PLATFORM.
THE CONSTITUTION OF THIS COUNTRY,
THE UNION OF THE STATES, AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS.

Foreign Proscription.
The Bulletin is harping upon the proscription of foreigners, and quotes from the laws of Massachusetts to frighten, we suppose, our foreign born citizens into a support of Breckinridge. While it quotes Massachusetts law as requiring a citizenship of two years before the naturalized foreigner is permitted to vote, why does it not also quote South Carolina law, to show that never changing Democratic State has also a law requiring a two years residence before the naturalized citizen can exercise the elective franchise? We are certain our foreign born citizens will be more approve of such a law when it is passed by a Democratic State, than when it is approved by a Massachusetts Governor.

But this thing comes, we think, with a bad grace from a Breckinridge Journal, for it should be borne in mind that Mr. Breckinridge himself has avowed the strongest kind of Know-nothing doctrine. We quote from a speech delivered by him at Cynthia, Kentucky, on the 7th of April, 1855, and reported in the Washington Union of the 8th of May, 1855: "It was natural for a man to prefer those of his own religious faith in voting, and he himself would vote for one of his own way of thinking in religion rather than for another, all things being equal, just as he would vote for a native in preference to a foreign born citizen, other things being equal."

We call that pretty strong Know-nothingism. But as our neighbor of the Bulletin would like to make it appear that his party are such remarkable friends of the foreigner, let us hear what an Indiana Democrat says about our industrious and quiet Germans. Here it is: "Cowardly fugitives from the battle fields of Europe—men who, with the stripes of Frederick and Francis Joseph fresh upon their backs, seem to be hustled to the shores of free America only for the purpose of basely and traitorously lending their efforts to break up and destroy the free government that generously protects them from the knout and the lash of their former masters and tyrants."

That's the way in which the Democracy talk of the foreigner when they can no longer use him to serve their purposes. As soon as he begins to think for himself, and to assert his manhood, they brand him as base and traitorous, vile and contemptible. Such friends our German fellow-citizens should spurn. The Bulletin would do well, therefore, to keep silence on the subject of Know-nothingism.

Baltimore Majority Election.
The Reformers, as they call themselves, in Baltimore, have nominated Mr. Brown as their candidate for the Mayoralty, and it is thought that both wings of the Democracy will unite on him, yet there is a good deal of dissatisfaction in the Democratic ranks at this indication of the leaders. The rank and file want a candidate of their own party, and they seem disposed to ignore the doings of those who have heretofore controlled them and bring out a simple pure Democrat, the only difficulty in the way is the late hours which the movement is being made.

The American has nominated Samuel Hines; this gentleman was at one time Sheriff of the city and proved himself an energetic officer; he is a mechanic—a hatter, and from our personal knowledge of the man, if elected we think he will make a first rate officer. We throw up our hat for Sam Hines.

Pennsylvania State Election.
This election will take place next Tuesday week, 9th of October. Much is thought to depend upon it; if Curtin, the people's candidate for Governor is elected, it is thought that the vote of the State will be cast for Lincoln in November, but if Foster the Democratic candidate should succeed, it is supposed the State will go for Douglas at the Presidential election. In view of this state of things a vigorous canvass is being prosecuted.

Keep It Before the People.
A writer in the Richmond Whig says, "That there is not a Division man in the South who is not in favor of Breckinridge and Lane, and have uttered sentiments as treasonable to the best interests of the Union as Calixte ever uttered against Rome; and have plotted as wicked schemers for its overthrow as was done by Arnold the traitor in the Revolutionary war, who plotted to surrender his country to European despots for a paltry sum of money. Such a party deserves the contempt of all true lovers of their country."

Division in Virginia.
A correspondent from Western Virginia, in writing to the Richmond Whig, says, if Virginia should secede from the Union, then Western Virginia would secede from her and form a new State, as all her interests are with the Union.

UNION PARTY ELECTORS.—At a meeting of the State Executive Committee of the Constitutional Union Party, recently held in Baltimore, Charles F. Goldsborough, Esq. was appointed one of the Electors for the State at large in place of Hon. Alex. Evans, who resigned on account of ill health. A number of Assistant Electors in the several Congressional Districts were also appointed, those of the Fifth being John A. Lynch, Esq., of Frederick county; Jos. A. Skinner, Esq., of Washington county, and George A. Pearce, Esq., of Allegany county. The meeting of the Committee is said to have been the fullest yet held, nearly every county having been represented.

GEN. W. WALKER.—This notorious filibuster recently led a band of deceived and infatuated men into the territory of Honduras, and captured one of the towns belonging to that government, but was compelled to evacuate it, and being captured by the officers and men of a British man-of-war he was handed over to the Honduras government, which government, instead of hanging him as a pirate gave him a soldier's death—that is, shot him. We hope we shall hear of no more filibustering hereafter.

QUESTIONS A. BROWNSON, the editor of a well-known Quarterly Review, published in the interest of the Catholic Church, and who was always a radical Democrat, has come out for the Republicans. He made a thorough-going Republican speech at Elizabethport, New Jersey, on Thursday evening. He not only recommended the policy of the party in regard to the freedom of the Territories, but he eulogized "the honest backwoodsman of Illinois."

NOTICES.
ELECTIC MAGAZINE.—The October number of this beautiful periodical is before us. The engraving of Garibaldi is a fine production and cannot fail to please. The literary articles are rich, racy, and in every respect attractive, giving evidence of the best taste in their selection. The editors never send forth a poor number. Price $5 per annum.

COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL.—The September number of this highly interesting work has reached our table. It should be the pride of every American to foster and encourage the Art Journal, the only periodical devoted to that department of science in this country. The present number is embellished with a beautiful engraving of Juliet, in the balcony scene in Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet. The September number is so full of matter as to make a favorable impression. Price $2 per annum.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The October number of Godey's unrivaled Lady's Book has come to hand. Many editors have pronounced lofty eulogies upon Godey's Book, and some persons may have thought them exaggerated, but we are satisfied that there is no amount of praise but what his periodical justly deserves. It is always punctual and we have never known it to fail. It is always gotten up in the best of style, in its artistic, mechanical, and literary departments, and its moral tone elevated and unexceptionable. It should be considered an indispensable in every family.

PETERSON'S LADIES MAGAZINE.—The October number of this very cheap and excellent periodical has been sent forth by its publishers. Peterson's Ladies National Magazine is always a welcome guest at our table, and the present number is really refreshing. The fashion plates are such as cannot fail to please the ladies, while the literary matter will delight their leisure hours with reading that is really fascinating. It is marvelous how this excellent work can be published for $2 per year.

LADIES HOME MAGAZINE.—The number for October is out. We have always admired this Magazine for the high tone of its morals, and the purity and chasteness of its sentiments—rendering it what it professes to be, a Ladies Home Magazine. It has also to recommend it a rich store of literary gems and is beautifully embellished. Price $2 per annum.

UNION SONGSTER FOR THE CAMPAIGN OF 1860.—We have received a copy of this very entertaining little book. It is gotten up in most excellent style, contains a sketch of the life of John Bell and also of Edward Everett. We should think it was very popular as our copy is one of the second edition of ten thousand.

With the Songster we have a handsome Badge of the Union party.
They can be had wholesale and retail of Henry Taylor, Periodical dealer in the Sun Building, Baltimore.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.—The September number of this standard periodical has reached our office, the contents of which are of a highly interesting character:—A Sketch of the Life and Character of Sir Robert Peel; The Romance of Agostini—Part I; Great Wits, Mad Wits? King Arthur and his Round Table; The Struggle at Melazzo; The Tower of London; Norman Sinclair, an Autobiography—Part VIII.

The Case Against Secession.
We doubt, says the Louisville Journal, if the case against secession has ever been put with a greater power or facility than by Mr. Bell, in a letter addressed to a mass meeting convened at Knoxville, Tenn., in 1860—In that letter he held the following emphatic language though only tantamount to that used by the Hon. Wm. R. King, the Democrat candidate for the Vice Presidency in 1852:

"It may be asked in what does the safety of the country consist? I answer in the preservation of the Union. In every aspect in which I am able to view the subject I regard the dissolution of the Union as the direst calamity which can befall the people—the people of the South as well as of the North. It is fashionable to state some exceptions to the general truth. I am prepared to state none within the range of probable events. I admit the possible occurrence of a state of things in the operation of the Federal Government, which would be a greater evil than the destruction of Union. A glaring tyranny, an oppressive and persistent violation of plain and unquestionable constitutional obligations, and a similar disregard of constitutional limitations in the practice of the majority, on subjects of vital interest to the minority, would be a virtual abrogation of the bonds of union and justify a resort to revolutionary remedies. I use the terms revolutionary remedies in preference to the possible oppressions of a majority in wielding the Legislative and Executive powers of the Government, and

Mr. Douglas in his late speech at Providence Rhode Island, thus proclaimed his agency in the repeal of the Missouri compromise:
"My friend over there—friend or enemy, as the case may be—wants to know something about the Missouri Compromise. [Cheers.] I have not the slightest objection to telling him all that he desires to know upon that question. I brought in the bill to repeal the restriction."

In a speech which the same gentleman delivered at Springfield, Illinois, eleven years ago—in 1849—he spoke as follows of the Missouri Compromise:
"The Missouri Compromise had its origin in the hearts of all patriotic men who desired to preserve and perpetuate the blessings of our glorious Union—an origin akin to that of the Constitution of the United States, conceived in the same spirit of fraternal affection, and calculated to remove forever the only danger which seemed to threaten, at some distant day, to sever the social bond of Union. All the evidence of public opinion at that day seemed to indicate that this compromise had become canonized in the hearts of the American people as a sacred thing, which no ruthless hand would ever be reckless enough to disturb."

And now Mr. Douglas says that he was the chief instrument in the repeal of a measure which he regarded as having "its origin in the hearts of all patriotic men who desired to preserve and perpetuate the blessing of our glorious Union." Is he not a political vandal of the worst kind?

DEATH OF THE OLDEST MASON IN THE UNITED STATES.—The Alexandria Gazette of yesterday announces the death of an aged citizen, Mr. John Shakes. Mr. Shakes was one of the oldest citizens of the town of Alexandria. He was born in Kent county, Md., on the 20th of October, 1774, and wanted, therefore, exactly one month of being 86 years of age. Having lost his father while yet an infant, in consequence of exposure in the camp of the Revolution, he reared with his mother, being at the time when he resided during a portion of the Presidency of Gen. Washington, occupying a house in the immediate vicinity of the residence of that illustrious chief. He served an apprenticeship to the brush-making business in Baltimore, and immediately on attaining his majority, attached himself to the Masonic Order, which he continued a very active member for sixty-five years, being at the period of his death, the oldest Freemason, probably, in the United States.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—The victories of Science, Domestic Remedies, Steam, electric telegraphs printing, &c. have each had their particular ovation, but the man who reduced the sphere of disease and alleviated the suffering of millions of his fellow beings, is, to say the least of it, entitled to our admiration. Holloway has expended a life time in the suppression of sickness throughout the world, and for the effective cure of measles, small pox, ring-worm, whooping cough, and all disorders affecting childhood, his Pills and Ointment are as familiar as household words, in Europe, Asia, Africa, and America. Mothers should never be without a supply.

At a meeting of the citizens of Greenwood, S. C., among other resolutions, the following was voted:—"Resolved, That we respectfully request all clergymen or other persons who may have received copies of Sumner's speech to forward them immediately to the Secretary of the Congressional District of the late Hon. Preston S. Brooks, and on the anniversary of Sumner's casting, they may be consumed in a bonfire lighted by negroes."

James Pinkney Hambleton, Editor of the "Confederate" at the South, thus "spits it out" in Secretary Cabell's "Confederate" in a leading article, "The Rock of Public Inevitability, and with a fungus liver gorged to hepatization by federal aromatics, the Southern vulture of an outraged people, revels at his discomfiture, and will feed with insatiable gusto upon his bloated carcass."

The Breckinridge party in Virginia have already nominated a plank of the Platform on which their candidate was placed by their general Convention—the Pacific Railroad plank. Now the question arises, if one State Convention can break up the platform of the whole party, in this way, what is to prevent another State Convention, from knocking it to pieces in some other way? There seems to be trouble all round the board.

The poison said to have been found in the hands of the slaves in Texas, proves to be some harmless preparation, which the negroes were made to believe was strychnine.

TYLER TOO.—It is said that ex-President Tyler, now 75 years old and looking more robust and younger than when he occupied the White House, has an infant daughter only two months old.

Hon. John S. Millson in a letter assigning his reasons for supporting Douglas, says: "Mr. Breckinridge was set up to be beaten, not to be elected, and we have ever had."

RICHARDSON'S IRISH LINENS, Damasks, Diapers, &c.
OWNERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, &c. and those desirous of obtaining the same goods, should see that the articles they purchase are marked with the full name of the firm.

J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.
This caution is rendered essentially necessary as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared season after season and sold with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted on the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not usually abandon a business so profitable, while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.
