

LOCAL DOTS

Mr. J. M. Hood has returned from a business trip to St. Louis.

The Chamber of Commerce dinner on March 31 will be served by the King's Daughters and we know from past experiences that this fact is sufficient assurance that the dinner will be a good one.

Messrs. E. C. Mackey, R. S. Stewart, Claud N. Sapp, M. P. Johnson, Whiteford Smith and Dr. C. B. Pratt began house-keeping this week in one of the Jones cottages next door to the Baptist church.

Mr. A. W. Chance has moved from the store between B. C. Hough's jewelry store and Judge Jones' law office to the store-room in the Riddle block, recently vacated by the Southern Express company.

Miss Flonney Sowell left for Dallas, Texas, Thursday morning to buy Spring millinery for the Monis Merchantile Co., of Chico, Texas, where she has accepted the position as trimmer this season.

Miss Cornelia Elliott will leave next week for Richmond to begin the trained nurse's course at the Memorial hospital in that city and her friends here at home wish her abundant success in the work upon which she is about to enter.

Mrs. J. S. Fischel, formerly of Chester, has joined Mr. Fischel who holds a position with the Lancaster Pharmacy. Mr. and Mrs. Fischel have rented rooms in the home of Mrs. Julia Porter, where they have begun house-keeping.

The friends of Mayor E. D. Rakeney, of Kershaw, will regret to learn that he is having considerable trouble with his eyes which have caused him severe pain. He has been in Rock Hill this week receiving special treatment which we hope will give him relief.

Rev. P. B. Wells, D. D., presiding elder of the Rock Hill district will make his first official visit for the current year to the First Methodist church next Sunday night. He will preach at 7:30 p. m. and at the close of the service will hold the first quarterly conference.

Luther Ellison, secretary of the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce, attended a meeting of the county fair secretaries in Columbia yesterday and read an article on "Judicious Advertising." Secretary Ellison was, by acclamation, re-elected secretary-treasurer of the South Carolina federation of fairs.

Rev. H. R. Murchison and Mr. A. C. Williamson were present at the Deacon's conference of Bethel Presbytery which met in Chester this week. The attendance at this meeting was very large and representative there having been present nearly a hundred delegates.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church next Sunday after the morning services, an election will be held, if the way be clear, for three additional elders and enough additional deacons to make the total number twelve.

The Harper Hardware company opened its doors this week with a full line of hardware in the store-room formerly occupied by the dry goods department of the Jones Merchantile company, which has been completely renovated. This new concern is managed by Messrs. Robert S. Harper and A. F. Giles.

Miss Fannie Clark of Union, who for several seasons past has been milliner for the Jones Merchantile company and Miss Carrie I. Bear of York, Pennsylvania, who has held a like position for several seasons with the Lancaster Merchantile company, have returned to Lancaster, and are in charge of the millinery department of the Lancaster Department Stores company.

Prof. P. D. Webb, state secretary of the Interdenominational Sunday School Association of South Carolina will be here next Sunday and will address all the Sunday school workers of the town at 8:00 p. m. in the Methodist church. After this meeting he will meet with the county and township officers. Mr. W. R. Thomson is the county president and will preside over the conference.

DEATH OF MR. WALTER STOGNER

Succumbed Wednesday to Tuberculosis.

Mr. Walter Stogner, who for several years past has been in failing health, succumbed to tuberculosis at an early hour Wednesday morning at the home of his brother, Mr. Ernest Stogner of this place. The young man was a son of Mr. John G. W. Stogner of Elgin, where he was born and reared. He was about twenty-seven years of age and was liked by all with whom he came in contact. Mr. Stogner at one time held a position with the Lancaster Hardware company and was more recently guard of the county chaingang. His death brings sorrow to a wide circle of friends, as well as to his many relatives in this county. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. J. F. Strickland, were held at Elgin Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Stogner is survived by his father, seven brothers, Messrs. Ernest, Hazel O., Clyde, Clarence, Boyd, Marion and Marvin Stogner, and two sisters, Misses Claudia and Era Belle Stogner.

MISS MARY ANN CASTON DEAD

Aged Woman Passed Wednesday Morning.

Many friends throughout the county will be grieved to learn of the death of Miss Mary Ann Caston, which occurred at the County Home early Wednesday morning. Miss Caston was a daughter of the late Monroe Caston. She was 76 years of age and is survived by two nieces and four nephews, Mrs. John McMurray, Mrs. Tom Carter, Messrs. Will, Jim, Boyce and Berry Cauthen. Miss Caston was a faithful member of the Baptist church of Heath Spring and had been a devoted Christian for over forty years. Miss Caston was crippled January 7, 1897 and has been an invalid since, yet she was always bright and cheerful and was loved by all who knew her. The remains were taken to Heath Spring Wednesday afternoon and interred at Salem cemetery, the funeral services having been conducted by her pastor, Dr. J. W. H. Dyches.

RECIPES FOR FIELD DAY.

Directions for Making Entries in Household Science.

Mrs. W. E. Taylor has submitted the following recipes for the guidance of those who wish to make contributions of cookery to the household science department for Field Day.

Contest:

Class A.
Cup Cake: 1 cup of butter, two cups sugar, four eggs, three and one-half cups of flour, two teaspoonsful baking powder; separate whites and yellows.

Pastry for Peach Pie: Three tablespoonsful of butter, three of lard, one teaspoonful of salt, one cup of cold water, two small teaspoonsful of baking powder, and flour as needed. This recipe makes sufficient pastry for three pies.

Fried Chicken: Clean and disjoint fowl, then soak in salt water for two hours; put in frying pan equal parts of lard and butter, in all enough to cover chicken; roll each piece in flour, dip in beaten egg then roll in cracker crumbs and drop into boiling fat, fry until brown on both sides; take out of pan and place on brown paper to drain off grease.

Class B.
Half Doz. Soda Biscuits: To one quart of flour add one teaspoonful of soda, one scant teaspoonful salt, one-half cup lard, and enough buttermilk to make a soft dough; knead quickly, using as little flour as possible while kneading; bake in a moderate oven till a light brown.

Twelve Cookies: Two cups of sugar, one cup of butter, three eggs; beat well, flavor to taste and add enough flour to roll out very thin; cut in shapes and bake in an oven not too hot.

Eight Corn Muffins: One egg, one pint of sifted meal, one pint of buttermilk, half teaspoonful soda, one teaspoonful salt; dissolve soda in buttermilk and bake in greased pans or muffin rings, in a quick oven.

Please follow above recipes.
Mrs. W. E. Taylor,
County Organizer.

Miss Margaret Lemmond is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Roddey Reid in Rock Hill.

Mr. W. R. Moore of Greenville, is spending a few days here with his mother, Mrs. Ernest Moore. Mrs. Mary McDow and Lieutenant John Hilliard, now home on furlough, were visitors this week at the home of Mrs. John A. Bridges in Heath Springs.

SOCIAL NEWS.

Mrs. Ernest Moore was the gracious hostess of the Friday afternoon Book Club at its last meeting. The spacious rooms of this hospitable home were bright with pink carnations, hyacinths and daffodils. The roll call was responded to with current topics and a special study of the Panama Canal proved most interesting. Rev. H. R. Hutchinson, by special invitation, was present and gave a very clear explanation of the working plan of this great engineering feat. After the program the hostess served delicious refreshments in several courses.

Mrs. L. C. Payseur entertained Tuesday at a beautiful dinner to which six of her friends were invited. The hostess and her guests chatted over their crochet and embroidery until the dinner hour when they were invited into the dining room. Here at a beautifully appointed table, an elaborate dinner, in seven courses, was served. The hostess was assisted in the entertainment of her guests by her daughter, Mrs. Ola P. Gatling. Mrs. Payseur's invitation list included Mrs. J. H. Thayer, Mrs. Ernest Moore, Mrs. H. R. Murchison, Mrs. E. T. Hodges, Mrs. T. Y. Williams, Miss Isabel Davis and Mrs. W. T. Gregory.

An interesting affair of the past week was the party at which Miss Cornelia Elliott entertained Wednesday night in honor of her house guest, Miss Anna Payne of Monroe. Three tables were provided for rook and after a series of games Miss Bess McManus was found to hold the best score among the girls. She was presented the ladies' prize, a dainty handkerchief. Mr. Foster Moore won the men's prize, a book of toasts. Miss Payne, the guest of honor, was given a pretty handkerchief. Late in the evening a sweet course was served.

Miss Nannie Hill Moore was the hostess of the Chesterfield Avenue Club and a number of other friends yesterday afternoon, on which occasion the home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. Ernest Moore, was the scene of a congenial gathering. Pink carnations and white hyacinths were used in the rooms in which six tables were soon filled with enthusiastic rook players. When cards were laid aside the hostess served a salad course, followed by coffee, fruitcake and mints.

The Social Study Club met last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. M. Croxton, whose guests spent a most enjoyable afternoon. Rook afforded entertainment for a couple of hours and twelve members participated in the games. During the social hour the hostess served a dainty salad course with coffee.

MR. CARL LEE PROMOTED

Will Be Assistant Chief Engineer of Southern Power Co. Mr. Carl Lee's Lancaster friends and relatives will learn with pleasure of the promotion he has received, for they are following with interest the career of this bright young man. Mr. Lee is a brother of Mrs. John Stewman and Mrs. Oliver Blackmon. From the Charlotte Observer of Wednesday we take the following:

The many friends of Mr. A. C. Lee will be interested to learn that he will arrive in the city soon to make his home permanently in Charlotte in the future. He has been made assistant chief engineer of the Southern Power company, succeeding Mr. C. A. Mees, who recently resigned to engage in practice for himself. Mr. Lee is thoroughly capable, experienced, and has been associated with the Southern Power company ever since his graduation. As assistant chief engineer he will assume direction of the engineering department, one of the most important in the great fabric that constitutes the Southern Power company.

Mr. Lee will come here from Fishing Creek where he has been resident engineer for the big work ever since it was started. He will be succeeded at Fishing Creek by Mr. J. G. Scott, late resident engineer at Look-out Shoals and formerly resident engineer at Ninety-Nine Islands. Mr. Scott is one of the most experienced and successful engineers in charge of the construction of big dams in the country.

Wise Philanthropy.

Our old friend Andrew Carnegie, writing on the principles of giving, says: "Public parks are in the very front ranks of benefactions, provided the community undertakes to maintain, beautify and preserve them inviolate. Is there any more useful or beautiful monument that could be left by any man born or in which he has long lived?" Mr. Carnegie is right. How could a man contribute more happiness throughout the years than providing a place in which the people may gather and feel the inspiration of the great outdoors.—Spartanburg Herald.
