Wood's Seeds Seed Potatoes FOR FALL CROP.

The planting of Seed Potatoes in June and July is increasing to a wonderful extent. A great many farmers claim that they give better crops planted at this time than they do when planted in the spring. Potatoes planted in June and July mature in the cool weather of the fall, at a time when they can be harvested to best advantage.

The Seed Potatoes we offer are put in cold storage early in the season, so as to keep in first-class, vigorous condition.

COUNTY AGENT KEGLEY.

This agricultural live wire and encyclopedia of information regarding husbandry of all sorts except things matrimonial, is sure keeping in touch with the farmer community. He was at Buchanan on Saturday last and discussed agriculture with a good crowd and so interestingly that a friend thought enough of his talk to send the NEWS an account of it. They are beginning to pay attention to dairy farming down Bear Creek way. One farmer has already shipped cream to Cincinnati, where he gets good prices for all he can send.

On Friday night the agent was at Summit schoolhouse, where he had an audience of fifty people, all interested in planting and canning.

Mr. Kegley Sunday met a County Farm Agent from West Virginia, Mr. Chestnut, who said that good, pure milk would bring 44 cents per gallon in the coal fields. Here is another chance for the dairy farmer.

Mr. Kegley desires the NEWS to say that he has at the Louisa depot a farm for concrete silos which he will be glad to show and explain to any who may be interested. He says the concrete silo is cheaper in the long run than those built of stones. He also says it is not too late to sow cowpeas on meadow land which has been injured by drouth.
