LET US END AS WE BEGAN. The work of the Red Cross is all a work of love. It is needed now more than ever, when the full, terrible sum of the war's cost is being estimated in deaths and wounds and suffering and mourning, in blindness and lameness and weakness of every sort, in bitter loss and need in America, and in endless canteen and hospital service over there. Let us end the great war as we began it—in generosity and love to the world.
