CITY IN BRIEF. The Mendelssohn Society has decided to give monthly concerts at Plymouth Church.

The weather office ordered the cold wave flag out at 6 o'clock last evening, and announced a fall of fifteen to twenty degrees in the next twenty-four hours.

A skating rink is being talked of for the southeastern part of the city. The location is to be on the vacant lots next to the Virginia avenue engine house.

William Perrott, colored, received a beating at the hands of Wallace Kissell on Saturday afternoon. Both reside in the southwestern part of the city, and Kissell charged Perrott with having insulted his wife.

Members of the Art Association, and all persons interested, are invited to be present at the Art School, English Block, at 3 o'clock on Tuesday, February 17, to hear a short lecture on "Historic and Other Portraits," by Rev. John Baltzy, on which subject he is an adept. Ralph Applewhite, Esq., of Brownstown, a prominent attorney and old citizen, has on file the Sentinel of November, 1848.

The attraction at the Meridian Rink tomorrow evening will be a grand prize masquerade and fancy dress carnival, for which extensive and elaborate preparations are being made.

The soldiers of the Mexican war will meet at the Supreme Court room, State buildings, on Wednesday morning. A large attendance is expected.

George T. Ulmer, Esq., representing the Lizzie May Ulmer troupe, arrived in the city last night.

Mrs. Barr, wife of Representative Barr, of Huntington, leaves for home to-day after a week's visit to friends in the city.

AMUSEMENT MATTERS. The Alice Oates Burlesque Company will be the attraction at the Zoo all this week.

Nat Goodwin will be at the Grand the last three nights of this week, and Lizzie May Ulmer at English's.

Governor Gray and Senator McDonald will witness the performance of "The Beggar Student" by the Maennerchor Society at the Grand to-night, occupying the two lower boxes.

Commencing this evening, and continuing three nights with the usual Wednesday matinee, the attractions at English's will be the Beane-Gilday Comedy Company, in the latest farcical success, "Cuffs and Collars."

To-night at the Grand Opera House the popular Maennerchor Society will open an engagement of three nights in the charming operetta of "The Beggar Student." The cast will be a very strong one, and the music rendered in a very superior manner.

The Dime Museum will open the week this afternoon with one of the strongest shows of the season. The chief attractions will be the African Earth Men, De Esta long-haired children, "Pepper's" "Ghost Mystery," and the "Chinart Juvenile Opera Company, in the operetta of "Red Riding Hood."

Funeral of Policeman Spellman. The funeral of Merchant Policeman John Spellman took place from St. Joseph's Church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large concourse of friends and acquaintances. The Metropolitan and Merchant Police forces marched in a body from the Central Station, headed by Getendorf's band, to the late residence of the deceased, and accompanied the body to the funeral. Father Alford preached the funeral sermon, and made it an occasion for an earnest talk on the duties of a policeman, referring to the deceased as a man of high principle and strictest integrity.

At the conclusion of the sermon the body, accompanied by Albert Fickie, Henry Slat, Charles Dawson, Frank Wilson, Thomas Moore and John Webb, as pall bearers, and by the police forces as far as McCarty street, was removed to the Catholic Cemetery for burial. Relatives of the deceased desire to return thanks to the police for their courtesies.

Yesterday's Fires. The alarm from Box 35 shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon called the Department to Gardener's cooper-shop, corner of Bright and New York streets, where a fire was in progress in the drying-room. The blaze was speedily extinguished. Loss, insured for $500 in the Queen Insurance Company of Liverpool. Engine No. 6 broke down at the corner of Blackford and New York streets while en route to the fire.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

Matters of Interest Transacted in the General Assembly on Saturday.

Mr. Bailey's Osmo-gargine bill will be the special order for to-morrow at 2 o'clock. The report from the Judiciary Committee opposing the bill to repeal the capital punishment law has been concurred in.

Mr. Rivers, of Johnson, has introduced a bill to abolish the Criminal Court of Marion County, and transfer its business to the Circuit Court.

The House adjourned at noon on Saturday, but the Senate held an all day session. A number, however, of the members of both bodies were absent on leave.

Mr. Hoover's Live Stock bill was reported in the Senate Saturday with certain amendments, and further consideration of its provisions was postponed till to-day.

The Senators and Representatives will meet in joint caucus at 7:30 this evening to consider the Patron Apportionment bill, and possibly the Metropolitan Police bill.

Mr. Brownlee believes in insuring the State's property, and has introduced a bill to require the State officers to insure against loss by fire all the State institutions and its other perishable property.

A bill by Mr. Copeland seeks to reduce passenger traffic to three cents a mile. Though the statutes permit a charge of four cents, there are very few railroads that are now charging more than three cents.

A minority of the committee to whom the bill abolishing the State Bureau of Statistics was referred have filed a report recommending that the bill pass. A minority has also reported in favor of abolishing the office of Fish Commissioner.

An item in the River and Harbor Congressional bill, appropriating $25,000 for cleaning the channels of the Kanawha and Little Washah Rivers, calls for a concurrent resolution by our Senators and Representative favoring the same.

The practice of certain railroads charging an excess of from ten to twenty-five cents where parties board the train without purchasing a ticket calls for a bill from Representative Overman providing that railroads shall not charge cash fares in excess of the price of tickets.

Mr. Pendleton's bill providing for a special tax on all vehicles used in cities, the provisions of which have already been given in the Sentinel, was introduced Saturday. Also Mr. Schley's bill providing for a Metropolitan Fire Department in all cities of 20,000 or more inhabitants.

A resolution has been introduced in the House requesting Congress to pass a law prohibiting the importation of wines and liquors from France and Germany. The mover is doubtless in sympathy with the American hog, and would retaliate on those nationalities for their unjust laws against our porkers.

In giving an account of the Democratic caucus proceeding in Friday's Sentinel, Mr. Pleasant is credited with a resolution, which, among other things, would take Miami county from the Eleventh District and place it in the Ninth. Mr. Pleasant denies that such was his resolution, and it is more than possible that this much of the report was error.

The bill regarding the erection of a new Union Depot in this city will doubtless be reported from the committee to-day. The measure is one that the city is greatly interested in, and for that matter, the traveling public as well. The passage of the bill and the opening up of the work will give employment to a large number of mechanics and laborers who are now idle, and in this regard would be a great advantage to these people. The Union Company propose to enter upon the work as soon as possible.

Mr. Loyd, of Ripley, introduced a bill in the House Saturday which authorizes County Commissioners to make an allowance to the widows of honorably discharged Union soldiers of the war of 1861. Under this bill the amount allowed is $35 for defraying the burial expenses of each deceased soldier, and if the soldier shall die an inmate of any county asylum or charitable institution and be buried under the auspices of such institution, then said allowance shall be in favor of the minor heirs of said soldier under the age of 16 years, if such there be.

Representative Jameson's banking bill was introduced Saturday, and its provisions are similar in many respects to that of the National Banking law. It provides that all banks shall file with the County Clerk a sworn statement of the amount of capital stock paid in and names of stockholders; that they shall publish quarterly statements of their condition; that they shall not make dividends unless individual profits exceed all losses that have been sustained; that they shall not loan more than one-tenth of their capital to any person or corporation; and that they shall not use their capital for anything but the banking business. It provides further for the appointment by the Governor of one or more Bank Examiners, to hold office for four years, and confers full authority upon them to examine the banks at such places as they may deem necessary; and if any violation of the law is found out they shall report the fact to the Governor, and he to the United States Circuit Court. If the Examiners find the charges to be true, shall appoint a receiver to wind up the affairs of the bank. The examiners are to receive $5 a day for their services.

THE RAILWAYS. The Atlantic and Pacific Company pay off on the entire road $90,000 per month. At Albuquerque alone $23,000 is distributed among its employes every thirty days. From $6,000 to $8,000 is paid in the general office. It is said the monthly payroll of the A. T. and S. F. Company there amounts to about $400.

There has also been a report published that the Boston and Maine has leased the New Brunswick Railway, but that also has not the slightest foundation upon which to rest. The Boston and Maine will get its present lines into thoroughly smooth running order before thinking of leasing any more lines.

It is quite probable that the Milwaukee and St. Paul will after all furnish the Wisconsin Central Railroad with an outlet from Schleisingerville to Milwaukee and from Milwaukee to Chicago. The Directors of the Milwaukee and St. Paul, at a meeting held in New York a few days ago, appointed President Alexander Mitchell and General Manager Rowell Miller a committee to meet with the officers of the Wisconsin Central and see if a satisfactory contract between the two roads can not be made. The opinion is that an amicable settlement can be effected.

On a recent trip C. S. Perkins, President of the C., B. and Q., rode over twenty-one different roads, his car being hauled on the rear end of each train, the tall brakeman, as he is known, rode on it, and on each road, when leaving it, he handed the brakeman $5 bill and thanked them for their care in handling his car.

A foot-warmer for railway carriages, heated electrically, is being tried in France. The system is devised by M. Em. Corcailas and M. Aeph Elm, the heat being produced by a current passing through lead pipes transversely arranged in the ordinary foot warmer. In the recent trials which have taken place, the current was developed by a Gramme machine and traversed five foot-warmer.

FATHER HUGH O'NEILL. The Priest of St. Patrick's Church Resigns—The Parish Resolutions.

The people of St. Patrick's Parish that assembled at 10 o'clock mass yesterday morning were very much surprised when Father O'Neill stated that he had been requested by Bishop Chastard to resign his position as priest of the parish, and that the present occasion was the last upon which he expected to officiate in that capacity.

The people present were sensibly affected by the announcement and many of them were seen in tears. Father O'Neill briefly referred to his work during the past two and a half years of his residence in this city, and spoke of his connection with the presentation of a case last fall to Mr. James G. Blaine, in which affair he acted as the messenger of a parish fair to deliver the case, voted for the Presidential candidate on that occasion. It was evident that Father O'Neill thought his action at that time, and the multitude of enemies which it raised about him, had much to do with his resignation being demanded by the Bishop, and he is said to have referred to the matter with considerable feeling.

Immediately after mass the parishioners assembled by request of the trustees, and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Whereas, it is with deep feelings of sincere regret that we, the members of St. Patrick's Parish, receive the intelligence of the removal of our beloved pastor, Rev. Hugh O'Neill, therefore, be it Resolved, by the members of St. Patrick's Parish, that in our judgment, we have no justice to our revered pastor for the able and efficient manner in which he has discharged the duties of the office of pastor during the past year, and that we are deeply indebted to him for his kind and courteous to all, and generous to a fault. He labored effectually to cancel and remove the taint of infidelity from the church property. He also recognized the fact that without good schools no parish was complete, and in the recognition of this fact he spared no pains in remodeling our present school for the girls, thus giving health and comfort to our children and the benefit of the best education.

Resolved, that while we deeply regret the irrevocable action taken by the Bishop of this diocese in ordering his removal from St. Patrick's Parish without any apparent cause, we join with our pastor in saying we bow in submission and abide our time in leaving our cause to him that rectifies all wrongs. And be it further Resolved, that while we deeply regret the irrevocable action taken by the removal of our late pastor, Rev. Hugh O'Neill, we hope that the memory and deeds of so kind and loving a pastor shall always find a warm place in the hearts of the members of St. Patrick's parish, and we wish him all good speed in his new field of labor, wherever that may be.

ROBERT B. WALDEN, JAMES C. WALSH, BREXID M. JANTREY, EDWARD HANSEN, TIMOTHY MONAGHAN, JAMES CARROLL, MICHAEL F. CLARKE, Committee.

Father O'Neill is a member of the Philadelphia Diocese, and came to Indianapolis as a temporary supply. It is not known in what field his future labors will be directed.

THE AFRICAN PYGMIES. Their Visit to the Hoosier Capital and the Reception Accorded Them.

Farin's African Pygmies, or dwarf earth men, the first of this extraordinary type of the human race ever seen on these shores, reached Indianapolis yesterday, and in the evening held a private reception at Drew & Co.'s Dime Museum, where they are to exhibit during the present week. The family, which consists of six persons, is accompanied by Mr. W. A. Healey, who went to Africa expressly to procure them for Mr. G. A. Farin. The family consists of a chief, N'Co N. Qui, thirty-five years old, who, although four feet six inches in height, was looked upon as a giant in his own country; his wife, N'Abcey, four feet and six inches in height and forty years old; three sons respectively twenty-four, nineteen and six years of age, and all exceedingly diminutive, and N'Key, twelve years old, the daughter of the parents who ran away and left her after they had agreed to leave their country and go to England. Mr. Healey introduced the little strangers to the select company of gentlemen and ladies invited to the museum, and gave an interesting account of his trip to the interior of Africa in search of his human curiosities. He claimed that his proteges were of the race of pygmies spoken of centuries ago in the legends of the Orient, and who had furnished food for the fantasy of the poets and the livings of the Greeks. They were of the same race of little beings that Herodotus, Aristotle called attention to as existing in the Lybian Desert, and later described and spoken of by travelers who have attempted to penetrate what is known as the "dark continent" of all ages. They are referred to by Koller, Stanley, Schweinfurth, Du Chailin, Bittel, Dapper, De Zanture and other travelers, and they appear to belong to one of the series of dwarf nations which, although now on the decline, extend nearly across from east to west and from north to south of Africa. The strange family appeared very happy with those present, although they could not speak a word of English, as well as the fact that they appeared with little covering to hide their nakedness, they preferring their natural dress to that of more civilized or modern society. They furnished a very interesting exhibition for about fifteen minutes.

Two Fugitives Locked Up. A Winchester, Ind., Constable named Coffin arrived in the city yesterday and caused the arrest of J. D. Seaman on a charge of provoke. He is said to be a lightning-rod shark, and is in reality wanted in the above place for swindling several farmers. Seaman will be taken to Winchester to-day.

Lucius Simmons, a colored waiter, wanted in Louisville for the theft of a gold watch and chain, was locked up yesterday by Patrolman Thornton. Simmons has been working at the Bates House ever since he came here, and made a desperate fight when the officer started to the Central Station with him. A tap on the head cooled him down, however.

"The Sepoy Mutiny." Dr. L. G. Hay will deliver his popular and entertaining lecture upon "The Sepoy Mutiny" in the Tabernacle Church, corner of Meridian and Second streets, on next Tuesday evening, the 17th. Dr. Hay was a missionary in India eight years—Superintendent of the mission press at Allahabad. He became familiar with the languages, customs and religions of the people. He traveled over the entire Ganges Valley, more than 1,200 miles. He was at Allahabad during the Sepoy revolt; saw the burning of the city; lost all his property, barely escaping with his life. He is able to give a graphic description of the horrors of those fearful times, as also the causes that led to the outbreak.

A Relief of Washington. [Hartford (Conn.) Times.] General George Washington slept at Jeremiah Covington's tavern in Wallingford on the night of October 18, 1783, and left in the room he occupied a key, which has since been preserved in the town as a cherished relic. The key is now in the possession of Colonel Dwight Hall, of Wallingford, who has decided to have it overlaid with silver and framed and send it to President elect Cleveland. The gift is to be accompanied by a letter from ex-Senator Charles Yale, telling the history of the relic.

Of a Boy and His First Cigar. A fourteen-year-old son of Mr. B. Branch, of Economy, Marion county, Mo., smoked a cigar and died from tobacco poison in about half an hour. The boy was smoking in a store and soon began vomiting violently. He was carried home and his father went for a physician, about one hundred yards distant, but when he returned with the physician the little fellow was dead.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
