

RIEL ROUTED.

Batonche Captured by Middleton's Men and the Rebels Driven Out.

BATOCHE, May 13, via CLARK'S CROSSING — Batonche has fallen. The rebels have fled, being driven from their rifle pits and ambush at the point of the bayonet. The charge was gallantly made by the Grenadiers. Riel sent a messenger to General Middleton, early in the day, saying: "If you persist in firing upon houses containing our women and children, we will massacre the prisoners." The General, in reply, told him to gather his women and children into one house, and it would not be fired upon. Later Riel sent an answer thanking Middleton for his humane promise to save the women and children, but afterward, as a general attack was being made, he sent another message, saying he did not like war, but unless the troops retired his original intention of massacring the prisoners would be adhered to, but it came too late. The charge had already commenced, and in a few minutes the rebels were scattered and the prisoners rescued. The following is the list of casualties to-day:

Killed—Captain John French, scout; Lieutenant French, Royal Grenadiers; Captain Brown, Boulton's troops; W. H. Kepper, Burveyors corps; Private Frazer, Ninetieth; Private Hardesty, Ninetieth.

Wounded—Captain Gilles Private Young, Sergeant Major Watson and Sergeant Jaques, of the Ninetieth, all slightly; Lieutenant Hellwell, Corporal Hellwell, Privates Quigley and Barton, Midland Battalion; Major Dawson, Lieutenant Laidlaw, Private Quigley, Cook, Yawson, Barber and Marshall Grenadiers, more seriously. Father Koonin was found in his house at Batonche wounded, it is believed by the rebels, but not seriously.

The following are the names of the prisoners rescued from the rebels: Lush, Peter and William Tompkins, McKenna, Astley, Ross and McConnell.

Colonel Osborne Smith and his detachment arrived in Edmonton the same day General Strange left. A company of the Winnipeg Light Infantry arrived here for Gilschen last evening, and will go north Thursday.

THE VENDETTA.

Three More Victims Added to the List in Bell County, Kentucky.

LONDON, May 13.—Intelligence has just been received that another chapter has been added to the bloody record of the Bell County vendetta, and three more persons sent into eternity by Andrew J. Johnson, the notorious outlaw and apparently implacable demon. Sunday, as Josiah Haskins, Jailor of Bell County, was returning from church, accompanied by several children and Thomas Napier, the party was fired upon by Johnson, who was lying in wait behind a building in the town of Pineville, and Haskins, his little daughter, ten years old, and Napier were instantly killed. The weapon used was a large revolver, the first shot killing Napier and the second killing both Haskins and the child, who was standing behind her father in the wagon, with her hand upon his shoulder. This assassination is the result of a difficulty between Napier and Johnson on the day of the last Presidential election, when Napier was wounded in the eye by a shot from Johnson's ever-ready pistol. As soon as Johnson had committed the bloody deed, he called to his two friends, and they were intruded in Johnson's house at dark last night, defying the authorities and threatening to kill the first person who undertook the arrest of the murderer. A posse is being summoned to storm Fort Johnson and capture the culprit and his command.

These three persons swell the list of Johnson's victims to five, all killed in the past three years.

A SWINDLE.

Italian Laborers Engaged to Work on a Fictitious Railroad in Indianapolis.

CHICAGO, May 13.—About a month ago James and George Abatianso arrived in this city in search of laborers for service at Indianapolis. They enlisted the assistance of Frank Rotunno and Tony Mascariello and established headquarters. Subsequently George Abatianso returned to Indianapolis and James remained here. Within the past two weeks they have succeeded in engaging 150 Italians to work on a railroad that is, it is charged, purely fictitious. Last Wednesday George wired Frank Rotunno, announcing that the complement of 150 required were wanted at once, and closed with a request that they come "to-morrow night." The four men had previously obtained $50 from each of the 150 for transportation and commissions, and when the dispatch was received Rotunno, Mascariello and Abatianso had been paid $825. The party was to have started last Tuesday night, but for some unexplained reason they delayed until last night, when these hired gangsters at the Michigan Central Depot to take the cars. After waiting until 11 o'clock it began to dawn upon them that something was wrong. The police have arrested Rotunno and Mascariello but the resident partner has escaped.

School Commencement—Wedding, special to the Sentinel.

THORNTOWN, Ind., May 12.—Our High School closed here to-night with a grand commencement. The Methodist Church was packed—even the galleries were filled to overflowing. The term just closed has been a very satisfactory one under the superintendence of Professor Hart. The graduating class was small, but of an excellent character—far above the ordinary High School classes. Miss May K. Anstin in her address on "Idealizing the Real" did herself great credit for vivid flights of real imagination. The whole production was replete in good thoughts, and her delivery almost faultless. Miss Ella Cox in her essay "Out of darkness Into Light," in which she compared "the then and now," did herself great honor and the audience general satisfaction. Miss Lydia M. Hoath in her address on "The Lost Constellation" gave the rise and decline of the Ottoman Empire in a manner that attracted much thought. She made a fine impression on the vast audience by her composure and fine delivery. The graduates were greeted with a shower of beautiful flowers. Since the erection of the fine school building the school is doing a noble work, and has a bright future.

William Allen, of Kansas, was married to Anna Waring, of Thorntown, to-day. Miss Waring is one of our best city teachers and has long been in our city schools. She is a lady of exceptional talent and character.

Trouble Expected.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 13.—The Adjutant General is in receipt of information that 6,000 head of cattle purchased in South Texas, by Abner Taylor & Co., and now en route to their Dallas County ranch, have been stopped at Harrold, Wichita County, by North Texas cattlemen, and forbidden to proceed further. Those having in charge the cattle applied to a company of rangers located near Harrold, for protection, alleging that armed men would resist their passage through the country. The rangers telegraphed the Adjutant General for instructions to-day, and were ordered to respond promptly to any call made upon them by the civil authorities, to whom the men in charge of the cattle were referred for aid and assistance. If they refuse or fail, the Government will invoke the military power of the State. Bloodshed and trouble are anticipated when the drive is attempted.

The American Legion of Honor.

COLUMBUS, O., May 12.—The Ohio Grand Lodge of the American Legion of Honor heard reports of officers to-day, which showed the membership in the State to be 1,901. A resolution was adopted instructing the Supreme Representatives to use their best endeavors to secure the passage by the Supreme Council of a law prohibiting the institution of new councils in Southern States, where epidemics are liable to prevail.

The following officers were elected: A. S. White, Columbus, Grand Commander; T. J. Harcourt, Cincinnati, Grand Vice Commander; S. A. Little, Cleveland, Grand Orator; W. H. Tucker, Elyria, Grand Secretary.

Farmers' Review on the Crops.

CHICAGO, May 12.—The Farmers' Review in summing up the reports from its correspondents, says, concerning the crops: "The 11th of May is here, but the weather continues cold. The crops are all late. Winter wheat prospects are the poorest ever experienced. The spring wheat is not all seeded. Oats are not all in, and the corn is yet to be planted. The only favorable fact that we can mention to-day is that there is no present prospect of a drought. The most serious fact is the failure of the winter wheat crop. Its magnitude is not yet fully realized."

Sand Cake.

A German cake which is very good and has the merit of a novel name, is called sand cake. To make it, take six ounces of blanched and pounded almonds, three-quarters of a pound of butter, nine ounces of flour, three table-spoonsful of pulverized sugar, six eggs and the grated rind of a small lemon. Stir the butter to a cream, mix with it the yolk of the eggs and the grated lemon peel, then gradually add the flour and sugar, and mix thoroughly; after this add the whites of the eggs, whipped until quite white and stiff. Work all these well together into a paste, then roll it out and make it into three round cakes, standing them one on top of the other with a layer of marmalade between each. They must bake in a slow oven. When about half baked pour an icing over the top, and put it at once back in the oven to finish baking. The white of one of the eggs used in the cake may be reserved for the icing; it must not be beaten, but it must be vigorously mixed with as much icing-sugar as will make it into a paste about the consistency of thick cream, when it will easily pour over the surface of the cake, and will form a thin coat of icing over it.

Captain Mitchell, of the bark Antoine Sala, New York and Havana trade, came home in May, entirely helpless with rheumatism. He went to the mountains, receiving no benefit, at his wife's request began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla.
