THE ARMY IN NEW MEXICO.

Gen. Kearney's Expedition to the South—Reception by the Indians and Mexicans—Visit to Santa Fe, the St. Louis Republicans have obtained a variety of interesting intelligence. Of the arrival of our troops at San Domingo, a village about 27 miles from Santa Fe, on the Rio Grande, inhabited by the Pueblo Indians, a correspondent of the Republican writes:

"Our reception at this village was quite a grand affair, the principal men and braves of the tribe met us six miles from the town and escorted us in; the braves were mounted on their best horses, and dressed in the most gaudy apparel, and armed and equipped in the same manner as when they go out for the purpose of fighting. When the General passed the head of their columns, they fired their guns, and then one file on each side of our companies proceeded to the rear and then wheeled and came down close to our line at the top of the speed of their horses, yelling and going through all the manoeuvres of a regular charge; they met again at the head of our columns, fired at each other with their pistols, made passes with their lances, and then filed off and returned to the head of our companies. This was repeated several times to the great admiration and astonishment of all who witnessed it. I have never seen better horsemen anywhere, and from what I could discover I should take them to be formidable in battle, if properly armed. They are fine looking men, and much superior in every respect to the Mexican population. They have a very fine village, most splendid vineyards, and appear to be much more comfortable in every respect than the Mexicans. When we got into the village, we were invited to the priest's house, where a most sumptuous repast was set out, consisting of the best grapes I ever saw, melons, apples, cakes, and with liquor sufficient to wash them down.

After our repast the General made a speech to the citizens, who appeared quite well pleased; they then escorted us out of town and we went on our way rejoicing, with full stomachs, and every man with just liquor enough to make him feel patriotic. This was the only Indian village we visited.

After we left San Domingo, we passed through villages every eight or ten miles, until we reached the village of Tonie. Most of them, however, were quite small, and the inhabitants with the exception of two or three men in each, are a poor, miserable set.

The only villages on the Rio Grande that we visited, worthy of note, are San Domingo, San Philippe, Albuquerque, and Tonie. Albuquerque was the residence of Armijo. We halted a short time at this place, going and returning. Gen. Kearney called on the late Governor's wife and passed an hour or two, as he told me very pleasantly. She is said to be an intelligent woman, and departed herself with much propriety. Her husband, (Armijo), it is said, has gone to the Passo, and it is supposed, will continue on to the city of Mexico. The people near the town of Tonie, and the inhabitants of the different villages, have heard of our intended visit, and the General so arranged our marches as to bring us to this town the evening before the anniversary of their patron saint, a great day with the inhabitants of that region of country; and I assure you it was a great day, not only with them, but to all who were present; there was an immense concourse of people, men, women, children, Mexicans, Indians, and white folks. They had prepared fire-works, which were gotten up in a very good style; the town was illuminated, they had a theatre, that is, a play in the open yard, which appeared to be well received by the inhabitants, they also had a fandango, which was not only crowded, but jammed and crowded to overflowing; the beauty and fashion were there, and, to my astonishment, I found some of the women quite handsome. During the day there was mass said, and the Virgin Mary was paraded around the streets, followed by the principal men of the town, and also by Gen. Kearney and his staff, with lighted candles in their hands.

The priest at Tonie joined in the waltz, and appeared as jovial and as much disposed to participate in all the amusements as any one else. The country, south of this place, (Santa Fe,) along the Rio Grande, is much better than any portion of the province I have visited; yet, in my judgment, no Missourian would ever think of locating anywhere here for the purpose of cultivating the soil. This province has been overrated, and our Government has been grossly imposed upon and deceived, as its resources, commerce, &c. I have not seen anything since my arrival here that would excite the least desire for me to reside here. To sum up the whole in a few words, the Mexicans are physically, mentally, and morally an inferior and 'low-flung' race."

PRETTY WELL IN YEARS. The father of the Hon. John Easton, of Borrvillville, R. I., died at the age of 78 years, and his mother at the age of 86 years. He has eight brothers and sisters living, whose ages, including his own, are as follows:—Joseph 93 years, Joanna 93, Martha 91, Jemima 88, John 85, Henry 83, Marcy 76, Salome 73, Amey (the baby) 60—average 84 years.

FOR THE PRESIDENCY. Hon. Daniel Webster has been nominated for the Presidency by a Whig Convention recently held at Exeter, N. H.

THE TENNESSEE VOLUNTEERS.—Terrible Slaughter!

We have already noted the great slaughter among the Tennessee volunteers, at Monterey, who, in company with two regiments of regular infantry, were ordered to charge upon the fortress. A correspondent of the Nashville Banner gives the following account of the gallant charge:

The regular infantry, the right wing of the force, of which our brigade formed the left, advanced within five or six hundred yards of the fortress, when the continued shower of grape disheartened them. Still the volunteers—the Tennesseans at the right, and the Mississippians in the rear pushed on; far, far beyond the position where the regulars had fallen. Still they advanced—cheered and encouraged by the officers in command, and still the grape play on, dealing death and destruction in its well aimed round. It was not until we had reached within a hundred yards of the fortress that the command, fire and fall, was given. In an instant every man had discharged his piece, and was reloading under cover of the chaparel, where we could be able to do execution without being so greatly exposed to the musketry and grape of the fortress. We remained in this position about twenty minutes, during which time, many of our cartridge boxes had become exhausted, from the constant discharges, when the word charge was given. In an instant we were on our feet, advancing in close column to the attack. Still our enemies maintain their post, and still our ranks are thinned and scattered by their murderous discharges. On! on! on! for fifty yards, and they retreat, they abandon their post, and we are victorious! the fortress is our own, and a strong hold is in the possession of our arms.

This glorious achievement, the first and most important of the siege, can be ascribed only to the valor of the Tennessee and Mississippi troops, and mainly to the Tennesseans, for to them belongs the honor of leading the charge; and it was on them that the loss principally fell.

Our glory is great, but our loss is also tremendous. Of three hundred and forty-eight who were out with us on that memorable day, I have to record the death of twenty-eight, while seventy-seven others are now laboring under the effects of wounds received during the action. Our regiment is the principal sufferer; and in it our own company and that of Capt. Allen's, who were placed on the extreme right, were cut up the most severely. Capt. Allen was himself killed, together with ten of his men, and had besides, eighteen wounded; while in our own company we mourn the loss of five brave companions, and have nine others suffering from the effects of wounds received in the action.

BAD LUCK. Mr. John R. Horgan, well known to many of our readers, as an industrious and enterprising mechanic, says the Centreville Times, shipped a short time since in a vessel bound to New Orleans, about twenty-five hundred dollars worth of merchandise, intending, upon its arrival there, to have it conveyed to Canton, (Miss.) where he has, for the present established his residence. Unfortunately the vessel was wrecked, and having effected no insurance upon his property, Mr. Horgan lost his all. This is certainly a case to enlist the sympathies of the public.

ONE OF THE "BLUE HEN'S CHICKENS." We extract the following from a letter written from Monterey, by Samuel W. Chambers, to his mother, at Wilmington, Del.

I was with Col. Jack Hays' and Walker's Texas Mounted Rangers—we dismounted, and went in on the other side of the town we occupied the first day—five shooters and outlaws, in hand, and took a battery. We suffered very much on entering through a heavy fire—our horses were nearly all killed. We scattered, every man for himself, (that was left of us), into houses, and fired out. I was one of the fortunate ones. I sometimes think that I was not born to be killed. Since the war with Mexico, I have had six horses killed under me. In August I had 100 men in my charge, reconnoitering, and was surrounded by General Canales' cavalry, just above Veraigo, and I lost 60 of my men, and killed 200 of the Mexicans. Monterey is surrounded by mountains. The Mexicans had 20 pieces of artillery mounted around the town. They had them to rake the streets, which they did.

FIRE IN PHILADELPHIA. On Sunday morning, the new varnish manufactory of J. T. Hallway, in Moyamensing, was burned to the ground—six hundred knapsacks belonging to the Government and destined for the Army in Mexico, being consumed in the building. The ropewalk of Joshua Search, and two rows of dwelling houses, one belonging to David Miller, and the other to James McCleskey, all of which were located near the factory, took fire and were much damaged. The dwellings were occupied by poor families, who, with their furniture, were turned out of doors in the rain, and exposed to great suffering and loss.

MORALS OF BOSTON. At a recent trial in Boston in which the jury were unable to agree, Judge Ward said that as many as three witnesses on one side or the other must have committed perjury on the trial. In remarking upon the contradictions in the evidence, in his charge on Wednesday, he said, that such an exhibition of false swearing was calculated to create a well grounded apprehension that there is no safety for property, or life, or liberty in Boston.

THE GALE AT HAVANA. By the recent gale at Havana, 11 ships, 19 brigs, 7 schooners, 3 steamers, and upwards of 15 coasters were sunk; 4 ships, 12 brigs and 3 schooners dismantled, besides a large number which were more or less damaged.

MURDER IN TEXAS. Col. Holland Coffee was lately murdered at Coffee's Bend, in Texas, by Charles Galloway. It was done in self defence.

THE BALTIMORE VOLUNTEERS. A typographical error occurred in Capt. Boyd's letter yesterday.

The name of the sergeant killed in his company, was Geo. A. Herring, son of Henry Herring, Esq., of this city. He was instantly killed by a cannon ball, whilst gallantly fighting by the side of his comrades, and was the only person killed in his company, the Chesapeake Riflemen. The four persons wounded were, Stone and Stephenson, by spent balls, the former in the foot, and the latter in the breast; and Gifford shot through the hand, and Kelly through the ankle; the latter it is feared will have to submit to amputation.

MORE TROOPS FOR MEXICO. Capt. Ruggles, in command of a detachment of the 5th Infantry, about 175 men, accompanied by Lieut. Tyler and Gibson, the latter in command of a detachment of artillery recruits, embarked at New York on Friday in the ship Corsair, for Brazos. Capt. Ruggles was in the battles of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma.

THE HAVANA SUGAR CROP. The Charleston Courier, noticing the late gale at Havana, says, we learn from letters received here, that in the interior the injury to the crop of sugar cane is not so great as in 1844, the plant not having been torn up to the extent it was at that period; but in most cases, only blown down, retaining its hold in the earth sufficiently well to allow it to mature.

At Matanzas, it was feared that the effects of the gale would be very severe, but we understand that the injury sustained was much less than was anticipated by those who were acquainted with its location.

EFFECTS OF THE STORM. The Angelica (N. Y.) Advocate states that the late storm did great damage in that region. Several animals were drowned in various parts of the county, and from 100 to 200 bridges taken off.

MURDER IN MISSOURI. Harrison Vance and Jas. Barnes, two respectable farmers of Union, Mo., had a fracas last week, which resulted in the death of Vance, who was about 50 years of age. Barnes escaped.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT.—Probable Detention of the Mails for Europe. The steamboat Oregon, on her way to Boston, from New York on Saturday afternoon, carrying all the European Mails for the Caledonia ran into a vessel near Herlague, and was so much injured that she had to return to New York. Her owners sent word, by the Telegraph, to have the Caledonia detained at Boston, and made efforts to get the mail sent on by another boat, which they probably succeeded in doing.

VICE AND DEATH. The Rochester Advertiser states that the person who has been taking a poll list in one of the wards of that city, entered a house, a day or two since, for the purpose of ascertaining the number of voters resident there. He found two drunken women, of whom he inquired if any man resided there. They answered "there was a dead one up stairs." On ascending to the loft he found the body of a man covered slightly with a sheet, which had lain there so long as to become highly offensive. The women would give no account of the deceased.

MA. BOCHANAN. It is rumored that this gentleman is about to define his position on the tariff, in a public letter. It is said he goes "betwixt and between" the tariff of 1842 and 1846, and differs considerably with the President in regard to the duties on coal and iron.
