

Civilian and Telegraph
IS PUBLISHED
Every Thursday Morning.
WILLIAM EVANS, Proprietor.
OFFICE in Second Story of McKim's Room, Baltimore Street.
TERMS—One copy, one year, $2—invariably in advance.
TO THE ADVERTISING PUBLIC: This paper affords unparalleled advantages for 1000 Families, and a more extensive circulation than any other journal published in the country. Advertisements would quickly reach a greater number of persons than could be reached by any other advertising medium.

MEDICAL HOUSE,
11 South Frederick street,
Baltimore, Maryland.
Established in order to afford Sound and Scientific Medical Aid, and for the supervision of Quackery.

DOCTOR SMITH
HAS for many years devoted his whole attention to the treatment of private complaints, in all their varied and complicated forms. His great success in those long standing ailments, such as were formerly considered incurable, is sufficient to commend him to the public's worthy of the careful patronage of those afflicted with them. Within the last eight years, Dr. S. has treated more than 2,500 cases of Private Complaints in their various forms, and persons afflicted with them who have been cured, that all the other physicians now advertising in Baltimore, and not a single case is known to have been cured by any other means. He has taken a reasonable time, without offering a radical and permanent cure; therefore, persons afflicted with them should be careful to know how long difficult or long standing the case may be, and do well to call on Dr. S. at his office, No. 11 South Frederick street, Baltimore, before he is misled by any other physician who is not the regular physician advertising, but for a few days only, in the columns of this class of Diseases.

MINERS' AND MANUFACTURERS' JOURNAL.

CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 11, 1860. NUMBER 41.

SPEECH
Hon. H. Winter Davis,
BEFORE THE ELECTORS OF THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, AT THE NEW ASSEMBLY ROOMS, THURSDAY EVENING, SEPT. 27, 1860.

FELLOW-CITIZENS OF BALTIMORE: I regret that absence on public duty has prevented my being with you to celebrate the first note of triumph over the dissolution of the Democratic party.
When the resolution of the American members of the Legislature of Maryland, which has just been read to you, was passed, there was a Democratic party; and which was "Old Bruin, the Senator," as Mr. Thompson described Great Britain, roaming about the world, thrashing whoever it pleased, and shaking its fist in the face of all creation, denouncing the President, and the Congress, and the people, and the whole of the American Republic. Now, the Democratic party is dissolved, and the warring elements, headed by Mr. Douglas and Mr. Breckinridge, who will have the honor of carrying the only, and as yet, undivided Democratic party, are now engaged in a struggle for the Presidency. The Democratic party is divided into two camps—where is the Union?
—[laughter]—that where went its fragments, that at the end of this contest; and in that way to arrogate to itself to be the sole, undivided, and undivided Democratic party.
[Laughter.] Our Democratic brethren, last year, at Frederick, passed a resolution, saying that upon the integrity of the Democratic party depended the integrity of the United States. They felt that the Democratic party was the only party that was loyal to the Union;—[laughter]—that where went its fragments, that at the end of this contest; and in that way to arrogate to itself to be the sole, undivided, and undivided Democratic party. [Laughter.]

constituents, to avow that act, and to say that, were it to go again, I would repeat it.
(Renewed cheering.) I am not eaten up by any personal ambition that would lead me to do, in any particular, any thing of mine. (Great applause.) I have met the clamor of Demo-
