

THE NEW YORK STORE ESTABLISHED 1853. BLACK GOODS DEPARTMENT.

Ladies will find a very complete stock in this Department, and the newest styles yet shown. We enumerate a few of the leading fabrics: HENRIETTE CLOTHS in All-Wool and Silk Wraps, DRAP DE ALMAS in Silk Wraps, ALBATROSS and KYBER CLOTHS, GAT CACHMERE, OTTOMAN CLOTHS, SURAH SERGES, CANARY CLOTHS, BARRETTS and ARMOUR CLOTHS, GERSTERS and CORDUONETS, BROCADED SERGES and SATINETS, PLAIN and LACE BUNTING, NUN'S VEILINGS, RHADAMES, DRAP D'ETE, CORKSCREWS. Full line of CASHMERE in Blue and Jet Black, of our regular make.

Prices Always in Plain Figures.

PETTIS BASSETT & CO

JOS. A. MOORE, 64 E. Market St., Indianapolis, Ind. Interest allowed on deposits, in sums of $5 and upward. Money to Loan on Improved City and Farm Property in Indiana and Ohio.

BEAUTY.

Wrinkles, Moles, Pimples, Blackheads, Itching, and Soreness, Late Removed.—Complexions Beautified.—The Hair and Brows Colored and Restored.—Flesh Increased or Reduced.—Form Developed and Softened.—Every Facial Requisite.—Interesting circular, testimonials, etc. (sent sealed in plain envelope). Mrs. E. V. YELARO, 2013 Lexington Ave., N. Y. City.

PRICES UNPARALLELED

New style Quadruple Plate 6-bottle Caster $4.50 New style Quadruple Plate 8-bottle Caster 3.50 Fine Quadruple Plate Butter Dish 3.50 Solid Silver Thimble .25

Bingham & Walk

JEWELERS, 12 EAST WASHINGTON ST. New Gloves, New Hosiery, New Underwear, BALBRIGGAN, LISLE, AND ILK. First-class Goods and Lower Prices than ever.

WILLIAM HERLE'S

No. 4 W. Washington St. Established in 1852.

The Sentinel.

SUNDAY, APRIL 12. OFFICE: 11 and 13 West Market Street. SENTINEL TELEPHONE CALLS. Business Office—164 Editorial Room—291

OLD PAPERS.

Good conditioned old papers for sale at this office at only 40 cents per hundred.

CITY IN BRIEF.

There was not a case before the Mayor yesterday. An alligator three feet long was killed near the Vandalla bridge yesterday. The Bauer Co. has reduced its capital stock from $100,000 to $50,000. George Harrow and J. F. Stanton want to be released as securities on Constable Blake's bond. Beginning this week all the engine houses will be painted and a general house cleaning take place. Some damage was done to the stock of A. Kellor & Co. night before last by the bursting of a surface pipe. Chief Webster is contemplating the purchase of a new house wagon to be placed in the 2's engine house. The members of the Red Men and Major Anderson Post G. A. R., will attend the funeral of G. M. Orr to day. Chicken thieves have been raiding roosts of Constable Kasha and several black chickens have disappeared. A Broad Ripple carpenter named Block fell from a house in that village on Friday and was quite seriously injured. Thirty-five young men have joined the new military company and but ten are wanting to make the required number. A $400,000 loan will be advertised by the County Board in order to enable them to take up the loan falling due June 1. The residence at 508 North Illinois street, owned by Mrs. Joseph E. McDonald and occupied by W. F. Howell, was slightly damaged by fire at noon yesterday. The fire

POLICE CHANGES.

Some of the Gossip That is Going the Round of the City. Since the announcement was made that Commissioner Cottrell had declared war against Superintendent Lang, police circles, in which that officer is very popular, have been considerably agitated, and a feeling of uncertainty seems to pervade the entire force. All kinds of rumors are circulated, and among them is one that a practical reorganization of the board will be made as soon as the Legislature adjourns, being inaugurated by requesting the resignations of Commissioners Murphy and Morrison, if not the entire board, and afterwards reappointing Mr. Cottrell, and selecting others in the place of the first two commissioners. Whatever truth there may be in this rumor, it is certain that the expediency of such a step is advocated, and that a pressure has been brought to bear upon the State officers to carry it into execution. The names of the successors on the board are already mentioned with some degree of confidence, and if the statements of certain parties, who claim to be on the inside, can be relied upon, the movement will be made within a few days. Some have gone so far as to declare that a refusal to resign by Messrs. Murphy and Morrison will be followed by the preferment of charges for neglect of duty in the case of the board's affairs. What action Messrs. Murphy and Morrison will take on the proposed resolution asking Lang to resign is not foreshadowed by these members, but it is safe to say that they will not concur therein. This may precipitate a crisis and lead to disagreeable complications, if not to the resignation of the mover of the resolution. In the proposed reorganization the name of Sergeant Somers figures conspicuously as the new Superintendent of Police, and it is argued that he can be promoted to the position over his superiors without violating any rule or precedent, as the board may even go outside of the force to select a Superintendent. The mention of Robert Campbell's name in this connection is hardly necessary, nor is he spoken of as even a remote possibility for the office. He has developed none of the elements found in the successful Superintendent of Police, and his name has figured only as a by-play and for the purpose of distracting attention from Sergeant Somers, whose claims are seriously considered. It is safe to say that the State officers would appoint no man as Commissioner who possess so little knowledge of mankind as to advocate Bob Campbell for a position of such responsibility.

Among the Artists. On a recent visit to the studio of Mr. Jacob Cox, we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. W. H. Hilliard, an artist whose name is well known in the studios of different countries. After some years of absence, he and Mrs. Hilliard are visiting relative and friends in the city. They have traveled much abroad, visiting all parts of Europe, and even going into Africa, at Algiers and Tunis and the desert country of the Sahara, in quest of subjects for pen and pencil. Mrs. Hilliard being European correspondent of the Boston Transcript and other Eastern papers. Settling down in Paris for several years, Mr. Hilliard devoted himself to serious study in the best of modern schools of art, and exhibited in the yearly salons and Royal Academy, selling his works to distinguished art patrons in different places, one of his Royal Academy pictures being bought by Lady Lindsay, well known in London art circles. Mr. Hilliard's last year's salon picture, "Windmill Village of Gieson, Holland," had the place of honor in the grand "Salon Carree," this large room being reserved almost exclusively for important works by French artists. Our citizens will remember the famous exhibition of pictures at the State Fair about sixteen years ago. Through the efforts of Lieber, Hilliard, Cox and Steele they secured one of the finest collections of foreign and American pictures ever shown in this city. Mr. Hilliard was awarded one gold and two silver medals, his works even then being of a high order of merit. Mr. Cox having kindly invited Mr. Hilliard to paint in his studio while in town, his friends will find some gems and art-lovers generally will be interested in some recent pictures taken from his foreign studies. His style is from the French school—broad, free and simple in effects, true to nature in tone and color and most excellent in drawing and values. Dropping into the studio yesterday, we were shown two characteristic Eolland landscapes, of which country Mr. Hilliard is particularly fond. He was very happy in delineating the most picturesque features. There were also some charming studies by Mrs. Lotta Goffin, who excels in painting children and ideal heads. Her color is pure, fresh and sweet in tone, just suited to the dainty darlings looking forth from her canvases. Mr. Cox, always genial and kindly, and ready to acknowledge the merit in his countrymen's work, was particularly complimentary to his chery manner, putting the last touches to a group called mother and child, destined for a near relative. He also showed us some portraits and figure subjects, full of excellent promise when completed. His studio is the resort of choice, artistic spirits, who never tire of talking of the "good old times," and of all the artists who have come and gone here, such as Doughty, James Beard, Whittridge, Eaton, John Aemre, Professor of Painting in Yale College, and others. He alone remains on the old ground, and sticks to his well beloved Hoosier land. He cordially welcomes all who choose to come, and a visit will repay the art lover who turns aside from the every day world to forget dull care in the works of imagination and the bright transcripts of nature in foreign lands that may now be seen there. Louis Henri Reed, our talented home artist, has executed a very creditable plaster medallion of Cleveland and Hendricks. The features and expression of the distinguished gentlemen are portrayed intelligently and creditably. Mr. Reed succeeded quite as well with the poet, Longfellow, about a year ago.

The Hoosier Mineralogist. The Hoosier Mineralogist and Archeologist for April is before us. Each number is an important one to the preceding one. This month's issue gives to its readers for their entertainment much that is interesting. Among the subjects treated of are "A Lost Continent," "Discoveries in Rome," "Discoveries in the South" and "Pre-historic Fossils in Indiana." This paper presents much that should meet with their hearty approval, as it is the only publication of the kind in a State which abounds with relics of every description of a race who held supreme sway over our lands ages before the Red Man. It columns are open to all who have made excavations of mounds in our State, and who wish to make their discoveries known to the public. It is edited and published by Harry F. Thompson, Indianapolis, Ind., at the nominal figure of twenty five cents per annum.

"Innocent Kidd" Matched. Miss Mattie Ferguson, at the matinee performance of "Parlor Match" at English's yesterday, changed roles with Miss Jenny Yeaman, the former doing herself much credit as "Innocent Kidd." Of course her assumption is equally as intelligent, but more content and less broad than that of Miss Yeaman, and this is not saying that the latter's assumption is at all coarse, nor that she offends good taste, but she has the mimicry of the variety stage down to a dot. Miss Ferguson's songs and dances were given with an air of grace, glee and buoyant humor. A marked improvement is noticeable in her acting since her former visit here, which must be highly gratifying to her hundreds of friends at this, her old home.

A Question of Color. On one or two occasions Willie Eckert, the twelve-year old son of T. M. Eckert, of 318 East New York street, and who attends school at No. 9, has been compelled to march down the stairs when school was dismissed with a colored pupil. Acting under instructions from his father the lad refused to march with the colored pupil, and was suspended from school on the ground that the refusal was a breach of discipline. The principal was appealed to, and she carried the case to Superintendent Jones, who sustained her in the act of suspension, but consented to present the case to the School Board. This body held an informal meeting on Friday evening, and after hearing the facts in the case ruled that the suspension was justifiable. Eckert has consulted attorneys and will doubtless bring the matter before the courts in a suit for damages. He holds that the act of making his son march with a colored student is equivalent to compulsory association, and that he claims not only to be innocent, but contrary to law. The School Board appear to have acted upon the advice of counsel in this matter.

Mendelssohn Quintette Club. To-morrow night this famous club, of Boston, will give a concert at Plymouth Church. The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, of Boston, has a history which is almost a record of the growth and development of musical education in America. Organized in 1849, its concert work has been one of the largest elements in popularizing the best class of instrumental music, and its influence has extended throughout the length and breadth of the country, its tours have made it alike familiar in the quiet villages of New England, the leading cities and towns of the Eastern, Middle, Southern and Western States and throughout the great centers of population in the Far West and on the Pacific coast. After having extended its popularity beyond the bounds of the United States and the Canadas by a tour throughout Australia, it has recently returned to Boston with new honors gained by the artistic work of its members. The club were engaged last season by Mr. Henry E. Abbey to travel as soloists in conjunction with Madame Christine Nilsson in a series of concerts given by her in all the large cities of the country.

Practically an End. Prior to the adjournment of the House last night Speaker Jewett addressed the members upon the force of the session, and especially upon the good feeling that had prevailed during the period in which the members have been associated together. He pointed to the fact that the House calendar had been cleared of Senate bills, while many of the bills were still unpassed by the Senate, and pointed to this as an evidence that the House had not delayed the former body in the work which it had been called here to do. In the Senate an attempt was made at 11:45 to suspend the rules and pass the bill regarding the erection of barbed wire fences, but the Senator from Jay, who carried the measure, succeeded in getting the floor, and in spite of every effort held it till the hands of the clock indicated the hour of 12 when the body adjourned. The two houses will be in session again on Monday, but bills can not be passed.

Boys, Slings and Police. From every part of the city come complaints of mischief perpetrated by boys with what are known as "devil slings." Citizens have been struck in the face with them, other children on their way to and from home are mercilessly pelted with them, and in not a few instances women have been the targets for the young miscreants who have no work and who spend their days on the streets with these and other toys. Yesterday in the southeastern part of the city a gang of boys put in the time shooting at chickens and a large number of these were killed. Mr. Frank Ray, of Woodlawn avenue, having lost his fourteen spring chickens in a short time. As in many cases the parents of boys so vicious are either unwilling or unable to control them, the citizens are inquiring what remedy can be had. It is thought should be instructed to arrest every boy found using one of these slings, and let the Mayor try his hand in the art of correction.

The Supreme Court. The following decisions were made in the Supreme Court yesterday: 463. William D. Baker vs. Noah Clem. Allen S. C. Reversed. Howes, J. 12,020. Indianapolis, Delphi and Chicago Railway Company vs. William W. Holmes. Affirmed. Mitchell, J. 12,183. Christian Nietert vs. August C. Trentman. Allen C. C. Reversed. Niblack, J. Howk and Elliott dissenting. 12,243. Samuel Hunter vs. State of Indiana. Warren C. C. Affirmed. Elliott, J. 11,824. Orylle Whaker vs. State of Indiana. Morgan C. C. Reversed on confession of error. Zollars, J. 11,825. James Kennedy vs. State of Indiana. Morgan C. C. Reversed on confession of error. Zollars, J.

A Great Feature Just Added to the Doris Circus. Negotiations, which have been pending for some months past, were finally concluded to-day by which Mr. Doris, of the Inter-Ocean Circus, has secured the greatest curiosity known to the show profession for the coming tenting season. We refer to Knao, the missing link, for whom a contract was closed by cable to day with Mr. Farini, her manager, who resides in London. This valuable acquisition to an already strong show will please the Inter-Ocean Circus in the front rank for rare features and novelties. Knao has been exhibited in a few of the largest cities during the past winter, and everywhere has drawn people by the thousands. She will make her first appearance under canvas when the Doris circus opens their season here Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18.

Letter Carriers' Resolutions. The letter carriers passed the following resolutions Saturday commendatory to Colonel Wildman: Resolved, That we, the letter carriers of the Indianapolis, desire to return to Colonel Wildman our sincere and heartfelt thanks for the kind treatment received during his term as Postmaster. Resolved, That we profoundly regret his retirement from the position of Postmaster—a position which he has filled so admirably, not only three under his charge, but to the public as well. Resolved, That as Colonel Wildman retires from the Postmastership our good wishes go with him, and that wherever he may cast his lot our earnest wishes are that his future may be both pleasant and successful.

The English Kitchen Robbery. The victim of the $180 robbery at the English Kitchen, on South Illinois street, appears to be a man by the name of William Somers, but no clue has been found to the missing money. In this connection Richard May cards the Sentinel to say that Mr. Jaari is not responsible for the robbery, which appears to be a level charge, as no one, to our knowledge, has said that he was. May further states that when he shall have come into possession of his $800 pension money he will have no fear of being robbed, all of which is conceded without argument.

Miss L. E. Overholser has just returned with all the spring styles, and is now prepared to fill orders in the latest spring novelties in dresses or wraps on short notice, Room 5, No. 16 1/2 East Washington street.

Who cuts these nobby three-button walking coats to perfection? Ans.—Norb Landgraf, with 120 South Meridian street.

"The best is none too good" applies with especial emphasis in the matter of gentlemen's apparel. Get the best in cut and manufacture, you save money and tend toward respectability. Egan & Treat are artistic tailors that can not be matched outside of New York.

The Mendelssohn Quintet Club, of Boston, gives one performance at Plymouth Church Monday night, April 13. They are brought here under the auspices of the Ladies' Matinee Musical and should be largely patronized.

Summer Contrainances. Provide yourself with a Quick Meal Gasoline Stove. It has been sold here for three years, and consequently thoroughly tested. We will soon have in the change slide lever valve "Single Generator," which lights like gas. Also, you'll need an Ice King Refrigerator, in either the Range or Omaha Cool stove. These are the best in the market. P. M. PUSELL & SON, 84 East Washington street.

First grand opening of the X 10 U. S. No. 494 Virginia avenue, will take place Tuesday evening, April 14. Finest band in the city will be in attendance. Free lunch served to all. The finest saloon ever opened in the city. Everybody invited. F. CATALINI, Proprietor. P. F. DAUGHERTY, at the Bar.

POLICE CHANGES.

Some of the Gossip That is Going the Round of the City. Since the announcement was made that Commissioner Cottrell had declared war against Superintendent Lang, police circles, in which that officer is very popular, have been considerably agitated, and a feeling of uncertainty seems to pervade the entire force. All kinds of rumors are circulated, and among them is one that a practical reorganization of the board will be made as soon as the Legislature adjourns, being inaugurated by requesting the resignations of Commissioners Murphy and Morrison, if not the entire board, and afterwards reappointing Mr. Cottrell, and selecting others in the place of the first two commissioners. Whatever truth there may be in this rumor, it is certain that the expediency of such a step is advocated, and that a pressure has been brought to bear upon the State officers to carry it into execution. The names of the successors on the board are already mentioned with some degree of confidence, and if the statements of certain parties, who claim to be on the inside, can be relied upon, the movement will be made within a few days. Some have gone so far as to declare that a refusal to resign by Messrs. Murphy and Morrison will be followed by the preferment of charges for neglect of duty in the case of the board's affairs. What action Messrs. Murphy and Morrison will take on the proposed resolution asking Lang to resign is not foreshadowed by these members, but it is safe to say that they will not concur therein. This may precipitate a crisis and lead to disagreeable complications, if not to the resignation of the mover of the resolution. In the proposed reorganization the name of Sergeant Somers figures conspicuously as the new Superintendent of Police, and it is argued that he can be promoted to the position over his superiors without violating any rule or precedent, as the board may even go outside of the force to select a Superintendent. The mention of Robert Campbell's name in this connection is hardly necessary, nor is he spoken of as even a remote possibility for the office. He has developed none of the elements found in the successful Superintendent of Police, and his name has figured only as a by-play and for the purpose of distracting attention from Sergeant Somers, whose claims are seriously considered. It is safe to say that the State officers would appoint no man as Commissioner who possess so little knowledge of mankind as to advocate Bob Campbell for a position of such responsibility.

Among the Artists. On a recent visit to the studio of Mr. Jacob Cox, we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. W. H. Hilliard, an artist whose name is well known in the studios of different countries. After some years of absence, he and Mrs. Hilliard are visiting relative and friends in the city. They have traveled much abroad, visiting all parts of Europe, and even going into Africa, at Algiers and Tunis and the desert country of the Sahara, in quest of subjects for pen and pencil. Mrs. Hilliard being European correspondent of the Boston Transcript and other Eastern papers. Settling down in Paris for several years, Mr. Hilliard devoted himself to serious study in the best of modern schools of art, and exhibited in the yearly salons and Royal Academy, selling his works to distinguished art patrons in different places, one of his Royal Academy pictures being bought by Lady Lindsay, well known in London art circles. Mr. Hilliard's last year's salon picture, "Windmill Village of Gieson, Holland," had the place of honor in the grand "Salon Carree," this large room being reserved almost exclusively for important works by French artists. Our citizens will remember the famous exhibition of pictures at the State Fair about sixteen years ago. Through the efforts of Lieber, Hilliard, Cox and Steele they secured one of the finest collections of foreign and American pictures ever shown in this city. Mr. Hilliard was awarded one gold and two silver medals, his works even then being of a high order of merit. Mr. Cox having kindly invited Mr. Hilliard to paint in his studio while in town, his friends will find some gems and art-lovers generally will be interested in some recent pictures taken from his foreign studies. His style is from the French school—broad, free and simple in effects, true to nature in tone and color and most excellent in drawing and values. Dropping into the studio yesterday, we were shown two characteristic Eolland landscapes, of which country Mr. Hilliard is particularly fond. He was very happy in delineating the most picturesque features. There were also some charming studies by Mrs. Lotta Goffin, who excels in painting children and ideal heads. Her color is pure, fresh and sweet in tone, just suited to the dainty darlings looking forth from her canvases. Mr. Cox, always genial and kindly, and ready to acknowledge the merit in his countrymen's work, was particularly complimentary to his chery manner, putting the last touches to a group called mother and child, destined for a near relative. He also showed us some portraits and figure subjects, full of excellent promise when completed. His studio is the resort of choice, artistic spirits, who never tire of talking of the "good old times," and of all the artists who have come and gone here, such as Doughty, James Beard, Whittridge, Eaton, John Aemre, Professor of Painting in Yale College, and others. He alone remains on the old ground, and sticks to his well beloved Hoosier land. He cordially welcomes all who choose to come, and a visit will repay the art lover who turns aside from the every day world to forget dull care in the works of imagination and the bright transcripts of nature in foreign lands that may now be seen there. Louis Henri Reed, our talented home artist, has executed a very creditable plaster medallion of Cleveland and Hendricks. The features and expression of the distinguished gentlemen are portrayed intelligently and creditably. Mr. Reed succeeded quite as well with the poet, Longfellow, about a year ago.

The Hoosier Mineralogist. The Hoosier Mineralogist and Archeologist for April is before us. Each number is an important one to the preceding one. This month's issue gives to its readers for their entertainment much that is interesting. Among the subjects treated of are "A Lost Continent," "Discoveries in Rome," "Discoveries in the South" and "Pre-historic Fossils in Indiana." This paper presents much that should meet with their hearty approval, as it is the only publication of the kind in a State which abounds with relics of every description of a race who held supreme sway over our lands ages before the Red Man. It columns are open to all who have made excavations of mounds in our State, and who wish to make their discoveries known to the public. It is edited and published by Harry F. Thompson, Indianapolis, Ind., at the nominal figure of twenty five cents per annum.

"Innocent Kidd" Matched. Miss Mattie Ferguson, at the matinee performance of "Parlor Match" at English's yesterday, changed roles with Miss Jenny Yeaman, the former doing herself much credit as "Innocent Kidd." Of course her assumption is equally as intelligent, but more content and less broad than that of Miss Yeaman, and this is not saying that the latter's assumption is at all coarse, nor that she offends good taste, but she has the mimicry of the variety stage down to a dot. Miss Ferguson's songs and dances were given with an air of grace, glee and buoyant humor. A marked improvement is noticeable in her acting since her former visit here, which must be highly gratifying to her hundreds of friends at this, her old home.

A Question of Color. On one or two occasions Willie Eckert, the twelve-year old son of T. M. Eckert, of 318 East New York street, and who attends school at No. 9, has been compelled to march down the stairs when school was dismissed with a colored pupil. Acting under instructions from his father the lad refused to march with the colored pupil, and was suspended from school on the ground that the refusal was a breach of discipline. The principal was appealed to, and she carried the case to Superintendent Jones, who sustained her in the act of suspension, but consented to present the case to the School Board. This body held an informal meeting on Friday evening, and after hearing the facts in the case ruled that the suspension was justifiable. Eckert has consulted attorneys and will doubtless bring the matter before the courts in a suit for damages. He holds that the act of making his son march with a colored student is equivalent to compulsory association, and that he claims not only to be innocent, but contrary to law. The School Board appear to have acted upon the advice of counsel in this matter.

Mendelssohn Quintette Club. To-morrow night this famous club, of Boston, will give a concert at Plymouth Church. The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, of Boston, has a history which is almost a record of the growth and development of musical education in America. Organized in 1849, its concert work has been one of the largest elements in popularizing the best class of instrumental music, and its influence has extended throughout the length and breadth of the country, its tours have made it alike familiar in the quiet villages of New England, the leading cities and towns of the Eastern, Middle, Southern and Western States and throughout the great centers of population in the Far West and on the Pacific coast. After having extended its popularity beyond the bounds of the United States and the Canadas by a tour throughout Australia, it has recently returned to Boston with new honors gained by the artistic work of its members. The club were engaged last season by Mr. Henry E. Abbey to travel as soloists in conjunction with Madame Christine Nilsson in a series of concerts given by her in all the large cities of the country.

Practically an End. Prior to the adjournment of the House last night Speaker Jewett addressed the members upon the force of the session, and especially upon the good feeling that had prevailed during the period in which the members have been associated together. He pointed to the fact that the House calendar had been cleared of Senate bills, while many of the bills were still unpassed by the Senate, and pointed to this as an evidence that the House had not delayed the former body in the work which it had been called here to do. In the Senate an attempt was made at 11:45 to suspend the rules and pass the bill regarding the erection of barbed wire fences, but the Senator from Jay, who carried the measure, succeeded in getting the floor, and in spite of every effort held it till the hands of the clock indicated the hour of 12 when the body adjourned. The two houses will be in session again on Monday, but bills can not be passed.

Boys, Slings and Police. From every part of the city come complaints of mischief perpetrated by boys with what are known as "devil slings." Citizens have been struck in the face with them, other children on their way to and from home are mercilessly pelted with them, and in not a few instances women have been the targets for the young miscreants who have no work and who spend their days on the streets with these and other toys. Yesterday in the southeastern part of the city a gang of boys put in the time shooting at chickens and a large number of these were killed. Mr. Frank Ray, of Woodlawn avenue, having lost his fourteen spring chickens in a short time. As in many cases the parents of boys so vicious are either unwilling or unable to control them, the citizens are inquiring what remedy can be had. It is thought should be instructed to arrest every boy found using one of these slings, and let the Mayor try his hand in the art of correction.

The Hoosier Mineralogist. The Hoosier Mineralogist and Archeologist for April is before us. Each number is an important one to the preceding one. This month's issue gives to its readers for their entertainment much that is interesting. Among the subjects treated of are "A Lost Continent," "Discoveries in Rome," "Discoveries in the South" and "Pre-historic Fossils in Indiana." This paper presents much that should meet with their hearty approval, as it is the only publication of the kind in a State which abounds with relics of every description of a race who held supreme sway over our lands ages before the Red Man. It columns are open to all who have made excavations of mounds in our State, and who wish to make their discoveries known to the public. It is edited and published by Harry F. Thompson, Indianapolis, Ind., at the nominal figure of twenty five cents per annum.

"Innocent Kidd" Matched. Miss Mattie Ferguson, at the matinee performance of "Parlor Match" at English's yesterday, changed roles with Miss Jenny Yeaman, the former doing herself much credit as "Innocent Kidd." Of course her assumption is equally as intelligent, but more content and less broad than that of Miss Yeaman, and this is not saying that the latter's assumption is at all coarse, nor that she offends good taste, but she has the mimicry of the variety stage down to a dot. Miss Ferguson's songs and dances were given with an air of grace, glee and buoyant humor. A marked improvement is noticeable in her acting since her former visit here, which must be highly gratifying to her hundreds of friends at this, her old home.

A Question of Color. On one or two occasions Willie Eckert, the twelve-year old son of T. M. Eckert, of 318 East New York street, and who attends school at No. 9, has been compelled to march down the stairs when school was dismissed with a colored pupil. Acting under instructions from his father the lad refused to march with the colored pupil, and was suspended from school on the ground that the refusal was a breach of discipline. The principal was appealed to, and she carried the case to Superintendent Jones, who sustained her in the act of suspension, but consented to present the case to the School Board. This body held an informal meeting on Friday evening, and after hearing the facts in the case ruled that the suspension was justifiable. Eckert has consulted attorneys and will doubtless bring the matter before the courts in a suit for damages. He holds that the act of making his son march with a colored student is equivalent to compulsory association, and that he claims not only to be innocent, but contrary to law. The School Board appear to have acted upon the advice of counsel in this matter.

Mendelssohn Quintette Club. To-morrow night this famous club, of Boston, will give a concert at Plymouth Church. The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, of Boston, has a history which is almost a record of the growth and development of musical education in America. Organized in 1849, its concert work has been one of the largest elements in popularizing the best class of instrumental music, and its influence has extended throughout the length and breadth of the country, its tours have made it alike familiar in the quiet villages of New England, the leading cities and towns of the Eastern, Middle, Southern and Western States and throughout the great centers of population in the Far West and on the Pacific coast. After having extended its popularity beyond the bounds of the United States and the Canadas by a tour throughout Australia, it has recently returned to Boston with new honors gained by the artistic work of its members. The club were engaged last season by Mr. Henry E. Abbey to travel as soloists in conjunction with Madame Christine Nilsson in a series of concerts given by her in all the large cities of the country.

Practically an End. Prior to the adjournment of the House last night Speaker Jewett addressed the members upon the force of the session, and especially upon the good feeling that had prevailed during the period in which the members have been associated together. He pointed to the fact that the House calendar had been cleared of Senate bills, while many of the bills were still unpassed by the Senate, and pointed to this as an evidence that the House had not delayed the former body in the work which it had been called here to do. In the Senate an attempt was made at 11:45 to suspend the rules and pass the bill regarding the erection of barbed wire fences, but the Senator from Jay, who carried the measure, succeeded in getting the floor, and in spite of every effort held it till the hands of the clock indicated the hour of 12 when the body adjourned. The two houses will be in session again on Monday, but bills can not be passed.

Boys, Slings and Police. From every part of the city come complaints of mischief perpetrated by boys with what are known as "devil slings." Citizens have been struck in the face with them, other children on their way to and from home are mercilessly pelted with them, and in not a few instances women have been the targets for the young miscreants who have no work and who spend their days on the streets with these and other toys. Yesterday in the southeastern part of the city a gang of boys put in the time shooting at chickens and a large number of these were killed. Mr. Frank Ray, of Woodlawn avenue, having lost his fourteen spring chickens in a short time. As in many cases the parents of boys so vicious are either unwilling or unable to control them, the citizens are inquiring what remedy can be had. It is thought should be instructed to arrest every boy found using one of these slings, and let the Mayor try his hand in the art of correction.

The Hoosier Mineralogist. The Hoosier Mineralogist and Archeologist for April is before us. Each number is an important one to the preceding one. This month's issue gives to its readers for their entertainment much that is interesting. Among the subjects treated of are "A Lost Continent," "Discoveries in Rome," "Discoveries in the South" and "Pre-historic Fossils in Indiana." This paper presents much that should meet with their hearty approval, as it is the only publication of the kind in a State which abounds with relics of every description of a race who held supreme sway over our lands ages before the Red Man. It columns are open to all who have made excavations of mounds in our State, and who wish to make their discoveries known to the public. It is edited and published by Harry F. Thompson, Indianapolis, Ind., at the nominal figure of twenty five cents per annum.

"Innocent Kidd" Matched. Miss Mattie Ferguson, at the matinee performance of "Parlor Match" at English's yesterday, changed roles with Miss Jenny Yeaman, the former doing herself much credit as "Innocent Kidd." Of course her assumption is equally as intelligent, but more content and less broad than that of Miss Yeaman, and this is not saying that the latter's assumption is at all coarse, nor that she offends good taste, but she has the mimicry of the variety stage down to a dot. Miss Ferguson's songs and dances were given with an air of grace, glee and buoyant humor. A marked improvement is noticeable in her acting since her former visit here, which must be highly gratifying to her hundreds of friends at this, her old home.

A Question of Color. On one or two occasions Willie Eckert, the twelve-year old son of T. M. Eckert, of 318 East New York street, and who attends school at No. 9, has been compelled to march down the stairs when school was dismissed with a colored pupil. Acting under instructions from his father the lad refused to march with the colored pupil, and was suspended from school on the ground that the refusal was a breach of discipline. The principal was appealed to, and she carried the case to Superintendent Jones, who sustained her in the act of suspension, but consented to present the case to the School Board. This body held an informal meeting on Friday evening, and after hearing the facts in the case ruled that the suspension was justifiable. Eckert has consulted attorneys and will doubtless bring the matter before the courts in a suit for damages. He holds that the act of making his son march with a colored student is equivalent to compulsory association, and that he claims not only to be innocent, but contrary to law. The School Board appear to have acted upon the advice of counsel in this matter.

Mendelssohn Quintette Club. To-morrow night this famous club, of Boston, will give a concert at Plymouth Church. The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, of Boston, has a history which is almost a record of the growth and development of musical education in America. Organized in 1849, its concert work has been one of the largest elements in popularizing the best class of instrumental music, and its influence has extended throughout the length and breadth of the country, its tours have made it alike familiar in the quiet villages of New England, the leading cities and towns of the Eastern, Middle, Southern and Western States and throughout the great centers of population in the Far West and on the Pacific coast. After having extended its popularity beyond the bounds of the United States and the Canadas by a tour throughout Australia, it has recently returned to Boston with new honors gained by the artistic work of its members. The club were engaged last season by Mr. Henry E. Abbey to travel as soloists in conjunction with Madame Christine Nilsson in a series of concerts given by her in all the large cities of the country.

Practically an End. Prior to the adjournment of the House last night Speaker Jewett addressed the members upon the force of the session, and especially upon the good feeling that had prevailed during the period in which the members have been associated together. He pointed to the fact that the House calendar had been cleared of Senate bills, while many of the bills were still unpassed by the Senate, and pointed to this as an evidence that the House had not delayed the former body in the work which it had been called here to do. In the Senate an attempt was made at 11:45 to suspend the rules and pass the bill regarding the erection of barbed wire fences, but the Senator from Jay, who carried the measure, succeeded in getting the floor, and in spite of every effort held it till the hands of the clock indicated the hour of 12 when the body adjourned. The two houses will be in session again on Monday, but bills can not be passed.

POLICE CHANGES.

Some of the Gossip That is Going the Round of the City. Since the announcement was made that Commissioner Cottrell had declared war against Superintendent Lang, police circles, in which that officer is very popular, have been considerably agitated, and a feeling of uncertainty seems to pervade the entire force. All kinds of rumors are circulated, and among them is one that a practical reorganization of the board will be made as soon as the Legislature adjourns, being inaugurated by requesting the resignations of Commissioners Murphy and Morrison, if not the entire board, and afterwards reappointing Mr. Cottrell, and selecting others in the place of the first two commissioners. Whatever truth there may be in this rumor, it is certain that the expediency of such a step is advocated, and that a pressure has been brought to bear upon the State officers to carry it into execution. The names of the successors on the board are already mentioned with some degree of confidence, and if the statements of certain parties, who claim to be on the inside, can be relied upon, the movement will be made within a few days. Some have gone so far as to declare that a refusal to resign by Messrs. Murphy and Morrison will be followed by the preferment of charges for neglect of duty in the case of the board's affairs. What action Messrs. Murphy and Morrison will take on the proposed resolution asking Lang to resign is not foreshadowed by these members, but it is safe to say that they will not concur therein. This may precipitate a crisis and lead to disagreeable complications, if not to the resignation of the mover of the resolution. In the proposed reorganization the name of Sergeant Somers figures conspicuously as the new Superintendent of Police, and it is argued that he can be promoted to the position over his superiors without violating any rule or precedent, as the board may even go outside of the force to select a Superintendent. The mention of Robert Campbell's name in this connection is hardly necessary, nor is he spoken of as even a remote possibility for the office. He has developed none of the elements found in the successful Superintendent of Police, and his name has figured only as a by-play and for the purpose of distracting attention from Sergeant Somers, whose claims are seriously considered. It is safe to say that the State officers would appoint no man as Commissioner who possess so little knowledge of mankind as to advocate Bob Campbell for a position of such responsibility.

Among the Artists. On a recent visit to the studio of Mr. Jacob Cox, we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. W. H. Hilliard, an artist whose name is well known in the studios of different countries. After some years of absence, he and Mrs. Hilliard are visiting relative and friends in the city. They have traveled much abroad, visiting all parts of Europe, and even going into Africa, at Algiers and Tunis and the desert country of the Sahara, in quest of subjects for pen and pencil. Mrs. Hilliard being European correspondent of the Boston Transcript and other Eastern papers. Settling down in Paris for several years, Mr. Hilliard devoted himself to serious study in the best of modern schools of art, and exhibited in the yearly salons and Royal Academy, selling his works to distinguished art patrons in different places, one of his Royal Academy pictures being bought by Lady Lindsay, well known in London art circles. Mr. Hilliard's last year's salon picture, "Windmill Village of Gieson, Holland," had the place of honor in the grand "Salon Carree," this large room being reserved almost exclusively for important works by French artists. Our citizens will remember the famous exhibition of pictures at the State Fair about sixteen years ago. Through the efforts of Lieber, Hilliard, Cox and Steele they secured one of the finest collections of foreign and American pictures ever shown in this city. Mr. Hilliard was awarded one gold and two silver medals, his works even then being of a high order of merit. Mr. Cox having kindly invited Mr. Hilliard to paint in his studio while in town, his friends will find some gems and art-lovers generally will be interested in some recent pictures taken from his foreign studies. His style is from the French school—broad, free and simple in effects, true to nature in tone and color and most excellent in drawing and values. Dropping into the studio yesterday, we were shown two characteristic Eolland landscapes, of which country Mr. Hilliard is particularly fond. He was very happy in delineating the most picturesque features. There were also some charming studies by Mrs. Lotta Goffin, who excels in painting children and ideal heads. Her color is pure, fresh and sweet in tone, just suited to the dainty darlings looking forth from her canvases. Mr. Cox, always genial and kindly, and ready to acknowledge the merit in his countrymen's work, was particularly complimentary to his chery manner, putting the last touches to a group called mother and child, destined for a near relative. He also showed us some portraits and figure subjects, full of excellent promise when completed. His studio is the resort of choice, artistic spirits, who never tire of talking of the "good old times," and of all the artists who have come and gone here, such as Doughty, James Beard, Whittridge, Eaton, John Aemre, Professor of Painting in Yale College, and others. He alone remains on the old ground, and sticks to his well beloved Hoosier land. He cordially welcomes all who choose to come, and a visit will repay the art lover who turns aside from the every day world to forget dull care in the works of imagination and the bright transcripts of nature in foreign lands that may now be seen there. Louis Henri Reed, our talented home artist, has executed a very creditable plaster medallion of Cleveland and Hendricks. The features and expression of the distinguished gentlemen are portrayed intelligently and creditably