AMUSEMENTS.

"A CELEBRATED CASE" AT ENGLISH'S.

The legend "Standing Room Only" was displayed at the door of English's at 8:30 last evening, every seat in the large theater being occupied by an audience that heartily appreciated the efforts of the actors.

"A Celebrated Case" abounds with startling and pathetic situations. The stage mounting and costuming is very fine. Mr. Bennett Matlack, as the French soldier, "Jean Renaud," plays his part with much power for one so young.

In the second act, where he is accused by his child as the murderer, he displayed much dramatic ability and was loudly applauded. Mr. Patterson as the "Comte De Aubertier" does some very creditable work.

The "Irish Sergeant" of George Gaston is very fair. Madeline Renaud, Jean's wife, was very well done by Mercedes Malairant; "Adrienne," by Little Ada Fleming.

Only five years old, was about the best piece of child acting seen here for some time. The rest of the company play their parts creditably and the performance, take it all in all, is well worth witnessing. Admission 10 and 20 cents.

NOTES.

The Zoo gives attractive performances every night. Matinee to-morrow as usual.

The attractions at the Museum continue to draw large audiences. James Riley, Rice and Barton, Sheridan and Flynn, specialty people, and Joseph Keane and his company in "Solon Shingle" are the stage features, and the curiosities in the lower hall attract much attention.

The Arne Walker Dramatic Company will be the attraction at the Grand all next week, playing at popular prices—10 and 20 cents.

Monday and Tuesday evenings the "Two Orphans" will be given; Wednesday and Thursday evenings, "East Lynne"; Friday and Saturday evenings, "A Celebrated Case"; Wednesday matinee, "East Lynne"; and Saturday matinee, "Fygmalian and Galatea."

Packed houses continue to rule at the Grand, where "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is running, the card, "standing room only," being displayed early every evening. It is by far the best drawing attraction of the season.

people flocking to see it who never go to see anything else. The Draper Company is an evenly balanced, capable one in every way, and their presentation of the play is about the best ever seen here.

Two performances are given each day at 2:15 and 8 p. m. The prices of admission are only 10 and 20 cents, thus placing it within the reach of all. Ladies and children should attend the afternoon performances, and avoid the crush at night.

May There Be Many More.

Mrs. W. A. Musser, of 192 Buchanan street, reached her 47th birthday yesterday, and a number of her friends who were aware of the fact desired to make it an event long to be remembered, and so agreeably surprised Mrs. M. last evening by appearing at her residence in a body.

A pleasant programme had been arranged for the occasion, including dancing, music and progressive enclure, which was carried out in a most complete and satisfactory manner.

At the appropriate time the "groaning table" was relieved of the good things with which it had been so heavily laden. Finally came the hour for each to homeward go, and the "good nights" brought to a close a social event not soon to be forgotten.

The Murdered Peddler.

The name of the man McGuire, who was reported murdered a few days ago in Florida, is Patrick. He was a peddler, and left his wife Anna at their home in Beighwood last year.

She last heard from him on the 10th of January. Beyond what has been published of the finding of his body nothing is definitely known.

A Long Absence.

The friends and relatives of James Simmons, who left London, England, for Indianapolis, in the year 1873, are anxious to learn of his whereabouts.

Any information concerning the missing man will be received at the Central Station, by D. E. Snyder, Secretary of the Board of Police Commissioners.

ST. VINCENT'S FAIR.

Prizes Awarded Last Night—To Night's Attractions.

The fair at Masonic Hall in the interests of St. Vincent's Hospital continues to draw large crowds, the attendance last night being large enough to have comfortably filled a hall three times as large.

A number of prizes were drawn, among them being a large doll by Miss Kate Griffin a banner by J. C. Dalton, a beautiful tidy by J. Petty, a shawl by Mrs. Bower, a table cover, by Mrs. Gorman, a silk apron, by Mrs. William Langdon, and a set of silver spoons, by Mrs. Rosenberger.

The first of the prizes donated by Mrs. Dr. Thomas, will be voted to the most popular singing society, for which the Maennerchor, Lyra, Liederkreis, St. Cecilia Maennerchor, Harmoni Saengerchor and Schweizer Maennerchor are entered.

The voting of the silver services donated by J. E. Eckhart to the most popular railroad man will begin this evening. The candidates are: Colonel D. F. Whitcomb, Superintendent of the Union Railway Company; E. W. McKenna, of the J. M. and I.; J. W. Sherwood, of the Big Four; J. J. Turner, of the J. and V.; General J. E. Miller, of the Pan-Handle; Colonel Wilson, of the I. B. and W.; Colonel Hill, of the Vandalia, and Major J. O. Ewan, of the Bee Line.

The dinner which is being served daily by the ladies at 68 West Washington street is proving very popular, and on yesterday the crowds of ladies who were present were so great as to render it inconvenient all round. The ladies say, however, that this shall not occur in the future, they having made arrangements to accommodate all who may call for dinner. It is now being urged that the fair be continued for another week.

ATTEMPTED JAIL DELIVERY.

Which Was Promptly Nipped in the Bud—However, There'll Be Others.

The last attempt to escape jail occurred early yesterday morning, when about a dozen men, headed by Wall and Sweeney, prepared to cut their way out. They sawed through a heavy bar of iron about an inch and a quarter thick at a point where they were enabled to reach the ventilator. This is composed of sheet iron and was easily cut away.

Having removed this they were thus enabled to enter the loft above the coops, from which place the could have escaped in a couple of hours. Their scheme would have worked well had it not been that Turnkey Jim Miller was posted, and had, besides his assistant, two policemen, all of whom were around. When the ventilator was cut away the men were clinched through it and would have been followed by the rest of the gang had not a negro in an adjoining cell raised a tremendous racket. This brought out the armed force from the jail, and in a few minutes the men were all back and under lock and key in new quarters. There are several "men" now in the coop, and so long as they remain that part of the premises will be closely guarded. The next attempt to escape will probably not occur till next week.

Street Begging.

Street begging seems to be on the increase. It is fostered by giving aid either in money or food. It is no kindness to children to give them aid, as it only confirms them in it. They are sent out by begging families and themselves and their children's children will keep up the practice. Much cruelty is thus done to children, and the needy parents. Several old women are begging. One of them said, "I can make three times as much by begging as by working." A family "going West" has been a week working the streets. Let it be remembered that all such persons should be referred to the Charity Organization Society or the Friendly Society. Lists of reference tickets will be sent on application. CHARITY ORGANIZATION SOCIETY.

The Mexican Orchestra.

All of our readers will remember the delightful music rendered a few weeks ago by the Mexican Orchestra at the Grand Opera House. Everybody was delighted. We understand that an effort will be made to have the company return and give a repetition of the concerts. We wish the movement the full measure of success.

How to Judge a Piano.

Every piano ought to be judged as to the quality of its tone, its touch and its workmanship; if any one of these is wanting in excellence, however good the others may be, the instrument will be imperfect. It is the combination of these qualities, in the highest degree, that constitutes the best piano, and it is this combination that has made the Hazelton Piano the choice of over 200 of our best citizens. At Pearson's Music House, No. 19 North Pennsylvania street, they can be seen in all styles, and are sold at very reasonable prices and on very easy terms.
