COOK COUNTY FARMERS VISIT BARNUM POULTRYMEN

Went to See How the Barnum People Make Biddy Pay Such Great Profits.

The marked success of the poultry industry in the village of Barnum and vicinity has attracted wide attention and numerous visitors in search of information and ideas likely to prove of profit in the handling of their own flocks. It was with such purpose in view that a party of farm bureau community representatives and the county agent last Tuesday visited a few of the principal poultry keepers in the neighborhood of Barnum and Mahtowa in Carlton county.

On arrival in Carlton a call was made on County Agent C. J. Scrivseth who very kindly conducted the party on the round of visits and through his knowledge of the locality saved much time for the party.

The first visit was to the farm of Hugo Anderson, situated on the outskirts of the village of Barnum. Mr. Anderson has approximately 7,000 S. C. white Leghorns. He has gone largely into the day old chick business and this year sold 50,000 of them at prices ranging from 28 cents to 17 cents each. Mr. Anderson's houses are the Minnesota model with the addition of the roof filling of six inches of sawdust between the ceiling and roof boards. No artificial heat is used during the winter and no trouble from freezing experienced. Electric light is used during the short days of winter. The light is turned on and off automatically at set hours. This use of artificial light to enable the hen to pit in a full day and overtime, with resultant increase in egg production, has passed the experimental stage and has fully demonstrated its value. In feeding, Mr. Anderson endeavors to get his hens to take fully fifty percent of their food in the form of dry mash.

He advises a light grain ration in the morning and all the grain that can be eaten for the evening meal. He is firmly of the opinion that a laying hen can not be too fat. In making such a statement it must be remembered that he has in mind the hen of high producing capacity whose whole energy is devoted to the making of eggs and not the common or loafer hen, usually incorrectly fed.

From the Anderson farm the party went to that of Messrs. Bauer and Spengler, located in the village of Barnum. Mr. Bauer is cashier in the Barnum bank but has found time to attend to the wants of a considerable flock of poultry and, finding them highly profitable, has expanded his business to the point where it has become necessary to take in a partner who will devote the whole of his time to the work. Mr. Bauer's houses, too, are equipped with electric lights and are raised sufficiently above the ground level to afford shade for the flock during the summer months. He plans to use movable sections to close the openings in winter and so allow of banking the buildings. His egg returns during the past December amounted to $372 from 390 hens. He has made considerable study of the matter of feeding and is recognized as an authority on the subject.

The third farm visited was that of J. P. Peterson, located near Mahtowa. Mr. Peterson's egg check for June was $240.92 from about 700 hens. His hens have an enviable record of 155 eggs per year. He has sold a considerable number of day old chicks each year and has furnished the foundation stock for a number of the Barnum people. As electric current is not available, he has used gasoline lanterns in his houses to enable Biddy to get about her business bright and early and to continue on the job long after her Cook county relatives have retired for the long evening and night. Mr. Peterson stated that the first month's use of artificial lighting resulted in an increase of nearly 50 per cent in production.

To enumerate briefly the conditions found, it may be stated that neither houses nor equipment are expensive but such as are within the reach of any poultry keeper in this county; practically all the grain and dry mash ingredients are bought and not grown on the farms; and, in at least one instance, the rutabagas and cabbage used are also bought; where electric current is not available, lanterns are used; cost accounts and production records are kept, so it is not a matter of guesswork as to whether or not the business is profitable.

The people have grown, or are growing into the business and are giving it careful study. They do not imagine that they have learned all there is to be known about it and that attitude on their part makes it indeed pleasant to meet with them and to learn from them something of the methods they have used in achieving success.

An account of the Barnum marketing system will appear in the next issue of the News Herald.

UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL OPEN TO ALL CITIZENS

The University Hospital, which is maintained as part of the University of Minnesota, is now open to a limited number of patients at a charge of $15 per week. About fifty beds are available at this rate, which is designed to cover the expense of the patient's board and bed, no fee being required for physician's service.

Owing to the fact that the hospital is comparatively small, there is usually a waiting list of those who wish treatment. The doctors in charge of the work are all members of the faculty of the School of Medicine of the University of Minnesota; and the hospital is an accredited training school for nurses. The accommodation is offered to all residents of Minnesota; and all cases will be received except those having communicable or chronic diseases.

Chris Larson arrived on the America Sunday for a visit with his brothers, Hans and Andrew, and other friends here.

County Farm Bureau Column

Edited by County Agent

Mr. Jorgen Pederson, dairy leader for the Maple Hill community, has called a meeting for next Saturday evening to discuss the matter of co-operative bull associations. There should be a good attendance as the subject is of great importance in the development of dairying in the community. Arrangements will also be made for the community farm bureau picnic to be held the latter part of this month.

Meetings for opening the farm bureau membership campaign for the ensuing year will be held in the several communities during the first week of August. Places and dates will be announced in the next issue.

While Boss Townley is open in his declaration for another go at the enemy and with the same ticket which went down to defeat at the June primaries, negotiation between him and the Democratic powers that be for League support for the Democratic national and state ticket are not entirely at an end. They are still dickering, it is said. One well known Democratic state senator from the southern part of the state said this week that it was of general knowledge that the Leaguers down his way were for "Larry Ho" and the same story comes from a number of League strongholds in the Seventh district. "My opinion" said this southern Minnesota senator, "is that Shipstead, if he comes up again in the fall, will be badly knifed by Leaguers. Larry is going to get a lot of League votes."

A series of Gospel meetings will be held at the Maple Hill school house beginning Thursday at 8 P. M. and continuing until the end of next week. Miss Timmerson and Miss Erickson of Duluth will speak.

DULUTH LOST BY SMALL MARGIN IN ROWING RACE

Thousands of people were gathered on the St. Louis Bay Monday noon to witness the Duuth boat race, and the enthusiasm if the crowd verged to keeneast excitement as the Syracuse boat crew set forth on their mile and a quarter race. But for a poor start Duluth might have won, but as it was Duluth lost by a bare one-fifth of a second, compelling Syracuse to make it in 6:17.

James C. Ten Eyck is coaching Syracuse while his son, James E. Ten Eyck, is coach for Duluth, so it is a case of father against son.

Those who witnessed the race have much confidence in the Duluth team and report that at the end of the race the Duuth boys seemed fresh and untired, while one of the Syracuse men fainted after the race was won. Only a few inches prevented the Duluth boys from winning, and they are not at all worried over the defeat.

The people of Grand Marais are especially interested in the outcome. As one of our boys, Jack Woods, is a member of the Duluth Senior Eight and he has many friends who wish him all success. Jack was made a member of the Junior Eight last summer, and advanced quickly, serving first as a substitute in the Senior Eight and is now a full-fledged member of the crew.

Both crews left for Worchester Monday evening and expect to arrive there tonight. The winning team is to go to Belgium so here's hoping all success attend the Duluth team!

SAMARITAN OFFICIALS TO VISIT GRAND MARAIS

A number of the high officials of the Order of Modern Samaritans are motoring to Grand Marais from Duluth today to attend a meeting of the local council to be held this evening, which will be followed by a reception and dance.

Among those who are expected are: C. E. Lovett, Imperial Good Samaritan of Duluth, Ruben Johnson, Imperial Scribe of Duluth, and members of executive board as follow: O. F. Collier of Duluth, Hon. F. A. Hense, judge of probate of Aitkin, Minn., Ira E. King of Stillwater, Ora H. Clark of Winona, and C. H. Richter, Grand Good Samaritan, of St. Paul. Some of them will be accompanied by their families and they are anticipating a delightful trip for their first official visit to Grand Marais.

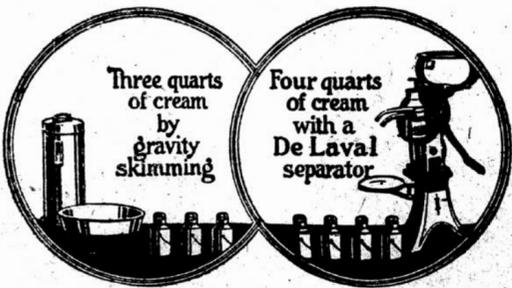

When you hear a woman has educated her husband, it may merely be meant that she has been giving him "pieces of her mind" at various intervals.

"The average citizen's idea of how to run a paper is this: Print the news, always, no matter what it is—but always and only when it is on the other fellow."

Straight talk on Cream Separators by

ED TOFTEY & CO.

Grand Marais, Minn.

A DE LAVAL Cream Separator returns at least 25 per cent more cream than any "gravity method." At the present high butter-fat prices (and they are going up continuously) a De Laval pays for itself in a few months.

No one owning two or more cows can afford to skim by gravity or use an inferior, half-worn-out separator.

We stand ready to prove this if you will give us five minutes next time you are in town

Sooner or later you will buy a DE LAVAL
