FOUR GRADUATE.

The graduating class at Pikeville College this year consisted of the following four students: Miss June Corbin, Edward Elliott, Charles Bowles and Winston Connolly. The graduation exercises were held at the Presbyterian Church last Thursday afternoon, and a large gathering heard the addresses delivered upon various subjects by the quartette. A handsome gold watch was presented to Mr. Elliott as a memento of the appreciation of the college for his perfect attendance and diligent efforts in his studies. The watch was the gift of Dr. Condit, of Ashland, in behalf of the college. Dr. John Barbour, of Maysville, also addressed the gathering, and special music, both vocal and instrumental, was an important feature of the program.

NEW ALUMNI OFFICERS.

The Alumni Association of Pikeville College met at the Derriana last Thursday evening for the purpose of electing new officers for the ensuing year, and the following were elected: Miss Georgia Dilla, President; Frank Connally, Vice President; John Hatcher, Jr., Secy-Treas.; Raymond Greer, Corresponding Secretary. After the close of the business program a grand banquet was served in the beautifully decorated dining room at the Derriana, accompanied by many appropriate speeches and toasts. The organization is now 20 years old, and Mrs. C. C. Bowles, of College street, is the senior member.

WEDDING AT WISE, VA.

A wedding of prominence and popularity is to be solemnized at the First Baptist Church in the little town of Wise, Wise county, Va., next Wednesday evening. This will be the union of Miss Lelia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mack Vickers, and niece of Dr. J. W. Vickers, of Pikeville, to Prof. Rush Monroe Deskins, prominent Pike county educator, and for a long while teacher in the Pikeville public school. A large number of invitations have been received by Pikeville people and many of these are preparing to attend. Both the young people are well and popularly known here, and they have many Kentucky friends who wish them happiness.

CROPS INJURED.

On account of the present prolonged drouth, crop conditions in Pike county are not very encouraging, and farmers complain that much of their crops is completely ruined from want of moisture. A heavy rainfall now would not retrieve half the loss in maturing the crops. Berries have suffered most from the drouth, and this item will be especially short.

BUILDERS ARE BUSY.

The usual summer building boom has struck Pikeville, and the full time of every building agency in the city is occupied. Such a period of constructive activity has never been known here as is predicted for this season by men who know, and the buildings that are to go up before cold weather will not be of the temporary sort, but permanent fixtures of the city of Pikeville.

Contractor W. T. Currutt has finished laying the foundation for the new hotel which Tom Williamson is building at corner Theater street and Pike avenue. This is to be a three-story brick, and a modern hotel in every respect. Mr. Currutt is now engaged in laying the foundations for the new Pike county jail and jailer's residence, next to the courthouse.

Contractors Mumaw & Ross began last Monday morning to lay the concrete foundation for G. W. Greer's new three-story brick warehouse on Auxier avenue, near the public school.

As soon as detailed arrangements can be made, two new and thoroughly modern school buildings will go up, one in West Pikeville, which will be for the county high school, and the other on the Robt. Walker lot on Fourth street for the city's graded school.

Besides these buildings, others are also under consideration, and before the close of June other building contracts will be closed and work started, and the contractors hope to push the entire work as fast as building material can be obtained.

The most difficult problem at this time is in securing labor. Labor is scarce, although wages are good.

MAYOR RESIGNED; SUCCESSOR CHOSEN.

Mayor Durand T. Keel tendered his resignation from office to the city council of Pikeville last Monday evening. A special session of the council was convened by Linton Trivette, Mayor pro tempore, for the purpose of electing a successor. P. B. Stratton, a member of the body, was nominated for the place, and Dr. Ira Williams was also named. Stratton, being a nominee, was barred from voting, leaving five members to choose between the two men. After a heated session Williams carried by a majority of one vote. He is now the acting Mayor of Pikeville, but his opponents claim that his election was irregular, and may carry the question before the courts.

VERDICT OF MANSLAUGHTER.

The jury in the case against William (alias "Big Windy") Coleman, charged with the killing of Monroe Hackney last April, returned a verdict of manslaughter last Monday, and Coleman will be sentenced to the penitentiary for two to three years. It was said Hackney had Coleman upon the ground and was beating him in the head with a hatchet when his slayer shot him.

LAW REQUIRES BOND FOR MOTOR VEHICLES.

Council at its Monday evening session enacted some very rigid measures for the regulation of traffic on the streets of Pikeville. The enactment provides that all owners of automobiles, motorcycles and other motor-driven vehicles shall, in addition to paying the license fee of $50, give a bond before the city clerk of the amount of $2,000, which is intended as a guarantee in damage to anyone who may be injured by the carelessness or negligence of those operating such vehicles. A license fee of one dollar per year was set upon bicycles, and it was further provided in the enactment that all motor-driven vehicles are to be bannished from Main and Second streets during Saturdays, and no license will admit them to the use of these thoroughfares on that day of each week. Through an emergency clause the act immediately became effective, and it is said a test case will be tried and appealed to test the validity of the act.

CAMPBELL WINS AGAINST MR. POTTER.

A lengthy discussion of the merits of the contest case between M. F. Campbell, republican nominee for County Superintendent of Schools, and George W. Potter, the democratic nominee, came to a close at Frankfort last Tuesday, with the result that Campbell was adjudged by the Appellate Court to be the legally elected incumbent of the office. The case was a bitterly fought legal battle from start to finish both in the Pike Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals, stretching over many months, and consuming a large amount of money. Steele and Reynolds, J. J. Moore and J. S. Cline were attorneys for Campbell.

IMP THEATER REOPENED.

The Imp theater, which has been temporarily closed under orders of the Federal Court at Catlettsburg, was reopened by Saad Bros., under the management of J. L. Saad Tuesday evening. During the time the theater was closed the company occupied the Royal theater building, of which Mr. Saad also holds a rental contract. A large audience attended the opening, and it had the welcome appearance of old times again.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

A large number of Pikeville people went to Huntington last week at different times to hear the sermons of Rev. W. A. Sunday. Among others were Mrs. J. F. Butler, Attorney Roscoe Vanover and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, and Miss Mary Auxier. Most of the visitors to Huntington rode the special last Thursday.

Grover Marrs, of Winchester, Ky., formerly a citizen of Pikeville, is here spending the week as the guest of friends.

Francis D. McClelland, manager of the Y. M. C. A. printing department at Jenkins, was here for a few days last week as the guest of friends, also to attend the graduation exercises at Pikeville College and the installation of officers of the college alumni last Thursday. He returned home to Jenkins Friday.

J. R. Johnson, who after recovering from a severe attack of fever had been undergoing treatment at a Louisville hospital during the past month, returned home to Pikeville last Friday night. He is now much better, and will recover.

The annual Sunday School convention of the Church of Christ of Eastern Kentucky was held at Pikeville last Thursday and Friday, and a large number of delegates from all over the section were present. Among them were Rev. Harry Stansifer, pastor of the Ashland Church, Rev. Dan Stone, Sunday School evangelist of Grayson, many others.

Mrs. O. P. Chatfield and daughter, Miss Grace, spent a few days in Ashland and Ironton last week as the guest of friends.

John A. Sowards, who for several months past has been a student of the K. M. I at Linden, Ky., near Louisville, returned home to Pikeville last week to spend a summer vacation.

E. J. Brandt, of Jenkins, was here one day last week.

Owing to a shortage of the timber supply, the Sandy Valley Spoke Co. was compelled to close the doors of its factory in South Pikeville. The factory will resume again, however, in about three weeks, or as soon as agents now in the county can recruit the timber supply.

Ned Branham, tombstone man of Louisa, was here looking after business for several days recently.

A call meeting of Masons was held Wednesday evening in the Thos. C. Cecil Lodge F. & A. M., No. 133, at which the High Priest of the order was present to confer degrees. After the work a banquet was served.

The brick work has been started on the new three-story hotel which Tom Williamson is building on Second-st. The foundation for a three-story brick warehouse on Auxier avenue was begun by contractors Mumaw & Ross last Monday morning. This building is intended as an auxiliary to the Greer botanical drug plant.

Miss Edna Grace May, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. W. H. May, of Prestonsburg, has been a guest at the home of Judge and Mrs. J. F. Butler for a few days this week.

W. T. Goff, merchant, James Reynolds, Chas. Daviss, G. W. Hatfield and C. M. Whitt, all of Williamson, W. Va., have been here during the past week.

Ex-County Judge John W. Ford, of Millard, Ky., was here Monday. James Garnett, of Hindman, Ky., passed through Pikeville Tuesday en route to Prestonsburg to visit friends. Ken West, of Williamson, is the guest of his brother, A. H. West, on College street, this week.

Richard Ratcliff, of Shelbyana, one of Pike county's wealthy land owners, has been here for a few days as the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Morell Morris.

Paulus Thompson, a negro who forfeited a circuit court bond by escaping into West Virginia and later into Ohio, was captured by the police at Portsmouth last Monday and returned to Pikeville. T. M. Peery was one of the sureties on the bond.

J. T. Bailey, of Paintsville, was a business caller to Pikeville Wednesday.

Mr. James Renfro went fishing on Wednesday.

LETCHER COUNTY AND WHITESBURG. What is Happening in this Rich Coal Territory of Kentucky.

Whitesburg, Ky., June 3.—Another big party of officials, coal operators, wholesale men and others have just made a tour of the coal fields through the Jenkins-McRoberts-Fleming district in this county, arriving on a special train on the Lexington & Eastern railroad. The big party left Lexington Friday night at 10 o'clock, and arrived at McRoberts, the terminus of the road Saturday morning at 7. From McRoberts the party went across to Jenkins five miles, on horseback and on buck wagons, and during the day Saturday they inspected the big plant of The Consolidation Coal Co. in Jenkins, Dunham, Burdine and were deeply impressed with the rapid development of the territory around Jenkins: the vast outlay of the millions expended in the work. From Jenkins the party came through Potter Gap and so on by Haymond, one of the new industrial cities of The Elk Horn Coal Corporation, where they made a general inspection. From Haymond they came over to Fleming, another of the corporation's cities, established less than ten months ago, and which has made a phenomenal growth, where they remained overnight Saturday. Sunday morning they resumed their inspection work and looked over Hemphill, the new city on Potters Fork, where they were again most deeply impressed. Returning to Fleming they boarded their special train at 11:30 Sunday morning for their return.

In the party were F. R. Lyon, manager of The Consolidation Coal Co.; George C. Watson, Vice President of The Consolidation, others of the company, George W. Fleming, Baltimore, Vice President of The Elk Horn Mining Corporation; Van Lear Black, the big Baltimore banker; Ex-Senator J. N. Camden, Versailles; F. R. Downing, Georgetown; Ex-Mayor John Skain, Lexington; Ex-Senator Combs, Lexington; J. D. Tunis, Lexington; Mr. Beach, of the U. S. Fidelity Co., Louisville; and many others, all equally as well known in the business and industrial world.

At every station along the L. & E. the party was given a great ovation, large crowds greeting them at all points along the line. That the coal fields of this county are attracting great attention throughout the country is plainly evidenced.

Whitesburg, Ky., June 3.—Hon. Jo M. Kendall, of the State Road Department of Frankfort, spoke in Whitesburg Monday to a large delegation of representative citizens of the county, and great interest was manifested throughout. A Good Roads Club was organized and County Judge Henry T. Day was selected as President, I. N. Lewis, Road Engineer, James P. Lewis and Madison A. Dunlap, Vice Presidents, and Lewis E. Harvie, of Jenkins, as Secretary. After the speaking every person in the crowd came forward and signed a good roads club blank wherein they obligated themselves to do everything in their power to foster the early building of good roads throughout every section of Letcher county. In introducing Mr. Kendall Attorney H. M. Denton made an enthusiastic speech and was listened to with unusual interest. The people of the county are determined to have good roads at all hazards and it is more than likely that they will get them.

Isaac Adams, aged about 50, one of the best loved men of the Coal Creek section of this county, died early Monday morning after a long illness of what physicians pronounced pellagra—the first case of the disease ever known in the county. He leaves a wife and several children.

A man named Beech, a brakeman on a Lexington & Eastern freight train, was killed on the Bottom Branch spur of the L. & E. late Sunday evening. In some way Beech was thrown off the train, which passed over his body cutting it to pieces. He is said to have had a family down in the state. He had been an employe of the railroad company for some time.

A big party of Jenkins notables, including the following: E. J. A. Drennen, the venerable father of E. A. Drennen, manager of The Consolidation Coal Co.; H. L. Seaman, M. H. Forester, forester of the company; Louis E. Harvie, attorney; Misses Georgia Brown, Marguerite Brennen, Mrs. W. H. Robinson, Mrs. L. B. Abbott, with Mary E. Hager and Paulina Putnam, of Ashland, and Miss Hannah K. Newburn, of Pittsburgh, were here Monday. They were impressed with Whitesburg.

Perhaps one of the most remarkable and long-lived old women in the State today is "Aunt" Christie Stallard, residing near Hilliard, Letcher county, who a few days ago celebrated her 108th birthday, in which many of her descendants took part. The guests, too, enjoyed a fine dinner prepared by the old woman's own hands, in her old-fashioned way, on an old-fashioned fireplace. "Aunt" Christie is still remarkably well preserved for a woman of her age and bids fair to live many years longer. She is a widow, living alone near the home of her oldest son, now more than 80 years old. "Aunt" Christie manages to tend a small garden each year and makes her own support. On the occasion of her 101st birthday "Aunt" Christie sat for her first photograph.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh of the Eustachian Tube, which is not a permanent condition, but can be cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A. C. Campbell, of Bluefield, W. Va., interested in the great coal development work of Eastern Kentucky, has been in Letcher county for several days. It is likely that he will invest here and make some coal developments.

N. M. Webb, editor of The Mountain Eagle here, has received his bond as postmaster. Same was executed Monday and returned. Within eight or ten days he will enter upon his new duties.

A. K. Mann, J. F. Bronson, A. K. Morrison, and others of Big Stone Gap, Va., representing The Mineral Development Co., have been in the country above here it is said making arrangements for the beginning of a big development work.

Ex-Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, candidate for U. S. Senator, will address Letcher county voters Thursday. The speaking has been widely advertised and a large crowd will be out from different sections of the county.

Carpenter Robert B. Franklin left Tuesday for a trip down the state. He will visit Lexington and Winchester before he returns.

James W. Fox, Big Stone Gap, Va., was a business visitor here last week. Albert Ashman, of Nashville, Tenn., was here on business Saturday.

The Letcher County Board of Education in its meeting Saturday made arrangements for the building of five new school houses in the county, the construction to start immediately.

Mr. McWharter, of Ashland, representing the Peter & Volz Co., desk manufacturers, was before the Board of Education Saturday.

J. G. B. Adams returned from Louisville Friday and was in Whitesburg Monday shaking hands with his many friends.

Noah Ross, of Winchester, was a business visitor up the L. & E. the first of the week.

W. G. McFarland, of Glasgow, Ky., was a business visitor in the city this week.

J. T. Mattox, of Paris, arrived here yesterday and will be in the city for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Courtney were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Hall, at Mater, Ky.

H. D. White, of Louisville, was among the traveling men here during the week.

NERVOUS HEADACHES

Heavy Feeling, as if My Brain Was Pressing Down

Mrs. Hill says: "I cannot tell you how much I have suffered during the past twelve years. It is a long time for any one to suffer. A great multitude of women in this country know exactly what Mrs. Hill means when she says, 'as if my brain was pressing down.' So nervous I could not get my rest at night. Would have sinking spells and then so weak that I could not do my work." A great many women in the United States will recognize in this description their own experience.

Mrs. Hill found a remedy. After taking four bottles of Peruna she gained in strength and flesh and wrote us that she was a well woman again. She says, "I cannot thank you enough for my recovery." This is no ordinary incident. Twelve years suffering. Four bottles of Peruna. Restored to perfect health. If Peruna can do this for one woman why can it not for another? Is it not worth your attention? Is it not worth trying?

Those who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

The Young Ladies Guild Tuesday evening.
