PORTSMOUTH GOOSE LIVED NINETY-FOUR YEARS

The 94-year-old goose owned by Adolph Brunner, 1536 Poplar street, passed from this world some time early Saturday morning as the result of old age.

Friday night the fowl was apparently in the best of health, and Mrs. Brunner was very much surprised when feeding her chickens at 6:30 next morning, to find the old bird lying motionless in the barnyard, a victim of senility.

The goose was brought to this country from Ireland many, many years ago by Mrs. Mary Crowe, who for a long time was one of the best known residents of the West side. Mrs. Crowe died several years ago at the age of 112, leaving the creature to her nephew J. M. Crowe, also of the West side, who later sold it to Mr. Brunner.—Portsmouth Sun.
