

CUMBERLAND, MD. WM. EVANS, Editor and Proprietor.

Thursday Morning, Nov. 27, 1862.

Meeting of Congress.

Before the issue of another number of the Civilian, Congress, the great legislative assembly of the country, will have met at the National Capitol. It will be charged with the performance of duties more weighty and in which is involved more of responsibility than has ever fallen to any legislative body on this continent.

The Fall Elections.

The following, so far as we can ascertain, is the result of the elections held in October and November: In Pennsylvania the Republicans and Democrats have each elected twelve members of Congress; the Legislature is doubtful, but most probably Democratic.

Five Just Men in Sodom.

The Richmond Examiner enumerates five men in the North whom it compares to the "five just men in Sodom"—Franklin Pierce, C. L. Vallandigham, Fernando Wood, Thos. and Horatio Seymour. For reasons which are hardly obvious, "five" more well-known sympathizers (enough to save New York) are not named.

Gen. Price's Son Pardoned.

The President has given Brig. Gen. Edwin B. Price, son of Major-General Sterling Price, both of the Rebel army, a free and full pardon of all treasonable, felonious, and other crimes and misdemeanors whatever against the United States, committed up to the 18th of November.

The President's Message.

The President's Message is nearly finished. Mr. Lincoln will argue his Emancipation policy at length in it, not only in regard to the military Proclamation of Emancipation in the loyal States, but in relation to his gradual Emancipation policy in the Border Slave States.

The Surrender of Fredericksburg Demanded. The Demand Refused. The Town to be Shelled. Headquarters of Fredericksburg Demanded.

HEADQUARTERS, Nov. 21, 11 P. M.—General Patrick, [Proyost Marshal] General of the Army, this morning crossed the river to Fredericksburg under a flag of truce, conveying to the civil authorities of that city the following letter demanding the surrender.

HEADQUARTERS Army of the Potomac, Nov. 21.—To the Mayor and Common Council of Fredericksburg: Gentlemen—Under the cover of the houses of your city, shots have been fired upon the troops of my command.

Falling an affirmative reply to this demand by the hour indicated, sixteen hours will be permitted to elapse for the removal from the city of women and children, the sick and wounded and aged, &c., which period having expired, I shall proceed to shell the town.

UPON OBTAINING possession of the city, every necessary means will be taken to preserve order and secure the protective operations of the laws and policy of the United States Government.

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant, E. V. SUMNER, Brevet Major General, U. S. A., Commanding Right Grand Division.

ON ARRIVING at the opposite side of the river General Patrick was conveyed to the guard house by the military, where he was detained until the reply was ready.

AS THE DEMAND was made upon the civil authorities, the Mayor sent an answer, which was evidently written at the dictation of General Longstreet, to the effect that the complaints enumerated shall be remedied so far as firing on our pickets and furnishing supplies and material to the Confederate Army was concerned, but that the rebels would dispute the occupying of the city by the Government forces.

PERMISSION has been given the citizens to run one train from the city, but only for the conveyance of the women and children.

THE UNWRITTEN history of the war in Kentucky is full of horrors. A few days ago we published an account of the hanging of Capt. King and fifteen others by Kirby Smith's troops, near Cumberland Gap.

THE MONTREAL (Canada) Commercial Advertiser has forbidden a circulation in St. Louis by the provost marshal of that place, who brands it as a "treasonable sheet."

THE LADIES of St. Louis have presented Gen. Frank P. Blair with an elegant sword, enriched with rubies and diamonds, as a testimony to the man who first in Missouri drew the sword to the Union.

A MEETING of the editors of New Jersey is to be held at Trenton, on Thursday, December 4, to consider the course to be adopted in view of the rapid rise in the prices of paper and printing materials.

In regard to the matters complained by you and of the firing of shots upon your troops, occurred upon the northern suburb of the town, and was the act of the military officer commanding the Confederate forces near here; for which neither the citizens nor civil authorities of the town are responsible.

The civil authorities of Fredericksburg have no control, but I am assured by the military authorities of the Confederate army near here, that nothing will be done by them to infringe upon the condition herein named, as to matters within the town. But the latter authorities inform us that while their troops will not occupy the town, they will not permit yours to do so.

DEATH OF LADY STURGEON.—Letters from England announce the death of Lady Sturgeon at the summer residence of her sister, the Duchess of Leeds, at St. Leonards on the Sea. She was the second daughter of the late Richard and Esq. and grand-daughter of Charles Carroll of Carrollton.

It is a question anxiously asked by some of our readers: Out of a population of 125,000 able-bodied men, 40,000 are estimated to be secessionists. The plan to obtain possession of the government property last year, having been defeated, the secessionists are now establishing a colony in Sonora, from which they can effect a surprise of California.
