

IS THIS POSSIBLE?

Report comes that General Grant's improved condition is due to the fact that he is using a "simple vegetable preparation" forwarded by one of our Consoles from South America...

And yet, if this "simple vegetable preparation" were advertised by any one as a specific for this terrible disease, certainly the Surgeon General would not command it, nor would bigoted physicians prescribe it!

Nevertheless, it is a fact that many of the best proprietary medicines of the day, as the late Dr. J. G. Holland stated in Scribner's Monthly, were more successful than many physicians, and most of them, it should be remembered, were at first discovered or refined in actual medical practice.

Why not? If General Grant is getting better through a simple unadorned vegetable preparation where is the wanted exclusive skill of the medical profession!

Apropos of the suspension of some very prominent members by the Medical and Chiropractic faculty of Maryland for endorsing advertised remedies, the Baltimore American (April 25) says that "when a patent medicine goes on year after year widening its circle of believers, it is a pretty fair evidence that there is merit in it. The regular doctors may ignore it, and expel any of their members who use it, but when they do so their action looks more like envy against a successful remedy than a true desire to protect the public."

The failure in the Garfield and Grant cases, the American thinks, and properly, has knocked professional pretensions higher than a kite. But this is not a singular instance of unprofessional power over "incurable diseases."

That "simple vegetable preparation" now everywhere known as Warner's safe cure, was once an authorized remedy; was pronounced a "god send" to the medical profession for the cure of kidney and liver disorders, malaria, general debility, spring fevers, female irregularities, etc., by many leading physicians, but when the formula was fully perfected and the medicine was put up in bulk and advertised as that every sufferer might know of it and treat himself, then the profession turned upon it and let their patients die rather than to use it!

It is certainly a strange proceeding, but it is on a level with all the rules and regulations of a code which has gone so far as to forbid a physician displaying beyond a certain size his name and profession upon his sign.

But the world moves and merit wins the fight!

Double Wedding—Other Items.

Special to the Sentinel: GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 11.—The double nuptials of the two daughters of Mr. Levi Kahn, a prominent merchant of this city, took place at the Opera House last evening.

Rabbi M. Messing, of Indianapolis, officiating. The high contracting parties were Miss Clara to Lee R. Kahn, of Brazil, Ind., and Miss Anna to Morris Weller, of Farmland, Ind. The brides were elegantly attired in full evening dress of light gray silk trimmed with oriental lace; the grooms in the customary black. The brides were the recipients of numerous costly and elegant presents, and received about 100 congratulatory messages from absent friends.

The dresses of some of the visiting friends were elegant in the extreme. Guests were present from Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Portland, Louisville, Fort Wayne, Union City, Hartford City, Brazil and Farmland. About 200 guests sat down to an elegant repast, served in the Opera House. The newly married folks left on the midnight train for Indianapolis and other points East.

Mr. Beverage, the successful contestant, returned here this morning and was met at the depot by the Cadet Corps and escorted to the College, where speeches were made by Professor Carhart, Dr. Martin and Mayor McClary.

Red Wright, the alleged train robber, was placed in jail here Sabbath afternoon and forwarded to Bloomington at midnight.

The case of Latham Adams against the Vandavia Road for the killing of Maice last winter, at Reedsville crossing, was compromised to-day by the railroad company paying them $1,400.

A Polygamist's Speech When Brought Up to be Sentenced. SALT LAKE, Utah, May 11.—When Angus Cannon, President of this "State," was called up for sentence yesterday, he said he was conscious of having violated no law. His conscience was serene. He had obeyed the Edmunds law as he understood it; that is, while living in the same house with his wives, he had had intercourse with but one. He loved his children, and was gratified to hear the court say the law had made all his children equal heirs. He inferred from this that in case he died his children would be equal heirs before the law, and he thought in view of this fact it was unjust to brand him a criminal for eating with them and their mothers at table. His record was before the country, and his heart and conscience were visible to God, who created him. The record of his life in contact with this people (here he turned and waved his hand to the crowd) bore him up to receive such sentence as the court should impose. He felt pleased also that the court had stated that his conduct towards his respective wives since the passage of the Edmunds bill should be taken into consideration when sentence was being passed. He would now submit and bow to the decrees of the Court, trusting to be able to bear up under any sentence it might inflict in such a manner as to give evidence to his children that he had not lost his manhood. Cannon's speech was received with great applause, which the Marshal had to check. When the Court asked Cannon if he declined to make any promise in regard to the future, he replied: "I have never been in the habit of making to children promises lest they should fail."

Reduced to Thirteen. NEW YORK, May 11.—The fifteen men who entered the six days' roller skating match were reduced to the unlucky number of thirteen soon after 6 o'clock this morning. Noremac, finding that the roller skates were too much for him, retired from the race at 1:49 a. m., after skating sixteen miles. Small, who had entered the contest for the sole purpose of beating Skinner, of Boston, in the record for the first twenty-four hours, left the track at 6:30 a. m. Small was in poor form and could not have remained on the track longer than two or three days. The thirteen who remained kept up the race. Francis, the colored boy, who is backed by Boss Cobb, the colored sport from Boston, is perhaps the least at home on the rollers of any of the contestants, Harriman excepted. Small, a new but little effort and is regarded as one of the favorites. There was but a small attendance in the Garden this morning.

SINKING OF A BELGIAN STEAMER.

Crushed by Ice in the Gulf of St. Lawrence Goes Down With a Valuable Cargo—Passengers and Crew Saved.

HALIFAX, May 11.—The White Cross Line Belgian steamer Helvetia, 1,161 tons, with a general cargo, which started from Antwerp on April 25 for Montreal, was sunk off Gasterie, Cape Breton, on Saturday. This is the fourth steamer of that line which has been lost in as many years. The steamer August C. Andre sailed from New York for Antwerp and was never heard of. In the fall of 1883 the Herman Ludwig sailed from Montreal for Antwerp with a crew of thirty men and a valuable cargo and that was the last that was heard of her. Only thirteen months ago the Daniel Steinmann was crushed on the rocks at Sambro Islands and 124 lives were lost. The Helvetia makes the fourth vessel that has met with disaster. A rather remarkable coincidence is that Captain Schoonhoven, who commanded the Daniel Steinmann, was also in command of the Helvetia, and this was the first passage across the Atlantic which he has made since the wreck of the Steinmann.

The Helvetia arrived in the Gulf of St. Lawrence over a week ago, and had been knocking about in the ice for seven or eight days. Her beams were stove in, and she was otherwise damaged by the ice. She was leaning badly on Friday. Captain Schoonhoven left Cape Ray and bore her up for Spry Bay, having all the while to do to keep the ship afloat. On Saturday a heavy sea sprang up, and he hailed the Allan Line steamer Acadia, which was passing, while on a voyage from Halifax to Sydney. The Acadia took the Helvetia in tow and headed for Louisbourg, but was not able to get before Captain Schoonhoven signalled that she was sinking. Boats were lowered and the passengers and crew got into them as soon as possible, but none too soon. The last boat had hardly got clear before the Helvetia careened over and sunk. The steamer Acadia then put back to St. John's and landed the survivors at Port Hope. Captain Farquar of the sealing steamer George Shattuck, this morning reports that he never knew of such enormous quantities of ice off the coast.

The Helvetia carried a cargo valued at $400,000 and sank in deep water.

Insolvent Foresters.

TERRE HAUTE, May 11.—The Evening Gazette has the following: "The United Order of Foresters has been declared insolvent. The membership has been dwindling for some time and its liabilities have accumulated so fast that these steps became necessary. It was determined by the Grand Lodge to make such application to some court, and Charles Bliss, of New York, the Supreme Chief Ranger, made the application to Judge Davis, acting Judge of the Vigo County Circuit Court, who granted the application and appointed J. E. Tomes, of this city, receiver. The insolvency was not brought about by any discrepancies or shortages. The liabilities are about $40,000. There are fifteen to twenty deaths losses remaining unpaid, aggregating $57,000. The assets will be very small."

A Secret Marriage.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The fact has just leaked out that Horace B. Wallack, the grandson of the actor, Lester Wallack, was married last November to Miss Madge D. Fling, who comes of an old Philadelphia family. She is a cousin of George Howell, of the banking firm of Decker, Howell & Co., and has about a quarter of a million dollars in her own right. The marriage was quiet until early last week, when the couple told the lady's mother, and then went to Boston and told Mr. Wallack, the elder. The latter was greatly astonished. The young couple were forgiven on all sides and are now stopping at Lester Wallack's residence at Stamford, Conn.

Injunction Dissolved and Suit Withdrawn.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The suit brought by the Musical Mutual Protective Union against the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, to show cause why an injunction should not be granted to restrain the Steamship Company from landing in this country a band of forty foreign musicians, was up to day in the Supreme Court. This is intended as a test case under the act of Congress passed last June, prohibiting the importation of foreigners to perform labor in the United States. As it was shown that the musicians had landed already in Philadelphia, the Court dissolved the injunction and allowed the suit to be withdrawn.

A Dastardly Assault.

MUSCATINE, Iowa, May 11.—An assault was committed last night on the house of B. W. Lord. Nine rocks were simultaneously thrown against the house, five smashing through the windows with great force. One struck a bed within three inches of the head of Mr. Lord's child. Lord has recently been employed as the custodian of seventy-five acres of wheat raised by the temperance alliance, and a week ago was personally assaulted with murderous intent. Mayor Wallace will offer a reward of $50 for the apprehension of any of the perpetrators of the outrage.

A Runaway Couple.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., May 11.—A runaway couple from Konta were captured here Saturday night by the father of the girl, but they refused to return home except on the condition that they might be married there. The young man's name was Hayworth and the girl was known as Miss Kern.

House and Three Children Burned.

ST. LOUIS, May 11.—A special from Jefferson City, Mo., to the Post-Dispatch says that during the absence of Henry Stevens and his wife from their home, three miles south of Jefferson City, on Saturday last, the house burned down and two of their children perished in the flames, and a third child escaped.

Illinois Senatorship.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 11.—In the joint session of the Legislature only a few scattering votes were cast for United States Senator.

Noble Blood!

In England it is considered a grand thing to belong to the nobility and to have in your veins what is called "noble blood." But it often happens that the blood of a nobleman is not as good as that of a vigorous man who takes care of the nobleman's cows and pigs. Truly noble blood is that which is enriched with iron, and circulates in healthy bodies. Rev. W. B. Smith, Grafton, Mass., says: "I used Brown's Iron Bitters for a low state of blood, and derived great benefit."

THE BRIDE OF A NIGHT.

How a Chicago Girl Explains Her Sudden Marriage and Sudden Separation.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Mrs. Bertha Odgers has addressed a letter to a certain detective agency here, exonerating them and her aunt, Mrs. Dr. Sarah Hackett Stevenson, from all blame for her arrest at the Palmer House on the night of April 15. On that evening Bertha Shoop, who was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Stevenson, at the corner of Erie street and Dearborn avenue, left the house in the absence of Mrs. Stevenson. The detectives found the young lady at the Palmer House, registered as the wife of George P. Odgers, of Polo, Ill. Upon the refusal of Odgers to produce the marriage papers warrants were issued for the arrest of the couple, and they were taken into custody by the detectives.

The matter, so the letter states, was speedily cleared up by proving the marriage, and the parties were released, agreeing to a temporary separation "by the way of a trial of their affection" for each other. In her communication Mrs. Odgers says she and her husband were not "dragged off to a sweat-box," as reported in some of the Chicago papers, nor treated cruelly or unkindly by the detectives. The version of the affair as originally published was that Mr. and Mrs. Odgers were dragged from their bridal chamber in the dead of night after the doors of the apartment had been broken in by detectives under instructions from Mrs. Stevenson. The young lady is still in her aunt's care.

OBITUARY.

Death of Wayman Crow, a Prominent and Well-Known St. Louis Merchant.

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—Wayman Crow, one of the oldest and most prominent and best known merchants of St. Louis, died to-day, aged seventy-seven years. Mr. Crow was born in Harford, Ky., came here in 1835, established the firm of Crow & Tevis, which was subsequently changed to Crow, Moore & Co., and is now an early day trader, having all the while to do to keep the ship afloat. On Saturday a heavy sea sprang up, and he hailed the Allan Line steamer Acadia, which was passing, while on a voyage from Halifax to Sydney. The Acadia took the Helvetia in tow and headed for Louisbourg, but was not able to get before Captain Schoonhoven signalled that she was sinking. Boats were lowered and the passengers and crew got into them as soon as possible, but none too soon. The last boat had hardly got clear before the Helvetia careened over and sunk. The steamer Acadia then put back to St. John's and landed the survivors at Port Hope. Captain Farquar of the sealing steamer George Shattuck, this morning reports that he never knew of such enormous quantities of ice off the coast.

KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY Cures a Terrible Case of Gravel When Other Help Failed.

What is Gravel? It causes it, and who are most liable to it? It is frequently attended with acute pain, and unless relief can be found, produces inflammation and death. Both sexes and all ages are liable to it, although men who have reached or passed middle age are its most common victims. Nothing is more urgently needed than a reliable medicine for gravel, as the disease seems on the increase, and we are glad to say that such a specific is now before the public in the form of DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY, of Rondout, N. Y. We put in evidence the following letter, selected from many similar communications.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., March, 1884.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY, Dear Sir:—You have a right to know, and I desire the public to know, my experience with Gravel, and my remarkable recovery, through the use of your "FAVORITE REMEDY." I am a carpenter living in this place, and there are plenty of witnesses to the truth of what I say. My first comparatively slight attack of Gravel was in the year 1878. It passed away, and I had little more trouble until last July, 1883. One day when at work in my shop I was suddenly seized with a keen and terrible pain in my left side. I consulted two physicians at once. One said: "I can do nothing for you. Your case is incurable." I was frightened and went to the second, who said little, but gave me a prescription. It did no good. Then began a series of experiences, the agony and horror of which words can not depict. Think of it! I was sometimes taken in the street, and fell, with my head on the sidewalk, in the walk. It was death in life. Thank Heaven I then heard of "KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY," through Mr. P. P. Cooper. I had not used half a bottle when I passed three stones in succession, one of which was nearly one-half an inch long. I persevered with the medicine, the symptoms gradually abated, and I have had no more trouble since. I am well, thanks to you and "FAVORITE REMEDY." Yours most gratefully, JAMES B. KENNEDY.

What "FAVORITE REMEDY" did in this case it has done in many others. If you desire to do so Address—Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

HER HUSBAND READ THE LETTER.

The Compromising Situation to Which an Intercepted Letter Placed a Married Woman.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 10.—A wealthy manufacturer of this city is said to have retained counsel in an action for divorce. The announcement of the unhappy domestic relations of these people, who are well known, created a great deal of surprise among friends and acquaintances. The culmination is said to have occurred on Thursday, when the husband is represented to have ordered his wife to leave the house at once, after he had read aloud to her a letter that had happened to come into his hands, and which is said to have been from a railroad official connected with a Pennsylvania corporation. It is said to have covered several pages and to have contained damaging evidence. The wife is reported to have swooned before the letter was concluded, but as soon as she revived the husband continued the missive. She left the house and sought refuge with a female friend. Various persons of prominence are alleged to be compromised in the affair. The lady is a beauty in face and figure and member of a musical society, and has appeared on the amateur stage.

Strange Actions of Masked Men.

OSWEGO, N. Y., May 10.—Early Saturday night two masked men entered the house of F. S. Thrall, in this city, during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Thrall at church. One of the daughters was sitting at the piano playing, when one of the men approached her, and under penalty of death, commanded her to keep quiet, sit then cut off her hair and clothing, saying he wanted to be revenged on her father. They took some articles of silverware, and left the house without doing the child further harm.

Drowned On Blackwell's Island.

NEW YORK, May 10.—A party of young people started out from the New York City Yacht Club flat in the eighteen-foot sloop Love Star this morning. Off Blackwell's Island, one of the party lost his hat. In an effort to put the boat around, she was upset, and William Willis, of Seventh street and First avenue, was drowned. The eight others were saved.

A Thief Shot and Killed.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 10.—Thomas Green, a negro thief, was shot and killed to-night, at midnight, by Police Officer Thomas Jackson. Green was in the act of stealing a bale of cotton when fired upon by the policeman.
