It is here that multitudes fail. The curse of the age is the genius; men with enormous self-confidence and egotism, and nothing else. We had rather be an ox than an eagle; plain and plod, dim and useful, rather than high flying and good for nothing but to pick out the eyes of carcasses. Extraordinary capacity without work is extraordinary failure. There is no hope to the person who begins life resolved to live by his wits for the probability is that he has not any. It was not safe for Adam, even in his fallen state, to have nothing to do, and therefore God commanded him to be a farmer and horticulturist. He was to dress the garden and keep it, and had he and his wife obeyed the divine injunction and been at work, they would not have been suntering under the trees and hankering after the fruit that destroyed them and their posterity; a proof positive for all ages to come that those who do not attend to their business are sure to get into mischief.

Valentines are provided for all. Like the rain, they may descend upon the just and upon the unjust.

Many growing girls in school or business are frail—delicate—anaemic—lack energy and ambition and have thin blood. It is all unnatural and unless checked leads to serious and chronic ills.

Nourishment, not drugs, is the law of reason to build strength—but when appetite is poor and digestion weak, ordinary foods do not nourish—then SCOTT'S EMULSION is necessary.

SCOTT'S EMULSION overcomes just such conditions; its finest material enters the blood without digestive effort and makes it rich. It tones the whole system and starts the healthy action of cells throughout the body.

Intestions are often affected, but to get results you must get SCOTT'S.

The fourteenth of February is a day sacred to St. Valentine. It was a very odd notion, alluded to by Shakespeare, that on this day birds begin to couple; hence perhaps arose the custom of sending on this date letters containing confessions of love and affection.

The boys and girls look at the older people and see what they do. They watch the words of the father and mothers and the friends and take their cue quickly. Even the little ones are ever watchful to see just how closely father and mother adhere to the truth.

Your body is your best friend while you inhabit it, therefore take the best possible care of it. Only a simpleton is ashamed of bestowing care on it—of keeping teeth, hands, feet, hair, and skin in the best possible condition. It takes but little while, when the day's toil is over to sit down before a mirror and bathe in warm water, neck, face, and hands, drying them with a soft towel and rubbing every part thoroughly including teeth and nails. A touch of sweet cream rubbed on where needed is very good. One feels so refreshed and respectable after the operation that the habit, when formed, is hard to give over when circumstances do not admit of it.

Perhaps you have heard the legend of St. Valentine, but if you have not, here it is in as small a nutshell as such a saint could be well condensed: St. Valentine lived 300 years ago. An emperor ruled him, and the emperor whose name was Claudius, became very jealous of St. Valentine of Fr. Valentine, as he was then called. One day Claudius cut Friar Valentine's head off and banished his remains, so that no body should know that he had been beheaded.

"Now why did Claudius do this?" you ask. Well, he did this because Fr. Valentine was such a great favorite with the young people that Claudius was not in their affection at all.

A Word In Season. If you would have your boys pure, make comrades of them and then live as you would wish them to live. There are few things more fruitful than example, either good or bad. What do you know of the associates of your boys? With what sort of companions is the most of their language interlarded with profanity; with one whose thoughts, words and deeds are immoral? Are you sure your boy is free from these defects? We trust that every parent who sees this article will take time to carefully think about the matter, and consider whether he or she has been doing his or her own duty. There is little danger of being too careful, (we no not say strict,) the great danger lies in being too careless. Keep your boys home as much as possible and do make it possible to do so at night at least. Do your utmost to provide suitable employment and amusement for them at home, and assist them in their choice of friends and companions. Exercise care in the matter, and it can be done without making your boy suspicious of you, or without irritating him, but it will instead, delight him to see the interest you have displayed.

ARE YOU CONSTIPATED? If so, get a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills, take them regularly and your trouble will quickly disappear. They will stimulate the liver, improve your digestion and get rid of all the poisons from your system. They will surely get you well again. 25c at Louisa Drug Co.

Pendergrass, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles. Now, I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did." Take Cardui when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardui is a strength-building tonic medicine for women. It has been found to relieve pain and distress caused by womanly troubles, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times.

Cardui acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs.

Its half century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands. Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardui. He will recommend it.
