The Question Of Economy

is a mighty important one with almost all serious minded and thoughtful people. But in the case of the mother with growing boys to clothe and educate, it strikes home with particular force.

That mother who attempts to fight the increased cost of living and practice economy by getting cheaper grades of boys' clothes, is making a mistake. That isn't economy at all; it's extravagance.

There is nothing you have to buy that will prove so expensive in the end as inferior boys' clothing.

On the other hand, there is no way to better practice true economy that to pay a fair price and get reliable, durable, guaranteed Northcott-Tate-Hagy Co. Clothes for your boy.

Boys' Clothes made to sell at a lower price than we sell them cannot be made to give long service. They will fall down in tailoring, in fabrics and in style after very little wear.

Northcott-Tate-Hagy Co. Boys' Clothes for as little as $3.50 and up to $18.00.

We prepay Parcel Post on Mail Orders.

TERRORIZES JENKINS, KILLED BY OFFICER.

Last Sunday afternoon at five o'clock police officer N. B. Ash, at Jenkins, shot and killed W. K. Gullett, a carpenter at that place, while trying to place him under arrest.

Gullett had been drinking heavily all day, according to the reports and late in the afternoon he became violent. Drawing his revolver, he began to fire at the houses, and drove everybody in doors, threatening death to anyone who should step into the street. Police headquarters were notified, and officer Ash was sent out to place the terrorizer under arrest. Ash went up one street looking for him and Police Judge Collins went up another. Ash encountered him on his way out and demanded him to lay down his weapon. This Gullett stoutly refused to do, and turned to walk off. When he had gone twenty paces he turned and fired several shots at Ash. Seeing that something must be quickly done, Ash, whose head was grazed by one of the bullets from Gullett's revolver, fired three shots at the retreating man, all of which took effect; two in the right arm, and one in the abdomen. Gullett was quickly removed to the local hospital, and died there one hour and a half afterwards.

Ash gave himself up to the authorities, and was taken to Whitesburg.

IMPORTANT DEAL ON LARGE TIMBER TRACT.

Last Friday the W. H. Dawkins Lumber Co., sold to Sam Nye its large timber holdings on Big creek, in this county, known as the Big Creek Timber Contract. Mr. Nye will begin at once on the task of placing this immense stock of timber on the market, which will require from 3 to 5 years to complete.

This valuable conveyance cost the vendors in the neighborhood of $50,000, and was sold to Nye for about $60,000.

JASPER SAAD BUYS GROCERY STORE.

Jasper and Sam Saad last week mutually conveyed interests in the merchandising business in this city. Formerly these two gentlemen comprised a company, and they jointly owned the Saad Grocery Co., and the Saad Clothing Co. By this transaction Mr. Jasper Saad becomes sole owner of the grocery store, and Sam becomes sole owner of the clothing store. Both of these establishments are doing a large volume of business.

HALLS INDICTED ALSO IN PIKE.

As a supplementary action on the part of the prosecution in the case now pending before the U. S. Court at Catlettsburg against David Hall, white, and Tom Riddle, colored, Deputy Marshal J. Mart Potter entered two indictments against these men before the Pike Circuit Court last Saturday morning.

The defendants in this case, through their attorney, have secured the re-survey of the state line between Kentucky and Virginia in their effort to establish the possibility that Potter and his men were out of their jurisdiction of territory when deputies Stone and Ramey were killed in the Cumberland mountains on May 4.

VIOLINIST LOCATES HERE.

W. E. Irwin, a talented young violinist of the State of Iowa, who has been playing at the Royal theater here, has become so strongly impressed with our city that he has decided to locate in Pikeville for the practice of his profession. Mr. Irwin has had wide experience in both solo and orchestra work, and will teach his favorite instrument to Pikeville students. He has already played, with piano accompaniment, several selections for the musicaly appreciative in this city, and his renderings of several of the classical numbers have been very beautiful.

It is his intention to begin with a class here at once.

PIKEVILLE FIREMAN HURT.

James G. Perry, a C. & O. fireman of this city, was badly injured last Tuesday night on board a freight at Auxler, Ky., six miles below Prestonsburg.

His train was passing the Auxler station under a slow head, and he was looking out for a clear block, when a brake rod from a car on another track came by and struck him on the back of the head. He was knocked insensible and fell from the engine and but for the timely intervention of two other young men, his unconscious struggles would have precipitated him under the train, where he would have doubtless been cut to pieces.

Upon examination a very dangerous wound was found upon the posterior part of the head, near the top, and this was sewed up before he regained consciousness.

He is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Peery, here and will remain here until he completely recovers.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE IN SEPTEMBER.

Superintendent M. F. Campbell announces that, according to present calculations, the Pike-co. Teachers' Institute will be held in this city beginning on Monday, Sept. 8. As yet, the instructors for this years session has not been chosen.

WESLEY MAYNARD DIES OF PARALYSIS.

Last Monday morning Wesley Maynard was partially paralyzed, and on Tuesday afternoon he died from the effects of the stroke.

For years Mr. Maynard was a citizen of Pikeville, and kept a grocery store where the Jas. Scott grocery now stands at corner Second-st. and Pike-av. A short while ago he moved across the river to a modest home and has lived there by himself since. A few months ago he also established a small grocery store in that neighborhood. It was his custom to open early on mornings, but on this particular occasion the neighbors noticed that he was not so prompt as usual. Two elderly women went to his home, where he was living alone, and found him helpless upon the floor. Evidently he had undergone great bodily suffering before the attack, as nearly all his clothes were torn from his body. Medical assistance was summoned, but of no avail, as his advanced age was a great barrier to his recovery, and at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon he died. The remains were laid to rest near his home.

Mr. Maynard leaves two children. Mrs. John Sword, of Second-st. this city, and Ira Maynard, of Asheville, N. C. Apprised of the illness of his father, the young man arrived here only in time for the funeral Tuesday night.

FAREWELL RECEPTION GIVEN MCCLELLANDS.

In view of the approaching departure of Rev. M. D. McClelland and his family for their new home at Jenkins, the membership of the Presbyterian church, of which he has been pastor during the past eight years, gave a reception to the friends of Dr. and Mrs. McClelland at the church building Tuesday evening in their honor, which was largely attended by a number of people. The assembly was addressed upon the subject of the occasion by Dr. J. P. Whitehead, president of the college. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, and all the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

Dr. and Mrs. McClelland and their boys have endeared themselves to the hearts of Pikeville people during their eight years sojourn among us, and to undertake to enumerate their admirers would be to include the whole city. Not alone among the social elite of Pikeville has Dr. McClelland acquired friends and friendly feelings, but among our most staid and conservative business men he has made a place for himself that always commands a respectful hearing. Mrs. McClelland, during these eight years the most perfect lady of our city, has won a true woman's place in the hearts of every woman in Pikeville. Her quiet, gentle, unobtrusive manners have often been the subjects of emulation and endearing thoughts among the ladies of our city, and her ministrations to those who have been either in spiritual or bodily distress have won for her among the lowly a gratitude that will bless the years of her life.

Pikeville most reluctantly gives up two of her best citizens, and our sister city of Jenkins may well point with pride to their new acquisitions. We hope they will be well received, as befits them, and that their work in Letcher county will be attended with as great a measure of success as it has been at Pikeville.

J. B. POLLEY'S FARM HOUSE BURNED.

The farm house on the farm of J. B. Polley at Coal Run was burned to the ground at noon last Tuesday and nothing was saved of the valuable furnishings which it contained. The origin of the fire is not definitely known, though it most probably took fire from the cook stove through a defective flue.

The loss entailed was about $2000 which was partly covered by insurance. Mr. Polley will rebuild the house at once.

LOCAL CLINIC STUDIES PELLAGRA.

The Pike County Medical Association met in regular session at the office of Dr. Z. A. Thompson last Monday night for the serious purpose of studying the encroachment of the dread disease, Pellagra, into our county. Dr. Jas. W. Kincaid, of Catlettsburg, counsellor for the Kentucky State Medical Society in the 9th district, delivered a very comprehensive address before the clinic, during the course of which he said:

"Pellagra is a disease prevalent in Italy, Spain, and other southern localities of Europe bordering on the Mediterranean sea. It has been under the constant but helpless watch of surgeons there for centuries; but on this day the real nature of the disease, or its cure, are not understood. The disease has been recognized in the United States only within the past eight years, and quite recently in Kentucky. This disease almost invariably terminates in insanity and quite recently a case supposed to be simple insanity was sent to one of the State asylums from Pike-co., that on examination proved to be a virulent case of pellagra. There are possibly other cases of it in Pike-co., at this time.

The meaning of this warning is of vital importance to our people, and Dr. Kincaid is as well informed on what he speaks as any man in Kentucky. Pike county thus faces a grave danger that must be guarded against.

PLANNING FOR THE FOURTH.

A party of patriotic citizens met here Wednesday night to discuss plans for a 4th of July celebration. This was only a preliminary meeting, and little could be done toward the completion of a program, but at an early date a definite plan will be formulated. Let's make it as grand a blowout as we can.

SOCIETY.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Englar, of Jenkins, have been the guests of friends here during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Johnson are the guests of Mr. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Johnson, at Marrowbone, this week.

Mrs. M. M. Bentley returned to Pikeville Monday last after having spent Sunday with her daughters, Mrs. Geo. W. Belcher, at Belcher Sliding.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Whitman, of Holden, W. Va., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lane Whitman, on College-st. this week.

Attorney and Mrs. P. B. Stratton, of this city, spent Sunday at the home of Dr. W. J. Walters, on Chloe creek.

Miss Virgie McCombs, of Homin, Okla., is the guest of her aunt in this city, Mrs. J. W. Vicars.

Mrs. Morell Morris spent the week as the guest of Mr. Morris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Morris, on John's creek.

A fire in the dining room of the Big Sandy hotel last Tuesday caused about $200 worth of damage.

T. J. Williamson has been serving on a federal jury at Catlettsburg this week.

Attorneys Stratton and Stepheno have been attending court at Catlettsburg for several days during the past week.

R. D. Wilson, one of Vanceburg, Ky.'s business men, was here Monday of this week.

Clay B. Elkins, of Winchester, was here Tuesday.

Judge Allie W. Young, of Morehead, who was appointed by Gov. McCreary to try the contest case now pending before the circuit court here between John F. Butler and J. M. Robertson will arrive here June 23, and the case will be called on the 24th.

C. O. Scott and John W. Ramey, of Paint, were both here on business Wednesday.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The case against Mrs. Maud Taylor for the killing of Cleveland Huff man, on motion before the Circuit Court last Friday, was again continued until the next term of court which will be held in September.

Deputy Sheriff Ben Thornsbury, who was knocked in the head by thugs at Catlettsburg last Thursday night, returned to this city by the evening train last Friday.

Little Miss Pearl Taylor, of Elkhorn City, returned home, through this city, last Saturday after several days spent as the guest of friends in Wayne-co., W. Va.

Edgar Stevens, an employe of one of the coal companies here, has been transferred to Ashland.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

The County Judge will receive bids at his office, Louisa, Ky., till noon June 14, 1913, for the erection of an iron bridge across Catt creek near its mouth. Bridge to consist of two spans of riveted trusses of 85 ft. and 41 ft. spans and one I beam span of 23.4 ft. Also two concrete piers to be built. Bids will be received for the concrete and foundation work separately from the bridge, also as a whole. Contractor must satisfy himself as to rock foundation, as if rock is not found at the required depth piling will be required. The approximate cost of this bridge is $1672.50. Complete plans specifications are on file at the office of the County Engineer. The county reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
