CITY IN BRIEF.

Anthony Cost, of the Twenty-third Ward, is a candidate for Council.

There will be a regular meeting of the Council to-night, President pro tem. Pearson presiding.

James McBride was arrested yesterday by Patrolmen Wilson and Laporte for selling liquor on Sunday.

Mayor McMaster leaves for New Orleans to-day. Justice Smock will serve as Police Judge during his absence.

The ladies of Section No. 3, Second Presbyterian Church, will give a social in the church parlors on Friday evening.

The Mayor will have a large banquet this morning, the police having raided a large portion of the turbulent element on Saturday night.

A partial eclipse of the sun will be noticeable at this point from about 11 o'clock till 1:45 to-day, attaining its greatest magnitude about 12:30.

It was erroneously reported yesterday that Rev. DeWitt Talmage had preached at the Second Presbyterian Church. Rev. Dr. McLeod occupied the pulpit morning and evening as usual.

Rev. William Torrence, of Franklin, filled the pulpit of the Tabernacle Church yesterday morning. His discourse is spoken of in the highest terms by the members of the church and congregation who were present.

Wanted the Cat's Hide.

A cat belonging to William Ranahan, of No. 75 Fayette street, fell dead on the common near his house yesterday morning and the owner laid it in a hole intending to have it skinned to-day. Jack Virvies, a colored man, happened along in the course of the afternoon and seeing the cat resolved to appropriate its hide.

He drew a sharp knife and without a moment's delay began to skin the little animal. Before he had completed his work, however, Patrolman Barlow appeared and sent him down to the Central Station on a charge of desecrating the Sabbath.

AMUSEMENTS.

"ALVIN JOSLIN" AT ENGLISH'S.

Charles L. Davis, the well-known comedian, opens a three nights engagement at English's this evening.

Mr. Davis, as the brave, but awkward farmer, "Alvin Joslin," has made a reputation and a fortune that is the envy of the profession.

He is said to be the best impersonator of the character that appears before the public.

He is a wide-awake American who sticks closely to one thing and has a firm faith in the efficiency of printer's ink.

A penchant for diamonds and seal-skin apparel has caused him to be thought eccentric, but as he is believed to be possessed of about $300,000 he can stand it.

His supporting company is a good one, and the people that are brought in contact with him speak very highly of him.

With the company is one of the finest orchestras and street bands in the country.

The following is but one of the many justly earned notices from the press:

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, Charles L. Davis "Alvin Joslin" Company drew the largest audience of the season at the Opera House last evening.

His comedy, "The Cold Day," was as jolly and as funny as ever, and kept the audience laughing most of the time.

The orchestra, which belongs to the company, was first ever listened to in this city.

The soloists were obliged to respond to repeated encore. Mr. Davis was well supported by the members of his company.

He is a very genial gentleman of the stage as well as on, and knows the secret of making friends as well as of advertising.

"A COLD DAY" AT THE GRAND.

To-night at the Grand Opera House the many Indianapolis friends of Mr. Joseph Arthur will have their first opportunity to witness a performance of his latest comedy success, entitled "A Cold Day When We Get Left."

It comes highly recommended and has been well received elsewhere.

The company that is to present it is an unusually strong one, numbering such well-known comedians as William Welsh, John Gilbert, Charles Burke, Frank M. Willis, John Rice, the "Only Lion," Frank Cushman, Harry Sandish, Miss Gracie Emmet, Miss Lizzie High, Miss Edith Arnold and others.

The piece was first presented at McKee Rankin's Third Avenue Theatre, New York, October 13, 1884 under the name of "A Day; a Plot."

Since then it has been partially rewritten and improved, and the names of two of the characters have been changed.

It is not surprising that considerable difficulty was experienced in selecting a name for Mr. Arthur's play.

It is constructed on the same lines as are the "Fun on the Bristol" and the "Tourists."

A photographer familiar with the instantaneous process might be called the "villain" of the piece, for it is through his enterprise and desire for honor that all the misunderstandings arise.

Another element is a flirtation between two pretty ladies and a steamship Captain and his mate, which results in said ladies being taken on a sea voyage, accompanied by their lawful guardians and the Captain's wife disguised as steamer passengers.

These materials are the groundwork of Mr. Arthur's piece, and the superstructure contains much that is very funny, and which must be seen to be appreciated.

NOTES.

The Zoo will open the week to-morrow with the Leonzo Brothers and their acting dogs, "Lion" and "Tiger," in a strong national drama, preceded by a good olio.

Thomas Nast, the famous "caricaturist," whose works we have all seen and appreciated, will appear at English's Thursday night.

He is ably assisted in his entertainment by Mr. Felban in a "Chat on Art."

The Emmet Guards, in connection with the "Cold Day" company, will give a special St. Patrick's day programme to-morrow night at the Grand Opera House.

Hon. James H. Willard will deliver the address.

The Dime Museum will open the week this afternoon with one of the strongest shows ever given in the city.

In Curiosity Hall will be given Goldie Grace, one of the most wonderful the long-haired marvel—and a host of other novelties.

In the Theatreum, Leopold & Bonnell's "Pleasure Party"—the greatest incorporation of vaudeville talent ever brought together.

Ten cents adm's to all.

The last half of this week the popular comedians, Robson and Crane, return to the Grand Opera House for four performances.

Presenting "Sharps and Flats," "The Queer-ies," "Our Bachelors" and "Boarding House" in the order named.

The engagement is for the benefit of the Ladies' Light Infantry, and the box-seat will be displayed to-morrow morning.

W. G. Hunter, Jr., Treasurer of "A Rag Baby," is impressing the press and play houses on his route as being a young gentleman of diligence in business.

He is not overcome by any sense of self-importance, but delegates to the play all the importance, and he is vigilant in having the public understand that it is a pretty important thing.

Mr. Hunter will have cordial co-operation always in making a success in Indianapolis of the attraction he represents.

The coming engagement of the Emma Abbott Grand English Opera Company at Dickson's the first three nights of next week has already attracted widespread attention.

The operas to be given are "La Traviata," "Mignon," "Hera at Hand" and "The Fairies." In the order named.

The scale of prices will be as follows: Sofa chairs, $1.50; parquette, $1.25; parquette circle and dress circle, $1.

Sale of seats opens Wednesday morning next at 9 o'clock at the theatre box-office.

Roseberry Arrested.

Chief of Police Doyle, of Chicago, sent a telegram last night at 10 o'clock announcing that he had arrested Joshua T. Roseberry, of Lafayette, and that he consented to return without a requisition.

Superintendent Lang and Captain Culbert had received information that Roseberry was in Chicago and they instructed the officers of that city to watch his favorite haunts for his appearance.

The plan was successful, and the prisoner will be returned to this city this evening, Captain Culbert having left on the midnight train to get him.

Flight on a Flatboat.

Hearing the shrill screams of a female coming from an old flatboat on the river near the Washington street bridge, at an early hour yesterday morning, Sergeant Lewis, Patrolmen Walker and Pichel hurried there, and found Dave Stewart and his wife engaged in a desperate fight.

By the time the officers arrived the amiable Dave had got decidedly the best of the woman, having badly disfigured her face.

Both were locked up in the Central Station on charges of assault and battery.

Wanted the Cat's Hide.

A cat belonging to William Ranahan, of No. 75 Fayette street, fell dead on the common near his house yesterday morning and the owner laid it in a hole intending to have it skinned to-day.

Jack Virvies, a colored man, happened along in the course of the afternoon and seeing the cat resolved to appropriate its hide.

He drew a sharp knife and without a moment's delay began to skin the little animal.

Before he had completed his work, however, Patrolman Barlow appeared and sent him down to the Central Station on a charge of desecrating the Sabbath.

MALICIOUS TRESPASS.

An Unfortunate Complication Resulting From a Sudden Spell of Sickness.

Louis Schaffner was arrested yesterday morning for malicious trespass, the complainant being John Eusey, an engineer, of 163 John street.

Eusey found Schaffner in his house Saturday night, in his wife's room, with his shoes off, his wife being in bed.

Schaffner says he met Mrs. Eusey at a cottage prayer meeting on Yandes street Saturday evening, they both being members of the Hill Avenue Church.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Eusey asked him to go home with her, as she was afraid.

He consented, and at the house she insisted upon his going in, as he had the sick headache.

He objected to this, as his shoes were very muddy, but he finally entered the house and placed his shoes back of the stove to dry.

Soon after Mrs. Eusey said she was so sick she must retire, and Schaffner went into the next room while she went to bed.

When he returned a rap was heard at the door, and Mr. Eusey entered. He struck at Schaffner, who parried the blow and knocked Eusey down.

He then fell and Mr. Eusey jumped on him, saying he had been laying for him for six months past.

Schaffner's arrest followed as soon as the police could be called.

He says he is innocent of any wrong and that he understands from Mrs. Eusey that her husband is very jealous.

He says he knew her before her marriage, and that he always regarded her as a perfect lady.

Kipper's Coin.

George Kipper was arrested yesterday morning for vagrancy and visiting houses of bad repute.

Since his arrest some of his history has come to the surface, which is liable to cause him trouble.

A couple of girls, who were also arrested the previous evening, say that he has been in the habit of passing counterfeit money, mostly half dollars, his plan being to enter small stores where boys are waiting on customers, make small purchases and call for the change, saying his train is about to leave.

To these girls he claimed that he got the coin from a man in Cincinnati, but they say that Fred Carney saw the moulds with which Kipper made the coin.

A search will be made to-day for the mould Kipper is believed to have had.

On one occasion recently Kipper took a razor and swore he was going to cut the throat of one of the women above referred to, and this circumstance led to his arrest.

The police say that he is thoroughly bad, although but nineteen years old, and that he is wanted in Kansas City for grand larceny and burglary.

Fell Into Pogue's Run.

A German by the name of Bushong, residing on South street near the J. M. and I. freight depot, fell last night about half past eleven o'clock into Pogue's Run, at the Delaware street crossing, and barely escaped drowning.

He was badly bruised and somewhat dazed. Bushong was taken home by Patrolmen Schwab and Schieck.

Cincinnati and Return Cheap—The German Orphan Festival.

Tickets will be sold at 16 North Meridian street, 139 South Illinois street and Union Depot, by the popular Kankakee Line, to Cincinnati for the 1 a. m. and 11-85 a. m. trains on Monday, Thursday and Saturday March 16, 19 and 21, at $1.00 for round-trip tickets, good returning until March 22.

Kankakee Line runs parlor cars, is twenty miles shorter, one hour quicker and takes you into Grand Central Station, one mile nearer the hotels and Music Hall than any other.
