Harry Helmerson left for his trap line Wednesday morning.

Miss Helen Rude entertained a few of her friends at her home Saturday night.

David Carriboo has been home sick for several days and under the doctor's care.

Frank Kadonce, brother of Peter Kadonce, died at Fort William Jan. 10th, 1922.

Mrs. Emil Eliason spent the latter part of last week with Mrs. Helga Eliason.

Lawrence Hedstrom is now driving a truck for the North Shore White Bus Line.

Miss Lillian Nelson of Maple Hill left Tuesday morning for Tofte to visit friends.

Miss Esther Arnquist was a passenger on the stage Wednesday for Duluth.

While sawing wood Saturday with a circle saw Andrew Dalbec had his finger taken off.

Wm. Bally is suffering from an injured foot which a hammer fell on several days ago.

Martin Erickson of Maple Hill gave a party for some of the young people last Saturday night.

Mrs. Ole Larson and Gunner Larson left Saturday morning on the stage for Two Harbors.

Mrs. Spooner and Mrs. Andert entertained a number of ladies at the Tourist Hotel Saturday afternoon.

Miss Ella Erickson of Hovland attended the dance in the Happy Hour hall Saturday night.

Andrew Hedstrom arrived on the stage Saturday night after spending several days in Duluth.

The Congregational Ladies' Aid Society will meet next Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Wm. Olson.

The benefit dance Saturday night was well attended in spite of the storm. There were eight pieces in the orchestra.

Peter Stevens and Thomas Louis left Tuesday for Gunflint lake where they will trap for the balance of the season.

Mrs. Frank Wisheop left on the stage Tuesday morning for Duluth where she will visit her husband at the Nopeming sanitarium.

Peter McIntyre, while skidding logs at Jack Dewar's camp, had his foot run over by a dray, which incapacitated him temporarily. He has been spending the week in town.

Paddy Sloane and Franco LeSage were released from the charge of making whisky when their case was called before Judge Morris at Duluth.

Harry Robertson and his mother moved up to Devil Track lake last Saturday close to Mr. Robertson's trap line.

Jack Scott, Jr., broke his leg below the knee last Thursday while he was working on the landing at Scott camp. It was a painful accident and the doctor was at Grand Portage and could not be reached by telephone. Effort was made to get a doctor from Two Harbors, but without immediate avail. Meanwhile, Dr. Harvey Hicks, dentist, was prevailed upon to give temporary aid by bringing the leg into place as nearly as could be done without a permanent set, and giving some relief until the doctor could get there to put the leg in a cast.

Armon Speik, who has been employed as a mechanic at the Motor Inn, left on the stage for Duluth this morning.

George H. Mayhew was a passenger on the East-end bus yesterday, headed for Helmerson & Berg's lumber camp.

The American Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. J. S. Smith on Friday of next week.

Those who have not reported to Miss Velna Monker for Red Cross Seals sales please report before the 20th of this month, turning in the money and unsold seals.

Last Friday afternoon at 12:15 the air plane, the coming of which was announced in our last issue, passed over Grand Marais. A large crowd had gathered in front of the Trading Post to witness the coming, as it was thought the plane would light. It made several circles around the town, preparing to light on the bay beach. The plane came low enough to signal that it would not be possible to land, and the journey was continued on to Port Arthur, where the plane landed on the ice. Maj. Miller announced when he arrived in Port Arthur that it was a very hazardous trip. The time from Duluth to Port Arthur was two hours and twenty minutes. Many of the Grand Marais people gazed upon an air plane for the first time. Neshota, a full-blooded Indian of mature years, commented in his native Chippewa tongue, and, the remark translated into English was, "White man, he is a devil."

A CORRECTION

We made a misstatement in regard to the Carl Linnell family walking after the fire and being picked up by Anton Arnquist on the way to a neighbor's and carried part way. They walked all the way to Malcolm Linnell's, three-quarters of a mile. Mr. Arnquist was home in bed.
