THE Genuine Indian Balsam of Liverwort and Hoarhound, is put up in bottles at the low price of 37½ cents each, containing the strength of three ounces of Liverwort, less for the virtues of many other roots and herbs known among the Indians as efficacious in curing pulmonary complaints.

In its unrivalled success which has attended the use of this inestimable Balsam wherever it first been introduced, has obtained the confidence and recommendation of respectable physicians, for the cure of coughs, colds, pain in the side, want of rest, spitting of blood, liver complaint, &c.

To whom it may concern. This is to certify that we have in our practice frequently prescribed Mrs Gardner's Indian Balsam of Liverwort and Hoarhound, with decided good effects: we can therefore, from the knowledge of the materials it is made from, and observation and experience, recommend it as a superior preparation for those affections of the lungs for which it is recommended.

RUSHTON & ASPINALL'S
COMPOUND TONIC MIXTURE.—A speedy and certain cure for the Fever and Ague, remittent and intermittent fevers; prepared from the original recipe. Used with eminent and universal success in 1832, by persons of the highest respectability, as the affidavits, as stated in the annexed certificates.

This medicine is highly recommended, and has been exquisitely used in the above diseases with such entire success, that the proprietor of the recipe has been induced to offer it to the public in its present form in the hope that it may be the means of relieving many of those who are suffering under the scourge of our country. It is a medicine possessing great virtue, and when used according to the directions has never failed of effecting a cure, even in the most obstinate stage of the disorder. It is not at all disagreeable, and persons of the weakest stomach, and children may take it with impunity. Restringthens the digestive organs, creates an appetite, and seldom requires more than one, or at obstinate cases, two bottles to effect a cure. There is neither mercury nor arsenic in the medicine, nor any thing injurious to the human constitution. The proprietors are so well convinced of its efficacy, that they agree to refund the price of every bottle which has been taken in accordance with the directions and has not effected a perfect cure of the fever & ague.

PENSACOLA MANSION HOUSE
NEW CITY, PENSACOLA.

THE subscriber having purchased the lease and furniture of this well known establishment, from Mr Taylor, the late proprietor, will be ready to receive visitors by the 1st of April next.

Numerous and costly improvements will be found in the entire arrangements of the Mansion House. New and more commodious lodging houses will be built, and warm baths will be provided at all hours. A stable will be attached to the house, with good accommodations for horses and carriages. First rate horses and carriages will also be kept for hire at moderate prices, and saddle and race horses, to persons to manage them for the use of which a reasonable charge will be moderately found if watering places, will also be furnished, and so conducted as not to interfere with the comfort and quiet of the boarders. The wines and liquors will be of the best quality, and to ensure a full supply of the same has already been ordered, which will arrive about the 1st of March.

Mr Frederick Hurtel, who formerly kept so popular a hotel at Washington city, will conduct this hotel for the proprietor, who with much confidently assures the visitors of last year, and his friends generally, that they will receive every possible attention; and thereby expects to give satisfaction to all who may favor him with their custom.

The local attractions of this house are too well known to need a long and general description here. The Central Peninsula is the largest naval station of the Government; the general rendezvous of the Gulf squadron; the harbor is at this season crowded constantly during the day with vessels of all sizes, and the view of the Gulf, to the mouth of the bay and the neighboring islands and shores, the abundance and delicacy of the fish with which the waters abound and its proximity to the best Southern markets, give Pensacola the preference over all other places in these latitudes, as a healthful and desirable summer resort.

Royal College of Physicians, London.

THE original Vegetable Hygeian Universal Medicine, prepared by W Makin, Esq. Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, Licentiate of Apothecary's Company, Fellow of Bolt Court Society, Surgeon to the Royal Union Pension Association, Lancaster Place, Waterloo Bridge, and Perpetual Pupil of Guy's and St. Thomas's Hospitals, London.

This valuable medicine, the result of twenty years' experience and unparalleled success in the extensive and highly respectable practice of the proprietor, patronised by the faculty and nobility, and is now introduced to the notice of the American public, at the earnest solicitation of a number of gentlemen of long and high standing in the profession. It is hoped, as a preliminary step, to check the evils and fatal consequences arising from the use of the numerous and deleterious nostrums foisted upon the public by the aid of fabricated proofs of miraculous cures, and other frauds, by a set of mercenary, unprincipled pretenders, so totally ignorant of medical science, that it impossible the monstrous delusion can any longer go down with the intelligent people of this country. These pills, mild and agreeable in their nature, should be kept in every family in cases of sudden illness, for, by their prompt administration, cholera, cramps, spasms, fevers and other alarming complaints, which too often prove fatal, may be speedily cured or prevented. In fact, all those who value good health, should never be without them. NO MERCURY NOR COPAIVA
New Orleans, Nov. 14, 1837.

ABOUT six months ago I had the misfortune to get a secret disease, for which I have applied to several doctors for a cure, and they did not cure me, so now on the above date I put myself under the care of Doctor Rush, and I expect him to cure me. Since that time the disease got worse, so as to break out in large ulcers to the number of six or eight on each leg, and all over my face, and sore throat, and not able to work at the present time on account of the disease; large ulcer on the right side of the throat. I am now putting myself confidently under the care of Dr. Hart, of Paris, to be perfectly cured feb 11 1y JOHN DEAN.

I DO CERTIFY that the above mentioned disease is quite well cured to my own satisfaction, for which I thank Dr. Hart; and moreover I assure that the medicine I have taken makes me fat, and did not injure my health at all; therefore I advise any of those unfortunate to lose no time and apply to Dr. Hart, 121 Canal street, between Dauphine and Bienville streets. Dr. Hart is at home from 9 o'clock A M, until 4 P M. They will find a true doctor for this complaint.

JOHN DEAN, 10 Gravier street.

If any one wants to see me, call at No 10 Gravier street.

JUST PUBLISHED AND FOR SALE AT THE CLARION OFFICE, The Fifth Edition of

ROWLETT'S TABLES OF INTEREST,

TWO which is now added an Average Time Calculator, or, every method for finding the average time on Storage, notes of hand or bills of goods, which are placed at different dates, on different credits, and for various amounts besides a useful and complete Banking Time Table, the best that can be contrived, or that figures can produce within the same condensed compass and size of type.

An advertisement in the book is in nearly the following words:

The high distinction this work has received through the ten Legislative acts prefixed to the title page, is a recommendation in itself, so encomium, and we consider the Banking is necessary more than by way of advertisement, to give a condensed view of some of its peculiarities; for instance, the interest has been computed from, and compared with, what is equivalent to forty-ten sets of tables, examined in the press thirty-five times, and printed from seventeen plates twice thirty-one times, from all which it is evident that even in the single (second) edition of this work, the total of proofs in the preface, that the work must be arithmetically indivisible, and in confirmation of this belief, a premium of two hundred and fifty dollars, is now offered for the detection of an error of a cent in the present or fifth edition, as expressed in the preface, making five large premiums offered for the same error since the first publication in the year 1802.

One of the most conspicuous features of the tables is in the arrangement of the Time and Amounts, which for expeditious reference and popularity, will, the help of the side and index, cannot be excelled; and the utility and ease with which the interest can be found in the extent of general business, without doubling of sums is besides a convenience so essential, that in the estimation of some of the most competent and practical business men and public officers who have made great use of the work, it has been distinguished by the honorable appellation of the "master piece". And considering the infallibility of the method originally adopted in composing the work, and the extraordinary number and variety of the examinations, and tests of every edition it has passed in England, notwithstanding the whole is in stereotype, rendering it safe, the positive assurance asserted by the unprecedented means employed, that the work hitherto been held up and emphatically styled "the most wonderful book in the world," most certainly no man can name a figure work of the same extent, which since the beginning of creation, has had the same number and variety of tests in the same number of editions; no, not one half the number, as is clearly shown in the preface.

Besides, as test and standard, it has been tried and proved in nearly all the bank and public offices in the United States, and by the public generally, during the long period of thirty-five years, yet no error of the calculations has ever been found in print, although continually challenged by the offer of very large premiums.

The book is in fact expressly adopted by all the courts of the Union as a standard of the States as the "rate of calculation for the discount," as also by law for bank interest, according to the book, in used, and in any to arise in part, by the names of the subscribers, and a few of the subsequent purchasers, in the list at the end of the book, is in no position of every class of citizens in every quarter of the United States.

It is moreover well known that, by its nearly check, it has so often detected large errors, long after they were made, by the most careful and most competent arithmeticians, of business, and the absolute necessity for its use, have been extensively manifested upon, as evident, indeed, have been its advantages, and its savings, that, several years ago, whilst the first edition was scarce, and out of print, a great number of second hand copies were sought for, some to a great distance, and purchased at various prices, as they could be occasionally picked up at from $10 to $25 per copy, and some persons have recently declared that they would give $50, $100, and $500 for a copy, if not to be had otherwise, and an individual in the latter instance particularly, having at the same time exhibited a disposition very proud, to several persons present that for $50 it was really worth that money and more, though the saving of his very valuable time, he being a very rich man and in public office.

It is likewise worthy of notice, and indeed proper to inquire, that such is the nature of figure work generally and especially when of the extent and importance of these to be, that had
