

With this number the JOURNAL completes the sixty-first year of its existence and if the present condition of the plant may be taken as a guide its future stability is good for quite a number of years to come. It required hard work and a considerable amount of cash to get the paper up to a fair standard, but we think we have in a measure succeeded, and our labors do not seem to be in vain. True, the temporary reverses incident to the newspaper business, along with the sharp and piteous competition, have caused us much worry and vexation, but we managed to get through it all and have the gratifying reward of an increased subscription list and the kind encouragement of our patrons. To them and to all others the JOURNAL sends its compliment of the season.

While it is not necessary here to repeat the history of the JOURNAL, having done so on similar occasions before, we would say that ever since we took a hold of the paper, nearly five years ago, we labored honestly and persistently to make it as interesting and useful as we knew how with the means at hand, and we have the satisfaction of knowing that we succeeded to a large extent. The JOURNAL has many warm friends and if kind Providence favors us with continued health, we expect to increase their number during the coming year by giving our readers fully as good, if not a better paper. As far as the year which is just closing is concerned it was a fair business year and we have no reason to complain.

In recapitulating our journalistic experiences of the year 1887 we are forcibly reminded that we owe special thanks to our able correspondents from neighboring towns. Their valuable services added much to the success of this sheet as a newspaper and we earnestly hope they will favor us in the future with their news contributions. With these few retrospective remarks we bid good bye to 1887 and are ready to launch the JOURNAL into the unknown waters of 1888.

SENATOR QUAY has introduced a bill to increase the pensions of soldiers and sailors of the late war who were totally disabled, from $50 to $72 per month.

The granger convention which was held in Harrisburg last week, is said to have been the largest in point of number that has been held during the past ten years. Some important measures were introduced relative to tariff reduction on agricultural products.

JAMES G. BLAINE is thought to be at the bottom of the convention of republican clubs, representing every state of the Union, which was held in New York last week. The object of the meeting was to organize for preparatory work in the coming presidential campaign and to make united efforts for the renomination of Blaine at the national convention to come off at Chicago next June. The general tone of the convention was Blaine, first, last and all the time, and this gives rise to the supposition that the meeting of the clubs was called at the instance of Blaine himself. A platform was adopted which, in keeping with Blaine's sentiments, favors high protection and unlimited pension grants; stirs up the flag scandal and also waves the bloody shirt. Such are the tactics to be employed by the man from Maine and his faithful followers in the coming battle for the presidency. It is a fortunate thing that the people have a voice in the matter when they go to the polls.

The two bills which have been introduced in Senate purposing to restrict immigration stand an uncertain change in their single handedness. Senator Morrill, of Vermont proposes to keep out paupers, lunatics and anarchists by requiring the consuls on the other side to investigate into the character and means of livelihood of emigrants and if found wanting to refuse them a certificate of admission to our ports. But who would be a consul with such a trying burden? Senator Reagan, of Texas, in his bill, would throw the responsibility of bringing offensive foreigners to American ports upon the steamship companies by compelling them to give bonds that the immigrants are all O. K. in political and other respects. But this plan would have a dampening effect upon steamship traffic and most of the companies would feel like going out of the business. Some law will have to be framed to prevent the immigration of foreign socialists, but neither of the above bills seems to exactly cover the ground.

Confirmed the Nominations. WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The senate has removed the objection of secrecy from the following nominations, which were confirmed in secret session: Charles S. Fairchild, to be secretary of the treasury; George L. Rives, to be assistant secretary of the treasury; Isaac H. Maynard, to be assistant secretary of the treasury; and W. Hyatt, to be a premium.

Expelling Anarchists.

Everybody but the Anarchists themselves will agree with Congressman Adams, of Illinois, that the Anarchists are a pestilent lot of which if the country were well rid it would be exceedingly fortunate. But there is a good many people who will regard Mr. Adams' scheme for getting rid of them as rather more dangerous than the Anarchists themselves. Mr. Adams proposes to give the President the power to expel these undesirable aliens when in his judgment the public interests demand it. This seems an easy way of disposing of the Mostis and Schwabs, but the trouble is that it places in the hands of the President a power that some time might be wielded for personal rather than public ends.

It is natural that Congressman Adams, who represents a State in which the pestilent Anarchists have made themselves particularly obnoxious, should desire a simple and easy way of settling the Anarchist question. But this is a country of lawful methods, in which men who are criminals must be punished by legal processes. The legal method is a little slow, but it generally gets there in time. The Illinois Court managed to dispose of some recent Anarchists in a very effective way, if the process was a trifle long winded. They can hang more Anarchists if any more evince a desire to try conclusions with the law.

It might not be a bad notion to banish some of the windy advocates of anarchy, but if this is done the law authorizing it should make the courts the sole arbiters in the matter. The power should not be lodged in the executive of the nation except on a clear finding by a jury after a fair trial that the accused was, in word or act, hostile to the American Government. Better than this, however, will be an effective measure to keep these enemies of all government from landing on our shores in the future leaving the court to deal with those already here.—Phila Times.

WASHINGTON LETTER. (From our regular correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19, 1887.

Congress, although in session two weeks, has as yet accomplished very little work, mainly for the reason that Speaker Carlisle, owing to the unusual pressure brought to bear upon him for choice committee places, has been obliged to defer the appointment of his committees until after the holiday recess, which will be from Dec. 22 till Jan. 4. The only really important committee thus far organized is that on Elections, which, for reasons personal to himself Mr. Carlisle requested the House to appoint, one of its duties being to decide the issue between Carlisle and Thoburn. Apparently there is no good cause for a contest, still as one has been instituted by the misguided law reformer, so called, it must be disposed of according to the forms of law. There can be little doubt of the validity of the Kentucky statesman's claim to his seat.

It is already evident that much of the time of Congress during the present session will be uselessly consumed in the discussion of purely political questions; but on the eve of what is destined to be one of the most exciting and closely contested Presidential campaigns in the country's history, this is, perhaps, unavoidable. The first political tirade was delivered, without the slightest provocation, in the House by the Republican leader, Mr. Reed, of Maine, being a rather feeble and flimsy arraignment of the Democracy on the tariff question. However a Hatch sufficed to effectually silence the batteries of the burly Boanerges of the Republican party.

In the Senate that notorious champion of fraud and vote stealer, "Bill" Chandler, has presented an indictment against four leading States—South Carolina, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana—proposing to regulate their Congressional elections, through the medium of Federal intervention. Chandler's idea of regulating elections was exemplified by the Republican rape of electoral votes of three of these States in the canvass of 1876-77, and Bill realizes that the support of these common-law is necessary for Republican success next year. But Chandler will get nothing but a little cheap political capital out of his partisan resolution.

Probably the Senate bill that will excite the most interest and discussion is that of Senator Cullum, providing for the United States Postal Telegraph, appropriating four million dollars for that purpose and designating a number of principal cities of the country to be connected by the proposed lines; it also provides for the appointment and regulations of the employees of the Postal Telegraph.

The indications are that there is some opposition to the confirmation of Mr. Lamar's nomination, but not enough to defeat it. It is hardly probable that the matter will be taken up until after the holiday recess; then the three most important nominations will be acted upon in their regular order—Lamar, Vilas and Dickinson.

The recent reception in this city of two distinguished Irish members of the British Parliament, was an impressive demonstration of American national sympathy for the sufferers of Ireland, and fitting expression was given to this feeling by the eloquent utterances of several prominent Congressmen.

Dill's Nominations Sent to the Senate.—WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Among the nominations sent to the senate by the president to-day, was that of Andrew H. Dill to be United States marshal for the Illinois district of Pennsylvania.

—Wm H. Fisher, the photographer, wishes to give special notice that he will only remain at Millheim three weeks longer and invites the public to want pictures taken to call at his gallery on North street, where he guarantees satisfactory work at low prices.

Democracy the First in Twenty Years.—MERRIDEN, Conn., Dec. 20.—An city election to day Dr. Davis was re-elected mayor, and both branches of the city government are democratic for the first time since the inauguration of the city government twenty years ago. The common council stands 24 democrats to 6 republicans, the latter being hold-over men. Dr. Davis is a democrat.

A Venerable Bride and Groom.

NEW BRUNSWICK, TEXAS, Dec. 16.—Ex Governor Roberts, known as "Old Alcaldie," and Mrs. Kate Border, were married last night. The groom is seventy-eight and the bride nearly sixty. The ceremony was secretly performed at the house of Mrs. J. A. Arnold, the bride's daughter. In obituary is one of the historic characters of Texas. He was Governor for six years, serving three terms. Prior to his elevation to Governorship he was Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Since his retirement from politics five years ago he has acted as professor of law in the State University at Austin.

TERRIBLE BOILER EXPLOSION.

A Number of People Killed and Several Missing.—The Woodland.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—A special to the Record from West Chester, says: A large boiler in the Edison electric works, exploded this afternoon killing Superintendent Walter Ennor, Elwood Beckett, John Bradley, Samuel Webb and Hattie, the 10-year-old daughter of William Jones, who was returning from school and at a point almost a square distant from the scene of the explosion was struck by a flying beam and almost instantly killed. As some extra laborers were employed it is thought that all the bodies have not yet been recovered. The works are badly wrecked.

Among the missing is Clerk of the Court, D. A. Taylor, who was inquiring at the works for Eubree a few minutes before the explosion, and who has not been seen since.

CAUGHT AFTER SIX YEARS.

A Man Who Stole $40,000 While His Bride Lay Dead in the House.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 16.—Ernest K. Williamson, who six years ago robbed the firm of Albert Moran & Co., of Fall River, Mass., of $40,000 and fled to parts unknown, has been captured and passed through this city in charge of a detective named Williamson was married to Hattie Moran, the daughter of the senior partner, on June 14, 1881. The next morning Mrs. Williamson went out for a drive. The horse ran away and the bride was instantly killed. That same night Mr. Moran received a package by express containing nearly $40,000 in cash. Mr. Moran placed it in the safe and went to his home of sorrow. Williamson was being bowed down in grief. Mr. Moran mentioned the fact of the money being in the safe and went to his room. Although his bride lay cold in death Williamson went to the office, opened the safe, stole the money, and fled. He was the confidential man of the firm, and had access to the safe.

Williamson was captured at Homersville, in this state, by means of a photograph taken by a travelling photographer, who was passing through Chicago that evening day, and the picture of Williamson was recognized.

Narrow Escape of a Philadelphia Theatre from fire.—Chorus Girls Alarmed.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—About 10 o'clock to-night a fire, caused by spontaneous combustion, broke out in the finishing room on the top floor of Allen & Brothers furniture store, 1200 Chestnut street, and before it could be extinguished a loss of $40,000 was caused. Allen's place is next door to the Chestnut street theatre, and for a time great excitement prevailed throughout the city on account of a report being circulated that the theatre itself was burning and immense crowds rushed to the scene from all directions. The fact of the fire being in such close proximity to the theatre just as the curtain rose on the second act of "Ermine" and while Marie Jansen was singing a song in that act, Manager Nixon appeared upon the stage and, in assuring words, told the audience that while the theatre was no danger it was deemed advisable to stop the performance. The house was then emptied quietly and without accident or incident. Some of the chorus girls were frightened and left by the stage door, but their fears were soon quieted and they returned to their street clothing.

HARVESTING "THE WEEB".

Pennsylvania Farmers Exultant Over Their Year's Tobacco Crop.

LANCASTER, Pa., Dec. 19.—Since the tobacco harvest in tobacco and sheds last September, the grower has been anxious for damp weather, so that the hand sprinker and steam need not be employed to prepare the weed for stripping. These means are not so satisfactory, and the necessary degree of dampness cannot be obtained, and the process is slow and requires a great deal of extra labor. The fog and rain of the past few days were exceptional for the time of the year and have put the crop in excellent shape.

Thousands of men, women and children are now busy stripping and the great staple will be ready for market earlier than usual. There is much rejoicing in the fact that the tobacco crop of this county which is the first agricultural district among all the agricultural districts of the United States, the rich Monroe county, of New York, ranking second. The total value of the annual products of Lancaster county is $10,000,000, one fifth of which comes from the tobacco crop. The average yield for the past seven is 14,367,857 pounds. In no year since 1870 has a crop of less than 10,000,000 pounds been gathered. The largest crop of tobacco ever raised in any county in the United States was grown in this county in 1879 and weighed 18,000,000.

This city is the centre of the Pennsylvania trade, and next to New York, is the largest market for tobacco in the country. Here are located one half of the two hundred large warehouses in the country, and during the season of delivery, which begins after the holidays, the avenues are blockaded with teams. On some days the receivers pay to the farmers, in checks, from $200,000 to $300,000.

Will Stand by the Lehigh Strikers.

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. J., Dec. 18.—The convention of the Reading railroad employees held here to-day resolved to stand by the Lehigh strikers in their demand for an 8 per cent. advance, and all the local assemblies will be urged to contribute financial aid. Over one hundred Lehigh boats are lying at the Reading docks in this city and the employees refuse to load them, Cox & Brothers, of the Cross Creek company, have notified the Reading company that they will charge $10 per day demurrage for every boat not loaded by the strikers. A question of forming a district assembly comprising all the Reading men consumed much of the time of the convention.

HAL'S

$100 REWARD. $100.

The readers of the MILLHEIM JOURNAL will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The Proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars, for any case it fails to cure. Send for trial testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 Cts.

CATARRH CURE.

RESTORATIVE WINE.—Physicians who have used Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey, and have applied it to the strictest test, pronounce it strictly pure and rich. Lody and recommend it to the aged and infirm, and for general use where wine is desirable, as the most reliable of wines to be had. Mr. Speer also preserves the Grape Juice fresh and sweet just as it runs from the press, not by the use of spirits, but by electricity, extracting the fermenting principles from the ripe grapes when mashed; it is called Speer's Unfermented Grape Juice. For sale by druggists.

"OVID G. SPARKS, "Ex-Mayor Macon, Ga."

"I have found Simmons Liver Regulator the best family medicine I ever used for anything that may happen, have used it in Indigestion, Colic, Diarrhoea, Bilioussness, and found it to relieve immediately. After eating a hearty supper, if on going to bed, I take about a teaspoonful, I never feel the effects of the supper eaten."
