ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce CHARLEY EDWARDS as a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Court Clerk of Lawrence-co., at the primary to be held in August, 1921.

Friday, September 10, 1920.

Now Cox is on a 30 days tour of the west, speaking several times each day. He is greeted everywhere by large and enthusiastic crowds, who applaud and admire his pointed and courageous utterances. He dodges nothing. In the east he had the same great meetings. His election is being freely predicted.

The Martin County Advertiser is the name of a newspaper just started at Warfield, Ky. The first issue is a new and well edited paper. The editor and publisher need not be ashamed to print his name on the sheet. For that or some other reason he has failed to do so.

There is only one way to meet all American needs. That one way is work. Prices will not come down until production increases, no matter who is Governor or President, or whether Congress is Republican or Democratic. The law of supply and demand is the only remedy. Idleness and half-time work are doing more to nullify that law than all other things combined. You can not reduce the cost of living by howling about it. But the cost can be reduced by everybody doing more and better work in every line.

Report of James P. Prince, Secretary of Lawrence Co. Sunday School Association

I have visited the State convention, also 5 district conventions and have written about 20 letters. Have visited 12 different schools, some three or four times, giving about 20 Sunday School talks during the year; traveled over 400 miles. At my last report I had $3.70 in my hands; since that time have received from Charley convention, Evergreen and Walnut Gap schools $32.50, making a total of $36.20. I gave the State Secretary check for same. Since then received from Elizabeth Hatten $5.38, this amount is still in my hands.

We think the Sunday School work is improving fine as we find 55 schools in the county and there may be some we have not heard from. There have been but two district conventions held this summer. I trust the district officers will go to work and hold their conventions at once. We should be encouraged in this year's work as we are having more schools and better schools than for some time.

As we will soon enter on a new year's work, let us all work harder and pray more than ever before. The Sunday School workers will never know what great good they are accomplishing but go on do your best and leave the results in the hands of God who will do all things right.

There is one thing we all should be proud of, there are more schools in Lawrence county than in any county east of Covington, in fact there are very few counties in the State having more schools than Lawrence county. I don't think there is a county in the State that has less criminals than Lawrence. I think the Sunday Schools have a great deal to do with it. The fight that commenced 275 years ago in favor of truth has gained the victory and John Barleycorn is almost a thing of the past.

The Sunday School Convention this year was a sad one as Hon. R. T. Burns had just passed away. He was a great friend to the Sunday Schools as he was president of the Lawrence County Association for 20 years. When I was holding district conventions I was glad to see Brother Burns coming as he always put new life into a convention.

I can imagine how he would sing "We'll roll, roll, the old chariot along." D. L. Moody said some day it would be a dispatch over the wires. "D. L. Moody is dead," but there wouldn't be a word of truth in it. I will be more alive than ever before. So brother Burns is not dead and will still live in the minds of the Sunday School people of Lawrence county.

Wechsler-Preston. A pretty wedding was consummated at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Pierce on Saturday afternoon.

The bride was Miss Jennie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wechsler and the groom was Mr. Mont Preston of Cincinnati. Rev. Pierce performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends. The two met at Pikeville several years ago when the bride was stenographer for the Pikeville Wholesale Grocery Co. and the groom was a resident there. The bride has been employed by the Hampton Grocery Co. here. She was reared here and has the respect and esteem of all who know her. The groom who did war construction work is a native of Paintsville. He is a construction engineer with headquarters in Cincinnati. The happy couple remained here the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Wechsler until Monday afternoon when they left for Cincinnati where they will reside.

Anderson-Cort. The wedding of Miss Doris Anderson and Mr. Joseph Cort took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. G. Anderson, of Huntington, Wednesday morning, Dr. W. H. Sheffer, pastor of the Christian church officiating. The attendants were the sister of the bride, Mrs. Harry Moran, of New York City, as matron of honor, and Miss Margie Kessler, as maid of honor. Mr. Lew Cort, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The immediate families and a few intimate friends attended the ceremony. After the bridal trip east the young couple will return to Huntington to reside.

Drew Taylor, brakeman, of Ashland, was badly scalded in a railroad accident near New Martinsville, W. Va., last Friday when an engine on a B. & O. freight train exploded. The engineer and fireman were killed.

Official notification of the proclamation that the constitutional amendment providing for woman suffrage had been adopted was received Monday by Secretary of State P. A. Vaughan from Secretary of State Colby at Washington.

Apparel of Distinction and Quality--Exclusively. Is Featured In Our Autumn Exhibits. "Quality" is the most abused word in the entire vocabulary of many mercantile establishments. It is often used without real thought or meaning, and frequently from mere habit and ignorance. The most flagrant form of abuse is to claim quality for the shoddy garment of good outward appearance that possesses "inward" defects of making and materials. The Test of Quality. Most women are good judges of fabrics, and this knowledge is of first importance in the selection of any garment. Often inferior apparel is good in this respect, but would not stand the test of closer inspection. Analyze the garment that appeals to you—inspect the lining, the stitching—then try it on. Note the depth of the hem, the "set" of the shoulders, and especially he back where inferior tailoring is most often revealed. Look for skimpiness and imperfections, for quality is impossible where the accepted standards of good manufacturing are ignored. If a garment will stand this minute inspection, it is no doubt of good quality—and quality is all-important. The Assurance of Quality. Any garment you may purchase from us is sold to you in good faith. Our years of experience in purchasing for a particular clientele have made our demands for quality a rule to which there are no exceptions. Here, true quality is a settled fact, and prices are consistent with real worth.

TWO MEN SHOT IN BREATHTT COUNTY; BOTH MAY EXPIRE. Jackson, Ky.—Ben Bolln, 28 years old, who was shot four times at a point six miles from here Sunday afternoon in a hospital here and his death is expected momentarily. George Bolln, his cousin, is in jail on a charge of malicious shooting with intent to kill. Ben Bolln until recently had lived near Jackson, but removed to Crockettville, twenty miles from here. He is a farmer. Sunday he visited his father, near the place where he was shot down. He was fired upon from a hillside as he was returning to his home. A question will be asked to the voters in said precinct; question to be voted upon is: "Are you in favor of making it unlawful for cattle, hogs and mules, to run at large on public highways and unenclosed lands of Rockcastle Precinct, Rockcastle County, Kentucky?" Witness my signature, the 21st day of August, 1920. WM. TAYLOR, Sheriff, Lawrence Co., Ky.

New Coatings that surrender you with the uttermost in beauty. Toile-De-Laine Silvertone Tinseltone $4.95 the yard

These New Woolens' mystic oriental color makes them ever so lovely. Fragile bits of Chinese pottery might have been the inspiration for some of these soft color harmonies—for the subtle blending. It's most like a journey into fairyland to view their fanciful tones.

TOILE-DE-LAINE has always conveyed "quality" to womankind—its soft mat finish distinguishes it. In sparrow, tan and suchow which is like Chinese blue that's been softened by the ages. SILVERTONE—One wonders when viewing it if it is suede, with its smooth surface, soft as a peach, in two shades of open blues, reindeer and bedouin—a desert sand sort of a shade. TINSELTONE—A real wool that will wear, in jap blue, pekin, couture, malay—is a dead leaf sort of hue, and ming—a cool looking blue grey.

These woolens themselves have depth and softness of finish. NARVELLA was just meant to fashion those big, loose wrappy sort of coats—the sort that show grace, like fluttering butterflies in soft breezes. DEARDORFF-SISLER COMPANY Personal Shopping Bureau MAIN FLOOR — PHONE 819
